Sheriff's Sale Proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to the order of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, dated the 21st day of November 1917, in execution case No. 4 of 1917 (wherein Mrs. Kate Rasul is the plaintiff, decree-holder, and Sreemutty Induprova Dassee is the defendant, judgment-debtor), in execution of a decree of the Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, and dated the 27th day of November 1916 by the Sheriff of Calcutta, in his sale room at the Court-house by public auction on Friday, the 5th day of April 1918, at 12 o'clock noon, the right, title and interest of the defendant Sreemutty Induprova Dassee (as the sole heiress and administratrix of the estate of her husband Amor Nath Ghose, deceased) of and in the undermentioned properties :—

1. All that the upper-roomed brick-built messuage or dwelling house together with the piece or parcel of land thereto belonging and on part whereof the same is erected and built, containing by estimation 1 bigha 4 cottahs 9 chitaks and 15 square feet be the same a little more or less, situate lying at and being premises No 8, Lower Circular Road, in the town of Calcutta, and butted and bounded in manner following, that is to say, on the north by the premises No. 9, Lower Circular Road, on the south by the premises No. 7, Lower Circular Road, on the east by Lower Circular Road, and on the west by Rawdon Tank bearing holding No. 34, Block Nos. V and VI, in the South Division of the town of Calcutta in respect whereof the sum of Rs 4-2-2 is payable annually as the Government revenue.

2. All that brick-built messuage or dwelling-house together with the land thereunto belonging and on part whereof the same is erected and built, containing by estimation 1 bigha 5 cottahs 11 chitaks and 15 square feet be the same a little more or less, situate lying at and being premises No. 9, Lower Circular Road, in the town of Calcutta and butted and bounded in manner following, that is to say, on the north by premises No. 10, Lower Circular Road, on the south by premises No. 8, Lower Circular Road, on the east by Lower Circular Road, and on the west by Rawdon Tank in holding No. 35, Block Nos. V and VI, in the South Division of the town of Calcutta in respect whereof the sum of Rs. 4-11-3 is payable as the annual Government revenue.

From a search made in the registry office from 1865 up to the date of attachment it appears that the right, title and interest of the defendant in both the above properties are not affected or incumbered in any way.

The amount for which the above sale was ordered is Rs. 996-3 with interest thereon at 6 per cent. per annum from the 27th day of November 1916, besides costs of execution.

The condition of sale can be seen at the office of the Sheriff of Calcutta any day before the sale and will be produced at the time of the sale.

F. W. CARTER, Sheriff.

Chatterjee & Co, attorneys for the decree-holder.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent, interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.,

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible, after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

Acts of the Bengal Legislative Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 449L., dated the 11th March 1918.—The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of the Governor of Bengal, received the assent of His Excellency the Governor on the 28th January, 1918, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General on the 4th March, 1918, is hereby published for general information :—

BENGAL ACT NO. II OF 1918.

THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1918.

An Act to supplement and amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient to supplement and amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in the manner hereinafter appearing; VIII of 1885.

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under section 79, sub-section (2), of the Government of India Act, 1915, to the passing of this Act; 5 & 6 Geo 5, c. 61.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1918.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1918.

(Section 2.)

New Chapter VIIA.

2. After Chapter VII of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, the following Chapter shall be inserted, namely :— VIII of 1885.

"CHAPTER VIIA.

"Restrictions on alienation of land by aboriginals.

Application of Chapter.

"49A. (1) This Chapter shall apply in the first instance only to the Santhals of the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore, who shall be deemed to be aboriginals for the purposes of this Chapter.

(2) The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, declare that the provisions of this Chapter shall, in any district or local area, apply to such of the following aboriginal castes or tribes as may be specified in the notification, and that such castes or tribes shall be deemed to be aboriginals for the purposes of this Chapter, namely :—

Santhals of other districts, Bhuiyas, Bhumijes, Garos, Gonds, Hadis, Hajangs, Hos, Kharias, Kharwars, Kochs (Dacca Division), Koras, Maghs (Bakarganj District), Mal and Sauria Paharias, Meches, Mundas, Oraons and Turis.

(3) The publication of a notification under sub-section (2) shall be conclusive evidence that the provisions of this Chapter have been duly applied to such castes or tribes.

(4) The Local Government may, by a like notification, declare that this Chapter shall, in any district or local area, cease to apply to the Santhals mentioned in sub-section (1) or to any caste or tribe to which it may have been applied under sub-section (2).

Restrictions on transfer of tenant rights.

"49B. No transfer by an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat of his right in his tenure or holding, or in any portion thereof, by private sale, gift, will, mortgage, lease or any contract or agreement, shall be valid to any extent except as provided in this Chapter.

Lease by tenure-holder.

"49C. An aboriginal tenure-holder may grant a lease to another aboriginal, to hold the land as a tenure-holder, or to cultivate it as a raiyat, in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Sub-letting by raiyat.

"49D. Subject to the provisions of section 85, an aboriginal raiyat may sub-let his holding to another aboriginal to cultivate it as an under-raiyat.

Usufructuary mortgage by tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat

"49E. (1) An aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat may enter with another aboriginal into a complete usufructuary mortgage in respect of any land under his own cultivation, for any period which does not and cannot, in any possible event, by any agreement, express or implied, exceed seven years, or the period of his own right, whichever is less :

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1918.

Provided that every mortgage so entered into shall be registered under the Indian Registration Act, 1908. XVI of 1908.

(2) An aboriginal tenant's power to mortgage his land shall be restricted to only one form of mortgage, namely, a complete usufructuary mortgage.

Explanation.—A 'complete usufructuary mortgage' means a transfer by a tenant of the right of possession in any land for the purpose of securing the payment of money or the return of grain advanced or to be advanced by way of loan, upon the condition that the loan, with all interest thereon, shall be deemed to be extinguished by the profits arising from the land during the period of the mortgage.

Application to Collector for transfer in certain cases.

"49F. (1) If in any case—

(a) an aboriginal tenure-holder is unable to lease his land as provided in section 49C, or an aboriginal raiyat is unable to sub-let his holding as provided in section 49D, or an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat is unable to mortgage his land to another aboriginal as provided in section 49E, sub-section (1), or

(b) an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat desires to transfer his land, or any portion thereof, by private sale, gift or will to any person, he may apply to the Collector for permission, in case (a), to transfer the same to a person who is not an aboriginal, or in case (b), to transfer the same by private sale, gift or will to any person ; and the Collector may pass such order on the application as he thinks fit.

(2) Every such transfer shall be made by registered deed, and before the deed is registered and the land transferred, the written consent of the Collector shall be obtained to the terms of the deed and to the transfer.

(3) Nothing in this section shall validate a transfer of any land or portion thereof which, by the terms upon which it is held, or by any law or local custom, would not be transferable except for the provisions of this section.

Courts not to register, or recognise as valid, transfers in contravention of this Chapter.

"49G. No transfer by an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat in contravention of the provisions of this Chapter shall be registered or in any way recognized as valid by any Court, whether in the exercise of civil, criminal or revenue jurisdiction.

Power to Collector to set aside improper transfers by tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat.

"49H. (1) If a transfer of a tenure or holding or any portion thereof, is made by an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat in contravention of the provisions of section 49B, or if the transferee has continued or is in possession in contravention of the provisions of section 49E, sub-section (1),

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1918.

or section 49F, as the case may be, the Collector may, on his own initiative or on application made in that behalf, by an order in writing, eject the transferee from such tenure, holding or portion :

Provided that—

(a) the transferee whom it is proposed to eject has not been in continuous possession in contravention of this Act for twelve years, and

(b) he is given an opportunity of showing cause against the order of ejectment.

(2) When the Collector has passed any order under sub-section (1), he shall either—

(a) restore the transferred land to the aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat, or his heir or legal representative, or

(b) failing the transferor or his heir or legal representative, declare that the right of settlement is vested in the landlord subject to the provisions of section 49J, provided that if the right is not exercised within one year, the Collector may, within six months, settle the land on behalf of the landlord on such terms as he deems fit with an aboriginal; and, if the Collector is unable to make such settlement within the said period, an unrestricted right of settlement will vest in the landlord.

Resettlement of certain tenancies.

"49J. (1) Whenever—

(a) the right of settlement of any tenancy, or any portion thereof, is declared to be vested in the landlord under clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 49H, or

(b) an aboriginal tenant surrenders his tenancy, or a portion thereof, or abandons his residence and ceases to hold his tenancy, the landlord may, subject to the provisions of sections 86 and 87,—

(i) settle the tenancy, or a portion thereof, with an aboriginal, or

(2) If any landlord resettles or otherwise deals with any tenancy as aforesaid in contravention of the provisions of sub-section (1), the Collector may take action, so far as may be, in accordance with the provisions of section 49H.

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1918.

(Section 2.)

"49K. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, no decree or order shall be passed by any Court for the sale of the right of an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat in his tenure or holding, or in any portion thereof, nor shall any such right be sold in execution of any decree or order :

Restrictions on sale of tenant rights under order of Court.

Provided as follows :—

(a) any tenure or holding belonging to an aboriginal may be sold, in execution of a decree of a competent Court, to recover an arrear of rent which has accrued in respect of the tenure or holding;

(b) nothing in this section shall affect any right to execute a decree for the sale of any such tenure or holding, or the terms or conditions of any bonâ fide contract relating thereto, if such decree was passed, or such contract registered,—

(i) in the case of the Santhals of the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore, before the 1st November, 1916, and

(ii) in the case of other castes and tribes to which this Chapter has been applied, at least one year before the date of the publication of the notification under section 49A, sub-section (2), in respect to such castes or tribes ;

(c) nothing in this section shall affect any right for the sale of any such tenure or holding for the recovery of any dues which are recoverable as public demands.

"49L. If the sale of a tenure or holding, or any portion thereof, is ordered in execution of a decree against an aboriginal tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat in respect of such tenancy or portion thereof, the Court executing the decree shall allow the tenant reasonable time in which to pay the amount due.

Stay of execution of decrees.

"49M. (1) An appeal, if presented within thirty days from the date of the order appealed against, shall lie to the Collector of the district from any order made under section 49F, 49H or 49J by any officer in the district exercising the powers of a Collector, and the order of the Collector on appeal shall be final :

Appeal and revision.

Provided that every order passed by the Collector on appeal shall be subject to revision and modification by the Commissioner.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (1), an appeal from any order made under any of the sections mentioned in that sub-section by an officer acting under Chapter X of this Act shall be to such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, and the orders of such officer on appeal shall be final :

Provided that, in every such case, every order passed by the said officer on appeal shall be subject

The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1918.

to revision and modification by such officer as the Local Government may appoint to deal therewith.

(3) An appeal, as provided in sub-section (1), shall lie to the Commissioner from any original order made by the Collector of the district under any of the sections mentioned in that sub-section.

"49N. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, no suit shall lie in any Civil Court to vary or set aside any order passed by the Collector in any proceeding under this Chapter except on the ground of fraud or want of jurisdiction.

Bar to suits.

"49-O. Nothing in this Chapter shall affect the validity of any transfer (not otherwise invalid) by a tenure-holder, raiyat or under-raiyat of his tenure or holding, or any portion thereof, made bonâ fide,—

Saving of certain transfers.

(a) in the case of the Sonthals of the districts of Birbhum, Bankura and Midnapore before the 1st November, 1916, and

(b) in the case of other castes and tribes to which this Chapter has been applied, at least one year before the date of the publication of the notification under section 49A, sub-section (2), in respect to such castes or tribes".

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 1.

STARRED QUESTION.

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Controller of prices for Bengal.

*1. (a) Are the Government aware of the fact that the Governor of Bombay in Council has decided to create a Controllership of prices and has appointed the Hon'ble Mr. P. R. Cadell, C.I.E., to the post?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of appointing a Controller of prices in this Province at an early date?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) Government are not as yet convinced of the need of such an appo nt-ment in Bengal at the moment, but will be guided by the development of the situation."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Increased house-rent in Calcutta.

* 2. (a) Are the Government aware of the fact that the Commissioner in Sind has appointed a committee with the Collector of Karachi as Chairman to investigate the question of the rise in house-rents in Karachi?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of appointing a committee of officials and non-officials to inquire how far rents of existing buildings in Calcutta have been increased, and also to report whether action is necessary to control such increases?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Government have no information on the subject, though they are aware that the question has been mooted as regards Bombay.

(b) Government are already in possession of information on the subject. Statistics of house rents were collected by the Prices Enquiry Committee from 1890 to 1912. These have been brought up to date with the assistance of local authorities, both official and non-official, and the variation during the war has been below 10 per cent. As at present advised, Government doubt whether a case for control has been established."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

River bunds of pargana Mangalghat.

* 3. (a) Are the Government aware of the fact that in 1840 it was decided that Government were liable for keeping up the river bunds of pargana Mangalghat and that the Collector was ordered to refund Rs. 10,952 which had been levied from the zamindars on this account with interest at 6 per cent.?

(b) Is it a fact that a marked improvement was observable by 1845, and that no fewer than 89 masonry sluices had been constructed in lieu of the cuts formerly made by the raiyats?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) and (b) The Hon'ble Member is referring to a period of more than sixty years ago. If he will furnish Government with the material on the basis of which he has framed the question, Government will be prepared to examine the matter."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Burdwan floods.

*4. Will the Government be pleased to state the amount of money actually spent up to January, 1918, out of the grant of Rs. 2½ lakhs as provided in this year's Budget, for mitigating the effects of floods in the Burdwan Division, and the details of the works done during the months of December and January last?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"The detailed value of the works done on the sanctioned projects for mitigating the effects of floods in the Burdwan Division up to the 30th January, 1918, has been Rs. 72,319, of which sum Rs. 57,996 have actually been expended in cash.

The works done during the months of December and January last have been on the following projects :—

(i) The construction of a retired line in the first mile of the Buxi Khal left embankment and the improvement of the abandoned embankment.

(ii) The improvement of the Gesapati Khal.

(iii) The construction of a retired line on the Ajai embankments at Gaurangapur and Damoodarpur.

(iv) The raising of the Ajai embankments.

(v) The raising of the Damoodar embankments."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Price of text books.

*5. (a) Are the Government aware that text books for the fifth and other lower classes of high English schools, published by Messrs. Macmillan & Co., and printed a year ago in Calcutta and Bombay, are being sold at an enhanced rate of 25 per cent. above the price marked on the covers of these books?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the Government order, if any, on the subject of selling text books at an increased price?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) Orders have been issued by the Department of Public Instruction to the Secretaries of the Text Book Committees at Calcutta and Dacca to allow a reasonable increase in the prices of text books on the approved lists on account of the rise in the price of paper and printing material. The Secretary of the Dacca Text Book Committee has issued a circular fixing a maximum increase of 25 per cent. in the price of text books for Eastern Bengal. No general order of this kind has been issued for Western Bengal, but certain cases have been considered and permission to raise the prices granted.

(b) There is no such Government order."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Case against certain railway officers.

*6. (a) Is it a fact that Dr. Bankim Chandra Ganguli, attached to the Pilgrim Hospital, Kharagpore, Bengal-Nagpur Railway, has instituted a suit in the Sadar Subdivisional Magistrate's Court, Midnapore, against the Station Master of Kharagpore and one Mr. Hunter, a guard of the Howrah-Puri passenger train?

Questions and Answers.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether this case has been finally decided?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the full history of the case, together with the judgment of the trying Magistrate?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a) Dr. Bankim Chandra Ganguli filed a complaint on the 15th January alleging that he had been assaulted by the persons named in the question and by another person, name unknown.

(b) The Subdivisional Officer summoned the persons named in the question for the 1st February. On that date the complainant filed a petition stating that the case had been compromised and that he did not wish to proceed with it. The Subdivisional Officer thereupon discharged the accused.

(c) A copy of the statement made by the complainant on the 15th January and of the order sheet of the case is laid on the table."

Copy of order sheet and statement referred to in the answer by the HON'BLE MR. KERR to Question No. 6 (starred) asked by the HON'BLE RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR at the Council Meeting of the 19th February, 1918.

ORDER SHEET FOR MAGISTRATES' RECORDS.

DISTRICT MIDNAPORE.

IN THE COURT OF BABU J. N. ROY, SUBDIVISIONAL MAGISTRATE, MIDNAPORE.

No. 170 of 1918.

Bankim Chandra Gangopadhya versus Mr. Guild and Mr. Hunter.

Serial No. of order.	Date.	Order.	Signature.
1	15th January, 1918	Summons Mr. Guild and Mr. Hunter under sections 352 and 504, Indian Penal Code, for the 1st February, 1918.	J. Banarji.
	1st February, 1918	Accused absent. Complainant withdraws his case. Accused discharged under section 253, Criminal Procedure Code. Enter true under sections 352 and 504, Indian Penal Code.	J. N. Roy.

BANKIM CHANDRA GANGULI, of Kharagpore (on solemn affirmation) states:—I complain against (1) Station Master of Kharagpore, Mr. Geilt, (2) Guard Mr. Hunter, and (3) one unknown European passenger whose name I do not know. Yesterday at about mid-day, I was going to Jakpur by 9-down Puri passenger train. I had third class ticket No. 7745, dated the 14th January, 1918, with me and I got into a third class compartment. There was a European passenger in the compartment who readily ordered me to get out of that compartment. I told him that I would go only a few miles and that there could not be any objection to my travelling in that compartment. The European passenger still persisted in asking me to get out of the compartment. Then I told him that if he objected to my presence he could go to some other compartments reserved for Europeans. Then he said that the compartment in which he was sitting was reserved for Europeans. I told him that there was no label or anything stating that the compartment was reserved for Europeans. Then he told me to ask the Station Master. I told him to ask Station Master. Then he brought the Station Master and the Guard along with him. They ordered me readily to get out of the compartment, using insulting language. When I told them that there was no label, they told me that their order was sufficient. Then they directed the ticket-collector to attach a label (Europeans) to the compartment. The label "Europeans" was then attached. Then the Station Master and the Guard entered into the compartment. The Station Master and the Guard again used insulting language, saying that I deserved to be treated like cats and dogs. Then they pulled me out of the compartment and I could not travel by that train. Then I informed the matter to the Government Railway Police and I was directed to complain here. I am a Sub-Assistant Surgeon at Kharagpore under Government. The Guard placed his hand on me under the Station Master's orders when he pulled me out of the compartment. The European passenger also got into the train from Kharagpore. I was going to Jakpur to see a patient.

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Arrest of two women at Bankura.

*7. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the reason why two rustic women, both of whom are named Sindhubala, one a resident of village Sabajpore and other an inhabitant of Bihar, within the jurisdiction of thana Indas, in the district of Bankura, were arrested by the Superintendent of Police, Bankura?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the age and the condition of health at the time of arrest, and also the time of arrest, of these women?

(c) Is it a fact that one of the women in question was pregnant?

(d) Is it a fact that Sindhubala had to take her child, aged 18 months, with her on her way to the thana and other places and was put to all sorts of inconvenience?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state the name, full address and occupation of the husbands of these women?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the communiqué issued by the Government on the subject"

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Hastings House School.

*8. (a) Is it a fact that there has been of late a decrease in the number of pupils in the Hastings House School?

(b) If so, to what is this decrease due?

(c) Have the Government received any complaint that the school has not been efficiently managed of late?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) No. The number now on the rolls is the same as in February, 1917.

(c) Government have not received any formal complaint."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Members of the Indian Civil Service in charge of subdivisions.

*9. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of covenanted members of the Indian Civil Service who were in charge of subdivisions in the Bengal Presidency in January, 1914, and in January, 1918?

(b) What was the total amount of monthly salary paid to them in 1914 and in 1918?

(c) What was the total amount paid as salary to Subdivisional Officers in Janaury, 1914, and in January 1918?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) January 1914—18.
January 1918—7.

(b) January 1914—Rs. 12,183-5-4.
January 1918—Rs. 5,366-10-8.

(c) January 1914—Rs. 34,983-5-4.
January 1918—Rs. 37,116-10-8.

Since 1914, 13 new subdivisional charges have been created, twelve being Sadar subdivisions. The pay drawn in January 1918 by the officers holding charge of the 71 subdivisions which were in existence in January 1914 amounted to Rs. 31,750."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Joint Magistrates and Assistant Magistrates.

*10. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Assistant Magistrates and Joint Magistrates actually working as such in January, 1914, and the number in January, 1918?

(b) What was the total amount paid as salary to them in January, 1914, and to those who were filling their posts in January, 1918?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) January 1914—47.
January 1918—14.

(b) Of the 47 officers, who were employed in January 1914, 17 were Assistant Magistrates of less than two years' service who were under training. Their pay amounted to Rs. 7,150. Only six officers of this class were employed in January 1918. Their pay amounted to Rs. 2,700. In January 1914, 18 Joint and Assistant Magistrates were employed as Subdivisional Officers. Their pay amounted to Rs. 12,183-5-4. The pay drawn by the officers holding charge of the same 18 subdivisions in January 1918 was Rs. 9,450 Twelve officers were employed in January 1914 as Joint and Assistant Magistrates at district headquarters. Their pay amounted to Rs. 9,500 In January 1918, only one Joint Magistrate was employed at district headquarters. His pay was Rs. 766-10-8. The pay drawn by the senior Deputy Magistrates in the other eleven districts in which Joint Magistrates were employed in 1914 was Rs. 6,800."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Assistant Superintendents of Police.

*11. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Assistant Superintendents of Police in January, 1914, and the number of such officers in January, 1918?

(b) What was the amount spent on their salary in January, 1914, and in January, 1918?

Questions and Answers.

(c) If the number of such officers was less in 1918, will the Government be pleased to state by whom their places are now filled up?

(d) What was the total amount paid to those who were filling the places of Assistant Superintendents of Police in January, 1918?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) January 1914—26.
January 1918—9.

(b) January 1914—Rs. 10,600.

January 1918—Rs. 4,300.

(c) By officiating Deputy Superintendents of Police.

(d) Rs. 4,250.

These figures include only officers actually employed as Assistant Superintendents, and do not include officers on leave or deputation or officiating in higher appointments."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Police constables.

*12. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of constables in the Calcutta Police and in the Bengal Police?

(b) What is the number of Bengalis serving as constables either in the Calcutta Police or in the Bengal Police?

(c) Have the Government ever tried to enlist more Bengalis as constables?

(d) If so, with what result?

(e) If not, why not?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) In the Calcutta Police, 3,734; in the Bengal Police, 17,648.

(b) Sixty-seven in the Calcutta Police, and 6,945 in the Bengal Police.

(c) Yes.

(d) Recruiting parties have been sent out into Bengal districts by the Calcutta Police, on various occasions, but have met with little success. Only 18 men were recruited last year, and 16 of these absconded within a month of being posted to the Police Training School.

In the Bengal Police special efforts have been made during the last few years to obtain Bengali constables, and a fair measure of success has been achieved, though the Inspector-General would be glad to recruit many more men of this class. The number enlisted during the last three years is as follows :—

1916	...	...	... 1,318
1917	...	...	... 1,608

The Hon'ble Member is referred to paragraph 8 of the Police Administration Report for the year 1916 and to paragraph 4 of the Government Resolution thereon, where this subject was discussed.

(e) Does not arise."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Proposed removal of the Secretariat Press.

*13. (a) Are the Government aware that the removal of the Bengal Secretariat Press to Gopalnagore Road in Chetla will seriously inconvenience 99 per cent. of the employés who live with their families in Northern Calcutta and in the Howrah and Hooghly districts?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of selecting a more suitable site for the proposed new Press building?

(c) Have the Government considered the advisability of postponing the new building project for the Bengal Secretariat Press, which is likely to cost the public about 10 lakhs of rupees initially, till financial conditions improve?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) It is true that a certain amount of inconvenience will be caused to employés living in the north of Calcutta and in the districts named by the transfer of the Press.

(b) The site selected is considered to be the most suitable that can be found.

(c) The construction of a new press at the present time has been forced on Government owing to the insanitary conditions under which the employés work in the present building, and should not be postponed."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

New building for the Secretariat Press.

*14. (a) Is it a fact that recently a committee was appointed to inquire into the necessity of erecting a new building for the Press?

(b) If so, has the committee submitted any report?

(c) If the answer is in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to lay the report of the committee on the table?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a), (b) and (c) A committee has been appointed, not for the purpose of inquiring into the necessity of erecting a new building for the press, but to advise Government as to the details of construction. The report of this committee has not yet been received."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Quantity of work in the Secretariat Press.

*15. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) whether the quantity of work now turned out by the Press has increased or decreased as compared with the figures for 1907, and

Questions and Answers.

(ii) if there has been a decrease, why the entire Press cannot be accommodated in the present block of Writers' Buildings as before, and why there has been increased expenditure?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The quantity of work turned out by the Press is now practically double that of 1907."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Deputy Superintendents of the Secretariat Press.

*16. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what are the qualifications of the present Deputy Superintendents of the Bengal Secretariat Press, and what special experience they had before being appointed as Deputy Superintendents in that Press?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state why at least one of the posts of the Deputy Superintendents cannot be filled by an Indian recruited from the staff of the Press?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) The senior Deputy Superintendent, Mr. Battersby, is a trained printer by profession. Mr. Johnstone was a reader who was promoted to be Deputy Superintendent many years ago. Mr. Shea was originally a reader, but for several years held the appointment of manager of the Darjeeling press: he was transferred as a Deputy Superintendent to the Secretariat Press in 1916.

(b) There is no employé in the Press staff suitable for the post of Deputy Superintendent."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Controller of Printing and the Secretariat Press.

*17. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state why the Bengal Secretariat Press is not under the Controller of Printing and Stationery?

(b) Is it a fact that the Government have to rely entirely on the Superintendent for expert advice?

(c) Are the Government considering the advisability of obtaining the advice of the Controller about new schemes and new expenditure?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a), (b) and (c) The Bengal Secretariat Press is not under the Controller of Printing and Stationery because it is a provincial press. The Controller is an officer of the Imperial Government and exercises no executive control over provincial presses. He inspects presses under Local Governments and advises them in matters connected with printing and stationery. His advice is freely sought on matters connected with the Bengal Secretariat Press, and Government do not rely on the Superintendent only for expert advice. The Controller is a member of the Committee referred to in the answer to question No. 14."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

*18. Will the Government be pleased to state the total amount of expenditure on all kinds of new machinery for the Bengal Secretariat Press during the last five years, and also the amount of saving effected and realised owing to the use of these machines? Expenditure on new machinery for the Press.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" Rupees 86,069 have been spent during the past five years on new machinery. It is impossible to say what savings have been effected by the use of the new machinery, but the volume of printing and binding done since its introduction could not have been turned out without it."

By the Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR :—

*19. (a) Are the Government aware that Mr. Barrow, the Officiating Principal of the Presidency College. has ruled that non-attendance of a student, on a single day, from the College class, on an exercise day, would debar him from appearance at the University Examination from the College? Presidency College students and University Examination.

(b) Was there any such rule in the history of this College from the time of Principal Sutcliffe downwards?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of instructing the Director of Public Instruction to consider the reasonableness or otherwise of this rule?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) Government are informed that no such rule has been made.

(b) Government are not aware of any such rule.

(c) This question does not arise."

I. (a) With reference to the suggestion made by Captain Goil regarding the subsidising by District Boards of medical practitioners in rural areas for treating the poor free, will the Government be pleased to state how many District Boards have so far experimented in this direction, in what localities and with what results? Subsidising of medical practitioners by District Boards.

(b) What are the terms that were offered to medical practitioners in this behalf?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) A statement is laid on the table."

Questions and Answers.

Statement referred to in the answers by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY to question No. I (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY at the Council Meeting of the 19th February 1918, showing the number of District Boards which have undertaken a scheme of subsidizing medical practitioners in rural areas on condition that they treat the poor free of charge.

Name of district Board.	Locality.	Result of experiment.	Terms offered to medical practitioners.
1. Jessore ...	Basundia and Bandabilla in Sadar Subdivision Mohammadpur and Chhandra in the Magura Subdivision.	The scheme was instituted on 1st December 1917 and is still in an experimental stage. It is, therefore, premature to make any definite pronouncement about the results.	The subsidized doctor is required (1) to stick to the post for three years; (2) to inspect all schools within a radius of three miles from his centre once a month and to treat school boys suffering from acute and chronic malaria free; to keep a register of all such visits and all such cases and to produce it for inspection whenever required by the Subdivisional Officer or any member of the Board; to give lantern-slide demonstrations in the schools whenever asked to do so by the Board, the Board supplying all the apparatus; (3) to keep a register of all other cases treated by him in private practice and to produce it for inspection whenever required by the Subdivisional Officer or a member of the Board; (4) to provide his own medicines excepting quinine, of which he will be supplied with a regulated amount free of cost by the District Board; and (5) to distribute the quinine supplied by the District Board free of cost. Subject to conditions (2) and (5) he is free to fix his own scale of charges for attendance and medicine, provided that it is reasonable. So long as his work is satisfactory he gets a monthly subsidy of Rs. 35 for three years from the date of his appointment.
2. Mymensingh	Badla ...	The experiment proved a failure; the doctor left the place after a few months for want of practice.
3. Rangpur ...	Haragacha and Barati.	An experiment was tried with unqualified practitioners and was then discontinued under the orders of the Surgeon-General.	Terms not stated.
4. Malda ...	Ariadanga ...	The experiment was tried with an unqualified medical practitioner and was discontinued after about two years as his work was unsatisfactory.	A subsidy of Rs. 25 per mensem was given and a grant of Rs. 150 for the purchase of medicines on condition that he treated poor patients every day for 3 hours free of charge.
5. Pabna ...	Ratanganj, Sohagpur and Jorepukhuria.	The experiment proved a failure at Ratanganj, there being a general complaint that the doctor did not observe the condition on which he was appointed. The doctor at Sohagpur worked satisfactorily, but the post was abolished as a charitable dispensary was established there. It is reported that the scheme has been successful at Jorepukhuria.	A monthly subsidy of Rs. 30, besides a free supply of quinine to a certain quantity, is given on condition that the doctors treat the poor free of cost.

NOTE.—The District Boards of Jalpaiguri and Rajshahi resolved in 1915 to try the experiment in two and one localities, respectively, but could not do so as qualified medical practitioners were not available.

Visits to political Prisoners.

II. (a) Will the Government be pleased to make a statement giving the names of those District Magistrates or other officers who have been appointed visitors of political prisoners under Bengal Regulation III of 1818, the dates of their respective appointments as such visitors and the places thereof, together with the number of visits paid by each visitor to each individual political prisoner and the dates of such visits?

Questions and Answers.

(b) Have the visitors made any reports to Government or any suggestions to the jail authorities relating to the health, comfort and general well-being of the political prisoners?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the purport of each of such reports and any action taken thereon?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a), (b) and (c) The District Magistrates in whose districts State prisoners have been confined have been appointed visitors by the Government of India for those prisoners under clause 4 of Regulation III of 1818. They visit the State prisoners at least once a month and submit reports each month through the Local Government to the Government of India. Government does not consider that any public interest would be served by compiling the statement desired or by publishing the purport of the reports submitted, which in any case could not be done without the sanction of the Government of India."

III. (a) Are the non-official Chairmen of District Boards entitled to travelling allowances? Travelling allowance of non-official Chairmen of District Boards.

(b) If so, under what provisions and at what rates?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY:—

"(a) Yes

(b) A copy of Circular No. 361-65 L.S.-G., dated the 13th February, 1918, is laid on the table."

Copy of Circular referred to in the Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY to Question No. III (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY at the Council Meeting of the 19th February, 1918.

Circular No. 361-65 L. S.-G., dated Calcutta, the 13th February, 1918.

From—L. S. S. O'MALLEY, ESQ., I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department,

To—All Commissioners of Divisions.

WITH reference to this Department's Circular No. 21 L. S.-G., dated the 10th July 1915, on the subject of the payment of travelling allowance to Chairmen, Vice-Chairmen and members of District and Local Boards, I am directed to say that Chairmen of District Boards, who are not Government officers, will be entitled to draw travelling allowance at the same rates as are admissible under the Civil Service Regulations in the case of Government officers, of the first class for all journeys performed for the purposes of the Local Self-Government Act.

No. 457 L. S.-G.

COPY forwarded to the Accountant-General, Bengal (through Financial Department) for information.

Elections for Khulna Local Boards.

IV. (a) Is it a fact that certain elections for the Khulna Local Boards, fixed for the 21st January last, have failed?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons therefor, and the steps that are going to be taken in the matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) It is reported that the election for the Sadar Local Board failed because the presiding officer fell ill before he had recorded all the votes of the voters present. A fresh election will be held."

Certain remarks in the Police Administration Report.

V. (a) With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. XVIII at the last meeting of the Council, will the Government be pleased to indicate the nature of the " published information " on the basis of which the remark was made in the report on Police Administration?

(b) Are the proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council included among the " published information " referred to in the said answer?

(c) With reference to the " unwritten rules governing the matter," stated in the said answer to be " based on etiquette and good feeling," is the dignity of the Legislative Council of any consideration in the interpretation of the said rules?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of issuing a circular to the Heads of Departments prohibiting them from making observations of the nature referred to in the said question, in regard to any discussions in the Legislative Council?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) The Inspector-General of Police states that, in writing the passage referred to, he was thinking not solely, or even mainly, of the discussions which took place in this Council during the last budget debate, but rather of the articles which appeared in the newspapers commenting on the Council discussions.

(c) Certainly, but Government do not consider that there was anything in the Inspector-General's remark calculated to impair the dignity of this Council. The passage appeared in the section of the report relating to finance, and the exact words used were : ' A good deal of eloquence has lately been expended on the subject of increased expenditure on the police, but if an efficient and contented force is desired it must be paid for. A high degree of efficiency can hardly be expected from an underpaid, undermanned and badly-housed force, deficient both in clothing and equipment. A considerably larger expenditure will have to be faced before the urgent needs of the department can be satisfied.'

(d) Government do not consider it necessary to take any action of this nature."

VII. How far has the Boy-Scout movement been introduced in educational institutions in Bengal, and what steps are the Government taking for a spread of the movement in schools under Government control? Boy-Scout movement in Bengal.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR O'MALLEY :—

" So far as Government are aware the movement has been introduced in 12 schools. No direct action is being taken by Government to spread the movement in Government schools but the question of aiding the movement in so far as troops of Indian boy-scouts are concerned, by the formation of a central organization, has been under consideration for some time. In the view of Government such an organization should be a non-official body; and with the entire approval of Government the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan has been engaged in forming a governing body to guide and control the movement among Indian boys. It is understood that a small committee is at present engaged in drawing up a scheme for submission to the governing body."

VIII. (a) When is the Bengal Village Self-Government Bill likely to be introduced in Council? Bengal Village Self-Government Bill

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of publishing the draft Bill for criticism and opinion before introducing it?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The Bill has been submitted to the Secretary of State and it is proposed to introduce it in Council on 4th April, 1918, if no orders to the contrary are received from the Secretary of State before that date.

(b) No. The Bill will be published for criticism and opinion after introduction."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

IX. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is proposed to place the papers of all the cases of internment before the Committee presided over by Mr. Justice Rowlatt, or will only selected cases be submitted for their consideration? Rowlatt Committee and the internment cases.

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of informing the individual détenus and political prisoners about the functions of the said Committee, and of allowing them—should any of them desire it—an opportunity of defending themselves personally, or to explain the circumstances in which any confession or other statements may have been obtained from them, before the said committee of inquiry?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" All the papers in the possession of Government have been placed at the disposal of the Committee presided over by Mr. Justice Rowlatt. The terms of reference to this Committee have been published, and, as interpreted by the Committee, do not cover inquiry into individual cases."

Apprentices in Railway workshops.

XI. (a) How many workshops are there, in connection with the Railways in Bengal, where apprentices are admitted for training?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to make a statement for each of the last five years showing the number of literate European, Anglo-Indian and Indian apprentices, respectively, at each of such workshops?

(c) What is the minimum requisite qualifications for being admitted as a literate apprentice, in the case of—

(i) Europeans or Anglo-Indians; and

(ii) Indians,

and for what nature of employment are they, respectively, trained?

(d) Are they in the enjoyment of any stipends or allowances? If so, what is the scale thereof in the case of Europeans, Anglo-Indians and Indians, respectively?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

(a) There are five workshops in connection with the railways in Bengal, viz. :—

Kanchrapara—Eastern Bengal Railway.

Jamalpur, Lillooah } East Indian Railway.

Kharagpur—Bengal-Nagpur Railway.

Pahartoli—Assam-Bengal Railway.

(b) The following statement shows the number of literate European, Anglo-Indian and Indian apprentices under training at the above workshops during the last five years :—

Questions and Answers.

(c) (i) In the case of Europeans and Anglo-Indians, the minimum qualification required is generally Standard VI of the European School Code, but for the Pahartoli Workshop Standard V is the minimum and for Lillooah Standard VII.

The workshops at Kanchrapara, Jamalpur, Lillooah and Kharagpur further require candidates to submit to a special competitive examination in English, Mathematics, general knowledge and freehand drawing and admissions to apprenticeship are made from the most successful candidates at this examination.

(ii) In the case of Indians, the minimum qualification required is education in English for admission to the shops at Jamalpur. For Kharagpur Middle Vernacular Standard is required. At Lillooah, completion of Matriculation course is necessary, while for admission to the Kanchrapara Shops pass in Matriculation class is required. At Lillooah Indian candidates are further required to submit to the special examination prescribed for Europeans and Anglo-Indians referred to in the answer to question 54 (c) (i).

The majority of the apprentices in workshops, both European and Indian, are trained as Foreman Mechanics.

XIII. (a) With reference to the extract from a note by Messrs. Walsh and Heaton, which was laid on the table in reply to my unstarred question No. L of the 18th December, 1917, will the Government be pleased to state what action has been taken in regard to each of the nine proposals to which the attention of Government was drawn by Messrs. Walsh and Heaton therein? Dacca School of Engineering.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the reason why proposals Nos. 1 and 2 in particular, namely—

" (i) to separate the school from the Dacca College and to style the Headmaster ' Principal,' and (ii) to constitute a governing body with functions similar to that of the Sibpur College," have not been given effect to?

Answer to the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) The following statement shows the proposals and the action taken on each seriatim :—

(1) Separation of the school from the Dacca College and change of the title of Head Master to Principal.—It was decided that no action should be taken on this proposal pending the decision of the question of removing the school to a new site.

(2) Constitution of a governing body similar to that of the Sibpur College.—Action was postponed pending orders on the first proposal.

(3) The fixing of a consolidated grant to be administered by the proposed governing body.—This proposal could not be dealt with apart from the first and second proposals.

(4) Strengthening and re-arrangement of the teaching staff.—Some additions have been made to the staff.

Questions and Answers.

(5) The case of the Head Clerk.—This recommendation was not accepted by the Joint Technical Examination Board, but the Head Clerk has been promoted to class VIII of the Subordinate Educational Service.

(6) The reduction of the number of reduced freeships at Sibpur and the creation of four stipends.—This proposal was not accepted by the Board; but proposals for the transfer of 8 reduced freeships from Sibpur to Dacca and for their conversion into stipends are under consideration.

(7) Arrangements for the instruction of students in practical surveying under canvas.—This has been sanctioned.

(8) and (9) Furniture, drawing boards, cement-testing machines and minor items of equipment.—It has not been thought necessary to pass orders as the Head Master has power to make such purchases except when the value of separate items is over Rs. 500, and it rests with him to move in the matter."

With reference to the answer to clause (b) of my unstarred question regarding the Department of Fisheries, at the last meeting of the Council, will the Government be pleased to state whether the process of examination of the fry is scientific in its character, and how many officers are employed in the said work?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" As the Hon'ble Member has no doubt understood from the reply to which he refers, it is not the case that each fish is subjected to microscopic examination. In so far as the fry are examined by officers who are experienced in distinguishing one kind of fry from another the examination is scientific, but, as previously stated, it is not claimed that the examination is complete and the Department does not guarantee purity. Fry are examined by three officers."

An Income-tax question.

XVI. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the Government of Bengal's letter No. 26 T.—S.R., dated the 24th May, 1915, which is referred to in the latest report on the income-tax administration as having ruled that " the premium taken by a landlord for granting settlement of waste or abandoned land with a tenant is exempt from income-tax, but fees levied for recognition of a transfer of agricultural land from one tenant to another are liable to income-tax " ?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" A copy of the letter referred to is laid on the table."

Questions and Answers.

Copy of letter referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD to question No. XVI (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI at the Council Meeting of the 19th February, 1918.

No. 26 T.—S. R., dated Darjeeling, the 24th May, 1915.

From—THE HON'BLE MR. J. DONALD, I.C.S., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2077 R., dated the 17th April, 1915, to the address of the Board of Revenue, in which you inquire whether income derived by a landlord from nazar realised in connection with land used for agricultural purposes is liable to be assessed to income-tax. The two classes of nazar to which you refer are (1) premium taken by a landlord for the grant of settlement of waste or abandoned land with a tenant, and (2) fees levied for the recognition of a transfer of land from one tenant to another.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, who was consulted on the question, has recorded the following opinion, in which Government agree:—

(a) The first kind of nazar is similar to salami taken on the creation of a patni or other tenure, and on the authority of the previous ruling contained in note 9 to section 5 of Act II of 1886 (page 8, Income-tax Manual) income-tax cannot be assessed on it.

(b) The second kind of nazar is a payment made to the landlord in consideration of his recognizing a particular person as his tenant. Such payments are not rent or revenue derived from land and are not income derived from agriculture. Therefore this kind of nazar is liable to income-tax.

Dhalleswari Steamer Service.

XVII. (a) Is it a fact that the Dhalleswari Steamer Service has been either partly or wholly discontinued?

(b) If so, from what date and in what circumstances?

(c) What are the present conditions of communication between Dacca City and the westernmost parts of the district, particularly the Manikganj subdivision?

(d) How many miles from Dacca City is the subdivisional town of Manikganj, and how many hours' journey by boat at present?

(e) What progress, if any, has been made with regard to the proposal for a motor service between Manikganj and Aricha?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY:—

"(a) and (b) Yes, owing to the shallowness of the river the Dhalleswari Steamer Service is curtailed each year during the dry season. This season the service was suspended beyond Sabhar on the 27th December, 1917.

(c) During the rains traffic between Dacca City and the western part of the district, including the Manikganj subdivision, is generally by water. During the dry season what little traffic there is, is generally carried by the Padma Steamer Service. The road from Dacca City to the western part of the district is embanked and bridged as far as Mirpur. Thence to Fulbaria, where the Dhalleswari river is crossed by ferry, the road is embanked and most of the khals bridged. From the west bank of the Dhalleswari river to Baira there is no embanked or bridged road, and three miles of the track between Joymantop and Singair have been cut away by the river Dhalleswari. Arrangements are being made for a temporary diversion over these three miles. From Baira to Bentha the road is embanked and temporary bamboo bridges are constructed over khals during the rains. From Bentha to Manikganj and on to Aricha Ghat the road is embanked and bridged and in fairly good order. Aricha Ghat on the east side of the Padma is almost opposite the present site of Goalundo Ghat.

Questions and Answers.

(d) Manikganj is 30 miles by road from Dacca City. During the rains the journey by boat takes about 40 hours, but boats cannot at the present season get nearer than Joymantop, as the khal from the Dhalleswari river to Manikganj station is dry.

(e) The Dacca District Board has received a proposal for a motor service between Aricha Ghat and Manikganj, in which the promoter proposes to share the cost of improving the road with the Board. Negotiations are pending between the promoter and the District Board."

XVIII. Dacca School of Engineering.

(b) With reference to the answer to clause (d) of my unstarred question No. XLIX of the 18th December, 1917, will the Government be pleased to explain why the Assistant Headmaster of the Dacca School of Engineering is not given the allowance which is granted to Assistant Headmasters of Government High Schools?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The scale of stipends for the artisans at Sibpur and Dacca respectively was fixed in accordance with the proposals of the head of each institution. The present scale of stipends for the 5th year Overseer students of the Dacca School of Engineering was fixed many years ago, and, so far as can be ascertained, no increase has since been proposed by the Head Master.

(b) The Assistant Head Master of the Dacca School of Engineering is not eligible for the allowance, because that school is not a high school."

XIX. (a) With reference to the answer to clause (b) of my unstarred question No. XLVIII of the 18th December, 1917, regarding the status of the Dacca School of Engineering, will the Government be pleased to explain for what purposes the said school is treated as a college, and for what particular purpose as a school?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons why the teachers of the Calcutta Commercial Institute are designated as Lecturers and are thus beyond the operation of Circular No. $\frac{114}{\text{FP—50A.—17}}$, whereas the teachers of the Dacca School of Engineering are not so privileged?

(c) Are the qualifications of the teachers of the latter institution of an inferior standard generally, or are their duties of a less responsible or important character, in comparison with those of the teachers of the Calcutta Commercial Institution?

(d) If not, what are the reasons for this differential treatment?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The age and qualifications of the students approximate to those of college students and the Head Master is treated as if he were the Principal of an Engineering College in certain correspondence, e.g., in connexion with the examinations of the Joint Technical Examination Board. On the other hand, the institution has, as its name implies, the status of a school and not of a college, the officer in charge being a Head Master and not a Principal, and it is under the general supervision of the Principal of the Dacca College.

(b) The teachers of the Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta, are designated Lecturers because the Institute has the status of a College. The teachers of the Dacca School of Engineering are not so designated because their status is that of teachers in a school.

(c) The question presumably refers to the qualifications of officers other than the Principals. Of the 5 subordinate teachers of the Institute, 2 hold the Master's degree and 3 the Bachelor's . Of the 5 subordinate teachers (excluding the foremen) of the School of Engineering, 3 hold the Bachelor's degree and 2 are under-graduates. The work of a school is generally regarded as of a less responsible character than that of a College.

(d) This question does not arise."

(i) under-trial prisoners;

(ii) convicts; and

(iii) prisoners in hospital?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The average cost per head per diem is as follows :—

	Under trial.	Convicts.	Sick in hospital.
	A. P.	A. P.	Rs. A. P.
European prisoners	3 5	5 1	1 11 0
Indian prisoners	1 6	2 1	0 6 1½

Questions and Answers.

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of forwarding a supplementary memorandum to the Government of India embodying the results of a thorough inquiry into the possibilities of the manufacture of salt on the Chittagong side of the Bay of Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"The memorandum in question was prepared in connection with the examination of the possibility of reviving the manufacture of salt in Bengal, in particular, by the adoption of processes, including the vacuum process, similar to those followed in the United Kingdom. Specific suggestions were not then made or enquired into as regards the Chittagong side of the Bay, but in the end of October, 1917, in forwarding a suggestion from the Collector of Chittagong that the question of manufacture in Noakhali and Chittagong might be considered, the Commissioner of Salt discussed the possibilities of manufacture on the Chittagong coast. While this was under consideration applications for permission to manufacture were received, with reference to which the question is now being determined. The expert staff are assisting persons desirous of manufacturing salt, and if any one desires to manufacture from sea water he will be advised as to the suitability of the brine. Government do not propose sending any supplementary memorandum to the Government of India until the need of so doing arises. As regards communications to the south of Chittagong, a detailed survey of a proposed railway from Chittagong towards Burma has recently been sanctioned, and its construction would improve the main line of communications in this area."

No. 303.

Hooghly, the 23rd September, 1854.

To

THE BOARD OF REVENUE,
Fort William.

GENTLEMEN,

In reply to various orders received from you since March of last year regarding the proposed abandonment of the embankments between the Damodar and Rupnarain rivers, I have at length the honour to submit the following report, and regret my inability to lay before you one more satisfactory.

2. The main objects of the enquiry instituted under your orders by Deputy Collector Babu Jadav Chandra Chatterji were first to ascertain the feelings of the landholders regarding the abandonment of the bunds, and second to obtain some idea of the extent of the benefit on the one hand, and of the injury on the other likely to arise from that measure.

3. I now submit in original the papers below noted—and from the Offg. Collector's report, para. 4, it appears that all the landholders attended either personally or by their attorney before the Deputy Collector and gave in the required papers regarding the existing state of the country and their motives of acquiescence or otherwise in the proposition; and that the Deputy Collector personally visited every village to examine its present state; settled its boundaries in the presence of the Gomastas, Mandals and Raiyats; measured and assessed the lands; ascertained the quantities of cultivated and waste; and noted those likely to be inundated and those parts which the floods will not reach; and finally compared the papers supplied to him by the landholders and their agents with the result of his own observations. This enquiry occupied him six months and 24 days and has been a most laborious work which he seems to have executed with much assiduity and ability.

4. Mr. Bidwell, Offg. Commissioner, supplied to the Deputy Collector in January last the form given in the margin (shown below), in which he was to abstract all the information he could collect. This he has done in appendix A, Nos. 1-2-3, and a few particulars may at once be mentioned by me.

Name of Purgunah.	Name of Mouzah.	Name of Zamindar and Putneedar.	EXISTING STATE OF THE MOUZAHS WHICH WOULD BE EXPOSED TO INUNDATION BY REMOVAL OF THE BUNDS.				What extent of land would not be liable to injury by the inundation.	What extent would be liable to injury.	Mufassal Jumah of the Mouzah.	Extent to which it would be affected by the inundation.	What portion of the Mouzah would probably be improved by alluvion.	REMARKS.
			LAND.			Crops grown.						NOTE.—The sentiments of each zamindar and putneedar to be recorded separately and distinctly in this column.
			Cultivated.	Waste.	Jungle.

5. Of 285 landholders whose opinion the Deputy Collector has recorded 110 are for and 175 against the project in view and I believe it will be found that of those favourable to it the consent of the majority is only conditional upon, or rather, given under the supposition of, the Government indemnifying them for all possible losses.

6. The amount of land surveyed by the Deputy Collector is as follows:—

				P.	K.	CH.	G.
Cultivated	...	...	...	407,184	3	13	4
Waste	...	...	...	47,830	9	4	14
Jungle	...	...	...	2,075	18	12	0
		Total area	...	457,090	11	13	18

of which the estimated mufassal jama amounts to Rs. 937,125-12-3, the probable loss from expected inundation is estimated at Rs. 85,241-14-1 and the probable gain upon lands to be improved by alluvion Rs. 26,169-14-11.

7. The details of these estimates, shewing the probable loss and gain of each village and of each landholder are shown in appendices 1-2-3 and 4 respectively.

8. The Deputy Collector speaks of the villages on the banks of the rivers as generally good and fertile owing to the deposits left by the floods: some lands yielding goods crops of mulberry at a rental of 6 to 10 rupees per bigha; others pulse, vegetables, etc., at 3 to 5 rupees and the yet lower sandy lands producing cucumbers and melons at a rental of 2 to 3 rupees. These high rates are rarely obtainable within the embankments and render it difficult to account for the objections raised to the proposal by the landholders and he very justly observes that great caution will be required in estimating the extent of the injury which cannot be fairly judged of within 2 or 3 years and no rash engagements or provisions should be made. He inclines to the opinion that the injury will be far less and the gain far more than is now expected. This opinion the Offg. Collector warmly supports as agreeing with the impression made on his mind during his inspection of the country in March last and it entirely agrees with my own views of the subject formed years ago.

9. Both officers agree in the necessity of an enactment empowering the executive officers to level all bunds public or private which may interfere with the scheme and this with special reference to para. 9 of your letter of the 1st March 1853, No. 96, in which you remarked that "the country on the right bank of the Damodar is in some parts covered with a network of embankments erected by individual proprietors." Upon this point I wrote in paras. 16 and 17 of my report of the 24th ultimo No. 248 and the subject has already engaged your attention and been provided for in your Draft Act.

10. I find that the local enquiries of both officers have led them to the conclusion that some safety valve for the surplus water of the Damodar is urgently needed.

Questions and Answers.

11. In para. 13 of my letter just above cited I mentioned having learned that it is the opinion of many intelligent natives that the inundations of the Damodar used not to be in olden times nearly so bad as they are now and that their increased ravages are attributed to the gradual filling up of sundry old water-courses which used to relieve the river stream—that opinion is now supported by the judgment of both these officers.

12. The Deputy Collector, having carefully viewed the existing nalas, proposes a canal 64 miles long and 60 feet broad. The excavated earth to be formed into a bund on each side 60 feet from the edge of the canal, this giving to the floods a waterway of 180 feet wide. He would commence the canal at Sumbutteegola or Seneteegola above Burdwan and carry it down along the green dotted line in his map to Pansoolee. Of this work 54 miles would be new, but facilitated by the natural water-courses and 10 miles would be the Rora Khal already existing in Hirapur but requiring enlargement. The expense of the work itself which must be calculated by Engineers would doubtless be enormous and the cost of 3,840 bighas of land required for it would also be great.

13. The Officiating Collector modifies this proposal by one for a canal from Rajbulhat to Marokhana, marked red in the map—which though much shorter and consequently far less expensive would, he thinks, be equally effectual:—but it could be so only or mainly to its own extent—it would not equally benefit the country nearer Burdwan.

14. Another proposal of the Officiating Collector is to reopen the old bed of the Damodar from Salimabad, on the north of the Hooghly district now known as the Kana Nadi—to the Hooghly river at Tribeni. This is the plan, which what I have casually heard on the subject, leads me to think most desirable; and it would—apart from the relief of inundation—be a very great blessing to the internal commerce of these districts by affording a safe and easy passage to the Presidency marts.

15. The Officiating Collector mentions having seen repairs going on in the canal between Kolaberia and Musreka and says it would be very advantageous to carry on the work to Koilaghat, and I may here observe that a proposition regarding the enlargement of the Bakshee khal in the Howrah district has been before the Government and may tend to the relief of the Damodar.

16. I have reserved for this opportunity the transmission to your Board of a letter of the 26th June last, No. 182, from the Officiating Collector of Burdwan reporting with reference to your letter of the 25th April last, No. 81, the number of houses and huts between the old and retired embankments in his district. He mentions a great discrepancy between the statements prepared by Mr. Collector Ward and Lt. De Bourbel both having been to the spot but that of Lt. De. Bourbel is more likely to be correct* and he explains that in some instances Mr. Ward, giving the name of one village only, included the habitations comprised in several.

* Because he is intimately acquainted with the Government bunds and would know what to include and what to omit which Mr. Ward did not know

17. Lt. De Bourbel reports the total number of houses and huts to be 620 and of inhabitants 26,485 but the Offg. Collector, Mr. Young, thought that the population might safely be estimated at 46,026 according to the following abstract:—

Residence.		Supposed by Lt De Bourbel to contain—		By Mr. Young —
134	Pukka houses @	5	670	@ 15	2,010
3,807	Large huts @	5	19035	@ 8	30,456
291	Small huts @	3	873	@ 6	1,746
1,969	Mat huts @	3	5,907	@ 6	11,814
6,201			26,485		46,026

18. In reviewing the whole subject I cannot but admit that very considerable injury will be caused by giving up the embankments, that great expense must be borne by the State, in paying for such portions of that injury as may be found fairly chargeable to it; and that excessive annoyance will arise in the investigation of the claims that will be made and for the instant investigation of which a thoroughly efficient establishment must be maintained as the Revenue officer will be utterly unable to undertake the work and delay will be ruinous. Indeed I think that a legislative enactment will be required to enforce the bringing forward of claims for compensation within six months at farthest of the date of injury; as if this be not done, no means of estimating the damage on the spot will be available and after the lapse of years claims may be brought forward which it will be equally impossible to refute and inexpedient to pay.

19. I have never regretted so much as now the absence of a thoroughly good survey of this part of the country. Had the revenue survey been completed the data afforded by it might be compared by the survey officers year by year with the state of the country after each inundation and a satisfactory estimate of the profit and loss obtained.

Questions and Answers.

20. But though so much may be said against the scheme and so great difficulties are evidently to be encountered, I still hope it may be undertaken in the belief that, if it be so, with due precaution it will in the end prove immensely beneficial and I would thus state both sides of the case.

First.—The Deputy Collector estimates the loss at Rs. 85,241-14-1 and the gain at Rs. 26,169-14-11, showing a deficit of Rs. 59,071-15-2, but the Maharaja of Burdwan alone pays Rs. 57,324-12-10 per annum on account of embankments which need no longer be kept up and thus the estimated loss payable by Government will be very nearly covered.

I suppose that this estimate relates to the good and evil likely to arise year by year for some few years till alluvial deposits shall have raised the general level of the country.

Second.—Though the embankment officers may be otherwise employed, a large establishment will still be required for some years to report upon the state of the country after each rainy season and the sum paid by the Maharaja for embankments will be swallowed up by payments for injuries sustained, but this will cease after a few years, whilst the payment of the Maharaja, if the Government reimburse the losses, giving them (the Maharaja and his patanidars) all the gain, must be perpetual—although the bund originally maintained by it may be done away. If there be any doubt on the subject, it must be met by a new law, which will but support the side of Justice, for the Government may fairly say to the Raja:

"It is true that you engaged to pay Rs. 57,324-12-10 annually for the specific purpose of keeping up by Government officers the embankments you were formerly obliged to keep up yourself. The arrangement was made for your benefit and not for ours, but long experience has now shown that the embankments never have given and never can give the desired security. It is believed that their abandonment will place you eventually in a far better position than that in which you now are. The State will bear all the loss—you will reap all the gain, paying neither more nor less than hitherto."

Third.—I have said above that the want of a revenue survey is to be deplored, but Lt. Dicken's note of the 28th November 1853 shows that the Executive Officers have most elaborate calculations of the varying levels of the whole country affected and from those calculations, the officers in the D.P.W. already intimately acquainted with the country and assisted by Revenue Officers with the aid of the statements now submitted by the Deputy Collector may obtain each season a very close approximation to the amount of loss and gain that has occurred. Provided always, as I have said above, that a law be passed requiring all claims for loss to be preferred within six or even three months.

Fourth.—It is greatly to be lamented that injury to the houses or crops or lands of the people cannot altogether be avoided and may be very great. But I firmly believe it will be far less than has been contemplated and it is to be remembered that this scheme will not expose what has hitherto been safe or only in very few instances. I have always regarded the protection of the bunds as next to nominal. Trusting to them, houses have been built and crops sown and cattle penned and human beings located where they would not have been but for the bund: the bund has burst and all under its shadow have been swept away. Whereas in places naturally exposed and not artificially protected the same amount of inundation does no harm, but good. The people know that they must expect it—their houses are therefore built and their cattle kept on high spots out of its reach and the low lands are planted only with dry weather crops or with rice which will rise with the water. When the existing bunds are demolished the people thereby affected will become equally cautious, and my firm belief is that for every bigha of land permanently injured at least two will be permanently improved.

21. Since I wrote the above, I have received back from the Officiating Collector the enclosures Nos. 1 to 8 in a greatly improved form. They were so confused as to be almost unintelligible, but I trust that the additions and alterations which have been made in accordance with my suggestions have rendered them so much more plain and easy of reference that they will be found really valuable and may obtain for the Deputy Collector the credit he appears to me to deserve.

I have, etc.,

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) Investigation has shown that a 20 feet span culvert is necessary near Jhaul Bazar.

(b) Yes.

(c) Government are aware that waterways and headways, amply sufficient for the country boat traffic of this part of the country and for adequate and efficient drainage of the areas affected by the railway embankment, are of vital importance to the welfare of the inhabitants and efficient sanitation. On investigation, Government are of opinion that to secure the above conditions, an increase of headway under the Ichamati River Bridge under three small culverts, Nos. 28, 32 and 37, and the construction of a 20 feet culvert near Jhaul Bazar is necessary and have accordingly recommended these improvements to the Railway Board.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Yes. Government have directed inquiries to be made into all the specific allegations which have come to their notice, and have impressed upon Commissioners and District Officers the necessity for prompt investigation by responsible officers into any specific charges that may be brought (b) No case for such action has so far been established."

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI asked the following supplementary question :—

"Are the Government aware that poor peasants are afraid and generally do not come forward to bring criminal proceedings against the police?"

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER replied :—

"I am not prepared to answer such a general question either in the affirmative or in the negative."

Special Tribunals for hât looting cases.

XXXIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons which led the Government to appoint Special Tribunals under the Defence of India (Criminal Law Amendment) Act, 1915, to try the recent hât-looting cases?

(b) Are the Government aware that the trial of these cases of crime by Special Tribunals and the consequent curtailment of the right of appeal have given rise to a good deal of indignation and resentment amongst the public?

(c) Are the Government contemplating the abolition of the Special Tribunal Courts and the trial of these cases by the ordinary criminal courts?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The reason was the necessity of checking recent outbreaks of lawlessness by bringing the offenders to speedy trial and of avoiding congestion of business in the ordinary courts.

(b) Government have seen criticisms in some quarters of the appointment of these tribunals, but they are not prepared to accept as correct the general inference suggested by the question.

(c) No."

XXXIV. Will the Government be pleased to make a statement as to the steps actually being taken to reduce the price of salt in Bengal? Price of salt in Bengal.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" Steps are being taken in accordance with rule 11 J of the Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules, with a view to fixing the maximum prices at which salt may be sold."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

XXXV. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the number and the nature of the criminal cases for offences committed against the provisions of the salt law in Bengal— Offences against the salt law.

(a) between the date of the enhancement of the salt tax in March, 1916, and August, 1917, and

(b) between September, 1917, and January, 1918, together with the dates on which the cases were instituted?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" A statement giving the information asked for will be laid on the table at a subsequent meeting of the Council."

XXXVI. (a) Is it a fact that the Government have received applications from certain persons for permission to manufacture salt? Manufacture of salt by private persons.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the names of the applicants and the places where they propose to manufacture salt?

(c) What orders, if any, have been passed on such applications?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table copies of such applications?

(e) Have any orders been passed on the application of Abdul Barik Hai of Noakhali referred to in unstarred question No. XXXVI by the Hon'ble Babu Brojendra Kishor Ray Chaudhuri at the meeting of the Council of the 22nd January last?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) Applications were received by Government from the following gentlemen for permission to manufacture salt in the districts mentioned against their names :—

(1) Babus Surendra Chandra Ghosal and Digendra Chandra Ghosal—Chittagong.

(2) Babu Mohendra Chandra Ghosal.—Chittagong.

(3) Abdul Barik Haji, of Huddakhali.—Noakhali.

It is understood that the Collector of Chittagong has also received other applications which are under his consideration.

(c) The applications received by Government were of rather a vague character, and the applicants were therefore requested to further examine their proposals in consultation with the expert staff, and then to state whether they still desired to proceed. As no definite reply has yet been received, no orders have been passed on the applications, with the exception of that of Abdul Barik Haji.

(d) Copies of the applications received by Government are placed on the table.

(e) The Commissioner of Chittagong rejected the application."

Copies of applications referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD to question No. XXXVI, asked by the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA at the Council meeting of the 19th February, 1918.

TO THE COLLECTOR,
Chittagong.

The humble petition of Surendra Chandra Ghosal and Digendra Chandra Ghosal, sons of Nanda Kumar Ghosal, merchants, Station Road, Chittagong

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH :—

1. That your humble petitioners are importers of Spanish, Aden and Port Said salt in Chittagong.

2. That owing to the want of tonnage occasioned by the war, your humble petitioners are feeling great difficulty in obtaining supply from the above-said places.

3. That the price of salt has abnormally increased owing to the above-said reason and there is likelihood of further increase.

4. That the price has gone up so high at present that it is necessary in the interests of the public that local manufacture of salt should be allowed at once.

5. That your petitioners have resources enough to manufacture salt at Chittagong on a large scale.

6. That your petitioners are willing to abide by all terms and conditions that may be imposed by your honour for the manufacture of salt in Chittagong.

It is, therefore, humbly prayed that your honour will be pleased to grant the petitioners license to manufacture salt in Chittagong on reasonable terms, and for this your petitioners shall ever pray.

SURENDRA CHANDRA GHOSAL.
DIGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSAL.

CHITTAGONG,
The 30th November, 1917.

Questions and Answers.

Dated Chittagong, the 6th December, 1917.

From—Mohendra Chandra Ghosal and Ramkamal Ramballay Shaha,
To—The Collector of the Chittagong Division.

We beg to bring to your kind notice that our firm is a very respectable and long-standing one in this district and has been dealing in salt for 60 years last, and has a very extensive business in this line, not only in this district, but also all over East Bengal and Assam. We have so long been importing salt directly from Europe and supplying the markets till the last year. But owing to the dangers and difficulties created by the war and want of vessels and means of transport, it has now become almost impracticable to import salt from European ports and even from Aden, so that the price of salt has now been excessively raised and the public have been greatly affected thereby. It is thus feared that in no very distance of time it will be well-nigh impossible to obtain any supply and meet the demands of the markets.

Under the above circumstances we are desirous of manufacturing salt in Chittagong, which, being a sea-port town, is advantageous for the purpose and is sure to yield any quantity of salt from the sea-water. We may bring to your kind notice that salt was extensively manufactured in Chittagong for a very long time under Government management, and it was about 1858 that the manufacture was discontinued.

We, therefore, beg to request the favour of your kindly recommending the Local Government to grant us license to manufacture salt in Chittagong, for which we are ready to pay the requisite fees and other charges and abide by the rules that may be framed by Government, and to procure us the said license prayed for to enable us to commence the work as soon as possible, so that the price of salt may be reduced by which the public may be extremely benefited, and for this act of kindness we shall be ever grateful.

Translation of the petition of Abdul Barik Haji.

I, Abdul Barik Haji, son of late Aminuddin Miaji, of Huddakhali, police-station Sandip, beg most respectfully to state that the inordinate rise in the price of salt prevents the inhabitants of Sandip from buying that article. I humbly submit that I can agree to sell salt at Sandip, Char Badu and Char Siddhi at one anna per seer for ten years and to pay Government duty at the rate of Rs. 1,000 per annum. I, therefore, pray that I may be granted permission to manufacture and sell salt at Sandip, Char Badu, Char Siddhi and other places on an agreement for ten years and to pay Government an annual duty of Rs. 1,000.

XXXVII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they have issued any circular or order to the excise authorities asking them not to prosecute people for the manufacture of salt for domestic consumption? Circular regarding salt manufacture.

(b) If so, when was that circular or order issued?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to lay the same on the table?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) It is correct that instructions were issued to the Salt Department that, pending further orders, the manufacture of salt on a small scale and primarily for personal and domestic consumption might be ignored.

(b) On the 11th December, 1917.

(c) The purport of the orders is cited above; the letter itself was confidential and addressed to the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, and Government do not propose to lay it on the table."

A case under section 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

XXXVIII. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a case under section 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure decided by Mr. A. T. Mukharji, Fifth Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta, against one Parameswar and twenty-six other carters?

(b) What was the total number of witnesses examined in that case both for the Crown and for the defence?

(c) Is it a fact that the above-named Magistrate was specially deputed for the trial of this case, and that the case dragged on for one year and five months? If not, how long did the trial last?

(d) Is it a fact that all the accused have been acquitted?

(e) Is it a fact that the Magistrate came to the finding—" I unhesitatingly consider that the accused are not the kind of men to be dealt with under section 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure?"

(f) What is the total amount of the cost incurred by the Government for the prosecution of this case? Is it a fact that over Rs. 40,000 has been spent by the Government in this case?

(g) How much was spent on account of fess paid to the lawyers for conducting the prosecution and how much for procuring the attendance and evidence of the witnesses for the Crown?

(h) Have the Government instituted any inquiry as to whether there were any justifiable grounds for starting the prosecution?

(i) If not, are the Government considering the desirability of making such inquiry?

(j) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking such steps as may be considered necessary to prevent such prosecutions in future?

(k) Is there any rule or circular fixing the maximum cost which may be incurred by the Government in this class of case?

(l) If not, are the Government considering the desirability of laying down a rule fixing such maximum?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) Three hundred and sixty-two for the prosecution and five hundred for the defence.

(c) Some of the accused appeared before the Chief Presidency Magistrate on August 8th, 1916, and the others on various dates in August and September. The case was made over to Babu Ashutosh Mukharji on September 25th. The hearing was finished on November 13th, 1917, and judgment was passed on January 21st, 1918.

(d) All the accused have been discharged.

(e) The Magistrate said :—' I unhesitatingly come to the conclusion that these accused are not the men who should be dealt with under sections 110 and 118, Criminal Procedure Code.'

(f) and (g) A sum of Rs. 14,000 was spent on Vakils' fees and Rs. 973 on preparing the brief. Particulars regarding the other expenses incurred in the case are not at present available.

(h), (i) and (j) The Commissioner of Police is being asked for a report on the case, and the matter will be further considered when his reply is received.

(k) No.

(l) The circumstances of different cases may vary so greatly that it is not apparent how any such general maximum could suitably be imposed."

Malaria in Tippera

XL. (a) Are the Government aware that the district of Tippera was hitherto remarkably free from malaria?

(b) Is it a fact that for some time past several parts of Tippera have been contaminated by malaria?

(c) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that malaria is making steady progress in Tippera?

(d) Have the Government instituted any inquiry as to the causes of the spread of malaria in Tippera?

(e) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the result of the inquiry?

(f) If not, will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of instituting such an inquiry?

(g) What steps, if any, are the Government taking to arrest the course of malaria in Tippera?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) and (c) Malaria appears to be on the increase in some parts of the district.

(d) No.

(e) This question does not arise.

(f) and (g) Public health is primarily a duty of the District Board, and in June, 1917, the Board was urged by the Sanitary Commissioner to take antimalarial measures. Government will institute an inquiry if the District Board will co-operate."

Administration of the Arms Act.

XLII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they have received any communication or instruction from the Government of India to give effect to the declaration of His Excellency the Viceroy that all racial disabilities in connection with the administration of the Arms Act will be removed?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state what these instructions are, and to lay the same on the table?

(c) Has there been, after the aforementioned declaration of His Excellency the Viceroy, any correspondence between the Government of Bengal and the Government of India on the subject of the removal of the disabilities and restrictions which now apply to the Indians in the matter of arms?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The views of the Government of Bengal on this question were submitted to the Government of India before His Excellency the Viceroy referred to the matter in his speech in the Imperial Legislative Council on the 5th September, 1917. Since that date no further communication has been received from the Government of India on the subject. Government are not prepared to lay the correspondence on the table."

Kristopur Canal and the Jotra Gachi bhil.

XLIII. (a) Is it a fact that "Jatra Gachi" bhil, about 5 miles east of Calcutta, used to yield a good paddy crop a few years ago?

(b) Is there any truth in the statement that the excavation of the Kristopur canal by the Government has almost completely destroyed the fertility of a large number of villages surrounding the bhil and has proved a source of immense loss to the cultivators?

(c) What income has the canal yielded to the Government during each of the last five years?

(d) With what object in view was the canal excavated by Government?

(e) Is it a fact that the water level of the canal is lower than that of the bhil and that the accumulated waters consequently find no way of egress?

(f) What immediate steps, if any, are in the contemplation of the Government to solve the problem?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Press communiqué issued from the Irrigation Department on the 30th of November, 1917. A copy of the communiqué is placed on the table.

(a) It is not a fact.

(b) There is no truth in the statement.

(c) Accounts are kept for the whole system of canals in the vicinity of Calcutta, and, as no separate accounts are kept for the Kristopur canal, the information is not available.

Questions and Answers.

(d) The Kristopur canal was excavated to afford a direct connection between the Circular canal system, consisting of the still-water canals between Chitpur and Dhappa locks, with the Bhangore khal system which was a still-water canal between Bamonghatta and Kulti locks. The canal was also constructed to provide an alternate easy route for the boat traffic to and from eastern districts in place of the Bidyadhari river route which was silting up.

(e) It is not a fact that the water level of the canal is lower than the bed level of the bhil. The canal water is maintained at a normal level of 6 feet above mean sea level. The lowest land level in the bhil is about 3 feet above mean sea level. The ordinary paddy land in the bhil is about 5 feet above mean sea level. It is not a fact that the accumulated water finds no way of egress from the bhil. The water in the bhil is drained through regulators or sluices into the canal, which, in its turn, is drained by sluices constructed at Thakurdari on the Paran Chaprasi's khal and by the sluices on the Harwa Gong at Kulti. To permit of final drainage at harvest time, the water level in the canal is lowered to 3 feet above mean sea level.

(f) In view of the statements made in the previous answers, the question does not arise."

Press Communiqué of the 30th November, 1917, regarding the drainage of the Ghooni and Jattragachi Bheels in the 24-Parganas referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY to question No. XLIII (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA at the Council meeting of the 19th February, 1918.

The attention of the Government has been drawn to an article in the issue of the Amrita Bazar Partika, dated the 23rd November 1917, headed "Why Responsible Government is wanted" which made certain statements about the drainage of the Ghooni and Jattragachi Bheels in the 24-Parganas. The statements made were :—

"(1) That previous to the construction of the Kristopur Canal, the bheels drained easily through two natural channels and that the whole area of the bheel yielded a luxuriant paddy crops.

(2) That as a result of the construction of the Kristopur Canal this bheel tract has been rendered useless as the free flow of water has been stopped by this Canal.

(3) That the Canal has been constructed by Government to derive an income of about a lakh of rupees per year and the Government was not justified in creating this new source of income without making provision for free passage of accumulated water.

(4) That the Executive Engineer, Circular and Eastern Canals Division, in his letter No. 5465 of the 18th September 1914, suggested that works for the improvement of drainage of these bheel areas should be paid for by the parties benefited, but the article raised the question whether they should pay for this or the Government which is reaping a splendid income from the Canal."

These allegations contain certain misstatements. In the first place it is not a fact that the Kristopur Canal was constructed without making adequate provision for draining the areas intercepted by this Canal. This area in the Jattragachi Bheel was water-logged before the Canal was constructed. The arrangement is that all the drainage water of intercepted areas including the bheels in question is received through sluices into the canal which in its turn is drained by sluices constructed at Thakurdari on the Paran Chaprasi's Khal ; the drainage is also effected by sluices on the Harwa Gong at Kulti.

Questions and Answers.

The level at which the Canal water is maintained is 6 feet above mean sea level. The level in the bheel in March 1906, previous to the construction of the Canal, was however 3 feet higher. The drainage of the bheels has therefore been improved since the construction of the Canal, and this was stated in the first portion of the same letter, addressed by the Executive Engineer to the Collector of the district, to which the writer of the article appears to have had access. The bheels were in 1906 under water to a much higher level than now; and as that water was saline, a larger area was then unfit for cultivation.

It is also not a fact that the Canal provides an extra income of one lakh of rupees per year. On the contrary, the income of Government is less now than it was before the Canal was constructed. The prime object of the Canal was not to secure increased revenue, but to provide an alternative easy route for the boat traffic to and from Eastern Districts in place of the Bidyadhari River route which was silting up.

Mr Burton's case.

XLIV. (a) With reference to the damage suit brought by Babu Lalit Chandra Das against Mr. Burton, Superintendent of Police, in the Munsiff's Court at Balurghat, is it true that before instituting the suit, Lalit Babu wired to the District Magistrate of Dinajpur and the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division praying for relief but neither of these officers took any notice of his complaint?

(b) What action, if any, are the Government taking against Mr. Burton after the concurrent finding of two courts.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Babu Lalit Chandra Das telegraphed to the District Magistrate of Dinajpur on the 22nd February and to the Commissioner on the 27th February, 1915, complaining of the damage and asking for an inquiry. The Commissioner asked the Magistrate for a report, which was received on the 17th March. As the notice of the civil suit had been served on the 15th March, it was decided, on legal advice, to await the suit.

(b) Government do not propose to take any action."

Mr. Burton and a Sub-Inspector.

XLV. (a) Is it true that Satish Chandra Das, brother of the said Lalit Chandra Das, who was a sub-inspector of police in the Dinajpur district, was degraded to a head constable and was reported for dismissal by Mr. Burton after the institution of the damage suit referred to in question LI?

(b) Is it true that the Deputy Inspector-General of Police of the Rajshahi Range, after inquiry, recorded his finding that the sub-inspector, Satish Chandra Das, was unnecessarily harassed and persecuted, and reinstated him with full pay in his former grade?

(c) Is it true that the inquiry made by the Deputy Inspector-General of Police has satisfied the Government that Mr. Burton has harassed and persecuted sub-inspector Satish Chandra Das, in consequence of the damage suit brought by his brother against Mr. Burton?

(d) Have the Government taken any step to express their disapprobation of the conduct of Mr. Burton in this connection?

(e) If so, what has been the step taken? If not, what action, if any, are the Government taking?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) Proceedings were drawn up in July, 1914, by Mr. Burton against sub-inspector Satish Chandra Das in respect of certain irregularities in the investigation of a case which the sub-inspector had reported as non-cognizable, but which was sent up under the orders of the Magistrate and ended in conviction. There was great delay in completing the proceedings against the sub-inspector, owing to the fact that both he and other officers concerned had been transferred, from the district. In February, 1915, Mr. Burton visited Porsha thana for the purpose of enquiring into certain other matters relating to the conduct of the sub-inspector, while in charge of the police-station. The breaking down of the fence which had been erected by the sub-inspector's brother outsides the thana took place on the 18th February. On the 4th March, Mr. Burton recorded an order finding the sub-inspector guilty of the charges in respect of which the proceedings had been drawn up, and recommending his discharge from the force on the ground of general untrustworthiness and dishonesty in acquiring land within his jurisdiction in the name of his brother. These proceedings were submitted to the Deputy Inspector-General on the same day. The Deputy Inspector-General returned the papers to Mr. Burton, directing him to quote specific instances of conduct on the part of the sub-inspector which could be reasonably considered as dishonest. On the 10th May, Mr. Burton passed final orders in the case relating to the proceedings which had been drawn up in July, 1914, directing that the sub-inspector should be degraded to the rank of head constable for one year. On the 11th May, he submitted a report on the general charges, in which he asked the Deputy Inspector-General to deal with the matter himself, as any order passed by Mr. Burton might be looked upon as a biassed finding. After further enquiries, the Deputy Inspector-General, Mr. Kemp, in October, 1915, submitted a report to the Inspector-General of Police, recommending the dismissal of the sub-inspector. The Inspector-General of Police thereupon directed Mr. Hutchinson, who had meanwhile succeeded Mr. Kemp as Deputy Inspector-General, to enquire further into the matter. Mr. Hutchinson found no ground for proceeding further with the case, recorded his opinion that the sub-inspector had been most unnecessarily harassed and directed that he should be reinstated in his original grade with effect from the date of his degradation.

(c) There is no reason to conclude that Mr. Burton's action was due to the damage suit brought by the sub-inspector's brother. The original proceeding on which the sub-inspector was degraded were started in July, 1914, seven months before the incident which gave rise to the damage suit and Mr. Burton's finding was recorded on the 4th March, 1915, twelve days before the notice of the suit was served on him. Moreover, Mr. Burton's inquiries into the alleged improper acquisition of land by the sub-inspector were initiated in February, 1915, and after the institution of the suit, Mr. Burton requested the Deputy Inspector-General to deal with the matter himself.

(d) and (e) Government have expressed their disapproval of the manner in which the original proceedings were handled by Mr. Burton."

The case of a détenu.

XLVI. (a) Is it a fact that détenu Phanindra Nath Sett was arrested on the 1st July, 1916, and placed in a solitary cell at Dullunda House from the 2nd July to the 12th July, 1916?

(b) Is it a fact that he was thereafter kept in a solitary cell in the Presidency Jail for a long time?

(c) Is it a fact that during all this time several police officers induced him by threat and otherwise to admit what they alleged had already been proved by some alleged revolutionaries, but that he did not do so?

Questions and Answers.

(d) Is it a fact that after about a month's detention in a solitary cell in the Presidency Jail, a police officer came there one day and proposed to take him to the Kyd Street police-station?

(e) Is it a fact that both he and the jail authorities objected to his being taken out of the jail as he had not yet had his evening meal?

(f) Is it a fact that in spite of this objection he was taken to the Kyd Street police-station where he was beaten mercilessly?

(g) Is it true that besides the assault committed on him nothing more was done or said in the Kyd Street police-station?

(h) Is it true that after one hour's stay in the solitary cell in the said police-station he was again brought to the Presidency Jail and had to go without a meal that night?

(i) Is it a fact that early next morning he was again taken out of the jail to some police office where he was subjected to all sorts of abuses and indignity at the hands of several police officers?

(j) Is it a fact that he repeatedly requested them to formulate their charges against him in writing on a sheet on which he could write down his answers, but that this was not done?

(k) Is it true that when his statements were on that occasion taken down by a police officer, he asked him to read out what had been written, but this was not done and his signature was not taken?

(l) Is it true that he was again taken to the Presidency Jail at 11-30 A.M. when the morning meal had been served out and that he got nothing to eat till 4 P.M.

(m) Is it a fact that he had to go without food for a period of 27 hours?

(n) When was he removed from the Presidency Jail? In what place or places was he kept, till the 2nd February, 1917?

(o) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of formulating charges against Phanindra Nath Setb in writing and of taking such statements from him as he may choose to make in answer thereto?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" Phanindra Nath Sett was arrested on the 1st July, 1916, under section 54, Criminal Procedure Code, and kept in police custody until the 12th July, 1916. He was then discharged and arrested under Rule 12 A of the Defence of India Rules and committed to custody in the Presidency Jail until the 9th August, when orders were passed interning him at Dullanda House. On the 18th November, 1916, he was transferred to Ahmadpur in the Birbhum district. On the 29th January, 1917, he was transferred to his father's house in Calcutta, where he is still domiciled. During the time he was at the Presidency Jail he was on one occasion taken out for examination but no statement was recorded; there is no foundation for the allegation that he was kept without food. Although the charges were communicated to Phanindra Nath Sett and his explanation taken, no written charges were formulated as this was not then the custom; orders have been given that this shall be done now.

Although the détenu and his relatives have been in constant communication with the officers of Government, and the détenu has been in home domicile in Calcutta, no complaint or suggestion has ever been made till now to any officer of Government that Phanindra Nath Sett was threatened, beaten mercilessly or subjected to all sorts of abuses and indignity at the hands of police officers. After a lapse of some 18 months the man has made allegations of ill-treatment and an inquiry into them will now be held."

Certain statements in the Police Administration Report.

XLVII. (a) With reference to the statements made under section V of the Police Administration Report of 1916 to the effect that " A good deal of eloquence has lately been expended on the subject of increased expenditure on the Police," will the Government be pleased to state whether they are in a position to repudiate the suggestion that the statement has reference to certain discussions by non-official members in this Council in connection with the last Budget?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether before answering the unstarred question No. XVIII at the last meeting of the Council, they inquired of the author of the Report whether the suggestion made in that question was true in point of fact?

(c) Are the Government aware that the statement quoted above has embittered the feelings of the non-official members?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of issuing instructions to Heads of Departments not to make any disparaging remarks in Administration Reports about discussions in this Council?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Government have nothing to add to the reply which was given to the question put by the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray on this subject at the last meeting of the Council.

(b) It is a matter of common knowledge that the expenditure on the police during recent years has been widely discussed. No such specific inquiry was, therefore, deemed to be necessary.

(c) Government have observed that certain members of this Council have taken umbrage at the remark, but they can see nothing in it justifying such strong feeling as is implied in the question.

(d) Government do not consider it necessary to issue any such instructions."

Proposed subdivision for Tippera.

XLIX. (a) Is it a fact that a new subdivision will shortly be started in the district of Tippera?

(b) If so, when and where?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons which have led them to start a new subdivision during the financial stress caused by the war?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state what the probable initial cost would be for starting the proposed subdivision? Has any estimate of such costs been made? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the same on the table?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what additional annual expenditure the new subdivision will place on the public funds?

(f) If no final decision has as yet been arrived at, will the Government be pleased to state whether they have considered the advisability of postponing this heavy expenditure during the pendency of the war in view of the declared policy of the Government on the subject of new expenditure?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) (b) and (c) Proposals for the creation of a new subdivision in the district of Tippera are at present under consideration. A memorandum inviting public opinion on the scheme will shortly be published. The object of the scheme is to relieve the Sadar and Brahmanbaria subdivisions which are unduly onerous charges. It is impossible to say at present when the scheme will be carried out.

(d) and (e) Estimates of the cost are being drawn up but are incomplete.

(f) The financial position will be carefully considered before the date for giving effect to any scheme is decided."

Manufacture of salt in Bengal.

L. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the different indigenous methods of preparing salt in Bengal, and the cost at which salt can be manufactured per hundred maunds according to each of those methods?

Questions and Answers.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to name the different places in Bengal where salt can be manufactured, and to what extent?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of causing a survey to be made of all the salt-producing tracts in Bengal and of ascertaining the total quantity of salt which can be manufactured in Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) There are two indigenous methods of salt manufacture :—

First, panga, under which salt is educed by boiling brine which has been obtained by filtration from salt earth.

Secondly, the karkatch system, under which salt is obtained from brine by means of solar evaporation.

The cost at which salt can be manufactured by either of these methods would depend on varying factors turning largely on the locality chosen, e.g., the cost of working sites, fuel (in the case of panga salt), labour, supervision, and the productivity of the area selected. No theoretical answer seems, therefore, to be practicable on this point.

(b) Subject to such regulations regarding supervision, etc., as may be prescribed, the manufacture of salt would be possible in any place in Bengal where the necessary plant is established and the materials for production are assembled. The extent of manufacture would be governed by the capacity of the plant and the quantity of materials for production. It is impossible to give a more definite answer.

(c) The Salt Department in each saliferous district already maintains survey registers of saline tracts. As regards the suggestion that Government should take action to ascertain the total quantity of salt that can be manufactured in Bengal, it is not understood what particular purpose so vague an inquiry is intended to serve."

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of extending the period of grace and giving them another chance of appearing at the said examination?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) It is understood that there are a number of such practitioners who, as a matter of fact, did not so pass.

(b) The question is under discussion with the Government of India."

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the total number of Muhammadan students who were on the rolls on the various Arts Colleges in Calcutta on the 31st January, 1918?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) A scheme for the establishment of a Muhammadan College at Calcutta has been prepared but is in abeyance, both because the funds required for its establishment are not at present available and also because it is considered desirable not to proceed with the scheme until the Calcutta University Commission has submitted its report, and orders have been passed on its recommendations.

(iv) to lay on the table all papers in this connection?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (i) The attention of the Hon'ble Member is invited to the answer given by the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley to question No. XLII at the Council meeting of the 20th November, 1917. No measures to prevent erosion are contemplated.

(ii) An area of 75 bighas has been acquired at Sonapur, half a mile from the Noakhali railway station, and if the erosion should continue to such an extent as to place any of the existing buildings in imminent danger, temporary buildings will be erected on the Sonapur site, as necessity arises. Government have not yet come to any conclusion as to the action to be taken in the event of the town of Noakhali being completely diluviated, as it is hoped that this contingency will not arise, at any rate for some years, while it might possibly not occur at all.

(iii) The measures now adopted were the result of a full inquiry made by the Commissioner, who visited a number of places in the district and ascertained the views of the public and the persons mainly concerned. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler also visited the district in July last and received deputations at Noakhali and Feni. In the event of further erosion rendering a complete evacuation of Noakhali necessary, opportunities will be afforded to the public for expressing their views regarding the steps then to be taken.

From—J. G. CUMMING, ESQ., C.I.E., I.C.S., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

To—All Commissioners of Divisions.

THE Governor in Council has had under his consideration the question of the co-ordination of the orders in force in the Presidency on the subject of the employment of Muhammadans in ministerial appointments.

2. The policy of the Government of India regarding appointments, which lie in the hands of the Local Governments, the High Courts or local officers, was enunciated in the Resolution of the Home Department, dated the 15th July 1885, published in the Gazette of India of the 18th July 1885, in which the following passage occurs :—

"The Governor-General in Council desires that, in those provinces where Muhammadans do not receive their full share of State employment, the Local Governments and High Courts will endeavour to redress this inequality as opportunity offers and will impress upon subordinate officers the importance of attending to this in their selection of candidates for appointments of the class referred to. The subject of the extent to which Muhammadans are employed in offices under Government might usefully be noticed in the annual reports of provincial administration."

Attention was invited in the same Resolution to the fact that the numerical inferiority of Muhammadans in the public offices was very marked in Bengal. Orders have been issued from time to time by the Governments of Western and Eastern Bengal, emphasizing the importance of giving effect to the policy of the Government of India as indicated in the above Resolution, prescribing statistical returns to show the progress made and reminding local officers of the importance of the subject. Recent statistics obtained from local officers, however, show that the progress attained in this direction so far has not been very marked. It will be observed from the figures noted in the margin for offices subordinate to the Divisional Commissioners in Eastern Bengal that the proportion of Muhammadans in these offices still falls below the percentage borne by the Muhammadan population literate in English to the total population of persons literate in English. While it is not intended that Muhammadans should be admitted to the public service when their educational qualifications fall short of the standards that have already been fixed for admission to that service, it has to be remembered that literacy is not the only important consideration that should govern recruitment for Government service. It is reasonable that the number of Muhammadans in ministerial posts should also bear some relation to the importance and population of the community. The adoption of a policy based on these principles has long been approved by Government ; and it appears to the Governor in Council that these principles have assumed a greater importance owing to the remarkable progress in education made of late years by the Muhammadan community. His Excellency in Council is therefore convinced that the time has come when it is advisable to fix a more definite proportion of appointments which should be filled by Muhammadans in the ministerial services employed in district offices. Special orders are already in existence regarding the ministerial officers in the offices of the Secretariat and of Heads of Departments. After a careful consideration of all the circumstances, His Excellency in Council thinks that, under present conditions, one-third would be a fair share of the ministerial appointments which should be held by Muhammadans in the offices in the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions excluding the Darjeeling district, and in the Presidency Division. In the other districts of the Presidency the proportion should correspond approximately to the percentage of the population represented by Muhammadans. His Excellency in Council desires that officers empowered to make appointments should make special efforts to attain to this standard, and that until the prescribed proportion has been reached, they should not reject a Muhammadan candidate, if qualified, in favour of a Hindu candidate merely because the latter has superior qualifications. Failure to comply with these instructions in respect of appointments made should be especially explained in the annual statement prescribed in paragraph 4 of this circular.

3. There are reasons to believe that the paucity of Muhammadan candidates has often been due to the fact that vacancies are not properly advertised. Accordingly I am to invite attention to the standing orders contained in rule 1, Appendix B, at page 78 of the Board's Rules, 1910 (cf. also corresponding rule 1, Appendix B, at page 83 of the Board's Rules, 1902, applicable to the districts in Eastern Bengal), which direct that whenever a permanent vacancy occurs or is about to occur in a paid appointment, a notice of the fact shall be suspended in some prominent place in the office, and a date, which shall not be less than 15 days after the issue of the notice, shall be fixed for filling up the vacancy. His Excellency in Council desires that heads of offices should scrupulously follow this rule and should supplement this procedure, when necessary, by invoking the assistance of recognized Muhammadan associations to secure qualified candidates. It is hoped that, as the number of qualified Muhammadan youths increases every year, it will not be difficult to obtain suitable candidates ; if only steps are taken to ensure that timely information of the existence of vacancies reaches those interested. The Governor in Council is confident that, with the co-operation of his officers and by the adoption of the measures indicated, a distinct and steady advance will be maintained in the matter of employment of Muhammadans.

4. Lastly, for statistical purposes, it is important to secure a uniformity in the form of returns furnished to Government by local officers, regarding the employment of Muhammadans, in place of the different forms which have hitherto been in use in Eastern and Western Bengal. The Governor in Council accordingly directs all officers concerned to furnish the prescribed statistics commencing with the current official year in the form annexed to this circular This form will supersede all the forms hitherto in use. The returns should reach Government not later than the 1st of July following the year to which they relate. The return regarding the employment of natives of the province prescribed by the late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam need not be furnished in future.

Allegations by an under-trial prisoner.

LX. (a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to certain serious allegations which have been made by one Priyanath Das in regard to the treatment that he received as an under-trial prisoner at the hands of the officers of Bagerhat Jail in the district of Khulna?

(b) If so, have the Government made any inquiry into the said allegations?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact—

(ii) that on his refusing to eat rice touched by any Muhammadan, he was forcibly fed from the hands of a Muhammadan?

(iii) that he was made to clean the drains of the jail and to do other menial work?

(iv) that he was assaulted by a warder and sustained injuries as a result?

(v) that he represented these matters to the Doctor? and

(vi) that thereafter he was subjected to greater oppressions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) An inquiry has been held by the District Magistrate.

(c) Priyanath Das was admitted to the Bagerhat sub-jail on the 31st October, 1917, and was released on bail on the 13th November. During this period, the jail was visited twice by the Subdivisional Officer, once by a non-official visitor, and daily by the Assistant Surgeon, who is also Deputy Superintendent of the jail. Priyanath Das was also produced before the Subdivisional Officer in Court on several occasions. He made no complaint to the Subdivisional Officer or to the non-official visitor regarding his treatment in jail. The only complaint that he made to the Assistant Surgeon was that he had been slapped by a warder. No mark of injury was shown, and the Assistant Surgeon, considering the assault a trivial one, verbally reprimanded the warder. The District Magistrate has found the other allegations to be without foundation."

THE BENGAL (ALIENS) DISQUALIFICATION BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal (Aliens) Disqualification Bill, 1918, and moved that the said report be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Majumdar moved that for the word "Native", in line 2 of clause 2 of the Bill, the word "Indian" be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord it may be poetically true that there is nothing good or bad but thinking makes it so ; but so long as there is a human mind moved by human feelings and sentiments thinking often becomes unavoidable. The word "'native" as used by Europeans in this country has come in as a word of contempt. (A voice cried 'No'). You may say 'No' but we are the people who feel and you are the people who use it. No doubt, my Lord, we are as much natives of India as Englishmen are the natives of England ; but I do not suppose that any man, either a Frenchman, a German or a Russian domiciled or naturalized in England would ever venture to call an Englishman a native. Particularly in the case of the Indian Princes they have rendered signal services in the present crisis and I do not see why we should use the word 'native' instead of 'Indian' to designate them. The local Government of another province has set a very good example by discouraging the use of this word in any official paper or document, and I think the Bengal Government have everything to gain and nothing to lose by similarly discouraging this term. Besides, my Lord, the word 'India' in this Act has been defined not only to mean British India but also the territories of our allied Princes, so, in the fitness of things, the word 'Indian' should be substituted for the word 'native.'"

The Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha, said :—

"On behalf of Government I accept the amendment proposed by my Hon'ble friend. I do not think that the use of the word 'native' in Acts of the Legislature carries any sense of contempt with it, but at the same time I think that there is considerable force in what the Hon'ble Member has urged with regard to the use that is sometimes made of the word, and in deference to what I cannot help thinking is a very common and almost universal sentiment the Government accepts the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Member."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBICA CHARAN MAJUMDAR was to have moved that after the words "In this Act", in line 1 of clause 2 of the Bill, the brackets and figure "(1)" be inserted, and that the following be added, namely :—

"(2) British subject means any of His Majesty's natural-born, domiciled or naturalized subjects in India or in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland".

He said :—

"Upon mature consideration I have come to the conclusion that this amendment ought not to be moved at the present stage and so I ask your Excellency's permission to withdraw it.

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 6.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBICA CHARAN MAJUMDAR moved that after the word "Vice-Chairman", in line 12 of clause 3 of the Bill, the words "or Engineer or Health Officer", be inserted.

He said :—

"Under clause 3 of the Bill there are certain appointments which have been mentioned as being withheld from the aliens. They are the Chairman, the Deputy Chairman, the Vice-Chairman; the two posts of Engineer and Health Officer particularly of Calcutta and Howrah are also very important appointments and I do not think that they are in any way less important than those of the Deputy Chairman and Vice-Chairman. I, therefore, propose that the words 'Engineer' or 'Health Officer' be also inserted after the word 'Vice-Chairman'."

The Hon'ble Sir S. P. SINHA said :—

"Sir, this particular point was considered very carefully in the Select Committee and it was unanimously decided that we should not add these two particular officers, and the reason is this: what the Bill does is to preclude aliens, the meaning of which is well known, from, first of all, taking part in the elections and secondly from being elected themselves. But it goes further than that because it disqualifies aliens from holding executive office of the particular description mentioned, namely, Chairman and Vice-Chairman. So far as these officers are concerned they become members of the body over which they preside or practically preside, and there is a large amount of discretion which is vested by the statutes regulating local bodies in these offices. The same cannot be said with regard to officers of the description mentioned in the amendment, such as the Engineer or the Health Officer; and the sense of the Select Committee was that it would be best to leave it to the discretion of the Municipality, the Local Board or the District Board as to whether they would have an alien for the purpose of carrying out the duties of an Engineer or Health Officer. It does not restrict them in their choice and I have no doubt that if officers were available for these particular posts who are British subjects and not aliens, the local bodies concerned would give preference to British subjects, but we do not think that it will serve any useful purpose to restrict the discretion of the local bodies in making their choice, in cases of officers who do not dictate the policy but carry out orders themselves. Under these circumstances I would ask my Hon'ble friend if it would serve any useful purpose to put these two additional officers in the section."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 9.

THE SERAMPORE COLLEGE BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA moved that the Serampore College Bill, 1918, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, the Hon'ble Dr. Howells and the Mover with instructions to circulate their report in time for its consideration in Council at the meeting to be held on the 13th March 1918.

He said :—

"As the Bill was introduced in a very clear speech by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley at the last meeting of the Council I do not think that there is any necessity for me to say anything on this occasion with regard to the provisions of the Bill."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBICA CHARAN MAJUMDAR said :—

"My Lord, the Serampore College is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, college in Bengal. It carries back our memory to the days of William Carey, Joshua Marshman and John Clark Marshman who were the pioneers not only of missionary enterprise but also of education in this country. It is, therefore, not without some feeling of regret that I find myself constrained to partially oppose this measure. The Serampore College, as the Hon'ble Members are aware, was established in the year 1818 when Serampore was Danish territory. In 1827, His Majesty King Frederick VI of Denmark granted a Charter to the college empowering it to confer degrees upon its students. Eighteen years passed away and the college authorities did not actually take power to confer these degrees. Then, in 1845, Serampore was transferred to the British Government by a Treaty. In 1858 a University was established under a Royal Charter in Calcutta and the Serampore College was duly affiliated to that University enjoying a handsome grant from Government for its maintenance and the Charter rights of 1827 were waived. Now it is proposed to invoke the authority of this Charter after a lapse of nearly three-quarters of a century to establish a new University at the mill town of Serampore almost opposite this University town of Calcutta. Before anything else I would like to know what has happened since 1845, which has led to the sudden resurrection of this long-forgotten Treaty for the establishment of a new University there. My Lord, I have not the least objection to the college authorities of Serampore being empowered to grant theological degrees. This is a matter which is entirely between the Serampore College on one side and the Scottish Churches, the St. Paul's Cathedral Mission, the St. Xavier's and other Missionary colleges, on the other. If this differential treatment will not touch their susceptibilities it need not hurt mine ; but the power proposed to be conferred upon the Serampore College to grant degrees other than theological seems to me to be open to serious objection. I have my own doubts as to our power to create such an institution in the face of the Charter of the Calcutta University without the aid of a Parliamentary statute, but I am not so presumptuous as to lay much stress upon my opinion in the matter. The learned Member in charge of the Bill must have satisfied himself as to that. I oppose the Bill on principle. Why should we single out one college for the purpose of this extraordinary power, while there are so many colleges, many of which are more efficient and better equipped than the Serampore College, when we are not prepared to grant this power to them? There is the Presidency College which dates from the time of the old Hindu College and quite as old as the Serampore College. It is the premier college in the Presidency and there are the Metropolitan College, the Ripon College, the City College and the Scottish Churches College. We are not going to grant any such power to any of these colleges ; then why should we grant this extraordinary power after a lapse of nearly 74 years to the Serampore College? My Lord, I know there is some sort of Treaty, but Your Excellency will be pleased to consider what stupendous changes have taken place since 1845 in this country. A University has been established which, as far as territorial jurisdiction is concerned, is perhaps the largest in the world. Your Excellency now rules over a Presidency which is twelve times as large as Denmark, whether in the time of Hamlet or in the time of King Frederick VI, and in the particular case of this Charter His Majesty the King of Denmark had only Serampore as his sole possession in this country and he may have granted a Charter to it with the idea of starting a small University town. But Your Excellency has to consider not only the college at Serampore, but also the case of 41 colleges that have sprung up under the University of Calcutta. As far as the Treaty is concerned I do not think we are going to break it. The Charter has been appended to the Bill which has been circulated to us and I do not see anything which compels us to single out the Serampore College and to give it the power of conferring degrees other than theological. If the Treaty was not broken in 1858 it cannot be broken now by leaving matters where they stand.

There is one other question which ought to be considered along with this Bill. The Calcutta University Commission are now sitting and they have not finished their labours and we do not know what their recommendations would be. At this moment to start new Universities in this country seems to be singularly unfortunate and improper.

There is yet another question to which I will draw Your Excellency's attention. It may be that by granting this power to the Serampore College we may be interfering with the power of the Calcutta University and I do not think that we can grant this power to the Serampore College unless and until the Calcutta University has disaffiliated it first of all. I do not think that it is reasonable for any individual to try to burn a candle at both ends. It cannot remain part and parcel of the Calcutta University and at the same time exercise the power of conferring degrees independently of the Calcutta University. With these observations I oppose this Bill so far as it proposes to give to the Serampore College power to grant degrees other than theological. I have already said I have no objection to the granting of theological degrees by the Serampore College. There is the Vice-Chancellor of the Calcutta University and I daresay he will consider this Bill in all its bearings at the Select Committee before this measure is passed into law."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I do not oppose the reference of the Bill to the Select Committee but I agree with my Hon'ble friend to my left that the principle involved in the Bill authorizing the Council of the college to grant degrees in branches of knowledge and science other than theology is objectionable. I have no doubt the Select Committee will consider this part of the Bill with great care. There is one matter to which I would invite the attention of the Council and it is this : The Treaty of which I do not find a copy in the papers circulated—I may have missed it, of 1845, which imposes upon the Government of India certain duties and liabilities, as I have said, has not been placed before us, but I find in the Statement of Objects and Reasons a summary of the rights and immunities which the Treaty granted to the College. And the summary goes on to say that it was laid down in the Treaty of Purchase that the rights and immunities granted to the college by the Charter should not be interfered with, but should remain in force in the same manner as if they had been obtained by a Charter from the British Government subject to the general law of British India No doubt the language of the Charter is perhaps wide enough to authorzie the Council of the Serampore College to grant degrees in other branches of knowledge and science than theology, because the Charter in somewhat quaint language speaks of the power of conferring upon the students of the college, Native Christians as well as others, degrees of rank and honour according to their proficiency in as ample a manner as any other college. The Serampore College, the Charter goes on to say, shall only have the power of conferring such degrees to the students that testify their proficiency in science. Without criticising and without trying to understand the exact scope of the power granted in the Charter, it is clear from the summary of the provisions of the Treaty which is placed before us that all these rights and immunities are to be subject to the general law of British India, and I take it that one of the laws in force in British India is what is contained in the Universities Act, which contemplates the grant of degrees only by bodies constituted under that Act. It would, therefore, be no infringement, it seems to me, subject to what the law officers of Government say, of the rights preserved by the Treaty to hold that the Serampore College Council should not have the power of conferring degrees in every branch of science and knowledge, and it seems to me that to convert the Serampore College into a University which would be competent to grant degrees in all branches of Arts and Science would be to give it the power which would not only interfere with the proper jurisdiction of the Calcutta University but with the proper discharge of the functions of other colleges in this province. At any rate there are some colleges close by which are likely to be very seriously affected if such a power were granted. I leave this matter to the law officers of Government, and if we are not bound by the Treaty to authorize the College Council of the Serampore College to grant powers of conferring degrees in all different departments of Science and Arts, I should think that their power of granting degrees should be confined to theological subjects. As regards these the remarks that I have made about the impropriety of the conferring of the general power would not apply."

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

The Hon'ble DR. HOWELLS said :—

"My Lord, it seems to me that by far the greater part of what the first speaker said and a very considerable part of the speech of the second speaker can carry no conviction at all in view of the facts of the situation. The speakers from time to time spoke of certain University powers proposed to be conferred on the Serampore College. I see absolutely no meaning in any such remark. We possess certain powers and we are receiving no new powers that we do not at present possess, powers at any rate of the nature referred to by the two speakers. The facts of the situation are perfectly clear. They have already been set forth in this Council. Certain powers were granted to the Serampore College by the Danish King in the year 1827 ;

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

Dr. Howells.

Serampore, as is well known, being at that time a Danish settlement. The founders of the college, though men of faith, were cautious men and had the true interest of education at heart. Soon after the foundation of the college and the granting to it of University powers, there was a financial crisis in India of a very serious character. It affected the great commercial firms and the finances of the college suffered considerably. It was, therefore, due deference to sound educational ideals, the ideals of all educationalists as to what a University really is, that led the college authorities to the view that it would be unwise for the time being to exercise any such powers as they possessed. In addition to the clause already referred to by my friend, Mr. Ray, there is a regulation which also has legal validity, equally with the Charter, as contained in the statutes drawn up by the Serampore authorities in the year 1833. Those regulations are given in the Serampore College Bill, as circulated among the members of the Council. The regulation in question reads as follows :—

'The first Council and their successors for ever being authorized by the Charter to confer such degrees of rank and honour as shall encourage learning in the same manner as other Colleges and Universities, they shall from time to time confer degrees in such branches of Knowledge and Science as may be studied there, in the same manner as the Universities in Denmark, Germany and Great Britain. In doing this the Master and Council shall ad libitum call in the aid of any or all the Professors of Serampore College.'

In the year 1845, after considerable pressure from time to time on the part of the British authorities who wished to purchase the settlement of Serampore, the Danish King yielded and agreed to the sale, but in connection with the sale one thing that had troubled him from time to time—you will get the facts related in the college reports and in the Lives and Times of Carey, Marshman and Ward by John Clark Marshman—as to the situation of Serampore College, provided the sale was effected, and we finally agreed to the sale only after personally attending to the question of the rights of the college ; that was the reason of the clause already referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Ray, viz., to the effect that the rights and immunities granted to Serampore College by Royal Charter of February 1827, shall not be interfered with, but continue in force in the same manner as they had been granted in British India, subject to the general law of British India. Now, Sir, here is a very definite Treaty with a Foreign Power—Denmark—a Treaty, solemnly entered into, confirming without a shadow of doubt the University powers already conferred by the Danish Crown on the college. I am no lawyer, but if law has any meaning or any common sense in it, that is the only possible interpretation, and I never yet heard such interpretation questioned by anybody from lawyers of the highest eminence in this country, Indian and European, right up to the best lawyers of the Crown in England. The whole thing has been under consideration for years and there has been only one interpretation of the facts of the case, viz., that the Serampore College possesses these powers, real University powers, without any reference to any institutions of University rank that might have arisen at a later time. This has been the vital issue. Now, I am aware that there may be difference of opinion regarding the character of Treaties and regarding the way in which Treaties ought to be observed. I judge, Sir, that if it had reference to a Treaty affecting any Indian Prince, any Treaty going back for many years in connection with any with any Indian State, I doubt that the two speakers would without doubt claim that such Treaty should be rigidly adhered to to the very letter. True, there are powers that consider Treaties, especially in relation to powers that are weaker than themselves as mere scraps of paper ; I trust, Sir, that the two speakers will not link themselves for a single moment with the aspect that would regard solemn Treaties, recognized as legally valid, as mere scraps of paper that can be torn up and repudiated. What I understand, what the civilized world understands by British faith, is manifest in the present attitude of the British Government in recognizing, even though it may be inconvenient that there is something sacred in a Treaty, and certainly so far as we are concerned as a college we greatly appreciate the way in which the British Government, although looking upon this as somewhat of an inconvenience, have regarded themselves as bound down by the law and by a Treaty with a Foreign Power as a sacred pledge and international obligation. So far as theological degrees are concerned, no question has been raised ; we are in fact using the powers of the Charter already and have been using them for the past few years for the conferring of theological degrees. The way was made clear to us from one standpoint by the attitude of the last University Commission which declared that it would be unwise for the Indian Universities to contemplate the conferring of degrees in theology. All we seek now is to broaden our foundations so as to secure closer co-operation with other Christian bodies besides the Baptists.

Regarding the question of Arts degrees it must be recognized that the situation is not without its difficulties. Instead of Government conferring powers upon us, I think that if the Bill is carefully read, it will be recognized that we are of our own free-will voluntarily limiting the exercise, at any rate, of our powers ; we can, so far as the legal power is concerned, proceed to grant degrees even in Arts and Science or any other Faculty at any time. But in view of the situation that has actually arisen, we have agreed, after consultation with the Government, to the insertion of clause 13 in the Bill ; and I trust that the significance of our concession will be fully recognized. In view of the misunderstanding that there is already in existence on the subject, I would like to read this clause of the Bill :

'13. If, at any time, the Council shall intend to grant degrees in any branch or branches of Knowledge and Science other than Theology, such degrees shall be confined to students who shall have received regular instruction at the Serampore College ; and before the Council proceeds to grant such degrees, it shall satisfy the Government as defined in section 2 (b) of the Indian Universities Act, 1904, in relation to the Calcutta University as to the adequacy—

(1) of the establishment and equipment of the college ;
(2) of the academic standard to be maintained ; and
(3) of the financial provision made therefor :

Provided that the said Government on ceasing to be so, satisfied, may withdraw their approval of the granting of such degrees.'

Now, this is a voluntary concession on our part. It was made clear to us that we ought not, unless we were ready for it, to be compelled to agree to this concession, and certainly anything beyond this we should not regard as fair or reasonable. But we feel that our educational ideals of what a University really means, was so clear and so sound that we had little or no hesitation in making this concession referred to so far as the granting of Arts degrees is concerned, it would be fatal and ruinous to our own interests to think of exercising this power, unless there is the most abundant justification for it. We are not in rivalry with the University of Calcutta. The University of Calcutta already recognizes that it is overwhelmingly large. If, at any time, circumstances should lead us in that direction and there should be adequate justification for it in the judgment of those concerned, we retain the right to develop as an independent University, granting our own secular degrees, and I am sure that those who have the best interests of education at heart, would in no way oppose the objects we have in view, objects which are perfectly straightforward and perfectly open to the criticism of the Government and the world."

The Serampore College Bill, 1918.

Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari; The President; Sir S. P. Sinha.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"My Lord, at the present moment, I do not wish to say anything with regard to the principle or the details of the Bill, but there is one other matter which is necessary for me to place before the Hon'ble Member in charge and Your Excellency in connection with the motion before the Council. The University of Calcutta have not yet been able to consider the matter fully. The Bill was referred to the Faculty of Law of which the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray is a member. The Faculty has made its report and that report will come before the Senate for consideration on the 9th March. If the report of the Select Committee is to come before the Council on the 13th March, the Select Committee will not have the opinion of the University before it. It would be an undoubted advantage for the Select Committee to have the opinion of the Faculty of Law as well as of the Senate when it is considering the measure."

The President said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member wish to move an amendment to that motion ?"

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"I would leave it to the Hon'ble Member in charge."

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA said :—

"My Lord, I regret that there should be any appearance of controversy with regard to this very harmless measure. I think that a great deal of the apprehension felt by my Hon'ble friends, Babu Ambica Charan Majumdar and Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, is due to a misconception as to the object of this legislation, and I think also that my friend, the Hon'ble Dr. Howells, was somewhat unnecessarily warm (if he will allow me to say so) about any invasion of the rights of the Serampore College. It is undoubtedly the fact that the Serampore College at the present moment possesses the power of conferring degrees in Theology, in Arts, in Science, and in every other branch of knowledge and that they can do so without a reference either to the Government or to the University of Calcutta, because, although their rights are preserved subject to the general law of British India, there is at present nothing in that law to restrict their undoubted and recognized right of conferring degrees. They have the power, and it is also perfectly correct that this Bill proposes by virtue of that very provision to enact that the power which they possess should be subject to certain restrictions, which do not exist at the present moment, namely, that they should not confer these degrees without satisfying the Government that their equipment for the purpose is adequate and sufficient. So far, therefore, from this Bill enlarging the rights of the Serampore college it is a measure enacted to restrict their rights and the college authorities have been reasonable enough to agree to such restrictions, because, while they feel that on their side they are not likely to claim the privilege of conferring degrees unless they are properly equipped, they are equally confident that the Government will not place any obstacles in their way, if, and when, they are sufficiently equipped for the purpose. The whole object of the Bill, if my Hon'ble friends will for one moment look into the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is this, the college authorities are naturally anxious to begin conferring degrees in theology, which, as some Hon'ble speakers before me have pointed out, the University Commission thought that it was undesirable that Indian Universities should ; but they felt also that belonging only to a particular denomination of Christians it would add to the prestige and utility of their degrees if the denominational basis upon which the college rested was modified by the creation of an enlarged Council and of a Senate consisting of members belonging to different Christian Churches. That is the primary object of this Bill and so far as one can judge, practically, the only object of this Bill. They have at present no intention of conferring degrees any more than they have had since 1827, but what they desire to do is to take power to themselves to form a Senate in which all Christian sects will be represented, so that their theological degrees would be valued, not merely by the particular sect to which the college belongs, but by all other sects of Christians. That being so, it is regrettable that any semblance even of covtroversy, should be apparent in a measure of this kind. I have no doubt that the observations of my friends, the Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Majumdar and the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, will be taken into consideration by the Select Committee. The measure is a purely non-controversial one. There are no doubts about their powers and there is no doubt about the restrictions which are to be imposed upon them.

With reference to what fell from the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor, I may state that we are very anxious to accommodate the Senate of the University of Calcutta in every possible manner and not to hurry or hustle them in any way. If the 13th March, which is mentioned in the motion, is not suitable or is considered too early, I am perfectly willing that the report of the Select Committee should not be presented till the 28th March or even the 4th April. I prefer personally the 28th March, so that there might be ample time to consider the matter. I would propose, therefore, that instead of the report being considered on the 13th March it should be considered on the 28th March."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"If the 4th April is suitable, it might be taken up on that date."

THE CALCUTTA HACKNEY-CARRIAGE BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA said :—

"As there is likely to be a large volume of business on the 4th April, I am sorry it will not be a suitable date. I would, therefore, ask my Hon'ble friend to agree to the 28th March. With these obervations, I hope that the Council will not have any difficulty in accepting the motion as amended."

The motion was then put in the following amended form and agreed to :—

That the Serampore College Bill, 1918, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha, the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari and the Hon'ble Dr. Howells with instructions to circulate their report in time for its consideration in Council at the meeting to be held on the 28th March 1918.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 10.

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA moved for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to hackney-carriages and palanquins and to make certain provisions with regard to rickshaws in Calcutta.

He said—

"It may be useful to summarize briefly the facts leading up to the existing law. Under the first Calcutta Hackney-carriage Act (Bengal Act V of 1866) the control of hackney-carriages was vested in the Commissioner of Police.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

Sir S. P. Sinha.

In compliance with a Resolution of the Justices of Peace, dated the 11th of September 1874, Bengal Act IV of 1878 was passed, under which the control of hackney-carriages was transferred from the Commissioner of Police to the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, with effect from the 1st of June 1878. On the recommendation of a Committee of the Corporation appointed in October 1890, the law was further amended by Bengal Act II of 1891 which is the Act now in force. Proposals were thereafter brought forward from time to time with a view to improving the hackney-carriage service in Calcutta and in 1911 a report on the improvement of the hackney-carriage service in Calcutta, adopted by the Corporation, was forwarded by the Chairman for the consideration of Government. In pursuance of that report an amending Bill was framed by the Government and introduced in Council and referred to a Select Committee on the 4th of July 1916. The three most important provisions of that Bill were :—

(i) the omission of the sections in the existing Act by which the classes of hackney-carriages and also the fares for the same are rigidly fixed. The Bill provided that both these matters should be regulated by by-laws framed under the Act ;

(ii) a provision for compulsory production of carriages with horses and harness used therewith within a week after the expiration of six months from the date of annual registration ; and

(iii) a provision for securing the identification of horses.

The Select Committee considered that the Bill did not deal adequately with all the additions and alterations necessary in the existing Act and that the changes required would so materially alter the Act as to go entirely beyond the scope of an amending Bill. They accordingly recommended that the Bill should not be further proceeded with, that the existing Act should be considered as a whole and that a new consolidating and amending Bill should be framed. The Select Committee's report was presented to the Legislative Council in August 1916 and a motion was carried that the Bill should not be further proceeded with. A new consolidating and amending Bill was then drawn up in accordance with the suggestions of the Select Committee, embodying the provisions of the former Bill as well as other modifications of the existing law which were found necessary. These modifications were such as to render a further reference to the Government of India necessary before the Bill as recast could be introduced in the Provincial Legislative Council. It was accordingly submitted to that Government for approval and we have had the benefit of their suggestions and criticisms and now that the Government of India have finally approved of the Bill, it is possible to introduce it in Council.

The modifications of the existing law made by the present Bill are fully explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons and notes on the clauses. The most important change is the provision made in Chapters II and IV for the separate registration of horses and carriages. It has been found in practice that the chief defect in the present mode of registering horses is that there is nothing to identify the animals which have been passed as fit by the registering officer. The registering of carriages and horses is now done simultaneously and as the period within which carriages are registered extends over several weeks, owners often bring up the same horses harnessed to different carriages. Inferior horses are afterwards substituted when the carriages actually ply for hire. To prevent this fraud and to ensure that only horses that are fit should draw registered carriages, provision is made in clauses 29 and 30 to facilitate the identification of horses approved by the registering officer and to prevent the substitution of animals not approved by him. As, moreover, one man may own a carriage and another the horse or horses which draw it, provision is made in clause 25 for the separate registration of horses—while the compulsory production of registered horses with harness for half-yearly inspection by the registering officer is ensured by clause 28. On the occasion when the last Bill was introduced, the Hon'ble Babu Ambica Charan Majumdar seemed to have some misgivings as to whether the marking for identification of horses which was contemplated could be made without causing much bodily pain to the animals. It might be of interest therefore to mention the history of the provision in this respect. Sometime before 1911 the Corporation moved Government to sanction a by-law to the effect that horses should be branded on the hoof for purposes of identification. The Government consulted the Superintendent of the Civil Veterinary Department in the matter and declined to sanction the proposed by-law on the ground that it would not work satisfactorily and was not likely to secure the object aimed at. The Corporation then tried an alternative method which obtained in Jubbulpore. A round brass disc about the size of a rupee with a registered number stamped on the side and the class of the carriage for which the horses registered stamped on the reverse was fastened round the horses' neck with flexible wire, the ends of which were fastened by a small lead-seal so that any unlicensed horse could be easily detected and dealt with as such. This scheme was on trial, found to succeed in securing the object aimed at, but the Chairman, supported by the Legal Adviser of the Corporation and by the view of Government, held that it could not be enforced and it was, therefore, left to the option of hackney-carriage owners to affix the disc or not as they chose. The Corporation thereafter recommended that legislation should be undertaken to give effect to the provision of discs as above mentioned. Government agreed that the system of discs appeared to be as good as any other which has yet been devised, but better means might possibly be discovered hereafter and it was desirable, therefore, that the amendment of the law should be in a general form so as to permit of the adoption of the disc method or any other method with the same object in view. Accordingly it is provided in clause 29 of the present Bill that the registering officer shall cause to be attached or applied to any registered horse such mark of identification as may be prescribed by by-law made under clause 71.

The Calcutta Hackney-Carriage Bill, 1918.

The Bill also applies to rickshaws mutatis mutandis the provisions already in force in regard to palanquins. The difficulties now experienced in enforcing the appearance of a driver before a Magistrate are met by a provision (clause 73) that summonses against the driver under the Act may also be served on the owner of the carriage or horses and by the provisions of clause 47 (c) and (d) empowering the registering officer to cancel or suspend the driver's license, if the driver fails to appear before the Magistrate when summoned to answer a charge or if the owner, on being called upon to do so, fails to produce him. The penalty clauses throughout the Act have been revised and made mutually consistent, and suitable terms of imprisonment in default of payment of fine have been prescribed Attention is also drawn to the first provision of clause 2 which provides that when it is proposed to extend the Act to military cantonments the notification extending the Act shall not be published without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council. The second proviso enacts that when it is proposed to exclude from, or include in, Calcutta any local area in the vicinity of the same by notification, a draft thereof shall be previously published and any rate-payer or inhabitant of the area may, if he objects to the draft, submit his objections in writing to the Local Government within six weeks from its publication and the Local Government shall take such objections into consideration. It is believed that, with these safeguards, no objection will be found to the Bill in so far as regards its possible application to cantonment areas or areas not included in Calcutta."

The motion was put and agreed to.

RESOLUTIONS.

(Under the Rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest.)

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to remodel the sluice in the Damodar left embankment on the western border of mauza Gazipore in thana Amta, in the district of Howrah, by widening the size of the existing narrow vent and lowering the floor of the said sluice with a view to draining out the stagnant rain-water from the paddy fields and preventing any further damage to the winter rice crop of mauzas Sonamukhi and Gazipore.

He said :—

" My Lord, I need hardly take up the time of the Council by entering into details about the urgent necessity of the proposal which I am placing before the Council to-day. On a previous occasion the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming stated that the Amta Drainage Scheme had already been approved by Government and was only awaiting funds, the cost having been estimated at about ten lakhs of rupees. The proposal which I now make is a modest one and involves an expenditure of a few thousands which can be met out of the special grant of two and a half lakhs of rupees provided in this year's Budget, with a view to mitigate the evil effects of the Damodar floods in the Burdwan Division. Less than two lakhs of rupees has probably been spent out of this grant by this time. As the Damodar left embankment is Government property, it is only natural that the sluice in question measuring two feet broad by four feet three inches high, used for the double purpose of irrigation and drainage for an area of 1½ square miles, should be remodelled by Government to meet the present demand. The present condition of the paddy fields, which are still under deep water, is doing immense mischief to the winter rice crop, and betrays a most deplorable state of affairs ; if the water is not drained out now, it will not flow out when the river rises in the rainy season, with the result that it would not be possible to grow a new crop next season. The urgency of draining out the water in question now cannot be gainsaid. And I hope and trust, the Council will accept the resolution thus preventing the possibility of spreading discontent among the illiterate and starving peasantry. With these few words, I commend this resolution to the acceptance of Your Excellency's Council".

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

" Sir, the Hon'ble Member desires that certain villages to the west of thana Amta, in the district of Howrah, be drained into the Damodar river through a sluice in the left embankment of that river, as a separate project apart from the main Amta drainage project.

There are two grounds why Government are not prepared to accept the resolution ; an engineering ground and a legal ground.

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur; The President; Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

In the first place, while the Hon'ble Member desires to drain these villages to the west into the Damodar river, nature has ordained that the natural drainage from that locality is to the east and south-east. Provision has been made for the drainage of this locality in the Amta drainage project which has been prepared and which awaits execution when funds are available.

In the second place, it is true that at a certain level of the Damodar river it is possible to drain through the sluice in question to the west into the river; but if any one desires to take advantage of that opportunity, the proper procedure is to make an application to the Collector under section 18 of the Embankment Act. If it should appear to the Collector that the work is one which may probably be executed with advantage, then the procedure prescribed in section 7 of the Act will be followed. I, therefore, recommend the Hon'ble Member to advise the people of the locality either to wait till the Amta drainage project is completed or to come forward and make an application under section 18 of the Embankment Act."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming has referred first of all to the engineering difficulty. That question, being a technical one, is very difficult, and I am not in a position to answer it properly.

With regard to the legal aspect, I can put forward my own views on it. Section 18 of the Embankment Act no doubt lays down the procedure by which the construction of sluices may be made, but to my mind it appears that that has reference only to new sluices. If the section be read in the light which I submit to this Council, it will appear that there is already an old sluice and the question involved is as to its enlargement. That is the only point raised. In my humble opinion, therefore, the provision of section 18 will not be a bar, if the Hon'ble Member in charge considers that it is necessary. As the question is a technical one, I have no other alternative but to withdraw it."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 13.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I understand that the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has an engagement later in the day and I have ascertained from the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin that he has no objection to item No. 13 being given precedence. Under the circumstances, I now call upon the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan to move his Resolution."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN moved :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that early steps be taken to obtain official and non-official opinion on the advisability of an enactment of an Impartible or Inalienable Estates Act for Bengal or of an amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act, so as to make it more attractive to the classes for whose benefit the Act was intended.

He said :—

"My Lord, for many years past I have cherished a keen desire to see in Bengal an enactment something like the Madras Impartible Estates Act. My first attempt in this direction dates back to the year 1909 when I was making some private enquiries about the desirability of amending the Bengal Settled Estates Act so as to render it more popular and acceptable to those for whom it was meant. I received a most sympathetic response from the then Lieutenant-Governor Sir Edward Baker, who, later on in 1910 appointed a Committee of members of the Legislative Council to enquire into the cause of the failure of the Settled Estates Act and to consider remedies. As having served on the Committee, I remember the proposal of amendment had to be dropped mainly on the ground of there having been no general demand for the amendment of the Act amongst the zamindar families, though the Committee found 'that there were instances of persons who would like to see their way to prevent a disintegration of their property, which must follow their death'. Having thus failed in my attempt to secure an amendment of the Settled Estates Act, I proposed, as a member of that Committee, to have introduced into Bengal an Impartible Estates Act and the Committee recommended my suggestion for the consideration of the Government. This was just prior to the Delhi changes when we could count upon Bihar as a part of Bengal. I seriously contemplated trying in a private Bill in consultation with the representatives of the Baronial Houses of Bihar, many of whom like my own House were governed by the law of Primogeniture according to Kulachara. Owing, however, to the territorial redistribution of 1911 my idea had to be abandoned and the Government too did not move in the matter any further. Since then I have been watching the sentiments of my brother zamindars of Bengal in this respect for the last seven years and when at the first Conference of Bengal Zamindars held in Calcutta, in December last, it was 'considered desirable to have an enactment of an Impartible and Inalienable Estates Act for the protection of Zamindars in Bengal' and a Resolution was passed 'to consider the question with a view to memorializing the Government on the subject' I thought it was time to take up this subject once again to the Legislative Body of this Province and I deemed it my duty thus to gather for the deliberations of the Zamindars' Committee, of which I am a member, through the medium of the Government, official and non-official opinions which will be of the greatest value to us of the Committee, when we meet to frame concrete proposals for the consideration of the Government.

In some quarters there is an apprehension that my intention in bringing this Resolution is not only to forestall the activities but to confuse the issues of the Committee in which I have been given to play my own part howsoever small or insignificant it may be! Considering that I was largely responsible for inaugurating the first Conference of Bengal Zamindars in December last it would not only be comical but ungracious on my part if I were to try to belittle the existence of a force which to me has been most welcome and is full of potentiality of a far-reaching consequence to the Zamindar community of Bengal in general. My object therefore in bringing this Resolution forward at this stage is two-fold. In the first place, it is to expedite the fruition of a long-cherished desire in my mind to have something done in the local legislature to protect the importance and integrity of old and honoured zamindari houses by starting work simultaneously in the Legislative Body and in the body of the zamindars concerned, so that each might pursue its own course of investigation independently and benefit mutually by each others's findings whenever occasion may arise for their mutual reference. Secondly, it is to assist the Committee of the Zamindars mainly by collecting through Government Agency expert opinion, both official and non-official, whose views are essential to enable the Committee to bring forward their final proposals to the Government. It is true that after all the zamindars concerned are the best judges as to what they need for the protection of their families and properties, but it is equally true that an enactment of the kind contemplated in the Resolution involves intricate questions of Hindu and Muhammadan laws of succession and alienation and as these laws are highly technical and complicated, opinion of legal experts is indispensably necessary in coming to a definite conclusion on the subject. I must candidly confess that I am far from being well-versed in the Daya-Bhag Law of Bengal or in the different laws of succession amongst the different sects of Muhammadans, and perhaps there are not many among us who may tackle these problems ingeniously, but on the other hand, the Government may give us the best legal advice on such points, it may give us without any difficulty an idea of the working of similar legislations in other Provinces, as we know, there is already one existing in Madras and another is about to be introduced into the United Provinces, and it is for securing these invaluable aids that I have deemed it necessary to move this Resolution in Council even before the Zamindars' Committee would meet; it will at least save them from being criticised as not being either fully representative in character or as having taken on their shoulders a colossal piece of contemplated legislation without considering its issues in all its different aspects. If we were to start on our mission without the support of the Government on the one hand or expert advice, both official and non-official, on the other, we should be much less sure of success than we would be if we appeared before the public and this Council with our proposals based on the best advice and opinions available in the Province. My intention is simply to see if there is a demand for an Impartible Estates Act in Bengal and to receive the opinion of official and non-official experts on the advisability of introducing such an enactment in our Province and having reasons to believe that the Government will assist me to gain the object that I have in view I sincerely hope that my brother zamindars present here and all my other colleagues, both official and non-official, will lend me their support, not only as a manifestation of their earnest desire to try and find out what obstacles there may be towards achieving a matter of vital importance to the Zamindars of Bengal, but also, as I have said previously, to assist the Committee of Zamindars with invaluable materials to frame concrete proposals for the acceptance of the Government and the Council at a later stage.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

With these words, my Lord, I beg to move the Resolution which stands in my name."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, I am in a position to state at once that Government accept the Resolution of the Hon'ble Member to the effect that the opinions of officials and non-officials be elicited on the advisability of legislation on the subject of the impartibility and inalienability of estates.

It will be convenient to give here a summary of the past history of similar proposals. In 1904, the Bengal Settled Estates Act was passed. When that Act was introduced, its objects were stated to be the preservation of old or wealthy families from decay, the maintenance of their territorial influence and the prevention of subdivision of estates of historical and political importance; and provision was made in the Act for preserving, in special cases approved by Government, the continuity of noble and influential families, whose estates were not protected by the existing law from division on the decease of a proprietor.

Up to 1910, only one landlord had taken advantage of the Act, and the Government of Bengal appointed a Committee to enquire into the causes of the failure of that Act. The Committee submitted their report in 1910, suggesting certain amendments of the Act, in order to remedy certain defects which had apparently contributed towards the failure of the Act. At the same time, however, they said that they had grave doubts as to whether there was any general demand for the amendment of the Act.

The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur asked in Council in March 1913 a question on the subject of the amendment of the Act. The reply then given was that the Government of Bengal had decided that, in the absence of a stronger indication by the land-holding community of Bengal of a desire for an amendment of the Act, it was not advisable to undertake legislation.

A further pronouncement was made in May 1913. As the severance from Bengal of the area constituting the province of Bihar and Orissa reduced the number of impartible estates in the Presidency, the Governor in Council decided to take no further action in the matter. The Maharajadhiraja Bahadur was, however, informed at the time that, if there was evidence of a demand amongst the majority of the zamindars, the matter might be considered again.

In view of the attitude of the Conference of zamindars, Government are now prepared to institute an enquiry from officials and non-officials on the lines of the resolution of the Hon'ble Mover."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY said :—

" My Lord. I am one of those who were responsible for an important resolution on the subject at the Conference of zamindars held on the 24th December last, and it gives me much pleasure to find that the prominent members of our community are taking a keen interest in the matter. It was only at the last meeting of the Council that one of my friends put a question on the subject and thus brought it to the notice of the Government, and to-day our leader has himself taken up the question, though his zamindari is an impartible Raj, and we are grateful to the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur for his resolution which cannot but emphasise the importance of the subject, and my friend is to be congratulated on the very modest nature of his resolution. It has been so judiciously drawn up that the Government could hardly afford to reject it. But there is a thing or two which I think I should bring to the notice of the Maharajadhiraja before he presses for his resolution. As has been said by the Maharajadhiraja, the Zamindars' Conference has appointed a strong and representative Committee with several influential and experienced members to make a thorough an l exhaustive enquiry into the matter and discuss it in all its aspects with the zamindars who are interested in the legislation and to formulate a scheme which would be acceptable to us. It was also resolved to forward this scheme to the Government for taking proper action. To my mind, that would be the proper stage at which the Government should take up the enquiry, as it would then give the Government something definite on which to obtain the opinion of the public as well as of the officials, and proceeding in this way it would be comparatively easy for the Government to arrive at a practicable solution of the problem. At present, the Government enquiry is bound to be more or less indefinite and aimless in its character and as such it would almost be like groping in the dark. The Government now do not know exactly what is really wante l by us or what would suit us best. In fact, even we do not know what is really wanted by us. We have now only a kind of desire that there should be some such legislation by which we can keep our estates compact and save them from being squandered away by our spoilt children. When drafting the resolution for the Zamindars' Conference, our intention was that we should first enlighten our community as to the nature of the existing laws on the subject in Bengal and in other parts of India and for this purpose some of us even intended to publish a full history of the incidents of such legislations together with a critical study of the report of the committee appointed by the Government a few years back. In short, our idea was to make the whole zamindar community actively interested in the matter and by free personal discussions amongst ourselves to arrive at a definite understanding with a minimum of opposition.

Resolutions.

Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray.

My Lord, we have now in Bengal a school of young zamindars who are not only beginning to take a real and active interest in the management of their zamindaries but also in all matters connected with our obligation to ourselves, our Government and our tenantry. We want now every encouragement from our leaders as well as from the Government, and the public. If our Committee is left alone, I am sure we shall never be found wanting and the fruits of our labour cannot but be of immense help to your Excellency's Government. But if the resolution, now before the Council, is given effect to, it is sure to damp our spirit ; in fact all the importance and usefulness of our Committee will be gone. Having once given their opinion to the Government very few will care to discuss the matter with us. Our query will only bring in copies of the opinions sent to the Government, and even what little discussion we will have, would be quite useless for our purpose. As I know the nature of the zamindars, none of them would like to change his opinion once given to the Government, and so an agreement amongst ourselves would be almost a thing of impossibility. I would not have been so particular in opposing a simple resolution like this, if I did not believe it to be a fact that the Government enquiry will not only render our Committee useless but also would be itself aimless and consequently its results too would be lifeless.

"My Lord, I know the procedure in many zamindaries and when I say it, I do so with full knowledge of the facts, that whenever opinions are asked by the Government on any subject, the majority of the zamindars refer the whole thing to their lawyers, and what opinion is forwarded to the Government is not the considered opinion of our class but rather an artistic and academic treatment of the subject by our lawyers, and the result is that the zamindars remain as ignorant of the existing state of affairs as of the effect of their opinion. This may sound rather harsh, but such is the real fact and we are now going to face it boldly ; we want to infuse life and intelligence into our class. Our aim is to shake off our traditional lethargy and ignorance and drag out our class from its conservative stagnancy, and in our noble endeavour we of the new school want all help from all who can help us. And bearing this in my mind, I appeal to my hon'ble friend the Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan to withdraw his resolution. I appeal to him not to stifle our ardour by invoking Government aid just at present, but to let us try and stand by ourselves, and I trust that I do not appeal in vain.

In this connection, I would also like to submit that as a result of my reference of the question to my constituency, I have received about sixty replies, and with one exception all of them are opposed to this resolution, the one exception being the Maharajdhiraja himself, who is also an esteemed member of my constituency. I would also like to say that, in reply to my letter, the British Indian Association, of which the Maharajadhiraj is the President, writes the following :—

'Your letter regarding the Bengal Settled Estates Act was considered by our Committee at their meeting held on Wednesday last. The Committee were of opinion that while they had no power to fetter the discretion of the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan in connection with his proposed motion suggesting the amendment of the Bengal Settled Estates Act, they certainly thought that the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur would show some courtesy to the Zamindars' Conference if he postponed his motion until the question had been threshed out by the Committee appointed for the purpose in accordance with one of the resolutions of the Zamindars' Conference.'

Resolutions.

May I express my hope again that the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur will find his way to withdraw the resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I am in full sympathy with the movement set up by the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan. I do not see why there should be any difficulty in arriving at a conclusion which should be acceptable to all. If the Zamindars' Association is really anxious to consider the question in all its details they can be done side by side with the official and non-official opinion without taking up much time. I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"My Lord, I would have gladly withdrawn the resolution had I thought it would have really done any good. It is true that the versatile Kumar has produced a letter written by the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY said :—

"May I rise to a point of order, Sir? I object to the term 'versatile' used by the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur."

The President said :—

"That is not a point of order."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"I have given the letter my best consideration, and with due deference to the views expressed by the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha on the matter, I do not think that it would be any good postponing this inquiry through the Government. On the contrary, I am so very convinced that if we are really going to bring this matter to a successful issue before the next Zamindars' Conference takes place we ought to have before us available the best expert opinion to enable us to arrive at a conclusion so that, as I have already said in my speech, when we come up before the Council we do so with all the best opinion available on the subject. If I did not think that to be the proper course, I do not think that, as the President of the British Indian Association or as a member of the Committee regarding which the Hon'ble Kumar has spoken, I would have brought up this resolution at the present stage. Moreover, when the Government are agreeable to take up the inquiry especially after the resolution passed by the Zamindars' Conference, we should not lose this opportunity of getting—really gratis for ourselves—all the best opinion available in the Province. I would like to point out to the Hon'ble Kumar the wording of the resolution that was adopted at the Zamindars' Conference. The wording is 'This Conference is of opinion that the enactment of an Impartible and Inalienable Estates Act for the protection of Zamindars of Bengal is desirable and that a Committee consisting of the following gentlemen be appointed to examine the question with a view to memorialise the Government on the subject.' Surely there is nothing in the resolution which is likely to clash with my resolution to-day. If we are going to memorialize the Government, is it not essential, is it not the most successful course to try to get the best opinion you can get before you send in your memorial? The view taken up by the Hon'ble Kumar might have serious effect on me, for it might make others think that I am trying to commit a breach of trust with the Committee. I am afraid the Hon'ble Kumar has misunderstood my intention. It is not my intention in any way to belittle the importance of the Committee regarding which I spoke in my introductory remarks, and that has been made amply clear by the Hon'ble Kumar himself when he says that there are zamindars who will send in their opinions which are really the opinion of paid lawyers. I think he will find that when this information is gathered the Committee will be saved the trouble of going to those zamindars whose opinions count for nothing because their opinions will be written for them. We really want opinions of those who have taken an interest in this Conference and who have showed a desire to do something for their class. And if this information gathered through the agency of Government cannot be acceptable to them, I do not know what opinion would be acceptable. For these reasons, my Lord, I would like to press my resolution.

Resolutions.

Raja Hrishikesh Laha; Mr. Irwin.

The Hon'ble RAJA HRISHIKESH LAHA said :—

"My Lord, a word of explanation is necessary from me. The letter that has been read by the Hon'ble Kumar contains the opinion of the British Indian Association and not my own. What is proposed in the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraj will, I think, help the zamindars' conference in coming to a right conclusion. If they have before them all the opinions that are given to Government on the subject, they would be able to formulate their proposals, and also the Government will not be placed in a very difficult position in regard to ascertaining correct views on the subject. I, therefore, support the resolution."

The motion was then agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 12.

The Hon'ble MR. IRWIN moved :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(i) the teaching of Hygiene and Sanitation by duly qualified teachers be made compulsory in all State aided schools, both for boys and girls, in the Province ;

(ii) these subjects be included as compulsory subjects for the University Matriculation Examination ; and

(iii) provision for the above be made in the next budget.

He said :—

"My Lord, the resolution which stands in my name was on the agenda for the last Council meeting, but time did not permit of its being discussed and it was therefore postponed to the present meeting.

In my opinion it needs very few words by way of commendation; it must, I venture to think, commend itself to every sensible thinking person who has the true interests of the country at heart.

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

Subsequent to the framing of this resolution, I read in the daily papers the report of a speech delivered by Your Excellency at Burdwan on the 9th ultimo, in which you said that one of the tasks which you cherish the laudable ambition to accomplish during your tenure of office is that of a big advance in the combat of disease in this Province, and this you repeated in the course of your most interesting address on the subject of malaria delivered in this Chamber on the 29th ultimo to the members of the District Boards of Nadia, Jessore and the 24-Parganas.

I beg respectfully to congratulate Your Excellency, and I am sure that all here present will agree with me that a more noble object it is impossible to conceive, and it encourages me to hope that you will lend a favourable ear to my suggestion to-day.

The present time seems very appropriate in which to introduce a resolution of this nature into this Council when the University Commission is sitting and deliberating on what alterations, if any, shall be made in the curriculum of studies and education being carried on in the school and Colleges of India.

I may say here that in response to a printed circular request from the University Commission for suggestions, I have already recommended the course embodied in my resolution.

One of the Old Latin authors speaks of the 'Mens sana in corpore sano.' I think that with the exception perhaps of poor, unhappy Russia, which by the way may well be taken as an object-lesson at the present time by our would-be legislators, no country in the world is more in need of the 'mens sana' than our country of India.

All of us here present must be well acquainted with the terribly insanitary condition in which fully 90 per cent. of the inhabitants of India live and the filthy state in which the immediate vicinity of their dwelling places is kept.

As an instance of the appalling indifference of lower class Indians of the present day to the question of sanitation, I may quote from the resolution of the United Provinces Government on the working of the District Boards for last year. In 1912 the Local Government introduced, as an experiment, the system of granting small sums to village committees, for the purpose of 'keeping their villages clean in their own way.' Most of the villages refused to take them, and so the experiment has been abandoned in all but three districts.

Thus even when given money free, for purposes of sanitation, villagers refused to make use of it.

Nothing, surely, My Lord, but persistent education can overcome this terrible apathy as regards health, and it is to this end that my proposal tends.

Even uneducated Indians are cleanly in their persons, but, to Western ideas at all events, there is a singular inconsistency in their habits. To give an instance, some of us must often have seen and wondered greatly at people standing up to their waists in water, washing their clothes and persons and then finally, before leaving, scooping up with their hands and rinsing out their mouths and necessarily, to a certain extent, absorbing the very water impregnated with the scouring of their clothes and persons.

Surely the inference may very well be drawn that such a deleterious habit must arise from ignorance of the danger incurred to health from it, and if only the habit of cleanliness in their food and surroundings as well as in their persons were to be persistently inculcated from youth that it would in time come to be regularly adopted, as the rising generation grows up, and then become second nature, greatly to the benefit of future generations.

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

Even in the most highly educated and civilized countries of the world it is comparatively of very recent years that the benefits arising from hygiene and sanitation have been recognized, and the effect which even the most ordinary precautions, such as the boiling of milk or drinking water, may have on the health or mortality of the consumers.

The ravages of diseases which prove most fatal in this country, viz., malaria and intestinal complaints of all descriptions, are particularly susceptible of mitigation to a certain extent at all events often by the most simple measures of sanitation.

Only recently Dr. Bentley, the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, has been giving a most interesting series of lectures, illustrated by lantern slides, on this subject, both in Darjeeling and Kurseong, and I was greatly struck by the intelligent interest displayed even by the lowest classes, and the questions which were subsequently put to me on the subject by some of my own people.

Dr. Bentley demonstrated the great danger of diseases, arising from impure water and milk, and fly-contaminated food, which are amongst the most common but also the most fatal in this country; at the same time he pointed out how often and how easily they can be mitigated and checked by the most simple methods.

It is, however, hopeless to expect to change the habits of centuries in a day, or a month, or a year.

The children of the present generation will be the fathers and mothers of the generation to come; let Government step in and insist that in all State-aided schools and Colleges, qualified instructors shall teach habits and methods of cleanliness not only in the person but in the food, the dwelling places and their surroundings. and without doubt another generation will demonstrate the beneficial result.

Mrs. Besant, in the course of her address on behalf of the Home Rule League to his Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State at Delhi on 26th November last, attributes 'the short life period' and 'the high death rate' in this country to 'the lack of education, the appalling poverty and increasing indebtedness of the agricultural population' consequent on the inefficiency of the 'ruling oligarchy.'

I venture to think, My Lord, that if more sanitary habits and methods of living were imbued into the lives of the people, that 'the appalling poverty,' which in comparison with other countries I venture to doubt, and 'the increasing indebtedness of the agricultural population,' the accuracy of which statement I also question, might be eliminated as factors conducing to 'the high death rate' which she attributes to the misrule of her fellow countrymen.

According to the Englishman of 29th December last, I see that a resolution was passed, at a meeting of the Indian National Congress, held on the previous day to the following effect—

'That, having regard to the havoc caused, year after year, by malaria, plague and other epidemics and pestilences, this congress urges that question of sanitation should receive a far larger measure of attention than they do at present and that adequate steps be taken for the sanitary improvement of the country.'

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin; Mr. Arden Wood.

I think, My Lord, that the method I suggest 'for the sanitary improvement of the country', i.e., by teaching the people themselves to give a 'larger measure of attention' to their sanitation, will prove in the long run far more efficacious and far less expensive than any other that can be devised.

I think after reading the above-quoted resolution that I may confidently rely on the support of most of my hon'ble friends of Indian nationality in this Council for my resolution and perhaps some of the medical experts present will express their opinions on the subject. I may say, My Lord, that I am authorised by Surgeon-General Edwards, our late Surgeon-General in this Province, and now Director-General of Medical Service in India, to say that this resolution has his strong support.

I may further say that I understand on good authority that a similar resolution is likely to be introduced very shortly in the Bombay Council, and further that it is likely to receive the favourable consideration of that Government.

Much more might I know be said in support of this resolution, but the benefit to be derived, if it be acceded to, is, I venture to think, so obvious that I will not take up any more of the valuable time of the Council by adducing further arguments, but will commend it to the favourable consideration of Government with the hope that not only will it be accepted, but that it will be given effect to with the least possible delay and not put in a pigeon-hole for possible further consideration at some future date."

The Hon'ble MR. ARDEN WOOD said :—

"My Lord, I venture to think that the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin has done good service by moving this resolution, and I am glad to give my hearty support to the principles that underlie it, if not to the resolution itself. For if there ever was a practical question it is this question of public health, and it is one, to the importance of which, in its larger aspects, Your Excellency's Government is clearly alive. I take it that the consideration that has affected the mover, as it affects all of us, is the terrible waste of human efficiency, and the economic loss to the country, owing to preventible ill-health. We should all welcome any steps that could be taken to increase the physical well-being of the people of this province. But it seems to me that the first condition of improvement is the awakening and enlightenment of public opinion on sanitary questions, on the prevention of disease, on the alleviation of physical disability. And I confess that I have no great faith in the teaching of hygiene in schools as a means of bringing this about. What is taught in schools is very apt to stay in the schools. No doubt great good has been done in England by the systematic instruction of the children in primary schools in cleanliness and the care of the person. That is practical. But the conditions in Bengal are widely different. Mr. Jack in his most interesting book 'The Economic Life of a Bengal District' says 'The Bengali is certainly the cleanest race on earth.' What we want public opinion stirred up about in Bengal is not so much personal cleanliness or the ventilation of dwellings, as the conditions of the communicability and spread of disease, the dangers arising from contaminated water and bad food—dangers from which the public in England are now largely protected.

As a matter of fact, hygiene has been taught more or less in schools in England for a number of years, and the subject has been examined upon by various public bodies. But there has not been any very appreciable effect upon public opinion or public health. On the other hand a step has been taken in recent years that has had momentous practical consequences. I refer to the medical inspection of schools. I quote a recently published report in saying that the inspection of school children in England 'has led to an advance in public health productive of a manifold financial return in national efficiency not expressible in figures.' And although the proportion of children of school-going age in Bengal is relatively small, nevertheless it is, I think, through the medical inspection of school children and the action taken in consequence that a real advance will be made towards the improvement of the public health. And such a procedure is much more likely to arouse the interest of the parents than lessons in hygiene. An Hon'ble Member had a resolution down for a previous meeting of Council proposing this medical inspection of school children. I do not know why he withdrew it; I should have been glad to support it. Perhaps at the present time there are difficulties in the way of providing the necessary expert inspecting staff. If so, I would suggest that some sort of beginning might be made that would need no expert staff, by making the schools keep a record of the physical measurements of their pupils. This may seem a very small beginning, but I think the practice would tend to arouse interest in the question of personal physical fitness, and the records would certainly be of interest and utility. An accurate record of variations of weight at different seasons of the year would of itself be valuable.

But even granting that the teaching of hygiene in schools would do no harm and might do some good I am strongly of opinion that the addition of hygiene as a compulsory subject in schools would be unfair to the schools. They already have more subjects to teach than they can do justice to. Let the subject be taught by all means in Training Colleges in association with elementary science. Here it might bear useful fruit.

And the proposal that hygiene should be made a compulsory subject in the Matriculation Examination seems to me to be singularly inopportune at a time when we are hoping that the University Commission will succeed in making the Matriculation what it really should be, namely, a means of selecting those students who are fit to pursue with advantage to themselves a course of liberal education leading to a degree.

I should like to suggest that the Government should consent to take up this important question, and that, on that understanding, the Hon'ble Member should withdraw his well-meant resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAJUMDAR said :—

"My Lord, I fully appreciate the resolution which has been brought forward by the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin. It divides itself into two branches. First of all, he asks the Government to make the study of hygiene and sanitation a compulsory subject in all State-aided schools. In the second branch, he asks the Government to make it a compulsory subject for the Matriculation examination. No doubt it is of the utmost importance that our young men should know something of the elementary rules of hygiene and of sanitation before they learn anything else. The Hon'ble Member who has just spoken seems to think that medical inspection would be of greater use and advantage than instruction in hygiene and sanitation. I do not clearly understand him. Medical inspection may be very good, but I do not think mere medical inspection without the student being grounded in the elementary rules of hygiene and sanitation can be of much use, because before the medical men go to inspect the schools and to instruct the students the students must know something about hygiene and sanitation. There is no real conflict between the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin and the Hon'ble Member who has just spoken. One may be supplementary to the other; but at the same time there is some difficulty in making the subject compulsory in the University Matriculation examination. The resolution itself is somewhat self-contradictory. First of all, it asks the Government to make the study of hygiene and sanitation compulsory in State-aided schools, but the University examination is not confined simply to the State-aided schools, and it would be unfair to make a subject compulsory which is not compulsory to all the schools that send up for the Matriculation examination. What I think may be done is to make the subject optional. On this point, I believe, it is the Vice-Chancellor who will be able to speak more authoritatively, although I think if it be made an optional subject, students, who may take it up, will be able to pass better by securing a larger aggregate of marks, and it would be an incentive to non-aided schools to introduce hygiene and sanitation gradually in order to take advantage of the optional subject. In this connection I like to bring to Your Excellency's attention one fact which is of some importance. A good deal of money is being spent in the zanana classes. I know from my experience that our ladies who attend these classes do not like the simple literary education which is given to them. They are taught 'Bodhudaya', 'Charitabali', 'Charupath' and 'Sitarbanabash.' They say, and very rightly say, that they know more than this. In the zanana classes there are ladies who are generally matrons. What they want is that some instruction in sanitation and hygiene should be given to them so that they might attend to their children. They want particularly to know how to attend to their children and how to treat and take care of them in simple cases. I had once a discussion with one of the inspectresses on the subject. She admitted the force of the arguments and also admitted that that was the reason why our zanana class was not a success. She complained, and very rightly complained, that there were no qualified teachers to teach these subjects. The mistresses that are employed have merely literary education, but they have no adequate qualification in hygienical and sanitary rules. With these observations I heartily support the principle embodied in the resolution of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin, but I do not clearly see my way to support the second branch of this resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHOUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I have great pleasure in supporting the principle of this resolution, and I am specially thankful to Mr. Irwin as it clearly shows that he feels for us. There is some difficulty, however, in making it compulsory in the beginning. I am also of the opinion of my hon'ble friend Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, that it should not be compulsory at first and that special arrangements should be made for teaching the girls sanitation. Malaria and poverty are really the most important questions to be combated against, and as I come from a district which has especially suffered from malaria—I mean the district of Rajshahi—I fully appreciate and am really thankful to the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin for the resolution he has brought forward. I hope something can be done; simply medical inspection or spending some money for the prevention of malaria will not be sufficient. If the boys are taught sanitation they will, when they become the head members of the family, be able to introduce sanitary measures which will benefit the country at large. I have great pleasure in supporting the principle of the resolution with this modification that it may be optional in the beginning and that gradually it will be made compulsory."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, I think it my duty to support generally the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin. As to the necessity of teaching hygiene and sanitation, there cannot be any question. It has been suggested that the school inspection of children may replace the teaching of sanitary science or hygiene. My Lord, as the Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood has said, our peasants and our cultivators in the far-off villages are the cleanest of human beings, but does this fact prevent them from falling victims at the earliest chance to dysentery and cholera; and what is the reason that they fall victims to some of the most ordinary diseases that could be prevented. It is only due to the want of knowledge and knowledge only. My Lord, it has been said that knowledge is power, but this common adage applies with peculiar force to the conditions of Bengal at the present moment. The necessity which seems paramount at the present moment is to create a sanitary conscience in our people and to create the conviction in their minds as to certain truths and certain facts which may be palpable to others in better positions. So far as education is concerned, the poor villager does not know that it is the mosquito that is his accursed enemy. He does not know the ordinary rule that by boiling his drinking water he can be saved a world of troubles and miseries and that he can also save himself and his family from death. This is what he is to be told and what he is to be taught, and that ought to be a part of the primary education that we aim at introducing in the country. My Lord, it is a necessity in after-life to have a knowledge of general hygiene and sanitation, and looked at from this point of view, it is a necessity in our organizations—those very organizations which have been created and which are being created by Government whose primary object is to look after the sanitation of the province. Our local bodies have members, many of whom, for the want of sanitary knowledge, find it difficult to discuss and decide sanitary matters, either in compliant and amiable ignorance or oftener in compliant and obstinate refusal. Many of them are placed in very false positions when important measures come before them for discussion. No wonder there is no training in sanitary matters in all the strata of our education. I would like to see sanitary education permeating all the different grades of our education in this country; such a state of things can only be generally favourable to the development of those institutions and the spread of these ideas which Your Excellency's Government aim at in Bengal, because otherwise co-operation from the people is either hopeless or finally impossible.

My Lord, a question has been raised as to whether it should be made a compulsory subject in the Matriculation examination or not. I am unable at this moment to vote with the Hon'ble mover on this point, because this important question of making a course on sanitary science a compulsory subject in the Matriculation is correlated with many other important questions that are not before us to-day, and this question must be discussed and considered in the light of these questions; but there is no doubt that before the Matriculation stage the study of sanitary science should be introduced in our schools; it does not matter whether it is a subject for the Matriculation examination or not. Every student ought to have clear ideas regarding sanitation. Another objection has very often been urged against proposals for introducing sanitary education elsewhere on the ground that the study of sanitary science, as that science is of a composite nature, must be based upon a previous study of some of the simpler sciences like Chemistry, Physics and elementary Biology. I quite agree with those gentlemen who urge this argument against sanitary education without any scientific basis. When we aim at education in sanitary science in the higher grades, that is the sort of sanitary education that is to be imparted to experts, medical men and others concerned with the department; but for the general public we do not require that sort of scientific education, and we must attempt to give a sort of education which can create conviction in the minds of the young people that such a thing has to be done and such a thing has to be avoided, that the mosquito and the fly must be prevented from having access to his rooms anyhow, or that the water must be boiled before use. If we can create such a conviction in the minds of the young people, I think that would be one of the most desirable things in Bengal even if we have to sacrifice the claims of science to some extent. Therefore I feel that from the point of view of necessity as well as from the point of view of practicability to some extent, the resolution deserves our support.

Resolutions.

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar; Babu Bhabendra Chandra Roy; Mr. Provash Chandra Mitra.

The question of teachers is involved in the resolution. My Lord, the President of the State Medical Faculty is present here, and I suppose my statement will be borne out by him when I say that there are 2,500 qualified men on his list—all medical men—who could be utilised for the purpose of diffusing sanitary education in the land. I see no difficulty as regards that. Of course there is the question of finance involved in this matter, but I do not think that it is desired that that question should be discussed here. On the whole, therefore, I think it my duty to support, with my whole heart, clauses (i) and (iii) of the resolution, whereas as regards clause (ii), although I think it is desirable, I am unable to give it my formal support, considering that the question more properly falls with the province of the University."

At this stage the Council was adjourned for lunch.

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA ROY said :—

"My Lord, the sight of a non-official European member actively interesting himself in a question affecting the well-being of the Indian community is indeed inspiring to the Indian section of this House. If the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin and his friends, while occupying a bench sacred to the cause of silence, will from now hold out their hand to us in comradeship, we will only too readily grasp it with all the warmth of oriental sincerity and gratitude.

Sir, coming to the subject matter of the resolution, I am in complete sympathy with the Hon'ble mover. The health of our school-children should receive the most careful attention at the hands of the educational authorities. The large percentage of rejections among the recruits to the Bengali Battalion and the Indian Defence Force is an alarming indication how the youth of Bengal stand in point of health. And any measure which may have the effect of promoting the physical well-being of our race is bound to receive our support. An American writer has asked the question, "Why not compulsory health for all—children, youths and adults—in so far as it, like education, is individually attainable? It is no more chimerical, Utopian or dangerous", says the writer, "than compulsory education sounded to our forefathers, and it is a good deal more necessary. All sickness is waste, and most of it is unnecessary". This is the verdict of America. And we hope that we shall be able to act up to it in no distant time."

The Hon'ble MR. PROVASH CHANDRA MITRA said :—

"My Lord, in the first place I desire to congratulate most respectfully the Hon'ble mover of this resolution for bringing forward a resolution of such importance before the Council. It is, I believe—I speak subject to correction—the first time in the history of the reformed Council that a non-official European member has brought forward a resolution of this nature touching the welfare of the masses and the classes of Indians in this country and let me hope, My Lord, it is a happy augury of the future. We hope that Indians by birth and Indians by adoption will work together and put their shoulders to the wheel for the common weal of Indians by adoption and of Indians by birth. My Lord, I have every sympathy with the object of this resolution, and I believe that the principles underlying this resolution will do the greatest possible good to my community. If I offer some criticism to the resolution as it stands I do so for furthering the object which the Hon'ble mover has in view and not for defeating the principles of this resolution. From the remarks made by some of my Hon'ble friends who have preceded me two points stand out before us. It has been criticised by the Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood that the mere introduction of the teaching of hygiene and sanitation will not serve the object in view; that spread of knowledge regarding hygiene and sanitation by experts is the real thing. There is a good deal of truth in this criticism. It has also been pointed out by the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar that introduction of study of sanitation and hygiene in our school curricula will spread knowledge about hygiene and sanitation. What I mean is this: it is the business of experts to find out the truths about these matters by patient investigations, but mere finding out of the truth will not do—the truths have got to be put before the public and the truths have got to be assimilated by the public at large and what better medium can there be than of our schools where children will learn those truths which the patient labour and researches of experts have found out. Therefore, it seems to me, My Lord, that it is as much necessary to give effect to the criticisms of the Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood as it is necessary to introduce a knowledge of hygiene into our schools and universities. But, My Lord, the portion of the resolution to which I have some criticisms to offer is the portion where the Hon'ble mover seeks to make the teaching of hygiene compulsory in our schools and in our University. I feel that at the present moment we have not got enough competent teachers; when I say we have not got competent teachers I do not mean that there are none; there may be some teachers but the number will be insufficient to teach all boys if these subjects be made compulsory, and what I suggest to my Hon'ble friend the mover of the resolution is that instead of making hygiene and sanitation compulsory to start by making it optional, and subject to the approval of the Hon'ble mover I should like clause (i) to read as follows:—

Resolutions.

Mr. Provash Chandra Mitra; Dr. Howells.

(i) The teaching of hygiene and sanitation by duly qualified teachers be made optional in all State-aided schools, both for boys and girls in the province.

Then as regards clause (ii) I should like to read it as follows:—

(ii) These subjects be included as optional subjects for the University Matriculation examination.

As regards clause (iii) I would suggest my Hon'ble friend the mover to delete it for the present. The subject is one of such importance that I do not think that we should hastily attempt to make provision for it in the budget of the current year. If the subject has got to be tackled with any seriousness then it must cost a large sum of money. The budget of the present year is more or less a fixed thing and after all, however important the subject may be, a delay of one year will not be a delay which will be thrown away. In this one year we may properly investigate into the question; and we may properly consider how the matter can be best introduced and how the money can be best utilised. I suggest that instead of provision for giving effect to the resolution being made in the next budget such provision may be made in the budget of the following year. With these remarks I support the principles of this resolution."

The Hon'ble Dr. Howells said:—

"My Lord, I do not know whether I find myself in full agreement in any one of the three points mentioned in the resolution, but I am in most hearty agreement with what the speaker wants. It seems to me exceedingly fundamental in our plans for progress that there should be spread by every possible legitimate means a larger knowledge of sanitation and hygiene. The amount of ignorance on matters of this kind now in existence from Chairmen of Municipalities down to common coolies is simply appalling. It is seldom that you get men apart from those who have come in immediate touch with the results of sanitation and are in touch with medical practice who are aware of its great effect on health. It is really rare to find in the ordinary man any knowledge of sanitation and hygiene and all that it stands for. How far actually teaching in schools may be helpful it will be difficult to say. But one thing I do know that in an area of which I have some practical experience, practical demonstration proved to be exceedingly helpful and that is the introduction of filtered water in the town of Serampore. The number of people who believed in filtered water in Serampore three years ago was exceedingly limited. But the manifest effects of filtered water on the health of the people, the rapid decline in cholera owing to the introduction of filtered water has now become known to the common coolie. I should say that a simple demonstration like this would have more beneficent effect and would spread sanitary knowledge in the district than years and years of sanitary teaching would do without such demonstration in our schools. No amount of teaching unless it is backed up by a persistent and steady advance in the way of introducing measures of this character throughout the length and breadth of Bengal as far as finances allow would do any good. Practical demonstration seems to me the permanent solution of the problem. More than twenty years ago when I came out to this country I had the privilege of teaching in a high school and in those days there was a selection of books in connection with the Calcutta University in which there were several chapters on sanitation. I had to teach sanitation as contained in those chapters. That was rather a perfunctory way of teaching sanitation. And unless sanitation has some real and practical background, I am doubtful whether it will produce in any way any good result. We are all of the same opinion on the importance of the subject and the desirability of introducing a conscience on the subject amongst the people. After all it is not long since that we English people have come out of the dark in this connection. In the days of our fathers the idea of sanitation was of a very fundamental character, and if we read of the conditions in old Calcutta, we find that it reflected very little credit on the part of those concerned and we can only say that there was very little or no idea of sanitation a hundred years ago. But the most satisfactory thing in Europe amongst the working classes is that there is a real conscience among them of sanitation and hygiene. And how has this come about? The Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood mentions about inspection of schools by doctors. But is it to be on a compulsory or voluntary basis? I think this would be beset with difficulties. I think that if the Government promises to look into the question and see what steps can be taken for giving effect to the purposes of this resolution, it would be the best way of dealing with this. The question of combating the positive ignorance of the people in regard to sanitation is a serious one, and it is also necessary to deal with the mischievous idea that is prevalent about sanitation."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I rise to give my support to the resolution that has been moved by my Hon'ble friend Mr. Irwin. I have followed with considerable interest the preceding speakers and I find that there is a consensus of opinion in support of the resolution that has been moved by the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin. Some of my friends say that they support the principle of the resolution but they do not go far to support some of the details. So far as I am concerned I have not been able to quite follow some of my Hon'ble friends who have preceded me and who think that it is not needed to make the study of hygi ne and sanitation compulsory in schools or for the Matriculation examination. I think, My Lord, as far as I have been able to gather, that there is much in the proposal to make the study of hygiene and sanitation compulsory to commend itself to this Council. I remember also that Bengali was at first an optional subject in the Matriculation examination in my days, and I believe it is now a compulsory subject. I know very well how much the study of our own language was neglected in those days when Bengali was merely an optional subject for the Matriculation examination and also for the First Arts which is now called the Intermediate Examination. I think, My Lord, there is nothing, so far as my community is concerned, objectionable to make the study of hygiene and sanitation a compulsory subject in the Matriculation examination. The Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood has said that the Matriculation examination is intended to examine the fitness of students who go in for the Arts examination, i.e., for the higher courses of study. I believe the study of books is a comprehensive thing and the study of hygiene and sanitation may well be included in the curriculum of the Calcutta University. I do not, in supporting the resolution of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin, minimise the importance of remedial measures regarding the improvement of the condition of things in villages and in mufassal towns in addition to the supply of filtered water, the improvement of drainage, the cutting of jungles and many other things. I believe that in addition to other subjects the study of hygiene and sanitation in our schools and pathsalas will be very useful in attaining the object we all have in view, namely, the general improvement in the sanitary condition of this Presidency and especially of Indian homes and surroundings. With this view, as a member of the Indian community, I gladly welcome the resolution which has been moved by the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin in the interest of our community."

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA said :—

"My Lord, I need hardly assure my Hon'ble friends that the Government is in entire sympathy with the object of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin in moving this resolution. That object, I conceive, is to be attained by the spreading of the knowledge of ordinary simple rules of hygiene amongst the people and thereby rendering them more capable of avoiding those unhealthy conditions which lead to disease. I can assure the Council that this subject has received for a long time past the earnest and continuous attention of Government. In the well-known resolution of the Government of India on the educational policy of Government, dated the 31st February 1913, the Government of India said this :

'The claims of hygiene are paramount not only in the interests of the children themselves, though these are all-important, but also as an object-lesson to the rising generation. Hitherto want of funds and the apathy of the people have been responsible for the comparatively small attention paid to hygiene.'

I am afraid we have not progressed very far in either of these directions. The resolution goes on to say :

'In some provinces a simple course of instruction in hygiene is prescribed at some period of the school course, but the lessons are often of too formal a type, are not connected with the life of the pupil and fail to form his habits or to enlist his intelligence in after-life in the struggle against disease. In some areas, there is a general inspection of school premises by medical authorities; but it is believed that little is done for the individual inspection of school children, and that medical advice has not always been enlisted in regard to the length of the school day, the framing of curricula, and such matters. The Government of India commend to local Governments a thorough enquiry by a small committee of experts, medical and educational, into school and college hygiene. The scope of the enquiry will no doubt vary in different parts of the province, but the following seem to be important matters for investigation :—

(i) The condition of school houses, hostels and other places where pupils reside, from the point of view of sanitation.

(ii) The professional examination of building plans, from the hygienic point of view.

Resolutions.

Sir S. P. Sinha.

(iii) The introduction of a simple and more practical course of hygiene ; whether it should be a compulsory subject in the various schemes of school-leaving certificates, and whether it should be recommended to Universities as part of their Matriculation examination. (This is the subject matter of the resolution.)

(iv) The inspection, where possible, of male scholars, with special reference to infectious diseases, eye-sight and malaria. (This point has been mentioned by the Hon'ble Mr. Arden Wood.)

(v) The length of the school day, home studies, and the effect upon health of the present system of working for formal examinations.

(vi) The requirements in the way of recreation grounds, gardens, gymnasia, reading rooms, common rooms, etc.

(vii) The inspecting and administrating agency required, the possibility of co-operation with existing organisations and the provision of funds.'

Now in pursuance of that policy, in 1913 the Government of Bengal appointed a representative committee to enquire into the whole subject of school and college hygiene. The committee included men of practical experience and insight into educational problems, both from the physical and intellectual point of view. It was presided over by the Director of Public Instruction (Mr. Hornell) and its members were Colonel Clemasha, the then Sanitary Commissioner, the Sanitary Engineer, Dr. Grey, the Adviser on Physical Education to the Government of Bengal, Colonel Deare, Sir Kailash Chandra Bose, Mr. Smith Allen, Miss Brocke, Mr. Saroda Ranjan Das and Maulvi Wahed Khan Bahadur with Mr. Stark of the Education Department as Secretary, and amongst the subjects which they were asked to enquire into were the introduction of a simple and practical course of hygiene, whether it should be compulsory and whether it should be recommended to the University as a subject in the Matriculation examination. That committee held protracted sittings and afterwards made an unanimous recommendation to the Government of Bengal. They were of opinion that there should be a course of hygiene and sanitation for the four upper classes of high schools, for which at present there was no provision ; but the difficulty they felt was the want of teachers to whom the task of teaching these children could be confided. As regards European schools, steps have been taken on the basis of the syllabus drawn up by the hygiene committee to make the study of hygiene compulsory both for boys and girls. As regards Indian schools, the Government accepted the principle that the teaching of hygiene should be an integral part of the secondary school course and that a working knowledge of hygiene should be a sine qua non of the teachers, and for that purpose it would be necessary to include hygiene in the course for training schools. There is a scheme now being prepared by the Director of Public Instruction with that object, that is, for introducing hygiene in the course for training schools. I am sure the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin will be the first to recognise that we cannot carry out his resolution, even if we wanted to, unless we had duly qualified teachers who are to carry out the teaching of hygiene in the schools. The first thing, therefore, is to get the teachers. We are having a scheme prepared and it is to be hoped that we shall have in the near future funds to carry out that scheme. As I was telling the House with reference to the report of the committee, we sent up a comprehensive scheme of school and college hygiene costing Rs. 50,000 a year. We had accepted the suggestion that oral instructions should be supplemented by magic lanterns, charts and diagrams. The Government of India, after carefully considering our scheme, expressed their general approval of it. subject to a very important condition, namely, that the Government of Bengal should be able to finance it from provincial revenues when normal conditions were restored. Therefore. with the greatest possible desire to give effect to the general demand for providing a certain amount of teaching of hygiene and sanitary science in the schools, we have not got, first of all, the teachers to do it ; and, secondly, we have not got the money either to train the teachers and we have got to wait till we can get both money and teachers. Now that I have explained the attitude of Government with regard to the first part of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin's resolution, namely, the provision for the teaching of hygiene in aided schools, I may mention for the information of the Hon'ble mover that that scheme includes as one of its essential portions a scheme for the medical inspection of children in schools. The Government believe that both are necessary for the objects which we all have in view—the medical inspection of children as well as the teaching of hygiene and sanitary science.

Resolutions.

Sir S. P. Sinha ; Mr. Irwin.

Taking the second part of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin's resolution, that also, as I have already said, has been engaging the attention of the Government of India and of this Government, and after consulting the local Governments, the Government of India came to the conclusion somewhat contrary to their first idea that it would not be desirable to make the course in hygiene in higher institutions compulsory. They point out to us in their letter of the 18th January 1917 that 'such of the local Governments as have intimated their opinion were not in favour of the teaching of hygiene as a separate subject for examination. The Government of India are prepared to accept this conclusion, for as a result of further consideration. they are themselves inclined that the insistence on the instruction of pupils in hygiene with a view to an examination test would probably only lead to a somewhat formal and superfluous course of instruction. They are disposed to think that a preferable alternative would be to give practical instruction to teachers in hygiene. In these circumstances, having regard to the fact that a test in hygiene does not properly fall within the scope of an University examination as such, the Government of India are not at present prepared to invite the Calcutta University to consider whether sanitation and hygiene should be recognised as alternative subjects for the matriculation examination.' I think that disposes of the second portion of the resolution, as regards hygiene and sanitary science being made compulsory subjects for the University examination.

With regard to the third point, the conclusion follows from what I have already said before that it would be premature altogether, even if it were possible, to talk of making allotments in the budget for this purpose. We are all of us convinced that in the interests of the pupils, it is necessary to create or to stimulate the 'sanitary conscience.' It is recognised that one of the best ways of doing that is to give a certain amount of instruction in the schools with regard to hygiene and sanitary science, but for that purpose there are two things that are essential—first, the provision of an adequate number of well-equipped teachers and, secondly, funds. Neither of these is available, and, I am afraid, neither will be available for some little time to come. We must be satisfied, therefore, with the gradual progress that is being made, and I am sure Hon'ble Members will recognise that some progress has been already made, and that we must trust to better times for the purpose of carrying out the full programme sketched in the resolution of the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin."

The Hon'ble MR. IRWIN said :—

"My Lord, in deference to what appears to be the general wish of Hon'ble Members, I am prepared to agree to substitute the word 'optional' for the word "compulsory" in the second paragraph of my resolution. I would further ask Your Lordship's permission to add to the first paragraph of my resolution the following words :—

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

'and that grants be made to unaided schools for similar teaching under conditions to be settled by the Director of Public Instruction.'

As regards the objection of want of funds, surely, My Lord, I need say nothing more than that for such an object there are many other projects which should be set aside or postponed until less stringent times.

As to the difficulty of providing qualified instructors, I would ask if the assistance of the Sanitary Commissioner, who is also the Professor of Hygiene at the Medical College, has been sought ?

Dr. Bentley assures me that, if given the means and authority, he would guarantee to provide sound teaching in a hundred municipalities in the Province within six months. Has not the appointment of a Deputy Sanitary Commissioner been already sanctioned ? If so, why has it not been given effect to by the appointment of a qualified man ? Less than Rs. 10,000 would suffice for this.

In conclusion, I have here, My Lord, a most interesting pamphlet on this subject published, in 1877, by Dr. John Murdock, from which none will admit of my quoting to-day, but which I commend to the notice of the authorities. It is prefaced by the words :—

'An appeal to the Indian Government, the Director of Public Instruction and the University Authorities on behalf of the Dumb Millions of India, the victims of indescribable misery and whose death-roll is doubled from a violation of the Laws of Health.'

If those words, My Lord, do not appeal to those in authority to give a favourable ear to my resolution, nothing that I can add will. I can only appeal to Government not to neglect this opportunity of trying to relieve the sufferings of millions."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Does the Hon'ble mover wish to move the resolution in the amended form ?"

The Hon'ble Mr. IRWIN said :—

"If Your Lordship permits me, I would move the resolution in the following amended form :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(i) the teaching of Hygiene and Sanitation by duly qualified teachers be made compulsory in all State-aided schools, both for boys and girls, in the province ; and that grants be made to unaided schools for similar teaching under conditions to be settled by the Director of Public Instruction ;

(ii) these subjects be included as optional subjects for the University Matriculation Examination ; and

(iii) provision for the above be made in the next budget."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 14.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a special division of the Public Works Department, to be called "the Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division", be formed with effect from the beginning of the next official year.

He said :—

"My Lord, the necessity for embankments in the district of Hooghly has long been recognised, and they date back to a period anterior to British rule. It was, in fact, considered to be a duty of the zamindars 'to secure their lands from inundation by repairing the embankments.' The cost of repairing the bandhs was known as pulbandi and was realised by the zamindars from the tenants concerned. When the British took over the ceded districts, numerous embankments were in existence in Hooghly, the most important being within the Burdwan Raj Estate, which owned those along the Damodar.

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

From the earliest times the district of Burdwan has been protected from floods by embankments along the Damodar. At first individual efforts rather than public contribution provided for their construction A landowner whose field was threatened would construct a bandh to save it with the result that the flood water would attack some other point further down. The process would be repeated again and again until the banks of the river were protected by a series of regular embankments. Before the last half of the nineteenth century, however, these were neither so extensive nor so strong as to effectually check the fury of the great floods to which hill-fed streams, such as the Damodar, are liable, and the early history of the district is full of accounts of disastrous floods which breach the embankments and caused widespread damage. The earliest recorded occurred in 1770, and the injury which it caused to the winter rice crop intensified the famine of that year. The inundation was first observed on the 29th September, when the waters of the Damodar rose to a level with the top of the embankment and near the western extremity of the town of Burdwan, the embankment gradually gave way. The damage was repaired, but four or five days later a second rising of the river resulted in the entire destruction of the embankment. Every effort to check the violence of the torrents proved in vain and the town of Burdwan was almost totally destroyed, not an earth-built hut remained, and even houses constructed with bricks suffered considerably.

Mr. W. W. Hunter, of the Bengal Civil Service, furnished the following information to the Hon'ble George Campbell, one of the Judges of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in Bengal, and President of the Famine Commission, in the Minutes appended to the Famine Report of 1769-88 :—

'Before the end of the rainy season in 1770 the evident depopulation had excited grave apprehension in the minds of the Council. While a third of a generation of the poor had been thus swept from the face of the earth, a whole generation of once rich families had been reduced to poverty. On every side we hear of the revenue famines, a wealthy class, who then stood forth as the visible Government to the common people, being unable to realise the land tax, stripped off their office, their persons imprisoned and their lands, the sole dependence of their families, re-let. The ancient houses of Bengal, who were afterwards acknowledged by the British Government as the lords of the soil, faired still worse. The Raja of Burdwan, whose province had been the first to cry out, and one of the last to obtain relief, died miserably towards the end of the famine, leaving a treasury so utterly drained that his son, a boy of sixteen, had to melt down the family plate, and, when this was exhausted, to beg a temporary loan, in order to perform his father's obsequies. Ten or fifteen years later we find the unfortunate prince, unable to satisfy the Government demands, a prisoner in his own palace. His successor at the present day enjoys an income reputed at more than a hundred thousand sterling. * * *. The two great potentates in the west of Lower Bengal were reserved for a more cruel fate. At the close of the famine, the Revenue Agents, being unable to wring the land tax out of their depopulated estates, were sharply dispossessed and when the local records open we find one of the princes, the aged Hindu Raja of Bishenpore, let out of the debtor's prison only to die, and the other, the youthful Mussalman Raja of Birbhum, hardly suffered to obtain his majority before he was confined for arrears'.

Another flood which seems to have been equally disastrous occurred in Burdwan in 1787. Describing the damage caused by it, the Collector,

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

Mr. Kinloch, wrote: 'The town is totally destroyed, not a vestige of a mud house remaining and even those built of brick are many of them fallen or so entirely damaged that a longer residence in them becomes dangerous. Many people have lost their lives and great number of cattle are drowned.'

The inundation of 1823, which commenced on the night of the 26th September, was caused by the bursting of the Damodar, the Baghirathi and minor streams.

The flood of 1855 resulted in the destruction of the embankment on the right side of the Damodar in the district of Burdwan.

The successive floods of the Damodar in recent years which are so well known have made the material condition of the people very bad and the sufferings of the inhabitants of the affected localities can be better imagined than described.

At present the South-Western Circle of the Public Works Department is divided into four divisions, viz. :—(1) Cossye, (2) Northern Drainage and Embankment, (3) Circular and Eastern Canals and (4) Midnapore Canal Revenue Division.

(1) The Cossye Division contains the districts of Midnapore, Hooghly and Howrah, with divisional headquarters at Midnapore.

(2) The Northern Drainage and Embankment Division contains the district of Hooghly, Burdwan, Birbhum, 24-Parganas and Howrah with the divisional headquarters in Calcutta.

(3) The Circular and Eastern Canal Division comprises the districts of Khulna, 24-Parganas, Jessore, Bakarganj and Faridpur, having the divisional headquarters in Calcutta.

(4) Midnapore Canal Revenue Division contains the districts of Midnapore and Howrah, having the divisional headquarters at Midnapore.

The Central Circle is divided into two divisions, namely, (1) Burdwan and (2) Nadia Rivers Division.

(1) The Burdwan Division contains the districts of Hooghly, Burdwan, Birbhum, Bankura and Jessore, with divisional headquarters at Hooghly.

(2) The Nadia Rivers Division comprises the districts of Murshidabad, Nadia, Burdwan and Birbhum, having the divisional headquarters at Berhampore.

Incorporation of the above-named districts in the several divisions, as noted above, is neither geographically nor politically consistent. These divisions are rather arbitrary. Therefore, the above districts as comprised in two circles should be re-distributed and in consideration of the gravity of the situation caused by the Damodar floods in the districts of Howrah, Hooghly and Burdwan, some of the aforesaid divisions should be amalgamated and without incurring further expenditure a special division of the Public Works Department to be called the 'Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division' can be formed. The question of mitigating the untold sufferings of the vast population of more than 800 villages is a very important one.

Therefore, from the administrative point of view, the formation of the 'Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division' with divisional headquarters at Burdwan or Hooghly and not in Calcutta is very desirable and urgent.

With these few words, My Lord, I move the resolution for the acceptance of Your Excellency's Council."

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming; Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, the historical aspect of the Hon'ble Member's speech is somewhat wanting in relevancy; but as regards his suggestion for a re-distribution of the organization of the Public Works Department, there is much to be said; and, indeed, if the Hon'ble Member will examine the past records of the Department, he will find that the Department has not been unwilling to re-distribute its staff as occasion requires.

As regards this particular point, namely, that a special division of the Public Works Department, to be called the Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division, be constituted, I desire to say at once on behalf of Government that the formation of such a division is contemplated. The area in question, as correctly stated, is included in the Northern Drainage and Embankment Division, which is a heavy charge; and a further subdivision of responsibility is desirable. At the same time, it must be made clear that it is not possible, owing to the insufficiency of staff, to say that the division will be formed at the beginning of the next official year or even during the currency of the war. It should be remembered that war is responsible for the reduction of more than one-fourth in the superior staff of the Public Works Department, and it is with extreme difficulty that the existing organization can be carried on even as it is. If the Hon'ble Member would be prepared to alter the terms of his resolution by the substitution of the words 'as soon as possible,' for the words 'with effect from the beginning of the next official year,' then Government would be prepared to accept the resolution in the modified form."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I accept the suggestions made by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming and beg to move the resolution in the following amended form :—

'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a special division of the Public Works Department, to be called 'the Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division' be formed as soon as possible.'

The motion was put in the amended form and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 15.

The following resolution which stood in the name of the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR was, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Mr. C. Addams-Williams of the Public Works Department be placed in charge of the proposed Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 16.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Standing Committee of officials and non-officials for the proposed Damodar Embankment and Drainage Division be constituted, with the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division as President.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming; Maulvi Abul Kasem; Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

He said :—

"My Lord, this resolution speaks for itself, and I submit that a Standing Committee ought to be appointed."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, the Hon'ble Mover's speech is commendably short. Presumably he refers to the Committee, the constitution of which was contemplated in the resolution of the 3rd July, 1906. In accordance with that resolution, Committees were formed for many districts, including those in the Damodar basin, namely, the Midnapur, Bankura, Birbhum, Burdwan, Hooghly and Howrah districts. The personnel was to consist of the Commissioner of the Division as President, and the Collector, the Superintending Engineer, the Executive Engineer, the District Engineer, and selected landholders as members. The attention of the Commissioner will be drawn to the appointment of such Standing Committees, and the lists of names of landholders will be revised in accordance with existing conditions and requirements. Under the terms of that resolution, such Standing Committees are to be convened by the Commissioner when required.

In this case, again, Government would be prepared to accept the recommendation in the resolution, if the wording be slightly altered. I suggest for the Hon'ble Member's consideration that the resolution might read as follows :—

> 'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Standing Committees of officials and non-officials for the districts in the Damodar basin be constituted in accordance with the terms of the resolution of the 3rd July, 1906.'

If the Hon'ble Member would accept this as a modification of his original resolution, on behalf of Government, I would be prepared to accept it."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, after the assurance given by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming, that if the changes proposed by him be acceptable to the Hon'ble Mover, the resolution will be accepted by Government, I do not think that I need trouble the Council with any speech of mine. I hope that the Hon'ble Mover will accept the suggestions of the Hon'ble Member in charge."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR then moved the resolution in the following amended form :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Standing Committees of officials and non-officials for the districts in the Damodar basin be consituted in accordance with the terms of the resolution of the 3rd July, 1906."

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 17.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the grade pay of the typists of the Bengal Secretariat be raised from its present scale to a uniform grade of Rs. 40—5—100, with effect from the 1st April, 1918.

Resolutions.

Mr. Donald.

He said :—

" My Lord, the history of the typists of the Secretariat may be briefly stated as follows :—

There are only two grades of typists at present, namely, (1) Rs. 30—2—50 and (2) Rs. 50—2—70 ; so it takes a person entering on Rs. 30 ten full years to get up to the Rs. 50 grade, i.e., a living wage. The posts in the other grade are very limited and it falls to the lot of a fortunate few only to obtain Rs. 50—2—70 just after completing their Rs. 30—2—50. Moreover, the typists are not allowed, on any account, to participate in the general clerical line in which the pay and prospects are handsome. The routine clerks in the general line are in receipt of a pay ranging from Rs. 40 to Rs. 100 from which they can rise up to the higher grades of the ministerial service, if they can show their capacity. The routine clerk is generally one who writes up registers, records and despatches papers. A typist of average merit can and should effectively perform these duties. Still, as regards pay and prospects, the typists have not unfortunately been placed on the same footing as that of the routine clerks. The starting pay of a typist is very poor. It should be raised to Rs. 40 and if a progressive pay of Rs. 40—5—100 were given in place of the existing ones, namely, Rs. 30—2—50 and Rs. 50—2—70, it would be only in the fitness of things. Owing to the increased cost of living Rs. 100 in these days in 12 years is not too much to aspire to.

My Lord, with these words I commend this resolution for the favourable consideration of Your Excellency's Council."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

" My Lord, the question raised in the resolution of the Hon'ble Member has already been under the consideration of Government in connection with a memorial which was submitted by the typists in the Secretariat. The present rates of pay which have been given by the Hon'ble Member have now been in force for a considerable period, but Government recognize that they are not adequate at the present time and have already come to a decision that they should be improved. We agree with the Hon'ble Member that Rs. 40 should be the minimum wage. This is the minimum wage for a clerk in the Lower Division and we consider that a typist should be remunerated at not less than this figure. We further see no reason in having two grades of typists since all do the same work and except from the point of view of capacity it is impossible to differentiate between them. So long as they conform to the prescribed tests they should all be treated alike and there is no point in making a distinction in the rate of pay. This arrangement will remove the difficulty to which the Hon'ble Member has referred that only a few in the lower grade are fortunate enough to secure promotion to the upper grade after they reach the maximum of the lower grade. But we are not prepared to go to the length suggested by the Hon'ble Member as regards increments and the maximum rate of pay. Under the Hon'ble Member's proposal a typist would reach his maximum in a comparatively short period and for the rest of his service would be on the same rate of pay This is not desirable. Whatever increments should be allowed should be spread over a longer period, so that the officer may have some addition of salary to look forward to throughout the greater part of his service. The maximum proposed by the Hon'ble Member is also too high for this class of officer. The work is, as the Hon'ble Member admits, routine work but it is of a more routine character than that performed by men in the higher grades of the Lower Division. The typists cannot be really compared with the Lower Division generally. They are merely copyists, pure and simple ; they are not of the Stenographer class. The higher grades in the Lower Division have more important duties than of writing up registers and records ; they have important reference work to do. Considering the character of their work Government are of opinion that Rs. 80 is a sufficiently high maximum salary for the typist class. They have, therefore, decided to fix the pay of all typists at the uniform rate of Rs. 40—2—80. This is a very substantial improvement on the old scale, and it gives an adequate initial wage—a continuous increment throughout the most of the officer's service and a higher maximum wage to which all can attain. In view of this decision the Hon'ble Member will probably not desire to press his resolution.

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur; President; Mr. H. R. A. Irwin.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I accept the suggestions made by the Hon'ble Mr. Donald."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member wish to withdraw his motion ?"

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"Yes, My Lord."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 18.

The Hon'ble MR. H. R. A. IRWIN moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Scheme for the Improvement of Roads in the Duars, which was in 1913 approved by Government after many conferences and much negotiation, be steadily continued until completion ; instead of being stopped or interrupted after the expenditure of 20 lakhs, as has been announced by officers of Government.

He said :—

"Your Excellency may perhaps be aware that I represent the Tea Industry of Bengal and it is on behalf of the Planters of the fertile district of the Duars that I now appeal to you.

I think it may not be amiss to give a very brief review of the history of the Duars, which is probably unknown to many members of this Council, possibly even to Your Excellency.

The district lies at the foot of the Himalayas, to the south of and contiguous to the Bhootan boundary and, though adjacent to the main line of the Eastern Bengal Railway to Darjeeling, is just off the beaten track and very few travellers to the hills think of the great industry, which is making such rapid progress close alongside their route.

It is intersected by many large rivers, which drain the slopes of the Himalayas and has a very heavy rainfall, amounting in some parts to well over 200 inches—consequently traffic is very much restricted and congested for want of good roads and bridges.

It has only of late years been incorporated in the Indian Empire, having been taken over from Bhootan in 1863.

It measures approximately 100 miles east and west, along the foot of the hills, and 30 north and south from the Bhootan boundary.

Less than 40 years ago it was nothing but a howling waste of forest and jungle, the home of wild elephants and tigers, yielding no revenue and hardly supporting a single human being.

Resolutions.

Mr. H. R. A. Irwin.

To-day there are no less than 130 Tea Estates, comprising over 110,000 acres in cultivation, yielding approximately, 75,000,000 lbs. of tea ; there are numerous Bazars and a railway with 153 miles of line open for traffic.

It is no exaggeration to say that the district, the sole industry of which is tea, is the means of supporting and giving sustenance to approximately a quarter of a million souls.

The tea industry is the sole raison d'etre of the railway.

I do not think I shall be contradicted when I say that but for the tea industry of the Duars, the Hardinge Bridge, which ranks amongst the big bridges of the world, would not yet have been constructed.

Prior to the war there were over 300 Europeans on the Tea Estates of the Duars but many have joined His Majesty's forces in some capacity or another and are assisting to win the terrible war which still devastates the world and some have laid down their lives nobly in the cause of liberty and right.

I say without fear of contradiction that the Duars, which though comparatively small in point of area, is, taking into consideration the capital and interests involved, probably the most important of the country districts of Bengal to-day.

It is impossible for me to say what the total revenue contributed directly and indirectly to Government, amounts to ; I fancy if I were to hazard a guess, Hon'ble Members might accuse me of exaggeration and I will, therefore, confine myself to known facts—one figure I can give definitely on the basis of 40 per cent. of the crop from the district, which the Food Controller requires for the United Kingdom, we get the large (previous to the war I should have said, huge) sum of £1,500,000 which the produce of this small district contributes directly, by way of duty alone, to the revenue of the United Kingdom : this sum is certainly underestimated, as there is no doubt, that much more than 40 per cent. of the crop does find its way there, but the figure I give is definite and cannot be contradicted.

In other words, this one item alone, contributed through the Duars, suffices to run the war for Great Britain for five or six hours, if other parts of the Empire contributed in like proportion, His Majesty's Ministers would have little difficulty in finding funds.

I fear I weary you My Lord, and I apologize to the Council for inflicting myself upon it twice in the same meeting, but the near approach of the Budget and the consequent risk of the matter being overlooked, makes it imperative to the interests I represent, that I should trespass on your time and I crave the patience of Your Excellency and the Council, whilst I appeal for assistance in a matter so seriously affecting such an important district and community, in this Province.

In spite of the importance of this district, which I think I may claim to have clearly demonstrated, it is only within the last few years and after many conferences and much correspondence that the question of roads and the communications has seriously occupied the attention of the authorities ! the only thoroughfares were what could only be called, jungle tracks ; roads, in the true sense of the word, did not exist.

However, in 1912, Your Excellency's predecessor, Lord Carmichael, personally visited the Duars to see the state of affairs for himself.

It was not the best season of the year at which to form a correct opinion of the awful condition into which these kutcha tracks develop ! the climate and country of the Duars in the cold weather is almost perfect ! in the height of the rains, it is—well—the reverse! none but those who have seen it for themselves can imagine the state kutcha roads get into after weeks of heavy rain and heavy traffic! to transport goods, through the awful mud and slush which prevail, is nothing less than cruelty to man and beast! and yet for want of metalled roads it has to be done.

Resolutions.

Mr. H. R. A. Irwin.

Be that as it may, His Excellency saw sufficient to impress upon him the absolute necessity for taking immediate steps to ameliorate the existing state of affairs, and he gave instructions for a conference to be held at Jalpaiguri, at which a scheme should be drawn up for properly constructed, metalled roads with a network of feeder roads.

This conference was duly held and presided over by—

The Hon'ble Mr. B. K. Finnimore, Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, and attended by—

The Commissioner, Rajshahi Division;
The Deputy Commissioner, Jalpaiguri;
The Superintending Engineer, Northern Circle;
The Executive Engineer, Jalpaiguri;
The Chairman, Duars Planters' Association;
The Vice-Chairman, District Boards; and Maulvi Masharraf Hussain.

After much deliberation and discussion it was decided to recommend two main roads, east and west and north and south throughout the length and breadth of the district, to be constructed by Government, and feeder roads, to be constructed by the district Board, with the aid of grants from Government, it being argued that without an efficient system of feeder roads, the main trunk roads would be of little use.

The Deputy Commissioner undertook, in conjunction with the Duars Association, to draw up a scheme for the feeder roads most necessary in connection with the newly proposed scheme.

Eventually a scheme, for the two main roads, as previously stated, aggregating 114 miles, five major feeder roads, aggregating 84 miles, and six minor feeder roads, aggregating 42 miles, was submitted to Government.

Commenting on this at the Council Meeting of 4th April, 1913, the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Lyon said: 'An admirable scheme for the purpose has been drawn up by the local officers in communication with the District Board' and further said: 'We have every hope that with the combined resources of the Public Works Department and the District Board it will prove possible to carry the whole scheme through eventually.'

The two schemes, viz.. the main roads to be constructed by the Public Works Department and the feeder roads by the District Board, with Government assistance, were estimated to cost 24½ lakhs and 10 lakhs, resectively.

In forwarding these estimates to the Secretary, Duars Association, the Deputy Commissioner, Jalpaiguri, wrote on February 13th, 1914:—

'After full consideration of the proposals Government have decided to carry out as much of the programme as possible but it has not been found possible to allot the whole amount required for carrying out the full programme. It is probable that a sum of 20 lakhs will be found during the next four years for this purpose.'

In November, 1913, Government by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, dated November 15th, sanctioned the formation of a new temporary Public Works Division to be designated the Duars Road Division, with headquarters at Jalpaiguri.

Resolutions.

Mr. Aminur Rahman.

Replying to the Hon'ble Mr. Chaplin at the Council Meeting of 13th March, 1914, with reference to the estimate of 34½ lakhs, the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore stated that 'the scheme had been carefully considered by Government' and 'it is not possible during the next four years, to provide more than 20 lakhs for these roads.'

Again, at the Meeting of 3rd April, 1914, Sir William Duke said :— 'The programme to be adopted by the Public Works Department will closely follow the programme of local requirement—we may not be able to provide all that is required. but Government expect to be able to provide the greater part in the next few years and the work will, I hope, proceed rapidly.'

To be brief, My Lord, the four years referred to by Government officers, are now drawing to a close and the work has been steadily progressing in the meanwhile.

Though, principally owing to unforeseen circumstances, such as enhanced cost of tools, materials, etc., due to the war, as much work as was hoped for, has not been completed for the money spent, still we tender our grateful thanks to Government for what has been done.

I think, My Lord, from the comments on the scheme, by various responsible Government officers, which I have quoted, we were justified in inferring that Government would continue to carry out the full programme, after the 20 lakhs, first allotted, had been spent and the four years had elapsed.

Now lately, however, we have learnt with great dismay, almost I may say, consternation, that the work is to be closed down abruptly, even if only temporarily, at the close of the current financial year and the lately formed Public Works Division with the staff, contractors, tools, machinery, etc., is to be disbanded and dispersed.

It is against this decision, My Lord, I now beg most earnestly to appeal.

We do not expect under present war conditions, that the annual grants will be on the same scale as heretofore, but we do earnestly trust that the work will be steadily, if more slowly. continued, and that the whole scheme for improving the means of communication in this important district. will not be stultified through partially constructed roads being left in a blind state and not linked up in one concrete whole.

In conclusion, My Lord, I respectfully urge that provision may be made in the coming Budget for the steady continuance of this scheme and if orders have been issued for the dispersement of the Public Works Division. that they may be countermanded before it is too late, so that money may not be wasted in having to collect the component parts together again."

The Hon'ble MR. AMINUR RAHMAN said :—

"My Lord, when we are talking of the Duars Roads Improvement Scheme, it may seem to some to be a matter of purely local interest, and I fear it will not rouse much enthusiasm in the Hon'ble Members who are not directly interested in it. But when we realize that with it is bound up the future of the tea industry which is a matter of Imperial concern and in which an enormous amount of British and Indian capital has been invested, which employs hundreds of thousands of men and directly or indirectly affects a large number of business concerns in this country and in England, we can justly claim to have raised a question which deserves the sympathetic attention of Hon'ble Members and officials in this House. We must gratefully acknowledge the help given by the Government in the shape of a grant of 20 lakhs. That alone shows that the Government appreciated the magnitude and seriousness of the question. The war has upset all our calculations and it would be the height of folly to embarass the Government by pressing for further grants if at the same time we could not prove beyond doubt that it would be unwise to adopt a policy of retrechment in this direction.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

No one can foresee what the condition of the tea trade will be during the continuance of the war and immediately after. So far we have been able to tide over the extreme difficulties through the generous support of the British Government who have made arrangements to buy Indian tea in India. But the cost of production and transportation is an essential factor in the condition of the trade. Bad communication, the want of a bridge where it is necessary, bad roads leading to the railway stations, all these mean greater expenditure on both production and transportation. Although we have just managed to escape a disaster on account of the steps Government have taken to buy tea, we still view the future with great misgivings and alarm. I am certain Government is not in a position to make any predictions in our favour. We have, therefore, to exert every means to put ourselves in such an advantageous position, so that in case there is a sudden depression in the trade we can just manage to live. We are already making great sacrifices ourselves in order to keep the trade going. The price of machinery and stores has increased to an unprecedented extent. On account of occasional depressions in the trade and bad state of finance the condition of labour is far from satisfactory. The want of a sufficient quantity of rolling stock has made our position insecure. In such circumstances, I am sure we can justly demand that the Government should make some sacrifice to give us some relief in our distressed condition. For the Government also it would be a wiser policy to continue the work. Mr. Travers, the Chairman of the Duars Planters' Association—a man whose patriotism and high sense of public duty has been a source of strength and inspiration to us all during these trying times—said only the other day in his address to the Duars Planters : 'Gentlemen, your Committee and your members' I am quoting Mr. Travers—'your Committee and your members are supremely grateful to Government for what it has already done for our roads. Had the grants not been forthcoming, the industry must have stood still instead of advancing as it has done. But we would respectfully draw the attention of Government to the fact that important roads bearing a large and increasing traffic are still mere kutcha tracks. We do not ask' says Mr. Travers—'we do not ask under the present war conditions for a continuance of the grants at the rate at which they have been allotted in recent years. But we do appeal for a continuance of the Duars Road Division with smaller grants to steadily proceed with improvement. The Division is in working order now. Let it once be closed and the staff, contractors, tools and organization be disseminated and only at very large expense can reorganization take place.' The opinion of such a high authority on this subject deserves the respectful consideration of every Hon'ble Member of this House. If it is the intention of the Government to carry on and complete the work of improving the Duars roads, and I believe they have given an undertaking to this effect, then they would be well-advised to proceed with the work however slowly, and gradually build up a system of roads that will help the planters as well as the Government. And I say this advisedly. The Duars roads have a military significance. You cannot ignore the possibilities of a good system of communication in your frontiers. I should urge the Government to accept this resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, I regret that it is not possible for Government to accept the Resolution in its present form, but I trust that after the statement which I propose to place before the Council, regarding the attitude of Government in the matter of the four years' programme which the Hon'ble Mover has sketched, Hon'ble Members may see that this conclusion has considerable justification.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

The Hon'ble Mr. Irwin has given us an interesting account of the Western Duars, its development within recent years and its contribution towards the funds of the British Empire. It is true that Government have a great interest in their property in the Western Duars which came under their control about half a century ago and that the annual production of tea in this area is twice the total of the Darjeeling district. It is also true that 20 years ago there was not a single metalled road in the whole district, and that the whole country-side is devoid of old established communications and is, moreover, subject to heavy rainfall. Nevertheless, any amelioration of the communications in the Duars must have reference to the finances of the whole Province.

At the outset, I desire to point out that the sum of 20 lakhs for the improvement of the Duars roads was fixed for purely financial reasons. A four years' programme at an estimate of over 2 crores of rupees was initiated in 1913, for the purpose of bringing up to the proper standard the equipment of the whole Province, principally in buildings and communications. Under the sub-head of roads, demands for all the districts were tabulated and the total demand for communications in the whole Province came to 43 lakhs. In view of the total amount of money which at that time, before the outbreak of war, it was contemplated it would be possible to allocate to the whole provincial scheme, it was decided that 28 lakhs might be made available to meet the demand of 43 lakhs for roads throughout the whole Province for a period of four years. Now, the share of the Public Works portion of the Duars Road Scheme in that total of 28 lakhs was only 15¾ lakhs. I should explain at this stage what the Duars Road Scheme was. As explained by the Hon'ble Mover, Lord Carmichael, in November 1912, in reply to the addresses presented at Jalpaiguri, advised the District Board and the Planting Community to draw up a scheme for the improvement of communication by road within the district as a whole. After much discussion with the local officers and the representatives of the District Board and the Duars Planters' Association, two comprehensive schemes were drawn up for the improvement of roads in the Duars, one known as the 19 road scheme to which the Hon'ble Member has referred at a cost of 24½ lakhs for roads which were to be constructed and improved by the Public Works Department and a separate one of 10½ lakhs towards the programme of work to be carried out by the District Board. The District Board at one time contemplated borrowing 4 lakhs and it was proposed that Government should give a contribution to the District Board of 6 lakhs ; and so if this sum be included the total outlay of public funds which was proposed would have been nearly 31 lakhs of rupees. Towards the end of 1913 the Government considered that no more than the 15¾ lakhs to which I have already alluded could be spared for the Duars Road Scheme. Later, however, as the resources of the Board had been increased by the surrender of the Public Works Cess, Government, in January 1914, decided, instead of giving a grant to the District Board, to carry out as much of the Public Works Department programme as was possible from provincial funds ; and it was thought probable at that time that a sum of 20 lakhs could be found in the next 4 years from 1914 to 1918 for the scheme. That is the origin of the sum was 20 lakhs to which the Hon'ble Mover has referred. It was further decided that some parts of the programme should either be eliminated or postponed until after 1917-18 when it might be possible to find funds for the extra work. The Public Works scheme of road improvement at a cost of 24½ lakhs had been cut down to one of 16¾ lakhs ; but the additional 3¼ lakhs representing the difference between that sum and the 20 lakhs were given to the Public Works Department scheme instead of to the District Board scheme.

This decision to contribute 20 lakhs in four years was made before the outbreak of war ; and Government would have been perfectly justified on the outbreak of war in reconsidering the decision. Indeed, the Jalpaiguri

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

District have been extremely fortunate that, notwithstanding the outbreak of the war, so much has been spent in this part of the Province for carrying out a programme which was contemplated before the war ; for in so many other directions, Public Works expenditure contemplated before the war has been ruthlessly cut down. The Hon'ble Mr. Aminur Rahman has given utterance to this. The Planting Community have not been unmindful of the fact. In December 1917 the Duars Planters' Association said that they were most grateful for the generous grant of 20 lakhs which had been and was being made towards the improvement of communications, and they recognized that Government in a very difficult financial period had done very much for the Duars.

The attitude of Government in this matter has been made clear to the Council by Mr. Lyon in 1913 and by my predecessor in a speech made before this Council in the month of April 1916. In 1913, Mr. Lyon made the remarks which the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin has already quoted : 'that Government had every hope that with the combined resources of the Public Works Department and the District Board it would be possible to carry out the whole scheme eventually.' Mr. Beatson Bell, in 1916, stated that the programme for the construction of 19 roads was one which Government always hoped to carry out ; that the roads which had been constructed at that time were costing much more than was contemplated ; and that, although the programme for the 19 roads had been formulated, it had never been promised that these 19 roads should be constructed regardless of cost The view of the Financial Department has been that, when the four years programme had been finished, there would be another stock taking ; but that Department could not guarantee to finance the works which might then remain to be completed.

Now, towards the end of 1917, the Duars Association pressed both the local officers and Government for the completion of the whole of the original scheme. But it was decided last year that for financial reasons Government could not commit themselves to an expenditure beyond the 20 lakhs. In accordance with this decision. construction will now continue till March 1919 ; it is not the case that construction will simply continue till the end of the current financial year. as the Hon'ble Member apparently understands ; but in view of the disabilities affecting the finances of this Province, it is not at present possible to say what amount of money can be spared for further construction during 1919 and the following years. In January 1918 the Association represented that the work should be continued as some of the important connected links are still awaiting. The Government appreciate the fact that even by 1919 the original scheme will still be incomplete. As regards the roads in the Public Works programme, interior communications have now been practically completed in four out of the five subdivisions into which the Duars. from the point of view of tea industry are divided. For the future, there remain the completion of the interior communications in the fifth sub-district and the construction of trunk lines of communication with the district headquarters.

On one point, however, I am able to reassure the Hon'ble Member and the Duars Planters' Association that any misgiving which they may feel that roads already constructed will not be maintained, is without foundation. The roads already constructed will certainly be maintained. I understand, however, that the real apprehension of the Association is that the Construction Division which is already in existence for the work in hand may be disbanded ; and the wish is expressed that even if the progress be slow and small the organization which has been constituted for the construction of roads should not be abandoned. On this point I regret I can give no definite assurance.

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin; Babu Akhil Chandra Datta; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; Babu Bhabendra Chandra Roy.

In view of the statement which I have made and of the fact that the amount of money which can be further allotted to this scheme, must be considered with reference to the claims of the province as a whole, I trust that the Hon'ble Member will see his way to withdraw this resolution. As it is, the Public Works project has received 3½ lakhs more than what was originally contemplated, and the whole of the 20 lakhs is being debited to Revenue and not included in the Loans Budget."

The Hon'ble MR. IRWIN said :—

"My Lord, as I understand from the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming that the work will be continued till March 1919, I beg leave to withdraw this resolution. I would bring the matter up again a year hence if necessary."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 19.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that all persons who have been interned, or who may hereafter be interned, under the operation of the Defence of India (Criminal Law Amendment) Act, 1915, be domiciled in places free from malaria and insanitary conditions.

He said :—

"My Lord, the grievances of those who have been interned are well known and on the present occasion it will not serve any useful purpose to repeat the old story. I wish only to say this that whatever may have been the circumstances which have led to the internment of these young men and quite apart from the question whether they have been rightly or wrongly interned, they are certainly entitled to such treatment as political prisoners all over the civilized world receive. With these few words I commend the resolution to the acceptance of Your Lordship's Council."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I support the motion. It is but fair that when a person is taken charge of attention should be given to his sanitary needs. We have no objection to a person being watched over and detained in custody but his sanitary need should not be ignored in any way, as we see that the worst criminals in the jails are given proper attention by the Civil Surgeon. I think that as the request is a very fair one it will be accepted by the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA ROY said :—

"My Lord, it would be a great pity if the present resolution has to encounter official opposition. Time and again, we have sought to bring to the notice of Government the deplorable state in which a very large proportion of the détenus in Bengal are believed to live their life of exile. I am not aware that in our attempts in this direction we have sometimes made ourselves odious to Government and provoked the anger of mighty officials. I hope it will not be contended on behalf of Government in reply to this Resolution that there are no known instances in which détenus have suffered from malaria or from other diseases due to the general incondition of particular localities. We know as a fact that a very large number have been domiciled in desolate or unhealthy surroundings, and that they have been petitioning the authorities for being removed to better places. Some time back I asked for information relating to the complaints made by détenus on such grounds and was told in reply that the officers were too busy to bother themselves with compilation of the information asked for. I have every respect for our officials, but I positively refuse to allow them to be the judge of the utility or importance of any information sought by non-official members. Though my question was not considered important enough for a reply, an attempt was made on a later occasion to cut the ground away from under our feet, by reading out extracts from a letter purporting to show how grievances were carefully manufactured by some people. The very fact that it came into the hands of some responsible officers was thought sufficient to dispense with the necessity of proving the genuineness of the letter. But I think, even if the letter be genuine, it can at best represent the eager solicitude, perhaps of a friend whose grief has got the better of his wits, to help an unfortunate internee with what he considers to be very clever suggestions for making his lot less hard to bear. Much capital was sought to be made of this letter, though it cannot in any event establish that most of the complaints are fabricated.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

"My Lord, an individual internee may be a revolutionary of the darkest hue ; but it is one of the noblest traditions of British justice to accord humane treatment even to a convicted assassin. It is enough that you have deprived several hundreds of our fellow-subjects of their liberty without trial by any court of law. It is enough that you have not taken the public into your confidence in the matter. It is enough that you have not permitted us to form into visiting committees and satisfy ourselves as to how they are being treated. But if Government expect the people to take everything on trust, I am afraid they are making an over-draft on the public confidence.

"My Lord, the authors of Bengal Regulation III of 1818, in their large-heartedness were anxious to ensure the health and creature-comforts of the political prisoners, and made provision for periodical reports regarding these matters. But the Defence of India Act, and the rules framed thereunder, are remarkable for the absence of any such humane provisions. If our present-day legislators have failed to act up to the noble standard of their predecessors, even in the matter of repressive legislation, may it not be expected that those responsible for administering the later laws will supply the omission? The answer to this will depend upon the fate of the present resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, my attitude towards this resolution is not influenced by any disagreement with the object which the Hon'ble Mover has in view or by any want of sympathy with his aim. My criticisms are rather in respect of its wording, the acceptance of which might appear to commit Government to action which, practically, may not always be possible. It is unfortunately the case that malaria prevails in many parts of this Presidency ; it is unfortunately the case that the majority of villages in this Presidency would scarcely answer the requirements of a strict sanitarian. In arranging for the residence of those detained we can only take the province as we find it. It is perfectly impossible, for instance, to guarantee that the détenus during the period of their detention shall be immune from the risk of malaria. An obvious contingency is that they might have been infected even before their detention. Nor is it practicable to guarantee that they shall live under sanitary conditions differing from those prevailing in the province as a whole, or from those in which they were living previous to their detention. Within these limitations, Government has not the slighest desire that these men should live in malarious localities or in insanitary conditions. Their wish is directly to the contrary. The healthiness of the localities in which these people are to be detained is one of the conditions to be borne in mind when these villages are originally chosen, and, therefore, with the object of the Resolution we have no disagreement. If the Hon'ble Member agrees to recommend that 'endeavour be made as far as possible to domicile all persons who have been interned or who may hereafter be interned under the operation of the Defence of India (Criminal Law Amendment) Act, 1915, in places free from malaria and insanitary conditions.' I have not the slightest objection to accepting the Resolution. It merely represents what we are already doing and what we are anxious to continue doing."

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, I accept the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler, and beg to move the resolution in the following amended form, namely :—

'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that endeavour be made, as far as possible, to domicile all persons who have been interned, or who may hereafter be interned, under the operation of the Defence of India (Criminal Law Amendment) Act, 1915, in places free from malaria and insanitary conditions.'"

The motion was put in the amended form and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 20.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the amount of Rs. 489-13-3, being the costs incurred by Government in the defence of the suit brought by Babu Lalit Chandra Dass against Mr. Burton, Superintendent of Police, in the Munsif's Court at Balurghat, be recovered from the said Mr. Burton.

He said :—

"My Lord the facts of this case are well known.

'Far from Jupiter, far from thunder,' is an old saying the truth and wisdom of which none will dispute. Babu Lalit Chandra Das apparently forgot this and had the temerity to take settlement of a plot of land adjoining the compound of a police-station in the district of Dinajpur. He put up a barbed-wire fence separating his plot from the thana to protect his crops from the cattle and horses of the thana officers. Six months after Mr. Burton chanced one night to cross the land on an elephant, forced open his passage, and the next morning ordered his policemen to destory the entire fence which they did on the allegation that the public had a right-of-way over the land. Lalit Babu, of course, could not fight the Superintendent and being helpless sent a wire to the District Magistrate and the Divisional Commissioner, but without any response. They have hardly any control now-a-days over the police. His only cause was to seek redress in a law Court. But where is the Magistrate in this country who would give him relief as against a Superintendent of Police? He, therefore, brought a suit for damages in the Civil Court against Mr. Burton. Justice was, however, vindicated in the Court of the Munsiff who found that the action of Mr. Burton was most unjustifiable and decreed the suit. Mr. Burton appealed. Mr. Garlic, District Judge, held that Mr. Burton had no right to break a passage through the fence and confirmed the decree of the Munsiff.

The suit was contested by Mr. Burton. But who financed him? We are told that in the lower Court the Government Pleader conducted the defence at the cost of the Government and that the cost incurred by

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler; President; Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

Government in the defence of the suit has amounted to Rs. 489-13-3. The amount is undoubtedly a very very paltry one, but the question is, why should, as a matter of principle, the rate-payers be made to bear this burden?

The public or the Police may or may not have had a right-of-way over the land, but quite apart from this question, could Mr. Burton forcibly re-open the passage which had admittedly been obstructed six months before and which had remained closed for six months? Could he take advantage of his position as Superintendent of Police and to employ an elephant and the policemen to force open the passage? Could he in any case, destroy the entire fence in view of the fact that the land undisputedly belonged to Lalit Babu? Divested of his official position, would he and could he have done so as against a powerful neighbour able to fight Mr. Burton and to maintain his rights and if he had done so, would it not be said that he had taken the law into his own hands? If, instead of Mr. Burton, another neighbour of Lalit Babu had committed such zuburdistism, and if Lalit Babu had complained to Mr. Burton, would not this very Mr. Burton send him up as the leader of a riot? If it was an offence on the part of a private citizen, how much more so is it for one in a responsible position whose duty is to protect people from oppressive neighbours? The law-keeper should not be the law-breaker. There was no manner of justification, My Lord, for what was done by Mr. Burton. It was a gross abuse of his power as Superintendent of Police.

The subsequent conduct of Mr. Burton made his case still worse. Lalit Babu's brother Satis Babu was a Sub-Inspector of Police under Mr. Burton. After the institution of the damage suit, Mr Burton had the graciousness to suspend Satish and thereafter reported him for his dismissal although in the meantime he had been transferred to some other district and had, therefore, no jurisdiction over Satish."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, I rise to a point of order. The question of the suspension of a sub-inspector is entirely irrelevant to the subject of the resolution. As a matter of fact a question on the point has been put to-day, and an answer has been given that the subsequent suspension of the sub-inspector had no connection with this matter."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I do not quite understand the relevancy of the Hon'ble Member's argument. If, as Sir Henry Wheeler has stated, an answer has been given to the effect that the two cases are not connected it is obvious that the Hon'ble Member's argument is not relevant."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA continuing said :—

"I bow to Your Excellency's decision. I pass over this passage according to Your Excellency's ruling. Mr. Burton, according to the law of the land, committed an offence against the public and under the law and practice of this country he ought to have been prosecuted at the cost of the Government, and the Government pleader should have been engaged to conduct the prosecution. At all events the Government should not have conducted the defence at their cost. This view it appears has been latterly accepted by the Government, for as soon as it was found by the Munsiff that Mr. Burton's action was not justifiable, the Government refused to finance the litigation and asked him to defend himself as best as he could in the Appellate Court. That being the position accepted by the Government it follows as a matter of course that the cost incurred in the Lower Court should be recovered from him. Why should the people pay the penalty for his indiscretion and rashness. It is not a question, My Lord, of amount, but a question of principle—a question of the right of the people—a question as to the relation between the public and the public servants."

Resolutions.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, I would first of all invite the attention of the Council to the fact that we are being invited by this resolution to go back upon action taken by our predecessors, and I may say at once that we should be very unwilling to do so unless it can be shown that our predecessors were entirely misled in their appreciation of the case and that the conduct of Mr. Burton, who is the officer involved, had been of a character far otherwise than that which they had understood it to be. Contrary to the inference which might be drawn from this sudden recrudescence of questions and the present resolution, the incident in issue occurred on the 17th February, 1915. The Munsiff's judgment was delivered on the 29th January, 1917 (and it is only the costs in the Lower Court with which we are, concerned), while that of the District Judge was given on the 17th December, 1917. Our rules do not contemplate the subsequent recovery from an officer of the cost of litigation which Government has once agreed to meet, and such a course would only be justified in a very exceptional case of the kind which I have indicated. The question of the incidence of the cost of the proceedings before the Munsiff was decided in 1915, in the time of Lord Carmichael's Government, and after taking legal opinion.

The judgment of the Appellate Court in this case is already in the hands of the Hon'ble Members and the facts of the matter are, therefore, known to them. I will, therefore, only emphasize a few aspects of the case very briefly.

'Mr. Burton had been Superintendent of Police, Dinajpur, from February 1913 to November 1915. He had four times inspected the Porsha thana and had once spent Christmas there. He was, therefore, well acquainted with the locality. The dispute which led to the litigation was as to the existence of a right-of-way over certain land adjacent to the thana and affording access to it. It was not a new dispute. The tract is alleged to have been obstructed in 1913 when the obstruction was removed by the officer in charge of the thana. The fence was said to have been re-erected in September 1914, the police again taking exception to this proceeding, and on arriving at the thana after dark on the 17th February, 1915, Mr. Burton found the elephant on which he was riding obstructed by this fence. His case was that he gave instructions for a passage-way to be re-opened next morning, and that this was done. The extent to which the fence was actually destroyed and the manner of its destruction, were in dispute. On the basis of the action so taken the owner of the land (Babu Lalit Chandra Das) sued Mr. Burton for damages which were awarded by the Munsiff to the extent of Rs. 45. On appeal this order was upheld.'

The main issue with which we are concerned is whether Mr. Burton was acting bonâ fide in the assertion of what he reasonably believed to be a public right in which the means of access to one of his thanas was involved, and in which, therefore, he, as head of the district police, was legitimately interested. It is only fair to him to mention that his information was that the real owner of the land was one of his own sub-inspectors, and the learned Judge found that 'there are certainly grounds for suspecting' that this was the case, though he held that there was no evidence beyond certain suspicious circumstances. He accordingly gave the point against Mr. Burton. However, such a suspicion would not unreasonably have intensified Mr. Burton's wish that the public should not be sufferers by the closure of the right-of-way.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

As to the existence of a road over this land the Appellate Court recorded a clear opinion that the Munsiff was wrong in doubting whether any path ever existed. It was further held that Mr. Burton took that route on the 17th February because he had been that way before, and after observing that 'the learned Munsiff has believed the plaintiff's witnesses and disbelieved the defence witnesses on all points on very insufficient grounds in my opinion,' the learned Judge remarked : 'I have no hesitation in accepting the defence evidence that a cart track across the plaintiff's land did exist and was in constant use up to September 1914.'

Therefore we have it that a path existed and that Mr. Burton knew of its existence. Mr. Burton, as Superintendent of Police, was entitled to look to the interests of his thanas and of the public in resorting to them, especially if he suspected that the action of one of his subordinates had endangered these interests, and I can see no reason to doubt that on this ground he took a step in good faith which he thought was justified. He has been cast in damages because 20 years' user of the path was not proved in Court. It is only right, however, to point out that the Appellate Court noted that it thought : 'that it is highly probable that it (the path) has been in existence so long,' and it apprehended that the owner of an easement had the right to abate a wrongful obstruction of it if he was prepared to prove that the easement existed.

Finally, as to the alleged damages done, the learned Judge finds that the amount was undoubtedly exaggerated in order to defeat the plea of justification. He upheld the Munsiff's estimate of Rs. 45 as possibly not too large, but he added : 'though if the fence had been re-erected at once the defendants estimate of Rs. 5 would probably have been nearer the mark.'

What it comes to, therefore, is that an officer of Government took action to assert a right-of-way in which he was interested, not personally, but by reason of his position as a Government servant ; it is questionable whether in so doing he did any serious damages, and he was undoubtedly endeavouring to reopen a path which had existed. He failed in the suit because he could not prove the existence of the path for 20 years despite the high probability of this being correct. In all these circumstances I submit that our predecessors were justified in considering that Mr. Burton's conduct had been bonâ fide and in promising to meet the cost of the resulting litigation. From that decision we think it would be improper to resile, and I cannot, therefore, commend the resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

" My Lord, it is said that the Superintendent of Police was justified by a bonâ fide belief that there was a right-of-way over the land. In answer, I have got to say this : that the question of bonâ fides cannot arise in view of the fact that the entire fence, according to the finding of the District Judge was destroyed and, which, according to the District Judge, was not less than 50 feet in length. There might have been a way, but it does not follow that the owner could not put a fence over his land. The utmost that the Superintendent could do, if he had a bonâ fide right-of-way, he could only force open the fence which was necessary for his passage and not the entire fence. That is one thing, and there is another fact which would show that he could not have proceeded in this manner. It is admitted that the fence had been put up six months before the occurrence. For six months the alleged passage had been blocked up and if that is so, it is only an elementary criminal law that all those, who claimed the right, could not take the law into their own hands—and forcibly remove the fence. Here, the person concerned happens to be the Superintendent of Police ; but if he acted in a matter like this in any special capacity, the law does not give any special right to any Government servant as regards this question of right-of-way. Therefore, if it was an offence on the part of a private citizen, it was equally an offence on the part of the Superintendent of Police. It has been stated that he was not interested in the matter personally, but he was interested in it as a Superintendent of Police. Your Excellency will excuse me if I put it in another way; it is not so much a question of interest as it is a question of prestige—a question of vanity and love of power. Of course, the Government rules do not contemplate the refund of such amounts, but I do not think that if it is held by this Council that the Government is entitled to a refund of this amount, there are any rules framed by the Government which can override the decision of this Council."

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 21.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to regulate the prices of food-stuffs, charcoal, cloth, salt, sugar and other necessaries of life.

He said :—

"My Lord, this question affects the vital interests of the vast population of this Presidency and the importance of the matter cannot be too much emphasized ; but at the same time I do not feel myself called upon to make out a case in support of my resolution inasmuch as the principle advocated in this resolution has already been accepted by the Supreme Government in a notification which has been issued since I have sent notice of this resolution. If I still press this resolution I do so because I feel that here in Bengal the matter has not yet been taken up with that enthusiasm and earnestness which it deserves. I implore Your Lordship to take immediate steps with that vigour with which the Bombay Government is fighting this problem. With these few words I commend this resolution to Your Excellency's acceptance."

The Hon'ble MR. MARTIN said :—

"My Lord, I must oppose this resolution, although on the face of it such a resolution may commend itself to many people as being amply justified by the present course of events and what has recently happened. The Hon'ble Mover does not ask definitely for Government control over the prices of food-stuffs and so on but it practically amounts to that. With all respect to him I do not think he realizes what he is asking for and the difficulties which lie in the way of control of this nature. It seems to me that control to be efficient ought to be thorough and to be thorough in control over the prices of these articles one will have to control them at the source of supply, to control them during their transport to this country and to control them during delivery and distribution in this country. I think, therefore, that the Hon'ble Member will realize that such control is beyond the province of this Government. It is true that the Government of India have notified that they may take steps to control the price of salt, but in my opinion no case has been made out for such control and I do not think it is necessary. The shortage of supply in this province and particularly in the district to which the Hon'ble Member belongs led to a temporary rise in prices. This led to considerable excitement and unfortunate occurrences in parts of the district. I have, however, studied the matter very carefully and I cannot see any justification for that excitement nor the unfortunate events that sprang from it. The cost of salt to a fairly large sized family amounts to an extra expenditure of a few annas on salt sufficient to keep them supplied for weeks. Now the price of salt in the districts was abnormal for the space of about a month, so that there was no real hardship imposed upon the people in these districts nor do I think that Government control was thereby rendered necessary.

The question of sugar is very much the same the temporary shortage of supplies causing a natural rise in price. Supplies are now coming into the country and I understand that communication with Java is likely to be freer and better with the supply of tonnage ; and the shortage is not likely to be of long duration.

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur ; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

In the case of cloth undoubtedly great hardship has been caused from which we are all suffering. The rise was certainly not due to profiteering which is the only reason which can call for Government control in this connection. The price of cloth which is sold in Bengal to-day is very much less than the price at which it can be imported. I would point out that the control of the price of cloth would mean control in no less than three continents—that is control over the price of cotton in America, control over production in England and control over distribution in India. I think the Hon'ble Member will realize that control by this Government in such circumstances will be a practical impossibility. I hope, My Lord, that what I have said will convince the Hon'ble Member that this resolution is perhaps a little too hasty under the circumstances and that he will not press it."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I beg to support the resolution and in supporting it I voice forth the sentiments and ideas of my countrymen—wherever I go, whether to a hamlet, town or city there is complaint everywhere that the prices are abnormally high and it is high time, in my humble opinion, that the Government should interfere. I am the last person to urge that there should be a restraint in the trade or that the legislature should be compelled to intervene, but at such times it is necessary that Government should interfere. Yesterday I read a press notice showing the action taken by the Bombay Government. Consequently I am encouraged by this to ask Your Excellency and Your Excelleney's Government to move in the matter. It has been represented that there ought not to be any Controller, but the question is how could the Government interfere? A remedial measure ought to be taken. You cannot understand sitting in Calcutta what things are going on in the mufassal. The people in the mufassal are not in a position to meet their needs and in the difficulties in which we are placed if there be any remedial measure it ought to be taken up."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I am also of opinion that some remedial measure ought to be adopted. It is no doubt a question of supply, but at the same time we have to consider whether the middlemen and other dealers are making undue profit and whether any measure cannot be adopted which will lessen the abnormal prices. In the mufassal our experience is that in some places more than double the prices have been realized of what prevailed about two or three years ago. My idea is, of course, to start co-operative stores, but then only the members will be benefited thereby. If larger relief is to be provided for in every district, at least at headquarters station of the district and the subdivisional headquarters, some shops may be opened under the direct supervision of the district officer or settlement officer with the co-operation of the leading men who could import and sell the things at cost price. It is an admitted fact that the people are suffering much from the high prices and our impression is that it is not merely due to the limited supply but to something else—probably as I have suggested it is due to the undue profit that is being made by the middlemen. Some enquiry may be made as to the cause and if some arrangement could be made by which the people could be supplied with the ordinary necessaries of life at lesser cost that at any rate ought to be done. So I think that Government interference is necessary, as without Government these things cannot be done. If, with the Government credit at the back and the supervision of the district officer and the subdivisional officer, some shops be opened where things can be sold at cost price or with a little profit much relief can be given to the suffering people. The present unrest is due to the abnormal rise in prices and it is high time that Government should take some steps."

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"The Hon'ble Member's resolution has raised a subject in which we are all much interested at the present time and with which the happiness of the province is very much bound up; and although I shall have to oppose the adoption of this resolution, I am not sorry that I have had this opportunity of laying certain considerations in regard to it before the Council, as the matter is one in which we may well seek to bring about clear thinking by all classes of the community, while any advice and help that we can enlist in dealing with an admitted difficulty are to be welcomed. But I agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Martin in thinking that the Hon'ble Mover can scarcely have appreciated the wide scope which his resolution really covers. As worded, it includes the regulation of the prices of food-stuffs, charcoal, cloth, salt, sugar and other necessaries of life, which interpreted widely, might really be taken to mean that this Government should take upon itself the task of regulating the whole bazar. I think, on consideration, that Hon'ble Members will admit that whatever their desire to attain the ideal of removing all discomfort, this is not a practical proposition. I would warn the Council against placing too implicit a trust in the efficacy of the blessed words 'regulation' and 'control'. The regulation and control of prices is a question which has been brought forward since the outbreak of war, and many experiments have been made, first in hostile countries and later, unfortunately, by ourselves and our allies, but everybody, who has touched, or has any knowledge of, the details of control, has realized the difficulties and pitfalls which surround it on every side, and sees the possibility of doing more harm than good by the adoption of well-intentioned measures which do not work out in practice in accordance with the idea with which they were undertaken. If, therefore, we can avoid the necessity of regulation and control, I say, even at the cost of some discomfort, that it would be for good, and we should only attempt such a course if forced to do so as a last necessity. No regulation or control can abolish the discomforts entailed by the war. The whole world is a sufferer from it; England is a sufferer from it, and from my own short personal experience of England during the war, I should say that in the United Kingdom at the present time a sovereign, for practical purposes, goes about as far as 10 shillings in the previous days of peace. To take, again, a country nearer East, I came across a letter only recently in the Pioneer which shows that Egypt is also in a like state. Merely to quote a short extract, it runs as follows :—

"The price of food-stuffs is steadily rising in this country and compared with the state of affairs in 1914 the increase is very considerable. Meat now stands at 100 per cent. above pre-war prices and 60 per cent. above the price this time last year. Sugar—and this is a land of sugar production—has risen by 160 per cent. compared with its pre-war price, and 100 per cent. compared with that at the corresponding date last year; the same is the case with flour; eggs are treble their pre-war price, although this is a country of egg export and the local production has been considerably developed" and so on.

This is unfortunately the experience of every country in the world. At the risk of troubling the Council with statistics, I would like to give some figures which have been compiled in the Statistical Department of Government and which point to certain interesting conclusions. Taking the range of wholesale prices adopted by the statistician, which includes over 40 leading articles in the wholesale market, and making a comparison between the rates prevailing at the end of December 1917, as compared with the pre-war level at the end of July 1914, the rise in wholesale prices has been 68 per cent. in Calcutta, 109 per cent. in Bombay, 94 per cent. in Karachi and 111 per cent. in Madras. That is not without interest as showing that Calcutta is fortunately rather better off than other Presidencies, a fact which has a bearing on the criticism that we have so far failed to adopt measures similar to those recently taken by the Bombay Government. It is also the case that the general level of wholesale prices in Calcutta has moved upwards less quickly than in other parts of India. Retail prices, taken in the same way, of certain articles of common consumption had risen in Calcutta in December 1917 (as compared with July 1914) by 21 per cent., in Bombay by 29, and in Karachi by 34. Up to the end of the third year of the war, that is, August 1917, the fluctuations in prices in these three places as compared with the pre-war level were about the same ; but the prices rose at the end of December 1917 by 8 per cent. and 10 per cent. in Bombay and Karachi, respectively, as compared with 1 per cent., in Calcutta. over the level of August 1917. That, probably, is the reason why special action has been found necessary in Bombay. The problem in that city is complicated by special factors, and Lord Willingdon has drawn attention to the enormous influx of people into Bombay since the outbreak of war, partly of labourers in military employ, partly of troops themselves, and partly of people from surrounding places affected by plague. All these factors make the Bombay problem somewhat peculiar to itself. We here have undoubtedly suffered, and suffered severely, with resulting hardship which is well known and undeniable, but we can derive some consolation from the fact that the situation is worse in other parts of India.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

Coming to the particular articles which the resolution enumerates I would only touch briefly upon each. As regards the regulation of the price of food-stuffs, I think, the Hon'ble Member himself cannot really have appreciated the facts, because the wholesale prices of food-grains, according to the same statistics, are actually lower in Calcutta than at the outbreak of war by some 8 per cent. That being so no case can be made out for regulating the price of food-stuffs, and the poorer classes are at least in this respect deriving some benefits from an unusual situation. It is true that retail prices have risen, but not in a very marked degree. I will merely cite a few instances: Taking the pre-war retail prices as equal to 100, the figures at the end of December 1917 are for food-grains 109, cereals 110, pulses 107 and ghee 150 ; as regards ghee, recent legislation in this Council may have been partly accountable. Milk has risen by 12 per cent., but potatoes show a fall of 4 per cent.; so on the whole, the situation is not unfortunate from the point of the consumer.

The next articles mentioned in the resolution are charcoal and sugar. As regards the former, from such information as I have been able to obtain, I cannot find that there has been any marked fluctuation since last July and August. The sugar market undoubtedly shows an increase in rates, and we find that in Calcutta, the rise in wholesale prices was 88 per cent., in Bombay 70 per cent., in Karachi 106 per cent., and in Madras 67 per cent. The retail price in Calcutta rose by 82 per cent. Nevertheless, although the increase is heavy, without looking further into the circumstances of the sugar market, I should hesitate to embark upon a policy of regulation if the situation does not become worse than it now is.

The resolution covers also other necessaries of life, but I think the general remarks which I have made may suffice without going into further details. There remain the two items of salt and cloth.

Now as regards salt we all know that prices have been very high, and unfortunately they are higher in Calcutta than elsewhere. In comparison with the index number of 100 to which I have already referred the wholesale figures at the end of December 1917 were Calcutta 598, Bombay 221 and Karachi 279. Thus we have been at a considerable disadvantage in respect of salt, although prices have more recently fallen somewhat, but as the Council knows, the Government of India have already notified salt as an article for regulation, and we had hoped to have got out orders relating to its control before to-day. Delay has been caused by some objections raised by the Government of Bihar and Orissa, which is equally interested in the prices fixed, but I have asked them to send down some one at once in order that we may dispose of the matter, and I hope, therefore, that it will not be long before we issue orders.

Turning to cloth, this is unfortunately one of the most difficult and complicated items in the whole problem. It is undeniable that the price of cloth has risen very highly and, taking the rate of July 1914 as 100, the wholesale figure at the end of December 1917 was 261. I have here a sheaf of prices and quotations for various kinds of cloth, though I hesitate to weary the Council by giving them even by way of illustration. They all show generally that prices have gone up very largely as compared with the pre-war period. Here are one or two instances of different varieties :—

Calcutta Market price.			Calcutta Market price.			Manchester price.
April 1914.			February 1918.			January 1918.
Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
1	13	6	4	11	9	6	12	3
1	3	0	3	3	3	4	8	0
3	9	6	7	12	0	16	6	0
7	2	0	16	6	0	24	9	0

But the important point to remember about cloth is that the present price of cloth in the Calcutta market is from 30 to 40 per cent. less than the current Manchester price. That is to say, if you wanted to buy from Manchester at rates now prevailing in the Calcutta market you could not do so. To that extent, Calcutta is more fortunate than even England, and it disposes of the theory that the wholesale importers are profiteering to the detriment of the public on an unduly large scale. Profiteering may have been going on, and I do not deny that there may have been occasions for regulation, but this salient fact governs the whole position as regards cloth, and points to the conclusion that the difficulty is really one of supply. The cotton crop of the world has been short ; it has been short in America ; it has been short in Egypt and it has been short in India. The price of Mid-American cotton at Liverpool was 6*d.* per lb. in 1911-12, while it is 23*d.* at the present day ; that is an enormous increase in the price of raw material, and it is due to the dislocation caused by the war and to the fundamental difficulty of the shortage of cotton. There are other complications arising from the many varieties of cloth on the market which preclude the possibility of laying down one uniform price for cloth as such. It may be remembered that His Excellency the Viceroy said only recently in a speech on the 6th February : "The control of prices in the case of cloth is obviously one of much greater difficulty than in the case of salt, but we shall not shrink from any action which may be found, in consultation, with local Governments to be both practicable and desirable". We shall have to represent our difficulties in the proper quarters, and we have reason to believe that on the Bombay side, where the majority of the local mills are to be found, enquiries and consultations are already going on, but we recognize that this matter is one of very great difficulty and no amount of regulation can cure this fundamental lack of supplies.

I have now given the Council a certain amount of detail in the hope that the subject will be found of interest and the figures of some bearing. Apparently some Hon'ble Members think that this Government has been somewhat slow and slack in taking up this question. I think that view is scarcely fair. It is no official impropriety to say that the action which has been taken by the Government of India in respect of the regulation of prices was largely at the instance of His Excellency's Government, while we have been considering the question of cloth, and what we can do we will do. But we cannot embark—and I would not advise the Council to press us to embark—on a reckless policy of regulation, without quite seeing where we may be landed by doing so.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta; the President; Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, I feel and I must in all frankness admit that the resolution as it stands is rather too wide, and that I should have confined it to cloth and salt. As regards these things there is no doubt that the question is a very very difficult one. At the same time, there is so much hardship felt in the province on account of the high prices of these two things, that we cannot but look up to the Government for some sort of relief in these two matters."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Does the Hon'ble Member wish to withdraw his resolution?"

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"I may be permitted to move an amendment to this resolution confining it to cloth and salt and leaving out the others."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, As I have said, there is some difficulty about this. We have already taken action as regards salt. As regards cloth, I have already tried to show what our difficulties are and we cannot pledge ourselves that we shall undertake regulations."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Perhaps, I may point out that if the Hon'ble Member wishes to confine his motion to salt and cloth, it has already been met, as far as salt goes, and the Hon'ble Member in charge has explained that we are taking action on it; so that the only question that remains is the question of cloth. The question of cloth is an extremely difficult one to deal with, but the Hon'ble Member in charge has said that we are considering the matter in order to see whether it is possible to do anything in the matter. Under these circumstances, is there any difference between us?"

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, in view of the pledge given by the Hon'ble Member as regards salt and also in view of the fact that the question of cloth is being seriously considered by Government, I beg to withdraw my resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 22.

The following resolution which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta, was by leave of the President, withdrawn.

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council—

(a) that steps be taken to put an end to speculative transactions in salt, and

(b) that in every centre of trade and commerce throughout the Presidency, facilities be offered to the public for the purchase of salt at duly notified prices.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 23.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the following words be deleted from section V of the Police Administration Report of 1916, namely, "A good deal of eloquence has lately been expended on the subject of increased expenditure on the Police."

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

He said :—

"My Lord, the bulk of the discussion of the last year's Budget by the non-official members of this Council concentrated upon the subject of increased expenditure on the Police. In fact this was the burden of the song of almost all the representatives of the people. There was a tendency in some quarters to call the last year's Budget a War Budget, but the expenditure on Police rose by such leaps and bounds that I characterized it a Police Budget. The expression was no doubt resented by those who were responsible for the abnormal rise in the cost of Police Administration, but none the less there was quite a chorus of disapproval by those members who represent the people's interest in this Council. Our criticism was, however, more than the authorities by their habit and tradition could bear with good grace and the irritation and heart-burning found their manifestation in the observation which forms the subject-matter of the resolution which Your Excellency has so kindly permitted me to move.

Now the questions which I propose to discuss in moving this resolution are the following :—

(i) Does the observation to which this resolution takes exception refer to the discussion by non-official members of the Council in connection with the last Budget ?

(ii) If so, is the observation consistent with official decorum and etiquette ?
Is it proper ?

(iii) If not, should the sentence be deleted from the Administration Report ?

There can be no manner of doubt as regards the real objective of the criticism. Is it not an enigma which defies our powers of construction and interprepation ? This attack is not even a veiled one. He who runs may read it. The simple test is this—what is the impression which was irresistably produced in the mind of every member of this Council as he read the sentence ? This is a test which I hope will be acceptable to all the Hon'ble Members. One Hon'ble Member honestly felt that this was the clear and obvious meaning and accordingly asked the Government in the last meeting of the Council if it was not so. This gave the Government and through the Government the author of the report an opportunity to disavow the insinuation and to reassure those who interpreted it as a fling at the non-official members. But the reply which was vouchsafed was not only not reassuring but aggravated the situation. The suggestion made by my Hon'ble friend Mr. Ray was not repudiated. It was said that the remark was made by the author of the report on the basis of the published information available to him ; from whatever sources it may have been derived. Is it a point blank answer, my Lord, to a point blank question ? Are we a bit wiser by reason of the answer ? The outstanding result, however, is that the suggestion remains unrepudiated and non-traversal, as we all know, is tantamount to admission. We have been told that the unwritten rules governing the matter are those based on etiquette and good feeling. I am quite prepared to accept the unwritten rules which are now reduced to writing. The question, however, arises for your Lordship's consideration ; has the observation of the Administration Report not transgressed these rules ? Is it consistent with official decorum and etiquette for the Head of a Department to employ such language about discussions in Your Excellency's Council ? Under the regulations of this Council our speeches are addressed direct to Your Excellency. Can it be consistent with decorum for the Head of a Department to speak in such disrespectful languages of those speeches ? Is he not by reason of his appointment under the Government bound to speak more respectfully about speeches addressed to Your Excellency? Does he not owe it to his position as a public servant to be more respectful to the proceedings of the Council, presided over by Your Excellency?

Resolutions.

Babu Ambica Charan Majumdar; Maulvi Abul Kasem.

We sometimes hear of impertinent remarks made by impertinent police officers against decision of Courts with which they feel dissatisfied. They, of course, do so in confidential reports. They would certainly be guilty of contempt of Court if they had the temerity to make such remarks in any published report. I do think, my Lord, that the language employed towards the members of the Council constitutes contempt of Council. So far as this matter is concerned, it does not make any difference whether the members attacked are official or non-official. Non-official as they are, they are none the less members of Your Excellency's Council and not members of the Council of the Inspector-General of Police.

The next question is whether such observations are calculated to promote good feeling. Possibly the author of the report thinks that not only Christianity requires a man to turn his right cheek when he receives a slap on his left, but Vaishnavism also inculcates the response to brickbats by pure love. According to this lofty ideal alone can it possibly be said that the sting of the remark will not cause irritation and bitterness.

My Lord, the remark of the Administration Report has infringed the rules laid down in the last meeting of the Council. The remark is undignified, un-Parliamentary, improper and ultra vires and should not be allowed to disfigure the Administration Report.

In conclusion, I shall only say this: Our protests against the large increase of Police expenditure were absolutely abortive. It would be only adding insult to injury to allow such criticism by Heads of Departments."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBICA CHARAN MAJUMDAR said :—

"My Lord. in rising to make a few observations on this regrettable incident I wish to be understood that I am not moved by any personal feeling or sentiment. I do not wish Your Excellency to defend us, but I only ask Your Excellency to defend the dignity of this Council and the position of the legislature. If Your Excellency and the galaxy of administrators sitting to your right could for more than two hours tolerate the inconsequential flow of eloquence at the last Budget debate, I do not think that it was the business of any police officer sitting in the quiet recess of the Secretariat to resent it. It is said that 'a good deal of eloquence was expended' over the increased allotment for the Police. Whether a good deal of eloquence was expended or a good deal of money was wasted on that day it was a matter which was closed with the passing of that Budget; and I do think that it was both indecorous and undiginified, if not actually impertinent, for any member of the administration to criticize the proceedings of the legislature and to treat that assembly as an unwholesome foreign body fit only to be ejected by vomiting forth such effusions as have characterized the Police Administration Report which has just been published. Such fulminations may appear in the columns of a newspaper, but I do think that they are singularly inappropriate in a solemn document like an Administration Report. A spirit like this ought to be discouraged. As for myself I can well console myself with the reflection that the higher one mounts the purer becomes the atmosphere, and although such unseemly observations may well appear in a Police Report, I think that they cannot find a place in the report of any higher branch of the administration."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, I only rise to support the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend Babu Akhil Chandra Datta and I do not think I need add anything to what has been said on this subject. I believe, my Lord, that all criticisms on questions of administrations which are addressed to Your Excellency are not only—whether they are accepted or not—welcome to Your Excellency, but also to the members of this Government; and I think it is unfair both to this Council and to the administration in general for any Head of a Department or any official to pass any critical remarks on the conduct of proceedings in this Council. With these few words I hope Your Excellency in Council will find your way to accept this resolution."

Resolutions.

Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray; Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq.

THE HON'BLE BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY said :—

"My Lord, when I discovered the passage in the Police Administration Report, I thought it must have been a case of oversight on the part of the higher authorities who, I presume, have to go through reports before they are published; and I expected that in reply to my question about this matter at the last meeting, Government would acknowledge this to be so. But to our surprise and regret, a desperate attempt was made to defend a thoroughly indefensible position by resorting to language of a delightful vagueness in which some of our official friends excel. It was all the same a clear—though hardly a straightforward—admission that the reference was to the proceedings of this Council.

My Lord, the passage referred to has been stated to be quite in conformity with etiquette and good-feeling. That this resolution has been brought forward to-day is ample proof that it is not considered in that light on this side of the House. It is considered by us to be a gratuitous insult to this Council.

The whole question is whether a subordinate official is at liberty to criticize in official reports the proceedings of this Council. I appeal to your Lordships' parliamentary experience to say what the result would be if, say, a permanent Under-Secretary had the hardihood to be humerous at the expense of the House of Commons. Would he be defended by the Ministry in the House or given the sack? We have heard a good deal about the dignity of the Legislative Council. When, for instance, a resolution or a question is not admitted without any reasons being assigned, and it finds its way into the Press, Hon'ble Members are roundly charged with having taken away from the dignity of the Legislative Council. I hope our official friends will demonstrate by their voting on this resolution that they really care for the dignity of the Council."

The Hon'ble MAULVI FAZL-UL HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I rise to support this resolution not merely because it raises an important question of principle but also because the answer that has been given by Government to some of the interpellations on this subject have, as has been pointed out by my Hon'ble friend Babu Akhil Chandra Datta, aggravated the situation by adding insult to injury. I think that it is time that we should bring matters to an issue and get from Government a clear and unmistakable statement as to the importance which they attach to the dignity and prestige of the non-official members in this Council. Personally my Lord, I do not care very much whether the importances that attaches to the membership of Council is higher than that of the membership of a debating club or the Pinjrapole Society at Sodpur. But I think it is time that the public whom we serve should know how very sorely we are tried, and how very futile are our efforts to get a proper recognition of those interests, the protection of which we consider to be our most sacred charge.

Resolutions.

The President ; Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq.

My Lord, I had occasion to go through the answers that have been given to-day to the two questions on this very subject, one by the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray and the other by Babu Akhil Chandra Datta. I think it is necessary that I should draw the attention of the Council to the nature of the replies that have been given to these interpellations. My friend, the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray, who was the first to put a question on the subject tried to elicit the information whether, in making the remarks which the Inspector-General of Police did as regards the discussion on last year's Budget relating to police expenditure he had in his mind the speeches that had been made by the non-official members of this Council. The plainest course for the Government to follow, in my humble judgment, was to get a statement from the Inspector-General of Police one way or the other, and frankly tell us either in the affirmative or in the negative. Instead of doing that, I am extremely sorry that the official or officials who prepared the answer to the interpellation only tried to fence with the matter and wanted to evade the issue by giving us answers which really did not meet the points that had been raised. As an instance, my Lord, I will refer the Council to some of the answers which have been given to-day ; e.g., Question V (Unstarred) put by the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray."

The President said :—

" Order, order. I must call the attention of the Hon'ble Member to rule 17 of the Question Rules which says that no discussions shall be permitted in respect of any question or any answer given to a question. I understand the Hon'ble Member seems to be showing a tendency to transgress that rule and I hope that in the subsequent remarks which he may make he will endeavour to refrain from doing so."

The Hon'ble MAULVI FAZL-UL-HUQ continuing said :—

" I must bow to your Excellency's decision. Although I have not the particular rule before me, I understand the rule to mean that as soon as an answer to an interpellation is given it is not open to a member of this Council to enter into a discussion with a member of the Government on the point. But I think that it is perfectly open to us, in speaking on a resolution, to refer to a reply given in this Council and discuss it from our points of view. The particular rule that has been read to me, I submit, does not preclude a discussion of the reply which has been given to an interpellation.

My Lord, the time at my disposal is short and it is really too late in the day to spend any further eloquence on the matter on which so many speakers have already spoken and on which articles have appeared in the public press. But, what I was going to submit for Your Excellency's consideration was the fact that instead of giving a plain and direct answer Government really tried to withhold the information which was sought simply for information's sake. I can assure Your Excellency that neither the Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray nor Babu Akhil Chandra Datta wanted to transgress the rules of etiquette and good-feeling. and it was only fair to them that the information should have been given, but instead of that Government says to-day that the Inspector-General had before him not merely the discussions in Council but also the comments that appeared in the public press. I am extremely sorry, my Lord, that this answer should have been given by a member of the Government and especially by one whose mother-tongue itself is English. I submit that the eloquence to which reference has been made must be with reference to speeches and cannot refer to comments in the newspapers. I do not wish to enter into an elaborate discussion of what eloquence really means, but reading the Inspector-General's report, one is at once led to think that he must have referred to speeches and not to written comments. We really do not speak of eloquence as a written comment. Secondly, my Lord, the point was whether the reference had been made to the speeches of the members of this Council. Yes or no would have been quite sufficient and no explanatory words were called for. My Lord, I do not wish to say more on this point, because Your Excellency's ruling is that the replies given in this Council are not open to further comment. The reason why I think this remark should be expunged from the Police Report is extremely obvious. We are here to assist the Government, and while I think that it is extremely unfortunate that we should be compelled to discuss these matters publicly in this Council it is also our bounden duty to point out to Your Excellency that it is almost impossible for us to discharge our duties faithfully and conscientiously if we are haunted with the idea that the remarks which we make in this Council will be subject to criticism by Heads of Departments, criticisms which we cannot have any opportunity to answer. If the Inspector-General wanted any defender from the attacks that had been made on the policy of his department, I believe, there are several of that category in this very Council and it was certainly not his business in writing out the annual report of the department to take upon himself the functions which can properly be performed by the Hon'ble Member of this Council—I mean the official members.

Resolutions.

Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq ; Sir Henry Wheeler.

Then, my Lord, quite apart from the fact we would be hampered in our duty if there are no restrictions to the limit to which our remarks could be criticized by Heads of Departments, I think I am right in saying that the public at large also feel that the powers and privileges, whatever they may be of non-official members of this Council, should not be subject to criticisms by the Heads of Departments. Indians as a rule are not very familiar with the Parliamentary procedure or with what happens in England, when Members of Parliament rise to criticize the Government and when those representing the Government give replies and defend the Provincial Government. Indians generally look upon ones power and privileges by the extent to which protection is given by Government to the exercise of those powers and privileges by particular persons, and if the public at large come to entertain the view that an Hon'ble Member of this Council is not immune from an attack by a Head of a Department, he will at once be led to think that whatever may be the honorific title which may attach to the names of the members of this Council they are, so far as prestige and honour is concerned, much below those who have to run the several departments of Government. I do not claim for a moment that a non-official member of this Council as a rule would like to get an assurance from Your Excellency that in point of official precedence or in other matters they are superior or inferior to Heads of Departments, and no non-official member is filled with any vanity on that point. But I wish to make this point clear that so far as the public at large is concerned, it is also the duty of Government to see that our prestige and whatever honour may attach to the membership of this Council may remain unimpaired. It is then and then only that we can be useful coadjutors and instead of being critics—and merciless critics—we could be of the greatest possible help not merely in giving information to Your Excellency but also interpreting the Government policy to the public. My Lord, I can well understand that it is very difficult at this stage to delete a sentence like that from a Government report, but the circumstances are also peculiar and although my friend the Hon'ble the Mover has not indicated how this course could be adopted, if Your Excellency accepts the resolution. I would respectfully suggest that the passage be deleted by a notification in the Gazette. With these few words I beg to support the resolutio n."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"I feel some hesitation in detaining the Council at this hour with a lengthy speech on this subject, because I apprehend that if the answers that we have already given to various questions have failed to disabuse certain

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

Hon'ble Members of the illusions under which they are labouring, nothing that I can add verbally is likely to have that result. I submit that the Hon'ble Members who have spoken to-day are seeing insults where they do not exist, and are defending themselves against attacks that are not made. It has been taken for granted that this remark was an attack upon the dignity of this Council. I deny that it is an attack upon anybody or upon the dignity of this Council in particular, and when we hear of 'the vomiting forth of violent fulminations' and 'direct attacks' and 'impertinent criticisms', I submit that Hon'ble Members are indulging in the language of hyperbole and exaggération.

Now, let us take the full statement as it was made. It ran :—

'A good deal of eloquence has lately been expended on the subject of increased expenditure on the police, but if an efficient and contended police force is desired, it must be paid for. A high degree of efficiency can hardly be expected from an underpaid, undermanned and badly housed force, deficient both in clothing and equipment. A considerably larger expenditure will have to be faced before the urgent needs of the department can be satisfied'.

I maintain, Sir, that taking that remark as a whole, it is a reasonable comment by a responsible Head of a Department on a matter of great importance to his department; what he is pressing is that if efficiency is to be maintained, then, in his view, more money must be spent. That is an opinion which any man may well have formed on consideration of all the sources of information which, as has been said in one of our answers, were available to him—from his reading of the newspapers, his reading of the proceedings of this Council, his conversations with his acquaintances—and interpreting the sentence as conveying the impression left on the mind of the Inspector-General of Police as to the view of this matter which prevailed in certain quarters, I say it was not an unreasonable expression and that no attack need be inferred from its use. This Council ranges over a large field of subjects. Surely it is not to be contended that any remark made by an official in a report relative to an administrative question with which he is naturally concerned as the Head of the Department is to be taken as derogatory to the dignity of this Council, merely because some one in Council may have touched upon the same point. The Head of the Department may rightly have read and considered what was said in this Council with reference to the department of which he is in charge, but he has many other sources of information, and surely it is a somewhat exaggerated view of the bearings of our discussions on the minds of the public to assume that any comments made on administrative subjects are necessarily derived from, and with reference to, remarks which have been made here.

As regards the etymological argument that 'eloquence' must refer to something spoken, may I merely mention such frequently heard expressions as 'eloquent' articles, 'eloquent' newspaper writings, 'eloquent' descriptions and the like, are all common expressions in the English language.

It has already been said on behalf of the Inspector-General of Police in answer to a question to-day, that he had neither solely nor even mainly in his mind what had been said in this Council. The honour of the Council is necessarily dear to any member of Government, and so long as His Excellency occupies the position of President, he is not likely to allow it to be infringed. But we cannot agree to accepting a resolution which infers that one of our responsible Heads of Departments has committed an indiscretion, which he distinctly disclaims and for imagining the commission of which we can see no justification."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, as we apprehended the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler has defended the Inspector-General of Police. He said that it was not an attack ; of course there is nothing innately perverse in our nature that we should see insult where there is really none and precisely for that reason a question was asked at the last meeting as to whether or not there was an insinuation. If a straightforward answer had been given at the last meeting then we would not possibly have brought forward this resolution in to-day's meeting. We have been compelled to bring forward this resolution as an inevitable result of the answer that was given at the last meeting. It has been said that we have indulged in hyperbole. And has not, My Lord, Sir Henry Wheeler expended so much eloquence needlessly in describing our position with respect to this matter? It is said that the Inspector-General has reasonable ground for saying so in his report. With your Lordship's permission I shall submit that when the observation was allowed to be made in the Administration Report there was committed only a sin of omission but now an additional sin of commission has been committed by upholding or justifying it. It is not only the non-official members but also the official members who should be keen about the honour of this Council ; and your Lordship will excuse me for a bit of frankness—it may be the judgment of the official members of this Council may be somewhat unconsciously influenced by the consideration that he is more an official like the Inspector-General of Police than a member of this Council.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 24.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council—

(a) that a Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha, the Hon'ble Mr. J. G. Cumming, Sir Gurudas Banerjee, Sir K. G. Gupta and the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Faz-lul-Haq be formed to inquire into the case of the two women of Bankura both named Sindhubalas ;

(b) that the result of the said inquiry be published in the shape of a communiqué ; and

(c) that if the Committee find that the arrest of one or both of the two women was unjustifiable, suitable punishment be awarded to the officer or officers responsible for their arrest.

He said :—

"My Lord, we have been assured that the Defence of India Act is not an 'Oppression of India's Act for the prosecution of innocent young men'. We have been assured that the Act is administered with the utmost consideration and circumspection and that the personal liberty of His Majesty's subjects is never lightly interfered with. But the case of the two Sindhubalas and the Government communiqué published in yesterday's papers have made disclosures which we cannot contemplate with equanimity and have proved beyond doubt that all that glitters is not gold and that things are not what they are represented to be. Let us examine the Government version and see whether there was any justification for the arrest and detention of the two unfortunate women of Bankura. We are told that a slip of paper containing the name of one Sindhubala with her address was found among the papers of a member of the revolutionary party in Calcutta, and the Criminal Investigation Department, Calcutta, at once telegraphed orders to the Superintendent of Police, Bankura, to arrest her under the Defence of India Act. The Government communiqué says that the Criminal Investigation Department had reasonable grounds for regarding the original name found on the slip as suspicious. My Lord, such a view can only be based on the assumption that all relations, all friends, and all acquaintances of the members of the revolutionary movement are themselves revolutionaries. Not only this, even those who are known to them but to whom they are perfect strangers are also revolutionaries. Suppose a political suspect wants to communicate his grievances to the Secretary of the Indian Association and writes his name on an envelope ; then according to the dictum laid down in the communiqué it could be said that the discovery of the envelope would constitute reasonable grounds for suspecting that the Secretary of the Indian Association was a participant in the revolutionary movement. I shall not labour on this point. But I shall say this : We have always been told that the people are never suspected unless the Criminal Investigation Department have reasonable grounds for suspecting them. Am I then to understand that during the last three or four years many of my countrymen have been suspected on such reasonable grounds as have been disclosed in this Government communiqué ? It is now admitted that the order of the Criminal Investigation Department for the arrest of a Sindhubala was an error of judgment. But the two Sindhubalas in their inarticulate voice must have said to the Criminal Investigation Department : 'It may be an error to you, it may be play to you, but it has been something more serious to us'. Error of judgment—honest error of judgment—honest error made in coming to an honest judgment by an honest enquiry to get at the truth is certainly pardonable ; and I for one never quarrel with such errors. But error of judgment

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

presupposes the exercise of some judgment. The question, therefore, arises—Was there any enquiry made by the Criminal Investigation Department before they came to this erroneous judgment? Did the Criminal Investigation Department take any evidence of any kind? Did they examine any witness? Did they make any enquiry of any description whatsoever? Was there anything before the Criminal Investigation Department except the mysterious communication made to them by that magical slip? There was not even so much as the statement of a police spy or informer. It is, therefore, a case where there was no judgment, erroneous or otherwise—it is, therefore, not a case of error of judgment. Judgment without enquiry is an achievement of which the Criminal Investigation Department may be proud, but I shall certainly say this that such procedure is repugnant to all ideas of justice and fair play. Our complaint, my Lord, is that the Criminal Investigation Department has been invested with extraordinary powers: our complaint is that they have exercised those powers without any sense of responsibility; our complaint is that many persons as innocent as the two Sindhubalas admittedly are have been arrested as recklessly as they were arrested; our complaint is that many innocent men and boys have been the victims of the over-zealous activities of the Criminal Investigation Department. We have been persistently and insistently inviting the attention of the Government to the inherent defects of the general policy regarding the administration of the Defence of India Act and to the outrageous injustice to which it has inevitably led in individual cases. But we have always been told in reply that we are abnormally suspicious; that our complaints are without any foundation. If I were permitted to speak out with absolute frankness I would say that we have all this time cried in the wilderness and failed to make any impression upon the robust optimism of the Government, that the Act is administered with the utmost care and scruple. But, my Lord, the case of the Sindhubalas and the facts admitted by the Government in connection with this case have conclusively demonstrated, if any demonstration were needed, that our complaints were not unfounded; that we were in the right and that the Government were in the wrong; that there is a screw loose somewhere in the machinery of internment and that there is something wrong somewhere in the affairs of the internment Department.

Why should it be supposed for one moment that the case of these unfortunate women is a isolated instance of the grievous wrong done by the Criminal Investigation Department? Who knows, my Lord, how many have been arrested and deprived of their personal liberty, under similar circumstances? This case is only a typical illustration of the gross abuse of power by the Criminal Investigation Department brought to light possibly owing to the fact that the victims happened to be women. It should at all events now be recognized that the strong views held by our distinguished countryman, Sir Rabindra Nath Tagore, on the subject of internment are not unwarranted by the manner in which the Defence of India Act is being administered in Bengal.

Why was the first Sindhubala arrested although she did not answer the description given in the warrant? It is said that the Superintendent surmized that the word Kamanbia Ghose in his order might be a mistake for Kunja Ghose and thinking that one Sindhubala, wife of Natobar Ghose, residing in that house might be the woman named in his instructions he arrested her. Now, the Superintendent's explanation is, to say the least, astounding and carries its own condemnation! On such a puerile surmize he most light-heartedly rushed into the sacred zenana where angels should have feared to tread. It is of course now admitted that the Superintendent arrested a wrong Sindhubala. The next question is why did he arrest the second Sindhubala when the order was to arrest only one woman? She also did not answer the description given in the order of the Superintendent even the name of the village did not tally. This Sindhubala was the wife of one Debendra Ghose. It is seriously stated in the Government communiqué that the Superintendent began to entertain doubts whether the words Kamanbia might not after all have been a mistake for Debendra and arrested her. My Lord, the first Sindhubala was arrested because the Superintendent thought Kamanbia might be a mistake for Kunja and the second Sindhubala was arrested because he thought Kamanbia might be a mistake for Debendra. It is of course now admitted that like the first Sindhubala the second Sindhubala is also as innocent as anybody present here. Verily, my Lord, we are fallen upon evil times when even our women are arrested on such pretexts as these. Was there the shadow of justification for arresting two women, one of whom the Superintendent knew was no more guilty than his ownself was? Would this abnormally overzealous Superintendent arrest a third woman if he had got scent of a third Sindhubala? Possibly he had drawn his inspiration from that interesting hero of Ramayan who was sent to the mountain of Gandhamadan to fetch the plant Bishalyakarani (বিশল্যকরণী) but unable to recognise the same carried the entire mountain over his shoulders. We should be thankful to him that the Bankura Superintendent did not arrest the entire female population of Bankura.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

Let us, however, see what happened after the double outrage. We are told that the Superintendent despatched a telegram to the Criminal Investigation Department asking which Sindhubala should be detained or both. We are further told that this telegram was delivered at the Criminal Investigation Department office but it was subsequently mislaid and it was not put up before any officer. The result, of course, was that neither Sindhubala was released and both had to rot in the jail. Not receiving any reply to his telegram the Superintendent posted his report of the double arrest to the Criminal Investigation Department. Like the telegram this report also reached the Criminal Investigation Department office and like the telegram this report also failed to obtain any immediate attention of the Criminal Investigation Department. For we are told that according to the usual routine the report was marked by the Special Assistant to one of the Special Superintendents by name. The latter officer, however, left Calcutta on urgent duty on the 8th January and the report was not seen by him till the evening of the 11th idem on his return. So the poor Sindhubalas had to rot in the jail up to the 11th January. But the Special Superintendent returned to Calcutta on that day and let us see whether one or both of the Sindhubalas were released without further delay. We are really grateful to the special Superintendent for we are told that he at once called for the file and submitted it to the Deputy Inspector-General on the 12th January. Very well, let us see what prompt action is taken by the Deputy Inspector-General. Why, it is seriously stated in the communique that he decided to telegraph to Bankura for the arrest of Debendra Ghose, husband of second Sindhubala, against whom grave charges had in the meantime been brought by the police and deferred orders in respect of the two women until the receipt of an answer to his telegram. But alas, we are told that there was a misunderstanding about this telegram also and as a matter of fact it was not despatched. The Deputy Inspector-General was, however, under the impression that the telegram had been sent and postponed orders about the women several days, expecting an answer to the telegram which had never been sent. The women were no doubt spending their days in the jail but we cannot be too grateful to the Deputy Inspector-General, for the communiqué says in a tone of great self-complacency that after a week he at once came to the conclusion that the two women could not be detained any longer and on the 18th January recommended their release to the local Government and their release was at once directed.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

Such is the interesting history of the arrest of the women and their detention for 15 days in the jail as told in the Government communique. As I was reading it, my Lord, I was only wondering if it was and if it could be really the version of the Government. For I cannot conceive a greater indictment of the Criminal Investigation Department than this explanation itself. The most powerful and skilful advocate of Sindhubala could not possibly think of drawing up a more scathing impeachment of the Criminal Investigation Department. We are treated with the story of a series of blunders—a story of a series of sins of commission and omission committed in that mysterious Department popularly known as the Criminal Investigation Department. I do not know whether I should characterise this as a comedy or a tragedy of errors. If, however, the story is true, it only proves how inefficiently the Department is working. Is this, my Lord, the valuable service of the Criminal Investigation Department upon whom the most extravagant eulogy is so lavishly showered in season and out of season. There is one thing, my Lord, in the communique to which I feel bound to call Your Excellency's attention. It is said that the detention of the two Sindhubalas for a fortnight in the jail was due to a tissue of unfortunate but unintentional blunders. But is it not rather difficult to appreciate this explanation in view of the fact that throughout the whole of that fortnight the newspapers were crying hoarse over this unfortunate and outrageous incident? The indecent haste with which the order of arrest was passed and executed was however more than made up by the abnormal delay made in releasing them. It appears that "hurry up" is the watchword of the Criminal Investigation Department in the matter of arrest, whereas "put off the evil day" is their watchword in the matter of release. The raid on the Sindhubalas may be a feather in the cap of the Criminal Investigation Department but it may be the last straw on a camel's back. There is after all, my Lord, a limit even to oriental patience. People have tolerated indiscriminate arrests of men and boys. They will never do so in the case of their mothers and sisters. Has the Government considered for one moment the disastrous effect of the arrest of Sindhubalas upon the female population of the country in general and of Bankura in particular? One Sindhubala had a child in her arms. Will not that child imbibe an ill-will towards the Government with the milk from the mother's breast? There was a child in the womb of the other Sindhubala. Will not that child be born with a spoon in its mouth coated with anything but goodwill towards the Government which has persecuted its mother for nothing? In view, my Lord, of the far-reaching effects of such reckless arrests, it behoves Your Excellency to institute a careful and searching enquiry regarding the incident and award suitable punishment to all those who are responsible for it and who have thereby exposed the Government to such unsavoury criticism. Your Lordship should also order such steps to be taken as may make the recurrence of such an incident in future impossible. The short-sighted and bigoted policy of not washing the official dirty linen before the public will no longer do. It is an old and exploded shibboleth which must now be cast to the winds. Public opinion must now be reckoned with. It will not put up with such conduct on the part of the public servants. The time is gone when public servants used to lord it over, riding roughshod over the feelings of the people; the time has come when public servants must be servants of the public not merely in the sense that they receive their pay out of the taxes paid by the public, but in the sense that they exist only to serve the public. As Lord Morley (then Mr. Morley) wrote to Lord Minto;—

'That system (system of arbitrary rule) may have worked in its own way in old days, and in those days the people may have had no particular objection to arbitrary rule. But, as you have said to me scores of times, the old days are gone and the new times breathe a new spirit ; and we cannot carry on upon the old maxims.'

Resolutions.

Rai Debendra Chunder Ghose Bahadur.

My Lord, the people demand that a searching enquiry be made and suitable and deterrent punishment be meted out to all those who are responsible for the unjust and unnecessary harassment of the two women."

The Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSE BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I would accept the facts as they have been accepted by this Government in the official communique in the newspapers of Calcutta yesterday, and I have no intention of criticising the statements which have been accepted by Your Excellency's Government. My Lord, we are gratified in observing the spirit which has animated Your Excellency's Government in issuing the communique which appeared in the Calcutta papers yesterday about the subject of my Hon'ble friend's motion. The Government have already met my hon'ble friend's demand more than half-way in this regrettable business. The Government it seems has very carefully considered all the facts of the case and have informed the public of their own view in the matter. It has said that the order for arrest sent from the seat of the Government to the Bankura Police Superintendent was wrong. But it has not said anything about any punishment for any officer high or low through whose carelessness and want of judgment the two village women of Bankura were arrested and kept in prison for about two weeks. The officers concerned have this much to be said in their favour that they have in the past been encouraged in these courses, that their predecessors in office have been doing the same, and that highhandedness is the tradition of the police, who are otherwise a most useful body of public servants. In the present instance the Press has served the country very well. But for their persistent references to this unhappy incident in this remote corner of Bengal, I doubt very much whether the detention in jail of these two supposed suspects would have terminated after two weeks. In this country interference with personal liberty is made generally in a light-hearted manner by the Executive, and judging from recent events, women here do not get the same amount of consideration in their hands as their sisters in England. Your Excellency no doubt remembers the incidents of the Cass case in London which took place some years ago. An innocent shop girl of that name had to leave her business place at a very late hour in the evening, and was passing by a street alone, when an over-zealous police constable arrested her, and kept her in the lock-up for a few hours. It created such a sensation in England that I believe the Home Secretary had to resign and make a scape-goat of himself. My Lord, I implore your government to caution the police in their pursuit of anarchical criminals amongst the women folk of the country. If they did that, they would be increasing the virus of anarchism, instead of lessening it. The present case is an illustration of the flimsy grounds upon which the police of the country proceed to deprive a person of his personal liberty, and of the ill effect, upon the feeling of the people, of their wild and injudicious proceedings. It is not necessary in the interests of good government to drag out a woman from her home because her husband or brother was a suspect and photographs of revolutionaries were found in her room. And whether you are prepared or not to mark your disapproval of the conduct of the officers concerned in the manner suggested by the words of the motion of my Hon'ble friend, you can do some reparation to the victims of your act, and the least you can do is to give adequate money compensation to the two injured women. This will not only soothe their feelings, but will have a very wholesome effect on the country—a thing more to be prized than the fetish of prestige."

Resolutions.

Babu Mahendra Nath Ray; Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, with some hesitation but with a full sense of my responsibility as a representative member of Your Excellency's Council, I support the motion. It seems to me that the official communiqué does not conclude the matter. The thing which strikes me most is that the official communiqué discloses some principles upon which the Criminal Investigation Department work. I was trying to formulate them to the best of my power and without prejudice, and I find that one may say without being guilty of verbal or substantial inaccuracy that the principles upon which the Criminal Investigation Department act are (1) every person, man or woman, whose name appears on any paper belonging to a suspect, shall be arrested, (2) any body answering to the name may be arrested on suspicion without adequate enquiry as to his identity. If the Criminal Investigation Department act upon principles like these, it is high time that there should be a thorough and sifting enquiry into these cases; whether the particular form of enquiry suggested in the motion will be adequate or not is another matter.

The official communiqué says that in directing the arrest of the woman concerned the Calcutta authorities of the Criminal Investigation Department were guilty of committing an error of judgment. I accept that statement with great satisfaction, but it is necessary and it is due to the public that Government should say that the Criminal Investigation Department are not competent to arrest every person, a man or a woman, whose name appears on any paper belonging to a suspect, or that anybody answering to a name should not be arrested on suspicion without any adequate enquiry as to identity. All this of course is quite apart from the perfunctory act of the Superintendent of Police who arrested the two women answering to the name and who kept them under arrest or in jail for two weeks. That is a matter which Government is no doubt enquiring into and in regard to which Government will pass proper orders, but having regard to the reasons I have ventured to place before the House, I think it is a matter which is not concluded by the official communiqué. I have no doubt there is no member in this House who will subscribe to such principles formally and that it is high time that by way of expression of our disapproval of such supposed principles we should not stop here, but that we should request Government to have a thorough and sifting enquiry made into the matter by an independent authority who will not be influenced by the principles on which the Criminal Investigation Department obviously work."

The Hon'ble Sir HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, in dealing with this resolution, I propose to confine myself, as far as possible, to its terms and to the definite proposals made therein. These are three in number : first, that an enquiry be instituted by certain gentlemen ; secondly, that a communique be issued, and thirdly, that the officers held responsible be punished.

On behalf of Government I express our inability to accept that resolution on the following grounds : in the first place an enquiry has already been held, the facts have been elicited, and a full and frank statement has been laid before the public ; secondly, a communique has already issued, and finally, we propose to communicate to the officers concerned the expression of disapproval which is conveyed in the communique. To officers in their position it is no small punishment to be told publicly that they have committed an error of judgment. Apart from these points, I would only notice one criticism that has been made to-night of the supposed reckless and unjustifiable attitude of the police in assuming that there are reasonable grounds for suspicion against all relatives or connections of any man who is regarded as connected with the revolutionary movement. In defence of the police there are several considerations which should be borne in mind in judging of what they did. It is the common experience of these investigations and arrests made in circumstances such as these of members of the revolutionary party that names and addresses are found among their papers (frequently in cypher) indicating the names of post-boxes, harbourers and sympathisers. This has been proved up to the hilt by actual experience. Again, in this particular instance enquiry showed that other names found in the batch of papers were of people of this character. Further, although the person concerned in this case was a woman, it has unfortunately been the experience that women are being utilised in this movement in these capacities. These facts are to be remembered in justification of what has been represented to night to have been an absolutely unjustifiable suspicion on the part of the police, but, as I have said, Government consider that an error of judgment was committed, and in informing the officers concerned to that effect, intend to prevent, as far as possible, the recurrence of such incidents in future by directing that orders concerning women should not be passed without a prior reference to Government. That being so, I submit that we have taken reasonable action, and that the further steps asked for in the resolution are not required."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, I do not like to add anything by way of reply, for I do not think there is anything that is necessary to be said. I would only say one word in answer to the Hon'be Sir Henry Wheeler. It appears to me to be a dangerous principle to lay down that whenever there are in any papers names found, experience has shown that there is a real ground for suspicion that these people are dangerous. A man may have relations, friends and acquaintances. Necessarily the names of these people may come in some papers and books, and merely because their names are found in any of the papers belonging to a member of the revolutionary party, should one come at once to the conclusion that they must be revolutionary conspirators and then order their arrest and say that there is reasonable ground for their arrest? I do not know whether I have done service or disservice by bringing up this resolution as the action of the Criminal Investigation Department seems now to receive the approbation of a responsible member of Government. It is a case of from the frying pan into the fire. I do not think that any justification in defence of the Criminal Investigation Department was admittedly necessary in a case like this. In view of the injustice done, a word of consolation might have been used; instead of that an attempt has been made to justify the procedure adopted by the Criminal Investigation Department, However I do not think that the reply of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler really merits any reply from me."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Perhaps it will not be out of place if I say a few words to the Council. I rise to do so because I think that the Hon'ble Member who has just sat down has misinterpreted a remark which was made by the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler. But before I touch on that particular point, let me say, on behalf of the Government, that we take no exception at all to the action which the Hon'ble Member has taken in moving this resolution, and so far as I myself am concerned, I take no exception to the tone or substance of his speech or of the speeches of other Hon'ble Members in connection with this matter. Undoubtedly it is the duty of Members of the Council to bring matters of public importance to the attention of the Government and to voice the views of the public with regard to them. So I say that we take

Resolutions.

The President.

no exception at all to the action which the Hon'ble Member has taken in bringing forward this resolution.

Now the Hon'ble Member has inferred from a remark by Sir Henry Wheeler that it was the practice in the Criminal Investigation Department to arrest without further enquiry any person whose name might appear upon any document found in the possession of a man either known to be or suspected to be a member of the revolutionary party. I don't think that that was a strictly accurate interpretation of what Sir Henry Wheeler said. Unless my memory plays me false, what Sir Henry Wheeler said was that the experience of the past had shown that when the names of persons were found in cypher among the papers of a man who had been shown to the satisfaction of the Government to be connected with the revolutionary movement,—experience in the past had shown that these persons were almost invariably sympathisers and aiders of the movement, not necessarily in a major degree but generally in a minor degree, sympathisers who provided what is known as post boxes for the correspondence of the members of the revolutionary party, or sympathisers in that they assisted the members of the revolutionary party to abscond. I feel that all Hon'ble Members who listened carefully to what Sir Henry Wheeler said will bear me out when I say that this is what he said and what he intended to suggest. I certainly did not understand him to say that it was the regular practice for the Criminal Investigation Department to arrest without enquiry any person whose names were found under any circumstance in any document discovered in the possession of suspected persons. It seems to me that it is very desirable that this point should be made clear. In connection with that all that I wish to say is this, that the Government have frankly admitted that in this case an error of judgment was made and that the Government regret that it should have been so. It must be obvious to everybody that it is far more to the interest of the Government than of anyone else that errors of judgment of this kind should not be committed. It is the Government that have to bear the responsibility for that. Hon'ble Members may rest assured that it was no mere empty words which Sir Henry Wheeler spoke when he said that orders had been issued which would, so far as possible, prevent in the future any similar error of judgment being committed, and he stated, I think specifically, that in any case in which the police had reasonable grounds in future for suspecting a lady, action should not be taken against her until the matter had been referred to Government. Hon'ble Members will understand, I hope, that it is our intention to guard, so far as it is possible, against any similar errors of judgment in future.

It may not perhaps be out of place if I remind Hon'ble Members in this connection that the task which has been laid upon the shoulders of the Government is a very heavy one and one which has never been of their own seeking, but it was a task which was forced upon them by outrages and by crimes. It sometimes seems to me that both in the press and on the platform, as a result of the natural desire on the part of the spokesmen of the public to see that these extraordinary powers which the Government are exercising are exercised as justly as possible, they do sometimes lose sight of all the horror and the misery that the public themselves have been saved from as a result of the action which the Government have been compelled to take. I venture to leave that for the consideration of the Council, that when they are considering these matters, let them understand that it is in the interest of the public themselves that the Government has taken this action, and that if it had not been taken, if these extraordinary powers had not been exercised by the Government during the past year or two, we should undoubtedly have seen a continuance and probably an increase of that horrible series of crimes and outrages which blackened the history of Bengal for a period of something like ten years.

Resolutions.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta; Sir Henry Wheeler.

I hope that hon'ble members will not think that I have taken too much upon myself in making these observations. The matter under consideration is one for which I, as the head of the Government, must take full responsibility. So long as members of this Council are satisfied, as I trust they are, that the Government are at all times desirous of doing everything that lies in their power to prevent the miscarriage of justice and to prevent the infliction of hardships on innocent persons, so long I say as the members of this Council are satisfied that this is the position of Government, I am prepared to let the matter rest there."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"In view of your Lordship's kind assurance, I beg leave to withdraw the Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, as I do not wish that there should be any possibility of misunderstanding in connection with this incident, may I, with Your Excellency's permission, add one word. In my reference to the papers frequently found among the effects of members of the revolutionary party, I think I used the words 'in circumstances such as these.' I referred to the names frequently found jotted down on scraps of paper and in pocket books among the private papers of these men. Such names are sometimes in cypher and some times en clair. In this particular instance there were names in cypher, but the name of Sindhubala Dasi was en clair."

ADJOURNMENT.

The Council was then adjourned to Tuesday, the 5th March, 1918, at 11 A.M., at Government House, Calcutta.

Acts of the Indian Legislative Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 27th February, 1918, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. I OF 1918.

An Act further to amend the Indian Forest Act, 1878.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the VII of 1878. Indian Forest Act, 1878 ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Forest (Amendment) Act, 1918.

Amendment of section 29, Act VII of 1878. 2. In clause (b) of section 29 of the Indian VII of 1878. Forest Act, 1878 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the word "twenty" the word "thirty" shall be substituted.

Insertion of new section 52A, Act VII of 1878. 3. After section 52 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Power to release property seized under section 52. "52A. Any Forest-officer of a rank not inferior to that of a Ranger who, or whose subordinate, has seized any tools, boats, carts or cattle under the provisions of section 52 may release the same on the execution by the owner thereof of a bond for the production of the property so released, if and when so required, before the Magistrate having jurisdiction to try the offence on account of which the seizure has been made."

Amendment of section 63, Act VII of 1878. 4. In section 63 of the said Act after the words "without unnecessary delay" the words "and subject to the provisions of this Act as to release on a bond" shall be inserted.

Insertion of new section 63A, Act VII of 1878. 5. After section 63 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Power to release on a bond a person arrested. "63A. Any Forest-officer of a rank not inferior to that of a Ranger who, or whose subordinate, has arrested any person under the provisions of section 63 may release such person on his executing a bond to appear, if and when so required, before the Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, or before the officer in charge of the nearest police-station."

Amendment of section 78, Act VII of 1878.

6. (1) Section 78 of the said Act shall be re-numbered section 78 (1), and in the same section for the words "shall assist any Forest-officer or Police-officer—

(a) in extinguishing any fire occurring in such forest;

(b) in preventing any fire which may occur in the vicinity of such forest from spreading to such forest," the following words shall be substituted, namely:—

"shall forthwith take steps whether so required by any Forest-officer or Police-officer or not—

(a) to extinguish any forest fire in such forest of which he has knowledge or information;

(b) to prevent by any lawful means in his power any fire in the vicinity of such forest of which he has knowledge or information from spreading to such forest."

(2) To the same section the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(2) Any person who, being bound so to do, without lawful excuse (the burden of proving which shall lie upon such person) fails—

(a) to furnish without unnecessary delay to the nearest Forest-officer or Police-officer any information required by sub-section (1);

(b) to take steps as required by sub-section (1) to extinguish any forest fire in a reserved or protected forest;

(c) to prevent as required by sub-section (1), any fire in the vicinity of such forest from spreading to such forest; or

(d) to assist any Forest-officer or Police-officer demanding his aid in preventing the commission in such forest of any forest offence, or, when there is reason to believe that any such offence has been committed in such forest, in discovering and arresting the offender, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, or with both.

Amendment of section 84, Act VII of 1878.

7. In section 84 of the said Act,—

(1) for the words "in compliance with any rule under this Act" the words "in accordance with any provision of this Act or in compliance with any rule made thereunder" shall be substituted;

(2) for the word "instrument" wherever it occurs the words "bond or instrument" shall be substituted.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 11th March 1918.

Summary.—The weather was practically rainless. Rain is urgently needed for ploughing and sowing operations for autumn crops and for the growth of standing vegetables. Planting of sugarcane and harvesting of spring crops are in progress. Dry weather has greatly reduced the outturn of spring crops. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 0·5 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

No. 71Eccle.—The 15th March, 1918.—The services of the Revd. E. W. P. Keeling, Chaplain of Fort William, Calcutta, are placed at the disposal of the Government of the Punjab, with effect from the 18th March, 1918, or any subsequent date on which he may be relieved of his duties.

No. 75Eccle.—The 18th March 1918.—The following Notification of the Government of India, Department of Education, is republished for general information.

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 78, dated Simla, the 4th March 1918.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Department of Education.

THE Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following shall be added as Appendix C to the Ecclesiastical Rules published with the Department of Education Notification No. 212, dated the 10th May 1913 :—

Rules regulating the provision of electric installations for the lighting and ventilation of Churches.

I. Towards the initial outlay of electric lights and fan installations Government will pay not more than—

Rs. 300 per 100 sittings for lights,
„ 540 per 100 sittings for fans,

subject to the following conditions :—

(a) for sittings not reserved by Government, the Government contribution will be limited to half the actual cost, subject to the maxima of—

Rs. 150 per 100 sittings for lights,
„ 270 per 100 sittings for fans,

(b) for sittings reserved by Government for military, railway, or other Government servants, the full proportionate cost will be paid by Government, subject to the maxima of Rs. 300 and Rs. 540 per 100 sittings for lights and fans respectively.

II. The cost of current will be paid by the Church authorities or congregations, except where sittings are reserved by Government for military, railway, or other Government servants, in which case Government will pay a proportionate share of the cost of current, subject to the following maxima :—

For lighting.—5 B. T. units per 100 reserved sittings per mensem.
For fans.—12 B. T. units per 100 reserved sittings per mensem during the recognized punkah season.

III. The installations will be maintained by Government who will bear all expenses in connection with repairs, maintenance and renewals (except the renewals of bulbs), but for such sittings as are not reserved by Government the Church authorities or congregations will pay yearly to Government a sum equal to 4 per cent. of the initial cost of the installation for those sittings.

These charges will be payable in the first month of each year.

IV. These rules apply only to cases where current is available from a public supply and not to self-contained installations.

V. The prior sanction of the Government of India must be obtained for all electric installations.

VI. Where Government at present makes a recurring allowance towards the cost of lighting such allowance will be continued.

VII. These rules apply primarily to Churches which are the property of Government. But the Government of India have power to make contributions at rates not exceeding those prescribed in the foregoing rules to Churches which are not the property of Government but to which Government make grants under the Ecclesiastical rules or towards the cost of construction of which Government have made contributions.

Geometry (Euclid, Books I and II) (a)	...	50	25
Essay Writing (b)	...	100	50
Total	...	750	...
Total required for passing	...	...	500

(a) Candidates will be expected to be familiar with all the propositions in the above books, and will also be expected to solve simple riders.

(b) Two or three simple subjects will, as a rule, be given from which a candidate may choose one only. He should endeavour to excel in good sense, not in quantity. The standard is roughly equivalent to Matriculation or School Final.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the first Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Accountant-General (including the Government Engineer of Railway Accounts), in Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements with the candidates in regard to the place and hour of examination.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship, if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Accountant-General not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates and registration form duly filled in, and must be forwarded by him not direct to the Principal, but through the Accountant-General.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but they will not be returned—

(1) A certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) A certificate of age, baptismal or of birth (not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) A certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE A.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts) qualified to hold the particular examination and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Accountant-General concerned or at the College.

NOTE B.—The usual examination centres are (1) the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, (2) Chittagong, (3) Ranchi, (4) the Bihar School of Engineering, Patna, (5) Rangoon, (6) Shillong, and (7) Simla for candidates in the Government of India offices: no others will be admitted at Simla.

(4) Registration statement containing the following information :—

(a) Name in full.
(b) Father's name.
(c) Nationality or class, i.e., European, Anglo-Indian or Indian, of candidate; and, if Indian, caste or tribe.
(d) Date of birth.
(e) Place of birth.
(f) Present address.
(g) Examinations passed.
(h) Thumb mark of candidate, left hand, to be made in the presence of a responsible person who knows candidate.
(k) Signature and address of above-mentioned witness.

It will rest with the Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts) to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Accountant-General, or the other officers referred to, will then forward to the Principal, for registration, the names of the accepted candidates; together with their registration statements, which should be signed by the Accountant-General. The registration statement should be carefully preserved by the Principal. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Accountant-General. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh a fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fees paid will not be refunded.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that, in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the department.

7. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College nor to the Comptroller-General, but direct to the Accountant-General or Government Examiner of Railway Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship Examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination of the Sibpur College centre only, but even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age not in Government employ should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination ; the application to be accompanied by a Treasury receipt for Rs. 10, and the registration statement prescribed in rule 2 (4).

B. HEATON,
Principal, Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

NOTE (1).—The question papers of previous years are not published separately. Those of the preceding year are printed in the Civil Engineering College Calendar,—price, annas 12 and annas 3 postage, which must be prepaid.

NOTE (2).—Candidates for the examination are not provided with accommodation in the College barracks, but arrangements for their meals can be made on payment in advance of annas 4 per meal to the Assistant Superintendent of the Mess.

NOTE (3).—As for qualifications for admission to the examinations, candidates should refer the matter to the Accountant-General of their province.

NOTE (4).—There are no classes at the Sibpur College for teaching Book-keeping.

Sheriff's Sale Proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to an order of the Calcutta High Court, dated the 12th day of July 1917, and made in Suit No. 1244 of 1916 (Uma Charan Laha and others versus Satindra Krishna Deb), and in execution of a decree made in the said suit and dated the 19th day of February 1917, by the Sheriff of Calcutta, by public auction, in his sale-room, in the said High Court, on Saturday, the 23rd day of March 1918, at 12 o'clock noon, the undermentioned property belonging to Satindra Krishna Deb, the defendant abovenamed :—

All that piece or parcel of bustee land, measuring 16 cottahs and 11 chitaks, more or less, being premises No. 127, Dharamtala Street, in Holding No. 19, block No. I, in the South Division, in the town of Calcutta, revenue payable to the Collector of Calcutta, Rs. 3-3-7, and butted and bounded as follows :—

On the north by premises No. 15, Creek Row, on the east by premises No. 126, Dharamtala Street, on the south by Dharamtala Street, and on the west by premises No. 128, Dharamtala Street, called "Normandi Villa"

It appears from a search made in the office of the Registrar of Assurances, Calcutta, from 1862 to September 1917, that the abovementioned property is subject to the following encumbrances :—

(a) Registered Mortgage, dated the 1st day of May 1915, and made in favour of Babu Upendra Mohan Pal Chaudhuri for Rs. 7,000, carrying interest at 8 per cent. per annum.

(b) Registered Further Charge dated the 2nd day of June 1915, and made in favour of the said Babu Upendra Mohan Pal Chaudhuri, for Rs. 10,000, and carrying interest at 8½ per cent. per annum.

(c) Registered Mortgage, dated 10th April 1916, and made in favour of Babu Upendranath Bose, for Rs. 7,000, carrying interest at 9 per cent. per annum. This mortgage also includes some other properties.

The sale has been ordered for the recovery of the sum of Rs. 5,558-4 due under the said decree and the sum of Rs. 276-6 being the cost payable under the said decree, aggregating to the sum of Rs. 5,834-10. The costs carry interest at 6 per cent. per annum from 9th May 1917, being the date of taxation until realization, besides the costs of execution thereof.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the office of the Sheriff of Calcutta, on any day before the sale and will be produced at the time of the sale.

F. W. CARTER, Sheriff.

Calcutta, the 19th March 1918.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominee predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three-and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.,

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible, after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 466L., dated the 14th March 1918.—The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of the Governor of Bengal, received the assent of His Excellency the Governor on the 22nd February, 1918, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 7th March, 1918, is hereby published for general information:—

BENGAL ACT NO. III OF 1918.

THE BENGAL (ALIENS) DISQUALIFICATION ACT, 1918.

An Act to disqualify certain persons from voting at elections of, or being elected or appointed as members of, or holding office in, local bodies in Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to disqualify certain persons from voting at elections of, or being elected or appointed as Commissioners of the Corporation of Calcutta or of any other Municipality in Bengal, or as members of District or Local Boards or of Union Committees therein, and also to disqualify them from holding office in any such body;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, commencement and local extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal (Aliens) Disqualification Act, 1918.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government may direct by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

(3) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

Definition.

2. In this Act, "India" shall mean British India, together with any territories of any Indian Prince or Chief under the suzerainty of His Majesty exercised through the Governor General of India or through any Governor or other officer subordinate to the Governor General of India.

Persons disqualified from voting at elections of, or being members of, or holding office in, local bodies.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, and the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, or in any rule or by-law made under any of the said Acts, no person who is not a British subject or a subject of any State in India shall be qualified to vote at the election of, or to be a candidate for election as a Commissioner of the Corporation of Calcutta or of any other Municipality in Bengal, or as a member of any District or Local Board or Union Committee therein, or to hold the office of Chairman, Deputy Chairman or Vice-Chairman of any such body under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, or the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885, nor shall such person be appointed to be a Commissioner or a member or to hold any such office under any of the said Acts; and

Ben. Act III of 1899.
Ben. Act III of 1884.
Ben. Act III of 1885

if, on the date when this Act comes into force, any such person is holding any such office or is a Commissioner of the Corporation of Calcutta or of any other Municipality in Bengal or a member of any District or Local Board or Union Committee therein under any of the said Acts he shall, notwithstanding anything contained in those Acts, be deemed to have vacated his office or seat from such date, and such vacancy shall be filled up in the same manner as if it were caused by resignation duly accepted:

Provided that the Local Government may, with the approval of the Governor General in Council, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, exempt from the provisions of this section, with effect from the commencement of this Act or from such date as may be specified in the notification, any person or class of persons who are not British subjects or subjects of any State in India.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

STARRED QUESTION.

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Girls' schools and zenana agencies.

*1. Are the Government aware of the opinion that has been expressed that the girls' schools and zenana agencies are becoming unpopular on account of the treatment received by the teachers and respectable zenana ladies from the Officiating Inspectress of Schools?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"No."

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS.

(The Answers to which were laid on the table.)

By the Hon'ble MR. ALTAF ALI :—

Rajshahi College and the Junior Madrassah.

I. (a) Are the Government aware that four rooms belonging to the Junior Madrassah at Rajshahi were taken over by the Principal of the Rajshahi College about four years ago, an assurance being given at the time that the rooms would be restored to the Madrassah after the completion of the Physics Laboratory?

(b) Is it a fact that after the completion of the laboratory another room in addition to the four was taken?

(c) Is it a fact that, as a result of this, some of the Madrassah classes are held in the Muhammadan college hostel which is outside the Madrassah building?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) The answer is in the negative. The building in question formerly belonged to a senior Madrassah, which was abolished in 1883. In 1884 it was decided to retain the junior classes of the Madrassah, on the condition that they were to be treated as a branch of the college and not as Madrassah classes, and to use the old Madrassah building partly for the college and partly as a hostel for the students attending the Madrassah classes. Government at the same time made over Rs. 20,000, representing nearly two-thirds of the original cost of the building, to the Mohsin Fund, from which the major portion of its cost had been met.

The building consists of a central hall and 12 rooms, of which six have long been used and are still used for the Madrassah classes. The central hall was used as a lecture theatre and the other six rooms for the college science classes before the new physical laboratory was built. Since July 1914, when the laboratory was completed, the latter six rooms have continued to be used for college purposes, two for Arabic and Persian classes and the rest for tutorial classes and seminars for honours classes.

In 1909 the Lieutenant-Governor of Eastern Bengal and Assam, in reply to an address presented by the Rajshahi Muhammadan Association, gave an assurance that when the new laboratory was completed, the portion of the Madrassah building then used by the college would be given up for the Madrassah classes. It has not yet been possible to do this on account of the requirements of the college.

(b) No.

(c) No. One class has long been held in a building which was formerly used as the Madrassah hostel and is now used as a college Muhammadan hostel."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble MR. F. W. CARTER :—

European Lunatic Asylum at Ranchi.

II. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state when the Lunatic Asylum for Europeans, at Ranchi, is likely to be opened?

(b) Has it been arranged for the services of Major Peebles to be placed at the disposal of the Government of Bihar and Orissa to act as Superintendent of the Asylum?

(c) Has the necessary furniture and equipment been provided?

(d) In the event of the Ranchi Asylum being ready for occupation in the near future, are the Government considering the desirability of setting aside sufficient money in the forthcoming Budget for the re-building of the present Lunatic Asylum at Bhowanipore as an observation place for suspected lunacy?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) No exact date can be stated. It is expected that the institution will be opened early this month.

(b) The services of Major Peebles were placed at the disposal of the Government of Bihar and Orissa on the 10th January, 1918.

(c) Major Peebles is at present engaged in furnishing and equipping the Asylum as a necessary preliminary to its being opened.

(d) Government have decided to convert the existing Asylum at Bhowanipore into an observation ward for mental cases. A sum of rupees two lakhs has been provided for the purpose in the Provincial Civil Works estimates for 1918-19."

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

Muhammadan hostels in Chittagong.

III. (a) Are the Government aware that a considerable number of boarders from the Government Madrassah Hostel at Chittagong have been removed to the Victoria Moslem Hostel in that place?

(b) Is it a fact that as a result of the removal a considerable number of seats fell vacant in the former hostel, and that these were filled by Muhammadan students from the Training College?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state why the Muhammadan students of the Madrassah College included in the new Madrassah scheme have not been given the vacant seats?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of inquiring from the Principal of the Moslem College as to the number of applications he has received from candidates in the Moslem College who desire seats in the Government Madrassah Hostel?

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of removing the Training College students to the Victoria Islam Hostel, situated within a mile from the Training College?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) Government are aware that pupils of the Government Moslem High School who were resident in the Madrassah Hostel were removed to the Victoria Moslem Hostel in order to make room for pupils of the Normal School.

(b) It is a fact that a number of seats became vacant. They were taken by pupils of the Normal School. There is no Training College at Chittagong, and it is presumed that the Hon'ble Member refers to the Normal School.

(c) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply to part (a) of the question.

(d) No. It is presumed that by the Moslem College the Hon'ble Member means the Madrassah.

(e) No."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

Scholarship awards by District Boards to Technical Schools and Colleges.

IV. (a) Are the Government aware of the number of scholarships which each District Board awards to the students studying in the Engineering, Medical, Agricultural, Weaving, Deaf and Dumb, Art, Veterinary and other Technical Schools and Colleges?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the number of scholarships awarded by each District Board to Muhammadan students in such schools and colleges?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" A statement is laid on the table."

Statement referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY to question No. IV (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI at the Council meeting of the 5th March, 1918, showing the number of scholarships awarded by District Boards to Technical Schools and Colleges.

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

Muhammadans and road cess.

V. (a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the amount of road-cess paid by Muhammadan raiyats, intermediate holders and zamindars in the different districts of the Bengal Presidency, as compared with the amounts paid by other communities?

(b) Is it a fact that the Muhammadans are paying equal or more cess than other communities?

(c) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of issuing circular orders to the different District Boards to make provision for scholarships to be awarded to Muhammadan students, in proportion to the cess paid by that community?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) The information is not available, and Government are not prepared to call for it in view of the expense and labour involved in the compilation of the figures, which would necessitate the employment of a large additional staff.

(c) No."

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

Muhammadan president panchayats.

VI. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Muhammadan president panchayats in the Brahmanbaria and Chandpur subdivisions in the district of Tippera in the year in which the system was first introduced and also in recent years?

(b) Is it a fact that the number of Muhammadan panchayats has decreased?

(c) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of inquiring into the cause of such decrease?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) When the president panchayat system was first introduced, the number of Muhammadan president panchayats in the Brahmanbaria subdivision was 38 out of a total of 100, and in the Chandpur subdivision 40 out of a total of 60. The numbers now are 25 and 35 out of 77 and 52, respectively.

(c) In answer to inquiry the District Magistrate reports that in filling up vacancies in president panchayatships, regard is always had to the importance of the Muhammadan community in the union concerned, but that it is often difficult to find suitable Muhammadans with the necessary qualifications."

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

Case of two Muhammadan Tahsildars.

VII. (a) Are the Government aware that in the reorganisation of the Khas Mahal office at Noakhali, the services of two permanent Muhammadan Tahsildars have been dispensed with and that a temporary Hindu Tahsildar has been appointed in their place?

(b) Is it a fact that the Hindu Tahsildar so appointed has a bad record of service?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) The case to which the Hon'ble Member refers is the appointment of a clerk in the Khas Mahal Department in the Noakhali Collectorate, not of a Tahsildar. Government understand that in this case an appeal is pending before the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division; and for this reason do not consider it desirable to make any pronouncement in the matter at the present stage."

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

VIII. (a) Is it a fact that the Government are abolishing Circle schools in the Chittagong Division? Schools in Chittagong.

(b) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of replacing them by Middle English schools?

(c) Are the Government aware that the want of Middle English schools is keenly felt in the Chittagong Division?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) No. The number of Middle English schools in proportion to the population is greater in the Chittagong Division than in any other Division."

By the Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI :—

IX. (a) Are the Government aware that the price of cloth has risen abnormally high? Rise in the price of cloth.

(b) If so, are the Government taking any steps to regulate its price?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer to question No. XXXIV (unstarred) given at the meeting of the 19th February last."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

X. Will the Government be pleased to state— Expenditure on Hostels, etc.

(i) the total expenditure on Hostels, Boarding Houses and College messes in Bengal during the financial years of 1912-17;

(ii) the total expenditure on such institutions, meant exclusively for Muhammadans, during the same period?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" Two statements are laid on the table. In Statement B separate figures showing the expenditure incurred on institutions meant exclusively for Muhammadans cannot be given without an undue amount of labour."

Questions and Answers.

Statement A referred to by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY in his answer to question No. X (unstarred) asked by the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ at the Council meeting of the 5th March, 1918.

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

A question of precedence.

XI. (a) Is it a fact that in allotting seats to the invited guests on the occasion of the presentation of addresses to His Excellency the Governor on his recent visit to Burdwan the seat of the late Nawab Abdul Jubbar was placed after some Rai Bahadurs and that of Shamsul Ulama Lutfur Rahman after all the Rai Bahadurs?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of inquiring why the Muhammadan title-holders were not given places according to their rank?

(c) Is it a fact that the Muhammadan gentlemen referred to above though present in Burdwan did not attend on the occasion?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The late Nawab Abdul Jubbar, C.I.E., occupied the sixth place in the Burdwan district Durbar list, and he was accordingly allotted the sixth seat on the occasion referred to. Shamsul Ulama Lutfur Rahman is a resident of the district of Murshidabad and is not on the Burdwan Durbar list. He was invited to the ceremony at the request of the Secretary of the Muhammadan Association, and no question as to his precedence arose.

(b) The enquiries which have been made show that the arrangements were in accordance with the rules.

(c) It is reported that the late Nawab was unable to attend the ceremony owing to age and bodily infirmity. It is not known why Shamsul Ulama Lutfur Rahman did not attend the ceremony or whether he was in Burdwan on that day."

The Burdwan District Board and Municipality address to His Excellency the Governor.

XII. (a) Are the Government aware that on the occasion of the visit of His Excellency the Governor to Burdwan on the 9th January last, an address was presented to His Excellency by the District Board of Burdwan and the Burdwan Municipality jointly?

(b) Is it a fact that a paragraph referring to the transfer of the District Officer was put in by the Magistrate without the knowledge of any Member?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) Yes.
(b) No."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

Extensions of service of certain Judicial officers.

XIII. (a) Is it a fact that about 23 Sub-Judges including one District Judge, promoted from the Provincial Service, are due to retire on or before the 1st May, 1918?

(b) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of requesting the High Court not to allow any extensions of service to these officers in view of the recent letter No. 109-Public, dated India Office, London, the 7th September, 1917, from the Secretary of State, amending the Civil Service Regulations with regard to the pensions of Gazetted officers?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) Extension of service for one year was granted to four of the officers in September 1917 before the receipt of the recent orders. The case of the remaining officers is under consideration and will be decided in accordance with the orders now in force."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

Scheme regarding the Provincial Judicial Services.

XIV. (a) Is it a fact that, after the separation of Bihar, the High Court submitted a scheme regarding the Bengal Provincial Judicial Service?

(b) Was that scheme approved by the Government and shown as the existing cadre in the Report of the Public Services Commission?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state why that scheme was not given effect to?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a), (b) and (c) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to the question put on this subject by the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta at the meeting of the Council held on the 7th August, 1917."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

Pay of Munsifs.

XV. (a) In view of the assurance given by the Hon'ble Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda in his Budget speech of the 3rd April, 1917, on my resolution for increasing the pay of the last grade of Munsifs, that the Government of India have promised to deal with the recommendations of the Public Services Commission expeditiously, will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any chance of the recommendations of the Public Services Commission being given effect to in the next financial year?

(b) If not, are the Government considering the desirability, in the next financial year, of raising the pay of the last grade of Munsifs to Rs. 250 and of giving effect to the scheme shown as the existing cadre of the Munsifs and Sub-Judges in the Report of the Public Services Commission?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) It is not possible for this Government to say when final orders will be passed on the report of the Royal Commission.

(b) The answer is in the negative."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL HAQ :—

Prospects of Munsifs.

XVI. (a) Is it a fact that the majority of Munsifs do not rise to the Rs. 400 grade till they reach the age of 45 years?

(b) Are the Government aware of the opinion that has been expressed that the efficiency of this branch of the Government service is jeopardised owing to the bad prospects held out to the members of the service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The average age at the time of their promotion to the second grade of the Munsifs who are now in that grade, was 41 years and 4 months.

(b) No."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

Leave of Judicial officers.

XVII. (a) Are the Government considering the desirability of moving the Government of India to amend the Civil Service Regulations so as to permit of Provincial Judicial officers affixing their privilege leave to the Puja holidays?

(b) If not, will the Government be pleased to state why this privilege cannot be granted to these officers?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) As stated in the speech made by the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler on the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem at the meeting of the Council held on the 4th September, 1917, the question of the leave rules of the Provincial Judicial Service will be considered in connection with the report of the Royal Commission on the Public Services. The merits of the question were also discussed on that occasion."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

Judicial officers and holidays.

XVIII. (a) Are the Government aware of the fact that the difference in the number of close holidays enjoyed by the Judicial officers and the Executive officers is very small at present?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of recommending the grant of privilege leave of 15 days only on full pay to Munsifs and Sub-Judges?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Excluding Sundays and local holidays, the Civil Courts are closed for 58 days during 1918 and the Courts and offices of executive officers for 36 days.

(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer to question No. XVII."

By the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA :—

The case of Mr. Meredith.

XIX. What was the total cost incurred by the Government in the case in which Mr. Meredith, a bailiff of the Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, was concerned?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to a similar question at the meeting of this Council which was held on the 2nd July, 1914."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble MR. H. R. A. IRWIN :—

Hook-worm disease.

XX. (a) With reference to my unstarred question No. VI regarding the hook-worm disease, asked at the Council meeting of the 3rd July, 1917, and the Hon'ble Mr. Donald's reply thereto, will the Government be pleased to state whether a reply has been received from the Government of India to the representation from this Government?

(b) If so, what is the nature of such reply?

(c) If no reply has been received, are the Government considering the desirability of reminding the Government of India on the matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"The Government of India have accepted the proposals of this Government for a comprehensive inquiry into the prevalence and distribution of hook-worm disease in Bengal. The Governing Body of the Indian Research Fund Association have agreed to meet the cost of the scheme, which is estimated at Rs. 6,000. The inquiry has already begun."

Commutation proceedings in record-of-right operations.

XXI. (a) With reference to the answer to my question No. XXXVIII, asked at the meeting of the Council, held on the 22nd January, 1918, regarding commutation proceedings in the record-of-rights operations, will the Government be pleased to state whether there are any instances on record in which the rate has been fixed by the Settlement authorities at more than one-fifth of the value of the gross produce, since the instructions referred to in the said question were issued?

(b) If so, what is the proportion of such instances to the total cases of commutation in each particular district where the record-of-rights operations have been carried on?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) Since the instructions were issued commutation has been ordered in 284, 74 and 17 cases in the districts of Midnapore, Dacca and Mymensingh, respectively. The number of cases in which the rent fixed exceeded one-fifth of the value of the gross produce was 166, nil and 15 in the three districts."

By the Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI :—

Staging of prohibited dramas

XXII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what Bengali dramas have up to date been prohibited from being acted on the public stage?

(b) What are the reasons for such prohibition in each case?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of permitting these plays to be staged, after being purged of any objectionable portions?

(d) If so, what portions would they desire to be expunged in each case?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) and (b) A statement is laid on the table.

(c) and (d) No such proposal is under the consideration of Government."

Transfer of Agricultural Department to Dacca.

XXIII. (a) Is it a fact that the office of the Director of Agriculture is to be transferred to Dacca?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances relating to this step?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of transferring any other offices from Calcutta to Dacca?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) and (c) Government adhere generally to the view which they have frequently expressed that in the interests of administrative efficiency it is desirable that all departments should be situated at the headquarters of the Government; and it is not their intention to transfer other offices from Calcutta to Dacca.

The case of the Agricultural Department has been reconsidered by Government on account of certain representations made to them by the present Director of Agriculture in the Presidency. There are, in the opinion of Government, special circumstances which differentiate this department from others. The Director in any case must spend a considerable part of his time at the Chief Government Experimental Farm which is situated at Dacca. In Bombay, the United Provinces and Burma, the headquarters of the Agricultural Department are situated away from the headquarters of Government In these circumstances Government have decided on the removal to Dacca of the headquarters of the Department of Agriculture. In coming to this conclusion, Government have borne in mind among other considerations the views expressed by the representatives of Eastern Bengal."

Opinion by the Government of Bengal on the Income-tax Bill.

XXIV. (a) Were the Government of Bengal invited to express their opinion on clause 4 of the Indian Income-tax Bill now pending before the Imperial Legislative Council.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to give the purport of any opinion forwarded by them on this subject?

(c) Have the Government made any calculation as to the extent to which the annual income-tax revenue is likely to be increased in Bengal by reason of clause 4 of the Bill in regard to assessees having agricultural income?

(d) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay a statement on the subject on the table?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) The opinion of this Government was invited on the provisions of the Bill as a whole.

(b) The reply of this Government is before the Government of India and it is the latter which should apparently be moved for its publication, if desired.

(c) No.

(d) The question does not arise."

XXVII. (a) Is it a fact that there have been a few cases of plague in some parts of the district of Bakarganj? Plague in Bakarganj.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances relating to the outbreak, and the steps taken in connection therewith?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"An outbreak of plague occurred in the village Rajihar in Gournadi thana of the Bakarganj district. The disease first developed in a youth who had returned from Calcutta. The Civil Surgeon visited the village on the 6th February and the District Magistrate on the 8th February. The Magistrate arranged for a small segregation camp outside the village and for the despatch of certain necessaries from Barisal. A Sub-Assistant Surgeon was sent from Barisal to attend specially to the outbreak and the medical officer in charge of the Gournadi dispensary was ordered to devote himself to it. As soon, also, as intimation was received by the Sanitary Commissioner, an officer with special experience of plague was immediately despatched to the village from Calcutta to investigate and report. Three cases of suspected plague also occurred in Barisal towards the end of January which appear to have had no connection with the cases at Rajihar. The statistics up to the 28th February, 1918, are—attacks 31; deaths 30; 1 case cured. From 24th to 28th February there were no seizures and no deaths."

XXVIII. (a) Is it a fact that Babu Ramesh Chandra Mitra, Munsif of Patuakhali, has recently resigned his appointment? Resignation by a Munsif of Patuakhali.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for such resignation?

(c) Is there any truth in the statement that the said resignation was due to the fact that the above named gentleman had applied for short leave to attend the Kumbh Mela, and that this was refused?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) In his letter of resignation addressed to the High Court, he stated that he was unable to continue in his office owing to the state of his health.

(c) No. The Munsif did not apply for leave for any purpose either to the District Judge or to the High Court."

The new subdivision in Mymensingh.

XXIX. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what are the proposed area and limits of the new subdivision of Dhanbari in Mymensingh under the scheme of district partition?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of ascertaining public opinion regarding the allocation of thanas to the respective subdivisions and the re-distribution of thana areas?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The new subdivision of Dhanbari will consist of thanas Dhanbari, Gopalpur, Madhupur, Sarisabari, Kalihati and Ghatail, covering an area of 615 square miles, together with the Gargazali portion of the Madhupur jungle, the exact area of which has not yet been determined.

(b) The scheme for the partition of Mymensingh was published in the Calcutta Gazette in Resolution No. 6287 P., dated the 27th May, 1915, and the opinions of the public were invited. The suggestions which were received have been fully considered, and certain modifications of the original project introduced in consequence. Government do not consider that it would serve any useful purpose to consult the public again."

The railway bridge over the Brahmaputra.

XXX. (a) Is it a fact that the Railway bridge over the Brahmaputra at Mymensingh has obstructed the flow of the river, and that a char has been thrown up in consequence?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of making an inquiry into the circumstances relating to this matter, and of taking steps for the removal of any such obstruction?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) In 1916, the active channel of the old Brahmaputra river, about 800 feet above the Railway bridge, was on the Mymensingh town side of the river bed; since then the active channel has gone over to the left bank side and a char has formed on the town side. This char increased slightly during the year 1917. In the opinion of expert local officers the formation of the char is not due to obstruction by the Railway bridge but to the natural tendency in all deltaic rivers with sandy beds for the active channel to occupy only part of the bed and for the remainder of the bed to shoal up.

(b) No."

Formation of Union Committees.

XXXI. (a) Will the Government be pleased to make a statement showing, district by district, the number of Union Committees, the formation, of which was sanctioned during 1915, 1916 and 1917, and the number of such Committees actually formed in each of these years, noting the reasons of failure to carry into effect the sanction in this behalf in each case?

(b) Is it a fact that although in the district of Khulna a number of Union Committees were constituted after regular election of members thereof, the work of a large number of these Committees has been kept in abeyance? If so, why?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) A statement is laid on the table.
(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the remarks against Khulna in the last column of the statement."

Conference of local bodies.

XXXII. (a) With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. LXXIV, asked on the 7th August, 1917, will the Government be pleased to state whether the inquiries referred to therein have been made?

(b) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of holding similar conferences of local bodies in Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) It has been ascertained that the local and municipal conference held in the Madras Presidency early in 1917 was organized privately by gentlemen interested in local self-government and that it was not held under the auspices of the Government of Madras, which accorded it no official recognition.

(b) In view of the above statement this question does not arise."

Miss Cleghorn's work on silk-worms.

XXXIV. With reference to Miss Cleghorn's Scientific work on silk-worms, will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) how long she has been engaged on this work in Bengal;

(ii) what has been the annual cost to Government both as regards her remuneration and other charges;

(iii) her qualifications and past experience in the work;

(iv) the offices held by her before employment in Bengal;

(v) the practical results obtained by her up to date; and

(vi) how far have these results been recognised by experts, or utilised in any practical manner?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (i) Miss Cleghorn has been engaged on work in connection with silk-worms in Bengal since 1902.

(ii) The expenditure incurred by Government in connection with her work has been as follows :—

	Remuneration.	Other charges.
	Rs.	Rs.
1914-15	Nil.	5,615
1915-16	Nil.	5,000
1916-17	1,520	19,269
1917-18	4,200	16,500

(iii) Miss Cleghorn is a Fellow of the Linnean, Entomological and Zoological Societies of London, and is a Member of the British Ecological Society and of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, and has taken a course in Agricultural Science. She has studied silk-worms for 16 years.

(iv) She held no salaried appointment in connection with silk-worm investigation before her employment by the Bengal Government

(v) She has reared up to the 54th generation a hybrid race of multivoltine silk-worms which is believed to be superior in its yield of silk and power to resist disease.

(vi) The results of Miss Cleghorn's work have been highly appreciated by Mr. H. Maxwell-Lefroy, M.A., F.E.S., F.Z.S., Imperial Silk Specialist, who has expressed the opinion that her work is thoroughly good, and her silk-worms and mulberry plant are of very great value to the Indian silk industry.

It is intended to test at the Berhampore Central Nursery in the year 1918-19, the economic value of Miss Cleghorn's hybrid race, which Mr. Lefroy considers the most successful hybrid race produced at present."

Mr. Burton's conduct at Dinajpur.

XXXVI. (a) Is it a fact that Mr. Burton shot dead some Sonthals in Dinajpur on or about the 30th March, 1915, when he was stationed there as Superintendent of Police?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to make a statement regarding this incident?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) The facts of the case are stated in the judgment of the Sessions Judge of Dinajpur dated the 21st June, 1915, a copy of which is laid on the table."

Sessions Case No. 10 of 1915, Dinajpur.

For prosecution—Babu Jotindra Mohon Sen, Public Prosecutor.

For defence—None.

Judgment.

THE nine accused persons in this case have been committed to this court for trial on charges of rioting, and with the provisions of section 149, I. P. C., of causing grievous hurt to Mr. L. H. Burton, the Superintendent of Police of this district in the discharge of his public duty, by piercing his leg with arrows.

All the accused have pleaded not guilty to the charges and the evidence against them has been heard in this court.

The case for the prosecution is that on a complaint having been lodged before a Magistrate by one Panchanon Das, a civil court peon, that he had been violently resisted by the accused Paru Sonthal and others in the execution of a writ of attachment of Paru's movable properties, a warrant for the arrest of Paru was issued by the Magistrate. The police officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant failed to execute it and applied for the issue of proclamation and attachment against Paru and these processes were issued by the Magistrate. Several police officers, including the Inspector of the Division attempted to execute these processes but failed owing to threats of armed resistance by Paru and his associates. Eventually the Superintendent of Police, with the approval of the District Magistrate, consented to the employment of armed police to overcome the resistance. On the morning of the 30th March, Mr. Burton proceeded to the vicinity of Paru's bari with an armed force of 20 constables and 2 head-constables and accompanied by the Inspector and the Kotwali Sub-Inspector. At a distance of about a mile from the bari he directed the armed force to come on slowly and rode ahead with the Inspector and Sub-Inspector. On reaching the bari, Mr. Burton rode into the courtyard and called out in Bengali to Paru to come out, adding that there was nothing to fear and that he would see that justice was done. The Sub-Inspector called out to Paru that he had a warrant for his arrest and that he should come out and give himself up.

Questions and Answers.

There was no response to these calls and in fact as Mr. Burton says, the bari appeared to be deserted. But presently the sounds of a drum being beaten and of voices, were heard inside the bari. Some Sonthals were seen coming towards the bari from different directions as if in response to the drum. Mr. Burton then sent the Sub-Inspector galloping off to bring up the armed force. He then took up his position along with the Inspector on a field about 30 yards to the east of the bari. Then four or five Sonthals came out in front of the bari and began to perform a sort of war dance to the sound of a drum, led by Paru who carried an axe in his hand, and kept saluting the sun. Mr. Burton from where he stood, again attempted to reason with them calling out to them that they were fools and that it was useless to attempt to resist an armed force. The armed force then arrived and Mr. Burton divided it up into two detachments sending one in charge of one of the head-constable to the west of the bari round by the north to prevent an escape in that direction and keeping the other with him. While the first detachment was on its way to take up its position, arrows were shot from the bari in both directions. Some whizzed past Mr. Burton who thereupon exchanged his pistol for a musket loaded with buckshot and fired the charge at the legs of one of the men who were in front of the bari dancing about and shooting arrows. The man (whom Mr. Burton says he saw actually shooting arrows in his direction), seized hold of his leg as if hit there. This, however, seemed to have no effect on the party of defenders. So Mr. Burton loaded again with buckshot and fired at a man's head. The man fell. He had also ordered his men to load with buckshot and fire low. At this moment a swarm of bees came from the direction of the bari and attacked Mr. Burton and the men with him. As he was struggling to protect himself against the bees, dropping his musket and losing his hat and glasses, he suddenly felt a sharp pain in his left leg and, looking down, found as he says, that an arrow had passed right through it. He then retired to some distance and after examining his wound started back for Dinajpur to get medical assistance, as it was apprehended that the Sonthals' arrows were poisoned. He left directions to keep the basti surrounded and promised to send out reinforcements from headquarters. Keramat Hossain, Head-Constable, with the 10 constables under his charge, then took up positions round the block of four baris, which includes Paru's bari and they were presently reinforced by 3 or 4 constables from the other detachment. (The head-constable and other constables of the second detachment, as well as the Inspector, had returned to a neighbouring bari to get what relief they could for their bee-stings).

According to Keramat Hossain, the Sonthals were at this stage still shooting arrows thick and fast in several directions and beating a drum. Presently, however, they withdrew into the main courtyard. Keramat Hossain called out again to Paru, threatening to set fire to his house if they did not stop. He then saw the Sonthals retiring inside the huts and the drum beating ceased. He thereupon signalled to his men to close in round the bari and ordered them to push the inner courtyard with fixed bayonets which they did. He next proceeded to address the inmates of the huts to induce them to come out. At this moment large reinforcements from head-quarters arrived on the scene consisting of 43 armed constables in charge of a head-constable and soon after that, Paru, after some bandying of words was partly induced and partly pulled out of the west hut and placed under arrest. Five more men were induced to come out of the north and west huts and three more were found hiding in the dark inside the huts when a search was made with lights. These eight others were similarly placed under arrest and all nine were brought in custody to Dinajpur the same evening. They have remained in custody ever since and they have been identified as the nine accused persons now before the court. Five of them, viz., Chota, Jagan, Jagua, Budhan and Suga made statements with nature of confessions before Babu Girish Chandra Nag, Deputy Magistrate at Dinajpur, on the following day (March 31st) Paru, Churu, Manu and Kuor all had gun-shot wounds on them when they were arrested

Questions and Answers.

For the prosecution eleven witnesses have been examined in this Court, viz., Mr. Burton, Inspector Anadi Nath Ghosh, Sub-Inspector Srikanto Chakravarty, Head-Constable Keramat Hossain, Bhagabat Tewari and Mahamad Sakur Khan, Padarat Thakur (a shop-keeper who followed the police party and saw something of what occurred), Panchanan Das (the Civil Court peon), Dukhu Sonthal and Baranga Uraon (who prove the relationship between the accused persons) and the plan-maker Kailash Chandra Mittra. The deposition of the Assistant Surgeon of Dinajpur who examined and treated Mr. Burton, the four wounded accused and the stung constables, has been read as evidence.

Several documents evidencing the origin of the proceedings, against Paru and the subsequent course of event in connection with the attempt to arrest Paru have also been proved.

Exhibit 9 is the examination by the Magistrate of Panchanan Das on his complaint on the 10th February. Panchanan has stated in his evidence in this court that he was resisted in the execution of the writ of attachment and severely beaten by Paru, Churu and Jagan amongst the present accused, although at the time of lodging his complaint he did not know the names of the latter two.

Exhibit 6 is the warrant for the arrest of Paru addressed to the officer in charge of the Kotwali thana (who was Srikanto Chakravarty). Exhibit 7 is the proclamation for his appearance and Exhibit 3 is the Magistrate's order of attachment.

This evidence makes it clear that the warrant of arrest was legally issued and that the two police officers were acting legally and discharging their public functions in attempting to arrest Paru on the 30th March.

The evidence of Mr. Burton and of the Inspector, Sub-Inspector, Keramat Hossain, Bhagabat Tewari and Padarat Thakur fully proves the first part of the general case for the prosecution up to the wounding and retirement of Mr. Burton. As regards the number of persons who at this stage came out in front of Paru's bari and made demonstrations against the police, Mr. Burton says he saw five or six at a time, the Sub-Inspector speaks of five or six men in the outer courtyard and three or four men in the passage, and the Inspector speaks in much the same way, Keramat Hossain and Bhagabat Tewari speak of nine or ten men dancing about outside. Most of them seem to have been armed with bows and arrows.

Paru is identified by all the four police witnesses as the man who was taking the leading part in the proceedings. Of the other accused Churu is identified by the Inspector and the Sub-Inspector, Jagan by the Sub-Inspector, Jagua by the Inspector, Budhan by the Inspector and Sub-Inspector, Manu by the Sub-Inspector and Chota by the Sub-Inspector. Mr. Burton also identified Chota as a man who passed quite close to him into one of the houses adjoining Paru's when the drum beating began. Kuor who, as medical evidence shows, had nine gun shot wounds in his leg, is almost certainly the man at whose legs Mr. Burton first fired seeing him actually shooting arrows in his direction. Manu, who had a gun-shot wound in the eye is probably the man at whose head Mr. Burton fired the second charge. At any rate it is clear that he as well as Paru and Churu who also received gun-shot wounds, must have been to the fore when the shots were fired.

The second part of the case ending with arrest of all nine is proved by the evidence of Keramat Hossain, Bhagabat Tewari, Muhammad Sakur Khan and partly by the evidence of the Inspector and Padarat Thakur, the latter of whom saw the last three men brought out of the huts and identified them as Jagan, Chota and Budhan. At the time of the arrest, were found inside the bari 40 arrows, 13 bows, four shields, a large dao, one axe, a spear, a drum and Mr. Burton's hat as well as some other articles. Fifty-five other arrows were picked up outside the bari. All these have been produced and marked as Ex.

Questions and Answers.

The evidence of the Assistant Surgeon shows that Mr. Burton's leg was pierced to the bone by two punctured wounds and that he was incapacitated for at least six weeks. In the first instance an operation had to be performed under chloroform. (I may add that at the time of giving his evidence in this court, over 2½ months after the occurrence, Mr. Burton was still on leave recovering from the effects of the injuries).

It is proved beyond all manner of doubt that there was an unlawful assembly of over 5 persons headed by Paru, with the common object of resisting the lawful arrest of Paru, and that grievous hurt was caused to Mr. Burton while discharging his public duty, in prosecution of the common object. Most, if not all, the members of the assembly having been armed with bows, arrows or other deadly weapons, I hold that they all know that grievous hurt was likely to be caused and that they were therefore all criminally responsible, under the provisions of section 149, Indian Penal Code, for the injury inflicted. As I have already said, the fact that Paru, Churu, Kuor and Manu were members of the unlawful assembly is proved incircumstantially by the gun-shot wounds which they sustained. Against the other five accused there is the evidence of one or two witnesses who say that they recognised them amongst the persons making the demonstrations in front of the bari, the fact that they were all eventually found inside the bari, and in the case of each of them, a statement of the nature of a confession. I leave aside for the moment the first class of evidence, especially in the cases of Chota, Jagan and Jagua, each of whom was only recognised by one witness, having regard to the possibility that the witnesses might be mistaken as to the identity. The next question which arises is whether the fact of the persons being subsequently found in Paru's bari is conclusive proof of their having taken part in the demonstration of resistance which resulted in the injury to Mr. Burton. It would certainly have been a stronger piece of evidence if it had been clearly shown that the bari had been successfully isolated from the beginning to the end of the operations. But there was evidently something of a break in the operations consequent on the bee incident and the constables guarding the bari thereafter have not been called as witnesses to testify that no one passed into the bari. However, it is clear to me that if any one did so pass in, at or after that juncture, he could only have done so with the intention of reinforcing the defenders, and the matter is, in my opinion, sufficiently cleared up by the confessions of these five accused, coupled with the evidence of the relationship to Paru and their behaviour on previous occasions. Jagua, in the opening sentence of his confession, stated, " when the police and the Sahib came, we entered Paru's house with bows and arrows".

Suga stated, " I was in Paru's place when the police Sahib went there yesterday. Paru said to me : Shoot them with arrows, else I shall kill you. I discharged my arrow once."

Chota stated, " Paru Majhi said to me. Do what I tell you or I shall kill you. When the Police Sahib went close to the bari of Paru, I was ploughing. I left my plough and entered the bari of Paru through fear. I remained there ". He goes on to say that he remained all the time inside the hut. But it is obvious that any one who entered Paru's bari at the time when the police were about to make a raid on it, could only have done so with the object of joining in the resistance. The evidence of Baranga Uraon shows that Chota, although a step-brother of Paru, does not live in Paru's bari, but in the bari of his own brother Jagua, which is some distance to the south, and not adjoining Paru's bari (vide the map Ex. 8).

Budhan, in his confession stated. " When the Police Sahib went, I was in Paru's bari.....I beat the drum."

Jagan, in his confession does not explicitly say that he was in Paru's bari at the time Mr. Burton was wounded. In fact he asserted that when the gun was fired he returned into his own hut (his bari adjoining Paru's) and remained there. The evidence, however, shows that he was found in Paru's bari. He stated, however, that he, as well as Budhan beat the drum, which would show that he was a member of the unlawful assembly at the inception.

These confessions appear to me to have been voluntarily made, although they have been, more or less, retracted before the Committing Magistrate. Even there Suga admitted that he had shot an arrow and Budhan that he had beaten the drum. Suga there asserted that Mr. Burton fired first. If he meant that he fired before any arrows were shot, his statement cannot possibly be accepted in face of Mr. Burton's evidence.

Then as regards relationship and previous conduct, it is in evidence that Churu is brother of Paru and Jagua and Chota are both step-brothers, Budhan is a first-cousin, Mannu is his nephew, Suga is a cousin, while Jagan and Kuor are both connected with him by marriage.

The evidence of the Civil Court peon, Panchanan, shows that when he went to execute the writ of attachment, Churu and Jagan joined Paru in resisting him with violence.

The evidence of Inspector and Sub-Inspector shows that when they went to arrest Paru on a previous occasion (in execution of the same warrant), Paru came to them in a neighbouring bari accompanied by some 15 other men, all armed with bows and arrows, axes, daos, shields, etc., and threatened to kill them if they did not leave the place immediately. The Inspector identifies Churu, Jagan, Jagua and Budhan as having been amongst Paru's companions on this occasion and the Sub-Inspector similarly identifies Churu and Chota.

Reading all this evidence together, I entertain no doubt that all the accused persons assembled in Paru's bari expressly for the purpose of resisting the police.

There appears to me to have been no sort of justification or even excuse for such resistance. In fact, it appears from the evidence that Paru pretends or imagines himself to be a Rajah, and has for some time past determined to defy all public authorities. I may add here that papers on the record show that Mr. Burton was very reluctant to employ an armed force and the evidence shows, that even after he had started for the place with his force, he made every attempt to effect his object first without bringing the force on to the scene and secondly, without resorting to actual use of the fire arms. There can be no doubt, I think, that the ultimate firing of the two charges of buckshot was necessitated by the circumstances.

Finding and Sentences.

Agreeing with both the assessors, I find all nine accused persons guilty of offences under sections 148, 333/149, I. P. C. Under the latter section I sentence Paru to rigorous imprisonment for five years and Churu Jagan, Jagua, Budhan, Manu, Kuor and Chota to rigorous imprisonment for three years each. Suga in consideration of his age (14 years) I sentence to rigorous imprisonment for three months under the same section. No separate sentences are passed under section 148, I. P. C.

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Staff of the Secretariat record room.

XXXVII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of petitions which were submitted to Government about the grievances of the assistants of the Secretariat record room and what steps, if any, have been taken thereon?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the entire old staff of assistants were removed on the ground that the terms of their service had expired and that a new staff of assistants recruited from outside were appointed in their place?

(c) Is it a fact that circulars were issued by the Government to certain District offices to provide these men with appointments wherever possible?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Eight petitions were received from temporary assistants of the Secretariat record-room whose services had been dispensed with. In six of these, allegations were made against the Keeper of the Records. These allegations were fully enquired into by the Under-Secretary to Government in the Political Department and were found to be baseless. The other two petitions merely asked for employment.

(b) A number of temporary assistants were employed for various periods on repairing, arranging and tracing the old historical records. Their number varied from time to time, and on 15th September, 1917, when the sanctioned term of their appointment expired, seven men were so employed. Their work was not satisfactory, and it was decided to replace them by six men on better pay and with superior qualifications.

(c) Yes."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Vacancies in the Secretariat Record Room.

XXXVIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Secretariat Rules require the notifying of vacancies in the Secretariat Record Room?

(b) If so, why the rules were not complied with by the Keeper of Records, Mr. Dias, in respect of vacancies in the Record Room?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the claims of qualified men in the Record Room were passed over from time to time on the occurrence of vacancies there? If so, why?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) and (b) The Secretariat rules do not require that these appointments should be notified.

(c) In two cases assistants in the record-room were passed over for promotion because they were considered unfit for the vacant posts."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Case of the Keeper of Records.

XXXIX. (a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the appointment file and the Service Book of Mr. Dias, the Keeper of Records?

(b) Is it a fact that a notice has been received from the Accountant-General, Bengal, stating that Mr. Dias will shortly attain the age of 55 years?

(c) Is it also a fact that he was appointed on the understanding that according to his own statement he was only 45 years of age?

(d) Are the Government considering the question of removing Mr. Dias from his post?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Government are not prepared to lay these papers on the table.

(b) The answer is in the affirmative. The Accountant-General miscalculated Mr. Dias' age on incorrect information supplied by the Secretariat Accounts Branch and has since corrected the mistake.

(c) No. He was 48 years of age at the time of his appointment.

(d) No."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

Maintenance of state prisoners.

XL. (a) Is it a fact that Bengal Regulation III of 1818 requires adequate allowance to be made for the suitable maintenance of state prisoners and their families, and also periodical reports to be made regarding the suitability of such allowance and about the health and comforts of the prisoners?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the purport of each such report together with the date thereof and the action taken thereon?

(c) How many complaints have been made up to date and what action has been taken thereon regarding—

(i) the inadequacy of maintenance allowance;

(ii) the unsuitability of the method of confinement; and

(iii) the health of the state prisoners in Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the provisions of the Regulation in question.

(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to his unstarred question No. II at the meeting of Council held on the 20th November, 1917.

(c) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to similar questions Nos. XVII and XVIII asked by him at the meeting held on the 20th November, 1917, with regard to détenus. As regards State prisoners the position is similar."

Condition of hunger-strikers.

XLI. (a) Have the Government any information regarding the state prisoners who recently went on a hunger-strike in the jail at Alipur?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state how each of them is getting on at present?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) and (b) Government has received information from time to time regarding the prisoners referred to. Any information in the possession of Government has been and will be freely communicated to the relatives of the persons concerned on application to the Additional Secretary to Government, but it is not considered desirable to publish bulletins about these men."

Assistant Directorship of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education.

XLII. Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is proposed to abolish the office of the Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education or to amalgamate it with the office of the Assistant Director of Public Instruction?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" It is not proposed either to abolish the post of Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education or to amalgamate it with that of the Assistant Director of Public Instruction. During the absence on leave of the Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammmadan Education the Assistant Director of Public Instruction is at present performing the duties of both posts, and temporary arrangements of this nature are likely to prove necessary in the future, in view of the shortage of officers of the Indian Educational Service during the war."

Inspectorship of Civil Court offices.

XLIII. Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) when the appointment of the Inspector of Civil Court offices was first created;

(ii) the name of the officer now holding the appointment;

(iii) the salary paid to him;

(iv) his qualifications, and the work he did before his appointment to this office, and the salary he then received;

(v) when his term of service expires.

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(i) October 12th, 1914.

(ii) Mr. R. J. Watson.

(iii) Rs. 1,500 a month.

(iv) He was trained in England to be a Solicitor. In 1903 he came to Calcutta as Manager of the Remington Typewriter Company, and while in their employment he was instrumental in introducing several important changes in the offices of the Calcutta Municipality, the Port Commissioners, the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, the East Indian Railway and certain large private firms. At the instance of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee Mr. Watson was appointed Controller of Office Systems, Bengal, on January 1st, 1906, on Rs. 1,500 a month, his main duties being to inspect Civil, Criminal and Collectorate record-rooms; he held this post until he obtained his present appointment, which was sanctioned by the Secretary of State at the instance of the High Court and the Government of India in view of the necessity of some special agency for assisting District Judges in the control of the administrative work of their offices.

(v) December 31st, 1930."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

THE AMENDED DRAFT FINANCIAL STATEMENT.*

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD presented the Amended Draft Financial Statement for Bengal for 1918-19 :—

He said :—"I have the honour to present to the Council the Amended Draft Financial Statement for the year 1918-19. Hon'ble Members have already received copies of the statement together with a memorandum which explains the general financial situation of the Presidency in the current and coming year. As regards the current year it will suffice to say that our receipts have exceeded our expectations. From Excise we expect to get Rs. ten lakhs over the budget figure, from Income Tax fifteen lakhs, and from sales of quinine for military requirements about eighteen lakhs. Against this there is a falling off under Stamps. On the expenditure side there are savings, mainly under Police and Education.

As to the coming year our estimates have been prepared on lines similar to those followed in the past two years. War conditions still prevail, and the principle that our expenditure should not exceed our total income had again to be followed. We found it impossible however to meet all our urgent wants within the limits of our income and the Government of India have therefore allowed us to draw on our balances to the extent of Rs. 40 lakhs. Twelve lakhs of this are required for the replenishment of our reserve of quinine, while the balance is needed mainly for urgent public works of importance. Our expenditure in the coming year will thus be considerably over that of the current year, but in the end our balances will be at approximately the same figure as that with which we started the present year.

I would invite the attention of the Hon'ble Members to the further memorandum which was circulated yesterday—making corrections and additions in the Financial Statement. Consequent on the recurring assignment of Rs. 5½ lakhs which has been given by the Government of India for primary education this amount has been added both to the revenue as well as to the expenditure side of the estimate.

There is one other point which I desire to mention. In the last two years there was some discussion on the subject of the supply of departmental budgets to Hon'ble Members, and the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson-Bell last year told the Council that the departmental budgets would be promptly printed in convenient form for the use of all members interested in them. So far as I recollect only one member applied for copies. This year we have taken a further step. Hitherto our Civil Estimates have been printed by the Government of India, but we have now taken over this work ourselves, and I am in a position to-day to furnish each member of the Council with a copy of these estimates for his own use in connection with the discussion on the Financial Statement. Hon'ble Members will realise that the figures are as yet only provisional, and will not be final till the Budget is finally presented. These estimates contain all that is in the departmental budgets as regards income and expenditure of the budget year and of the two years previous, and will, I believe, give all the information that Hon'ble Members desire to have. But if there is any point in which Hon'ble Members have any doubt I shall be glad to explain it to them or give them any information they may desire.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA introduced the following heads :—

EXPENDITURE—

19A.—Courts of Law.

He said :—

" Sir, I rise to introduce the figures relating to Courts of Law.

The total budget estimate for 1917-18 was Rs. 1,01,57,000, but the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 1,00,10,000, with reference to the actual charges of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to smaller payment of fees to pleaders in connection with both civil suits and criminal cases.

The total expenditure for 1918-19 has been estimated at Rs. 1,01,75,000. This includes a provision of Rs. 1,08,000 for the office of the Administrator-General and Official Trustee, Bengal, the control of which was recently transferred from the Government of India to this Government. A grant of Rs. 55,000 was made for the current financial year to meet the expenditure of this office from the 1st October 1917 to 28th February 1918. As the present staff of 14 Judges has proved insufficient to cope with the volume of work in the Calcutta High Court, and as it has not yet been possible to depute a Judge to inspect the mufassal Courts, the permanent addition of a Judge to the High Court Bench has been recommended to the Government of India. The appointment of a temporary additional Judge to help in clearing off the existing arrears of the Court has also been recommended to the Government of India. Provision has accordingly been made for two additional Judges with their establishment for the High Court. Provision for two temporary District and Sessions Judges and five temporary subordinate Judges with their establishment has been made in the budget for 1918-19, as the existing provision for one temporary District and Sessions Judge and two subordinate Judges with their establishment proved inadequate for administrative requirements and money had to be re-appropriated from other heads. Provision of Rs. 7,93,000 has been made in the next year's budget against Rs. 6,32,000 this year for Law Officers. The increase is chiefly due to the fact that larger provision had to be made under the heads 'Fees to Counsel and pleaders for conducting civil suits before the High Court', 'Fees to pleaders in criminal cases' and 'Charges for conducting law suits.' Provision has also been made for the additional Legal Remembrancer and his establishment as the term of his appointment has provisionally been extended. There has been, however, a considerable reduction under the head 'Charges under the Defence of India Act' from Rs. 75,000 in 1917-18 to Rs. 50,000 in 1918-19.

It has not been found possible to make provision in the Provincial Civil Works Budget for any new Judicial major works for the year 1918-19, though this year a sum of Rs. 19,508 was allotted for the acquisition of land for the construction of a new civil court building at Burdwan. A sum of Rs. 15,000 has, however, been provided in the budget for Judicial minor works as was done in this year's budget."

EXPENDITURE—

24B.—Sanitation.

" I beg to introduce for the consideration of the Council the estimates of expenditure on Sanitation.

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Sir S. P. Sinha.

The expenditure for the current year, which was originally estimated at Rs. 5,98,000, has been reduced by Rs. 88,000 in the revised budget for the reason explained in paragraph 54 of the draft Financial Statement. The transfer of a portion of the grant for sanitary improvements to the Irrigation Department is due to the fact that the Banka scheme in Burdwan is being carried out by that department, and does not imply a diversion of funds from sanitation.

The budget estimate for next year shows a very marked increase over the provision made in the last two years and amounts to Rs. 11,71,000 Government feel that, with the utmost regard to the requirements of economy, it is no longer possible to restrict expenditure on sanitary works within the narrow limits of recent budgets. On pages 24 and 25 of the draft Financial Statement will be found a list of projects which it is proposed to undertake at an estimated total cost of approximately eight and a half lakhs. Of this amount one lakh is provided for various charges, not connected with engineering, which are largely of a recurring nature and three lakhs for sanitary engineering works such as drainage and water-supply in urban areas. The balance of approximately four and a half lakhs is provided for objects shown in Part I of the list (Anti-malarial works). It will be seen that with three exceptions these are either large projects of rural drainage or measures such as survey and investigation preparatory to projects of this nature. This provision represents the beginning of a new campaign which Government are anxious to initiate on a large scale against malaria in rural areas. It includes contributions aggregating 2¼ lakhs towards two schemes known as the Arul Bil and Jamuna schemes in the districts of Nadia, Jessore and the 24-Parganas. The schemes were the subject of an address recently delivered by His Excellency to a Conference of District Boards at Government House, which will be fresh in the memory of members of Council : and I need only remind them that it is intended that these schemes should be initiated by the District Boards concerned and carried out under the Sanitary Drainage Act, VIII of 1895 ; the cost being met, so far as it is not covered by the Government grants, by loans taken by the Boards from Government and being eventually recovered from landholders beneficially affected by the scheme. Apart from the District Board schemes, Rs. 1,40,000 has been provided for schemes to be carried out entirely at the cost of Government; viz., the Saraswati scheme in Howrah district, the Baragachia and Manikhati schemes in the 24-Parganas district and the Chapra Bil scheme in Nadia district. Provision is also made for two anti-malarial schemes to be executed on lines laid down by Dr. Bentley in the towns of Nawabganj and Faridpur as well as for completing Dr. Bentley's experimental schemes in the Burdwan district and at Jungipore. It is expected that the last two schemes, as well as the two schemes at Meenglass and Singram which are being financed by the Indian Research Fund Association, will be completed during the ensuing financial year.

In conclusion, I am glad to be able to announce that intimation was received a few days ago from the Government of India that they have allotted Rs. 1,00,000 from their sanitary reserve for the current financial year for a contribution to the Midnapore waterworks scheme. This amount is being transferred from Imperial to Provincial funds and will be paid at once to the Midnapore Municipality.

XXXI.—Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers.

EXPENDITURE—

45.—Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers.

I beg also to introduce the figures relating to Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers.

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Mr. Cumming.

The Budget estimate of receipts for the current year was Rs. 1,59,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 1,50,000. The decrease has been made mainly with reference to the average actuals of the last three years under the head "Tolls." The budget estimate for 1918-19 is Rs. 1,58,000.

As regards expenditure, the increase of Rs. 2,93,000 in the revised estimate for the current year is the result of an increase of Rs. 3,57,334 in augmentation grants to District Boards and of a provision of Rs. 40,000 for grants to District Boards by Commissioners of Divisions, set off against a decrease of about Rs. 1,00,000 under grants to Municipalities by those officers. This latter reduction is due to the fact that the grants made by the Divisional Commissioner for educational and medical purposes are debited to those heads instead of to the head Civil Works by reappropriation from this head.

The estimate for 1918-19 is Rs. 12,49,000, of which details for Rs. 11,95,490 are given in paragraph 65 of the Financial Statement."

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Mr. Cumming.

He said :—

"Sir, I have the honour to introduce the main heads under Land Revenue and its connected subjects.

The revised estimate of gross land revenue for 1917-18, namely, three crores and one lakh shows a decrease of five lakhs compared with the sanctioned estimate. The difference is mainly due to decreases of 2½ lakhs under ordinary revenue (fixed collections) and of 3½ lakhs under 'Recoveries on account of survey and settlement charges.' The estimated receipts for 1918-19 are one and half lakh less than three crores. An improvement of 2½ lakhs is anticipated in the collections from Government estates, but expected recoveries on account of survey and settlement charges show a decrease of nearly nine lakhs which is due to the postponement in 1916 of the settlement operations in Jessore and Bankura.

The provincial expenditure for 1918-19 is estimated at Rs. 36,28,000 against Rs. 34,38,000, the revised, and Rs. 35,57,000, the budget estimate for 1917-18. The increase is principally due to enhanced provision for improvements in Government estates. The proposed expenditure on General Administration varies very little from that provided in 1917-18. I should like however to mention that we have already 40 Circle officers, and that provision has been made for the appointment of a few more officers at selected centres. The completion of the whole scheme, however, as recommended to Government, must necessarily take time.

"In the case of the Forest Department, there has been an increase in the receipts owing to the supply of a large quantity of sleepers and timber for the Munitions Board, with the result that the gross revenue which we expect to realise during the current year is 15 lakhs against the sanctioned estimate of 13 lakhs. This demand for timber is expected to continue next year; and we have accordingly estimated a revenue of 16 lakhs. On the expenditure side, the current year's estimate has been exceeded by Rs. 78,000, owing to additional grants sanctioned for departmental operations for the supply of timber. The estimate of expenditure for 1918-19 is seven and a half lakhs. This provides for the departmental supply of timber for war purposes and for the sowing and plantation in connection with the artificial regeneration of sal."

"The variations in the receipt side of the head "Agriculture" are due to the normal growth of revenue. On the expenditure side, there is a proposed extension of over 2½ lakhs, in comparison with the current year's estimate of 11½ lakhs. The estimate of over 14 lakhs for next year includes a provision of one lakh for the distribution of improved varieties of jute and paddy seed in the Presidency. As explained in the Financial Statement, this scheme is of special importance and great interest attaches to it. Provision has also been made in next year's budget for strengthening the controlling and inspecting staff required for supervision, inspection and audit of the growing number of co-operative societies in the Presidency."

"The revised estimate of receipts under the head "Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments" for the current year shows a huge increase of Rs. 18,22,000 over the sanctioned estimate. The increase is due to unusually large sales of quinine including a special sale of 30,000 lbs. to the Army for the Eastern Mediterranean Field Force. The estimate of revenue for next year is Rs. 19,09,000 which provides for increased receipts from cinchona plantations and from fees for registering Joint Stock Companies.

The great demand for quinine has resulted in a serious depletion of the reserve built up by this Government just before the outbreak of war; and in order to increase the supply and meet the growing demand, it has been found necessary to replenish the reserve and to extend the existing plantations and increase the output. This explains the increase of Rs. 1,27,000 in the revised estimate of expenditure for the current year as well as the provision of Rs. 11,93,000 for the purchase of Java quinine in the estimate for

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Mr. Donald.

1918-19. The budget for next year also includes provision for the appointment of a Director of Industries, which was sanctioned in October 1917; also for his office and for grants totalling one and half lakh for the development of industries in the Presidency.

"I also beg to introduce the head of Ports and Pilotage which are under the Marine Department. Under this head the shrinkage both in receipts and expenditure on account of the war still continues. In framing an estimate of the cost of the Pilot Establishment in 1918-19, an increase over the revised estimate of the current year has been allowed.

The contribution of 1½ lakhs to the Chittagong Port which is included under the head "Miscellaneous" requires an explanation. Last year the Member in charge stated that the grant then made would be the last in accordance with the five years' arrangement which terminated in 1917-18. In view, however, of the unsatisfactory financial conditions of that port, Government have decided to continue the contribution until the end of the war."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD introduced the following heads :—

1—REFUNDS AND DRAWBACKS.

6—STAMPS.

XII—INTEREST.

XXII AND 29—SUPERANNUATION.

He said :—

"As regards these heads I have nothing to add to what is contained in the Financial Statement."

V—EXCISE.

7—EXCISE.

"As regards excise the actual receipts in 1916-17 amounted to Rs. 1,44,44,229 against Rs. 1,45,00,000, anticipated last year. The receipts in February and March 1917 were below expectations. The budget estimate for the current year is Rs. 1,46,00,000, but during the first ten months there has been a gradual increase almost every month, and collections are already rupees ten lakhs over those of the corresponding period of last year. We anticipate that at the close of the year the total collections will be Rs. 155 lakhs. The consumption of country spirit is going up, as the following figures show. For the first ten months of 1914-15 the consumption amounted to 594,106 gallons, for the same period of 1915-16 to 533,287 gallons, of 1916-17 to 510,684 gallons and of the current year to 570,325 gallons.

This increase is the result of the enforcement of better control over the country spirit trade, particularly in Calcutta; on two occasions during the year steps were taken to check the increase by the imposition of higher duties. The consumption is still less than that of 1914-15. Opium and ganja consumption on the other hand continues to decrease. Taking the figures for ten months the issues of ganja in 1914-15 were 92,018 seers, in 1915-16, 73,298 seers, in 1916-17, 75,193 seers, and in 1917-18, 67,948 seers, while the consumption of opium in 1914-15 amounted to 52,823 seers, in 1915-16, 43,479 seers, in 1916-17, 38,114 seers, and in the present year, 36,832 seers. The treasury price of opium will be raised on the 1st April from Rs. 40 to Rs. 50 per seer, and the estimate of gain on sale proceeds of excise opium has been placed at Rs. 15,80,000 for 1918-19. After the large increase in the current year we do not expect any great rise next year, and the Budget for 1918-19 has been accordingly placed at Rs. 1,60,00,000.

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Mr. Donald.

As to expenditure a full explanation has been given in paragraph 42 of the Financial Statement, and I have nothing to add here."

10.—INCOME TAX.

"As for income-tax expenditure, the work of the Collector of Income-tax has much increased in consequence of the introduction of the new Super-tax Act (Act VIII of 1917), and will be further added to when the new Income-tax Bill becomes law. Provision has been made for increasing the pay and allowance of the Collector, and we shall doubtless have to make certain additions to his establishment."

REVENUE—
XVII—Police.

EXPENDITURE—
20—Police.

"Turning to Police, the receipts exhibit little variation and call for no particular remark.

On the expenditure side Mr. Lyon, in connection with the introduction of the Amended Draft Financial Statement for 1917-18, explained the reasons justifying a larger outlay, which still fell short of the requirements of the Force; but it will be noticed that the revised estimate for 1917-18 shows an appreciable decrease over the Budget figure for that year. Except in so far as this is partly due to transfers to the Public Works Department on account of the execution of works, the saving is rather a matter of the post-ponement of expenditure than of final economy, but certain schemes have not as yet been put through, and the money allotted to them is, therefore, still in hand. The estimate for 1918-19 stands at Rs. 1,37,85,000, showing an increase of Rs. 3,47,000 over the corresponding figure for the previous year. The details of the charges are set forth in paragraph 50 of the memorandum accompanying the Financial Statement, and several of the heavy items are connected with the enhancement of the pay of the subordinate police, which, I think, is generally admitted on all sides to be necessary. Such items are: Rs. 1,00,000 on account of the pay of constables of the Calcutta Police. Rs. 60,308 in respect of the regrading of district sub-inspectors and head-constables in order to give effect to the sanctioned scale, and Rs. 54,114 for raising the pay of head-constables. The sum of Rs. 1,30,759 has been provided for additions to the ordinary reserves of head-constables and constables; money was allotted for this scheme in the current year, but sanction was not received in time for use to be made of it. Other items of importance which are in continuation of similar provisions during 1917-18 are Rs. 1,26,765 connected with the patrol arrangements on the river Hughli, Rs. 6,75,000 for works in connection with the reorganization of the subordinate police in Eastern Bengal and Rs. 1,48,596 connected with the reorganisation of the river police in the same part of the province. The effects of the war on prices are seen in the additional provision for uniforms of the Calcutta Police (Rs. 10,000) and in the increased expenditure under country stationery (Rs. 21,000). Two large items are for additional temporary force in the Intelligence Branch (Rs. 1,04,308), and for increase in the temporary force of the District Intelligence staff (Rs. 2,13,446), the intention being to strengthen the hands of the district establishments in dealing with Intelligence work, which in some areas has now become of a complexity necessitating the strengthening of the existing staffs. This also is an echo from the Budget of the current year. Connected with the better supervision of Criminal Tribes are the provision of Rs. 10,800 for the Karwal Nat Settlement at Saidpur and of Rs. 3.,768 for a special establishment. The appointment of an Additional Superintendent of Police for the district of Faridpur accounts for Rs. 16,992, while there are a number of items connected with the redistribution of heavy charges."

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Mr. Donald.

XXIII.—STATIONERY AND PRINTING.

30.—STATIONERY AND PRINTING.

"The estimate of receipts of the Stationery and Printing Departments calls for little comment. The revenue from this source has diminished with the discontinuance of certain publications. On the expenditure side (Revised) there will be a considerable increase of rupees two lakhs over the Budget figure consequent on the high price of paper and stationery, and as rates are not likely to fall we have repeated this enhanced figure in the Budget for the ensuing year. On the other hand, expenditure on the management and contingencies of the Secretariat Press is less. As to this Press we have, as the Council is aware, been compelled to take measures for the construction of a new building. The present accommodation in Writers' Buildings is far from adequate, and the conditions under which the employés work are of an insanitary character and inimical to their health. Land is being acquired on the Bridge Road at Alipore near the Press and Forms Department building, and during the coming year it is proposed to push on with the levelling of the land, the purchase of bricks, and so much of the construction as can be carried on with the provision of Rs. 50,000 that has been made under Civil Works. We are likely to be faced with difficulties regarding some of the necessary materials of construction, and the provision is therefore smaller than would otherwise have been the case."

XXV.—MISCELLANEOUS.

32.—MISCELLANEOUS.

"The Miscellaneous Budget comprises several small items, and detailed figures under receipts are shown on pages 41 and 42 of the Financial Statement. The revised estimate of receipts is Rs. 6,96,000, an increase of Rs. 38,000 on the Budget. This result is chiefly due to the inclusion of fees for the audit of the offices of the Administrator-General and Official Trustees, which were transferred to the control of the Local Government with effect from the 1st October 1917, and also of fees for the audit of accounts of Co-operative Societies.

On the expenditure side the Revised shows a nominal saving of Rs. 7,72,000, which is mainly due to the adjustment under the appropriate heads of charges for grain compensation allowance for which rupees four lakhs was provided in the Budget, and of grants sanctioned by His Excellency from his allotment for petty grants. The provision of rupees two lakhs for unforeseen charges has also been distributed under the proper heads, while the grants made to the Calcutta Hospital Nurses Institution, the Lady Minto Nursing Association, the Lady Canning Home for training nurses are now debited to the head 'Medical.' Against these transfers and adjustments a sum of Rs. 1,45,407 has been debited to this head in order to adjust a sum advanced from Class II of the Loans Budget for the construction of the Mohamaya Sluice. The Budget for 1918-19 amounts to Rs. 9,14,000, and includes rupees two lakhs for general reserve, Rs. 40,000 for petty grants by His Excellency, Rupees 50,000 for gratuitous relief, and rupees four lakhs for grain compensation allowance. The question of raising the pay of the menials of the several departments of Government, both in Calcutta and the mufassal, is still under consideration, and the Government of India are again being addressed on the subject. Owing to the fall in the price of rice it does not now seem likely that the whole of the sum of rupees four lakhs for grain allowance will be required for this purpose, and it is proposed to utilise a portion of the provision in order to give partial effect to the scheme for the enhancement of the pay of menials."

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Lieut.-Col. Buchanan.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

The Hon'ble LIEUT.-COL. BUCHANAN introduced the following heads :—

REVENUE—

XVI B—Jails.

EXPENDITURE—

19 B—Jails.

He said :—

"There is nothing very noticeable in the Jail Budget except in so far as it again reflects the effects of the war. Thus owing to the larger supplies to the Military Department we have an increase on the receipt side, with additions on the expenditure side for the increased purchase of raw materials for manufactures. The enhanced prices of articles of consumption connected with Jail administration, e.g., uniforms and equipment and lighting, account for further expenditure in excess of the normal. On the other hand, with the greater cheapness of grain dietary charges have fallen."

REVENUE—XXA—MEDICAL.

EXPENDITURE—24A—MEDICAL.

"The continuance of the war has stood in the way of several important schemes connected with the Medical administration of the Presidency. The great Tropical School cannot yet be opened, while the construction of the new Eye Hospital must still be deferred. A scheme is under consideration for the construction of an extension of the Tropical School building to provide for an Institute of Hygiene towards which the Indian Research Association has agreed to contribute Rupees one lakh ; it will not, however, be possible to proceed with the construction of the building at the present time. The servants' quarters at the Medical College Hospital are under construction, and the building of quarters for the servants of the Campbell Hospital who are now accommodated in very dilapidated buildings, will shortly commence. The Ranchi Asylum for Europeans will soon be opened, and when the inmates of the Bhowanipore Asylum are moved there it is proposed to construct on the old site an observation hospital for mental cases. A sum of Rs. 2 lakhs has been provided for the purpose in next year's budget.

The Asylum for Indians at Ranchi is now under construction. This Government provided Rs. 1½ lakhs towards the expenditure this year, and a sum of Rs. 6 lakhs will be paid during 1918-19. The construction of the new buildings at the Mitford Hospital, Dacca, is making satisfactory progress.

Two lakhs of the promised contribution to the Belgachia Medical College have already been paid during the current year, and a third lakh will be given before the 31st March. The balance still due—Rs. 1,62,000—has been provided in the budget for payment in 1918-19. Provision has also been made for the annual recurring grant of Rs. 50,000. Other items of new expenditure are shown in paragraph 53 of the Financial Statement. A noticeable item is the provision for additions to the Campbell and Dacca Medical Schools with the object of accommodating a larger number of students. Proposals for an increase in the pay of Sub-Assistant Surgeons are now under the consideration of the Government of India, and the sum of Rs. 55,000 represents the increase that will be thus entailed."

He said :—

Sir, I have the honour to introduce for the consideration of Council the Public Works heads of the Budget entitled "Irrigation Major Works, XXIX—Receipts and 42—Expenditure and Minor Works and Navigation, XXX—Receipts and 43—Expenditure."

The Major Works with which we have to deal in this Presidency are the Midnapur and Hijili Tidal Canals. In regard to these I have nothing to add to the statements which have been made under this head in paragraphs 33 and 61 of the amended draft financial statement.

In regard to "Minor Works and Navigation" which is more important in its effect upon the Provincial revenues, the chief sources of revenue are the tolls received from navigation on the Calcutta canals, the Sundarbans route and the Madaripur Bhil route which together form the navigable route for boats and inland steamers between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. In this respect I have nothing to add to the statements made in paragraph 34 of the Amended Draft Financial Statement.

The current year's revised estimate of expenditure under "43—Minor Works and Navigation" has been raised from Rs. 22,41,000 to Rs. 22,89,000 on account of the additional grant sanctioned for the anti-malarial scheme in connection with the flooding of the Banka Valley area in the district of Burdwan. The Budget estimate for 1918-19 is for Rs. 27,00,000. This increase is chiefly due to the provision for certain important works as detailed in paragraph 63 of the Amended Draft Financial Statement. In regard to the current year's Revised and next year's Budget estimate of expenditure under this head I may state that in both years a provision of

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Mr. Donald.

Rs. 2,50,000 has been made for works in connection with mitigating the effects of floods in the Burdwan Division. I may also state that a sum of Rs. 3,00,000 has been provided in the Budget estimate of expenditure for next year for the acquisition of land and works in connection with the creation of a spill from the Bidyadhari river in order, it is hoped, to improve that river and thus improve the outfall of the Calcutta drainage system.

In connection with the Damodar Reservoir Scheme the services of an officer with up-to-date experience in the preparation of such projects have been placed at the disposal of this Government by the Government of India and a sum of Rs. 20,000 has been provided in the next year's Budget estimate for expenditure on preliminary works in that connection. The Damodar Canal project which has been prepared with the object of irrigation in the district of Burdwan, and improvement of the sanitary conditions in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly and Howrah is now being revised in accordance with the wishes of the Government of India and it is hoped that the project will be submitted to the Government of India for sanction in the course of the next year. It is proposed to treat this work as a minor work for which both Capital and Revenue accounts are kept.

I have also to introduce for the consideration of the Council the Budget for Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.

I have nothing to add to the statements which have been made under this head on pages 3, 13, 28 and 29 of the Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Paragraph 64, on pages 28 and 29, deals with the expenditure in this and the coming year. The decrease of Rs. 50,000 under Establishment in the Revised Budget of Expenditure for this year is due to an increase in the receipts from the Government of India as contribution towards the establishment employed on Imperial Works. The increase of Rs. 2,55,000 under Repairs is due partly to the normal increase in the number of roads and buildings to be maintained, but mainly to the fact that during the past three years many repair items had to be postponed on account of the financial stringency resulting from the war.

For the coming year after providing for Establishment and Repairs and for the completion of works which will be in progress on the 1st April there is a sum of Rs. 25,30,000 left for new Minor and Major Works, the distribution of which is shown on pages 28 and 29 of the statement.

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"Although the funds for the partition of districts are provided in the Public Works budget the Political Department is concerned with the question, and a brief statement of the present position may therefore be made on its behalf. The sums provided on this account are for Midnapore Rs. 6,64,000 and for Mymensingh Rs. 6,50,000. These are two of the items in respect of which we have been allowed to draw on our balances, and the Council has before this discussed the merits of the proposals. The Secretary of State has now approved of the principle on which the division of Midnapore is contemplated, and has allowed preliminary arrangements for brick burning to proceed, while final orders as to details are expected shortly. The estimates of the Mymensingh project are in an advanced stage, and will, it is anticipated, be submitted to the Government of India shortly. It is hoped, therefore, to make some progress during the year with these long deferred schemes.

The Hon'ble MR. WORDSWORTH said :—

"SIR, I have the honour to introduce for the consideration of the Council the Budget heads of—

XIX.—Education—Receipts.
22.—Education—Expenditure.

Receipts.—On the receipts side of the Budget there is little to observe except that the upward tendency of receipts noticeable in the preceding Budgets has been maintained. The following figures explain the situation :—

			Rs.
1914-15	... Actuals	...	... 8,47,110
1915-16	... Do.	...	... 8,86,574
1916-17	... Do.	...	... 9,47,392
1917-18	... Revised	...	... 9,40,000
1918-19	... Budget	...	... 9,79,000

Although the "Revised" figure for 1917-18 has been put at Rs. 9,40,000 it is expected that the actuals for the year will be in the neighbourhood of Rs. 9,50,000.

Expenditure.—There was a steady growth in educational expenditure up to the year 1914-15, when normal expansion was arrested by circumstances due to the war. The figures of expenditure for the years 1915-16 and 1916-17 showed a decline, but the revised Budget for the current year and the estimate for next year give indications of increase as will appear from the following figures :—

			Rs.
1912-13	... Actuals	...	... 73,76,829
1913-14	... Do.	...	... 81,12,515
1914-15	... Do.	...	... 92,07,022
1915-16	... Do.	...	... 84,83,414
1916-17	... Do.	...	... 76,87,152
1917-18	... Revised	...	... 81,14,000
1918-19	... Budget	...	... 1,03,01,000*

I should explain in this connexion that the various Imperial grants which have hitherto appeared in the Budget as lump provisions are distributed in the Budget for the next financial year under the several detailed heads of charges. Certain balances which have not been formally allocated to definite objects of expenditure are shown in lump.

The Budget which I introduce to the Council has been framed on strict lines and contains little of special note. Its outstanding features are explained in the Financial Statement before us, the items of new expenditure included in it being shown on pages 6, 21, 92 and 93 of that Statement. It is not necessary to repeat them. I wish, however, to add a few words in explanation of the following items :—

1. Starting of two hostels in the old Secretariat Building at Dacca—one for Hindus and the other for Muhammadans ... ... Rs. 16,500

   There is a hostel attached to the Dacca College. But as this is not large enough to accommodate all the students seeking accommodation in the college hostel many students were hitherto accommodated in messes instituted in the town under the Dacca Mess Scheme. As a more satisfactory arrangement a section of the old Secretariat building at Dacca has been adapted and is now used for hostel purposes. The recurring charges in connexion with this arrangement amounts to Rs. 16,500.

2. Appointment of an additional Professor of English, Hooghly College ... ... Rs. 2,400

   An increase in the number of students in the 1st and 2nd year classes of the College has made the present arrangement for the teaching of English inadequate. The cost of the appointment of an additional Professor of English has accordingly been provided for.

* This figure includes the recurring assignment just notified of 5½ lakhs from Imperial Revenues for the improvement of primary education.

The Amended Draft Financial Statement.

Rai Priya Nath Mukherji Bahadur.

3. A sum of Rs. 3,39,000 has been provided under "Grants-in-aid" for Calcutta hostels. This sum, the details of which were given by Mr. Hornell while introducing the Budget for the current year, was not spent during 1917-18, and it is necessary to repeat the provision ; Rs. 1,89,000 of which will be utilized in completing the Calcutta hostels project and the balance for the improvement of the accommodation for the Bethune College.

4. The notification of 5½ lakhs recurring grant from Imperial sources for primary education has been received too recently to permit me to indicate in detail the directions in which it will be utilised. As soon as the necessary instructions are received from the Government of India schemes for the utilisation of the grant will be drawn up.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 8.

The Hon'ble RAI PRIYA NATH MUKHERJI BAHADUR introduced the following heads :—

REVENUE—X—REGISTRATION.
EXPENDITURE—12—REGISTRATION.

He said :—

"SIR, I have the honour to introduce the heads of revenue and expenditure of the Registration Department.

The sanctioned estimate of receipts for the current year was Rs. 22,00,000. In the light of the average for the nine months this estimate has had to be revised and it is now anticipated to be Rs. 19,60,000. This defect is due to a fall in the number of registrations by about 10 per cent. The year has been one of bumper crops, but the price of jute has been unusually low and owing to want of freight rice could not be exported and is a drug on the market. On the other hand, there has been a large rise in the price of many necessaries of life, specially in cloth and other imported goods. All these have contributed to make money scarce. The result is that creditors have found realization difficult and investment has been restricted. Also, agriculturists having plenty of cheap food were placed above the necessity of borrowing or selling off their lands. These factors have combined to keep down the number of registrations. The condition of things is rather abnormal and it is difficult to draw any conclusions on the basis of past years when it was found that both prosperity and adversity contributed towards increase in registrations. To be on the safe side, we have estimated the receipts for the next year on the supposition that the present conditions might continue and we have accordingly put it down at Rs. 19,60,000.

On the expenditure side, the estimate provides for Rs. 11,57,000. The sanctioned estimate for the present year is Rs. 11,36,000 and the revised estimate on the basis of actuals is Rs. 11,60,000. The increase of Rs. 24,000, or about 2 per cent. is due to larger expenditure on various services, such as temporary copying establishments, establishments for experimental and temporary offices opened to serve public convenience, increased contingent expenditure for the equipment of offices and renovation and rebinding of valuable books and registers, increase in travelling allowances on account of more frequent and necessary inspections and rearrangement of the cadre in accordance with the present scale. This is a growing department and its needs are many. The estimate for the next year has been put down at Rs. 11,54,000, as Rs. 3,000 for grain compensation has been excluded, having been shown under head "Miscellaneous."

Owing to the war we have had again to keep in abeyance various schemes for the permanent improvement of the Department. The proposal for the revision of the cadre which will greatly benefit the officers is now before the Secretary of State. The long deferred scheme for the revision of the ministerial establishment in the district headquarters and mofussil offices which has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State cannot be given effect to for want of funds. We have had to cut down expenditure to the irreducible minimum for carrying on the current work of the Department, and it is a matter of regret that several much needed improvements have inevitably to be postponed."

RESOLUTIONS.

(Under the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest.)

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 9.

The PRESIDENT (SIR HENRY WHEELER) said :—

"The Hon'ble Mover of this resolution does not appear to be here. The resolution therefore fails unless any other non-official member desires to move it on his behalf."

The HON'BLE MAULVI ABUL KASEM, in the absence of the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq, moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the special tribunals constituted under the Defence of India (Criminal Law Amendment) Act, 1915, for the trial of persons accused of being concerned in the recent disturbances of looting in hâts and bazars be dissolved, and that the trial of such persons be held under the ordinary law.

He said :—

"Sir, the object of moving this resolution is that on the ground of economy, expediency and justice it is desirable that the accused in the hât-looting cases should be tried by ordinary courts and not by special tribunals. It is also admitted by the Government that these hât-looting cases have arisen out of economic conditions prevailing in the country and that the accused in these cases are not habitual criminals, nor are they guilty of heinous offences. We have been induced to move this resolution also on the ground that that these tribunals have not given satisfaction to the public, and on account of the monstrously heavy sentences passed by some of these tribunals. Any ordinary courts in dealing with cases like these would remember that there is a right of appeal and they would therefore decide the cases accordingly, and with a fear that there is an Appellate Court. But these tribunals are immune from all these difficulties and have passed as heavy sentences as they liked on the convicted people without much consideration. The public impression is that these tribunals want to finish the work as best they can and the sentences they have passed have not given public satisfaction. Nobody denies that the people concerned in these cases should not be dealt with summarily and punished; but they should not be treated as hardened criminals nor should the sentences be very heavy. This is not a new occurrence in Bengal. In 1906-07 such cases of rioting happened in several parts of the Mymensingh and Barisal districts, and the accused were as large in number as those concerned in the present cases. They were tried by the ordinary courts and the punishments meted out to them were very reasonable and in a very few cases there was an appeal Such cases also happened in Midnapore and in the 24-Parganas; and we do not understand why it is necessary to have special tribunals at heavy expense for the purpose of trying these cases. The people can understand that in cases like these several innocent people are concerned. When there has been a riot some people will be summarily tried and some innocent people may be implicated in such cases—there is no help for that. What we object to is the wholesale constitution of these tribunals. It is true that non-official Indians are on these tribunals but the choice lies with the executive officials.

Resolutions.

Rai Mohendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

I am sorry to say that the personnel of these tribunals has not given satisfaction and we demand that these accused persons be tried by the ordinary courts. With these few words I commend this resolution to the acceptance of this Council."

(At this stage, the Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA took the Chair).

The Hon'ble RAI MOHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, I have to submit a few observations in connection with the resolution. The Hon'ble Mover wishes that the special tribunals constituted for the trial of offenders under the provisions of the Defence of India Act, 1915, in hât-looting cases be dissolved. There are certain admitted facts which come to my mind. The poor cultivators have been put to distressed circumstances, owing to abnormally high prices of food stuffs, cloth and other necessaries of life. They cannot purchase a pair of dhootis with the sale-proceeds of a maund of paddy or jute. There is no proper supply of articles, although the demand is heavy. On the 19th December last I moved the Council to devise means to relieve the distressed condition of the jute cultivators. I then stated : 'Every morning we get disquieting news of looting in the Muffassal bazars. I have heard of proclamations issued by Mr. F. A. Sachse, District Magistrate, Noakhali, in which to preclude the possibility of looting in the bazars he has penalised the holding of the hât after 3 P.M., he has openly admitted that as long as the war continues prices will remain high and there is chance of looting recurring in the bazars. And as it is impossible to station armed police in all bazars he ordered, under section 144 of the Civil Procedure Code, the closing of all bazars at 3 P.M.' This, Sir, is a serious state of affairs and I am sure it is receiving that consideration from Your Excellency's Government which it demands. But I must say that though our police may be powerful enough to restore tranquility in disturbed areas, they will not be able to eradicate the possibility of the recurrence of disturbances as long as they have to deal with that dangerous element—a poor peasantry armed with hunger and exasperated. Not only should the poor peasants be relieved of their present distress but steps should also be taken to induce them not to give up cultivation of jute in despair.' This is the sad picture which I then presented to the Council and it is now known that special tribunals have been established for trying the alleged offenders. I read in the Statesman of the 28th of February last that hât-looting cases were dealt with in the ordinary criminal court in the district of the 24-Parganas, and that the offenders were punished with imprisonment of a few months. In Bombay, ordinary criminal courts meted out the punishment to the offenders. Now the question raised by the Hon'ble Mover is of grave importance. Have the Government exercised sound discretion in constituting special tribunals to try the offenders. Do the hât-looting cases present to us facts which necessitated special measures to secure public safety and the defence of British India? Was it necessary in such cases for the local Government to direct an order under section 3 of the Act? No one can question the absolute authority given to Government for the appointment of the Commissioners to try such offences But have the Government properly exercised their jurisdiction in a sound manner, in divesting the ordinary criminal court to try offenders in hât-looting cases? The growing popular feeling is that the administration of the ordinary law may be sufficient to check these disturbances in hâts and bazars. The public naturally consider that the ordinary criminal courts can try such offenders. The commission of ofiences of dacoity, murder, robbery, rioting, theft, etc., may be tried in ordinary courts. Public tranquility may be maintained by the ordinary and speedy procedure laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure. The hât-looting cases cannot be viewed as assuming a political significance so as to threaten the safety and tranquility of the British Empire.

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; Sir Henry Wheeler.

We all condemn the political organizations the object of which is to spread anarchism, but we are at a loss to know why criminal cases of ordinary kind are only to be tried by special tribunals; the offenders when so tried, loose the right of appeal. This procedure is very alarming to the public mind and the public have a right to ask the Government to disolve the special tribunals and to drift the course of law to run smoothly in an ordinary way. The special tribunals are to be constituted when the ordinary criminal courts are not in a position to punish the offenders brought before them. If there be a departure from the procedure laid down in the Code of the Criminal Procedure, it is open to the public to come forward and criticise the action of Government. As long as the Defence of India Act is in the Statute Book, every loyal citizen should and must submit to it; but, Sir, if there be no necessity or even if there is doubtful necessity the Defence of India Act should not be resorted to for the trial of such offenders. I respectfully submit that there is an obligation upon Government to act upon the reasonable criticisms submitted to them by the people of the country. We are bound to reason with Government and point out their errors. There is a growing feeling of a large section of the community against C. I. D. officers, against the police whose unpopularity is immense. The police is a powerful agency on behalf of Government. Their action is watched with anxiety. Unpardonable errors are committed by them as in the case of the Sindoobalas. It is our anxious desire—our humble request to Government that they should constitute special tribunals not on police versions but upon enquiries made by responsible gazetted officers other than those whose over-zeal and high-handedness create discontent among the people and make them unhappy. In this view with all respect to those who had to report to Government to constitute such tribunals I feel it my duty to support the resolution of the Hon'ble Mover."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, I think the resolution should be accepted. These hât-looting cases have nothing to do with the political crimes. They generally arose out of the economic pressure exerted by the unthinking poor and uneducated mobs. The very fact that these cases occurred in broad day light in hâts and bazars, show that they could not have been premeditated; on a sudden impulse the unthinking and uneducated mobs committed these acts of lawlessness. Of course, it is not unlikely that the low class bad characters took advantage of these occurrences and aggravated the seriousness of the situation. The police investigations in such cases are far from satisfactory. There are reasons to believe that in some cases probably from interested motives the real culprits are not either traced or are let off and the innocent bystanders are sent up in order to make some persons the scapegoats. For these reasons, it is very reasonable that in the trial of these cases—though the question of identification in the actual participation in the act of looting is a very simple one—still it is very desirable that the police investigation should be conducted with a full sense of responsibility and with a view that the defence should get all the advantages of ordinary trials. Of course, in jury districts they will get the benefit of the verdict of the jury; the local people are likely to know more about the nature of the thing and they should get the advantage of an appeal to the higher courts. For these reasons, I think the proposal should be accepted and there is no reason why the ordinary law courts should not be competent to deal with these cases. With these few words, I heartily support this resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, in opposing this resolution, I should like to remind the Council of the situation with which we were faced towards the end of last, and the beginning of the present, year, and while explaining the reasons why these special tribunals were created, to disabuse some Hon'ble Members of the idea that in adopting this procedure we were making a use of the Defence of India Act to which those who passed that Act did not intend that it should be put. As will be fresh in the minds of all of us, towards the end of last year and, I think, extending also into 1918, there occurred in certain districts of the province, beginning originally in Noakhali and Chittagong, a series of cases in which mobs looted hâts and bazars, took away articles from the shops, and assaulted the shopkeepers and in some cases also the police. The total number of such occurrences was 148; they extended to all the divisions of the province—being 38 in the Presidency Division, 15 in the Burdwan, 28 in the Dacca Division, 16 in the Chittagong and 51 in the Rajshahi Division. The example that was set, at first in a more or less local corner, spread to other districts with the results which I have just mentioned. And I think it will also be remembered that the papers at that time were full of appeals to Government to restore law and order and to prevent the interference with the peaceful life of citizens and shopkeepers. That is the situation which arose, at a time when this country, along with the rest of the Empire, was engaged in this deadly war. It was a situation which had a direct bearing on the war. To the best of our ability we tried to quell the disturbances with the men at our disposal; but had they extended over a wider areas, it would have been inevitably necessary to call in aid from outside, which would have directly affected the military arrangements of the Government of India.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

That being the situation, what were the requirements to meet it? In the first place, I submit, the primary requirement was the speedy restoration of law and order. It was the fundamental duty of Government not to run the risk of these disturbances spreading throughout Bengal, and from Bengal possibly to other provinces. The restoration of law and order was effected by bringing in police from outside, thus necessarily depleting the police in other districts, and by the arrest of offenders and the investigation of cases as quickly as possible: for that purpose, too, special officers were brought in from outside; when these cases were instituted, the second requirement was their speedy disposal, both in order that people might realise that punishment would follow quickly upon their offences, and to allay feeling among the people themselves, because, undoubtedly, there was a tendency in some places for these occurrences to have engendered a certain amount of friction among different communities. Another reason for expedition was in order that our depleted staffs and over-worked officers might not have their energies entirely absorbed in the disposal of these cases. Fortunately the cases ceased; but had they gone on it would have been most detrimental to the administration if our police and magistrates had found their hands absolutely full and been unable to cope with new occurrences.

Such being the situation, and the requirements of the situation as I view them, I may explain to the Council the action we took. In the majority of instances the disposal of these cases has been left to the ordinary courts. Even in districts where special tribunals have been created, it is only the more serious cases which have been made over to the special tribunals. As an instance, in the district of Rangpur, I find that out of 20 cases only 7 have been made over to the special tribunal, and it is inevitable that this should be so, since the only cases that are triable by the special tribunals are those falling under sections 395 and 412 of the Indian Penal Code. Obviously, therefore, any charges that do not come within these sections cannot be tried by the special tribunals. We, did not, moreover, set up tribunals everywhere, and as a matter of fact, they were appointed only in the districts of Chittagong, Noakhali, Rangpur, Dinajpur, Jessore and Khulna. In these six districts there were for disposal 48 cases with 1,338 accused—thus bearing out the contention that, but for the adoption of this special procedure, these cases, involving many accused persons, might have dragged on for an inordinate time. Of these cases 8, involving 258 accused, have been disposed of ; 24, involving 915 accused, are pending, and 4, involving 165 accused, are put down as likely to be brought before the tribunals.

It is not my purpose to defend the personnel of these tribunals, and I should regard my doing so as improper as attacks upon them in this Council ; but since the point has been touched upon by one Hon'ble Member I will merely draw attention to what the constitution of the tribunals has been. In the Chittagong district the members serving upon the tribunal are the District and Sessions Judge, a deputy magistrate, an honorary magistrate and a landholder and merchant ; in Noakhali, the District and Sessions Judge, a pleader and the Vice-Chairman of the District Board ; in Rangpur the District and Sessions Judge, a pleader and a deputy magistrate, in Dinajpur the District and Sessions Judge, a pleader and a deputy magistrate ; in Jessore and Khulna the District and Sessions Judge, a retired Presidency magistrate and a pleader. So far as possible, an attempt has been made to have on the tribunals both a Hindu and a Muhammadan. I am content to leave the matter at that.

That being what we have done and the reason why we have done it, I would now only touch upon the last point, namely, the idea that we have misused the Defence of India Act in appointing these tribunals. That can best be tested by a reference to the discussion in the Imperial Council at the time when the Defence of India Act was passed. I shall be able to show that the situation which arose here was described almost verbatim by Sir R. Craddock in the course of his speeches on the Bill as a contigency against which the Act was directed. In dealing with the special procedure provided for in the Act, he pointed out the extreme necessity at a time of war of maintaining the public peace, and after dealing with two contingencies with which we are not now concerned, he referred to a third. With your permission, Sir, I would like to quote his remarks on this point, as they have a very direct bearing upon the present situation :—

Thirdly, we come to a class of disorder which has characterised recent disturbances in the Western Punjab. This is of a different kind and has no definite political object when it starts ;—it is simply lawlessness, partly induced by economic unrest. Men break out against the restraints of the law to plunder their weaker neighbours and if this lawlessness is unchecked it soon assumes the aspect of rebellion against all constituted authority, or it may take on the complexion of racial or religious rioting. In some of the Western Punjab districts, indeed, it is rapidly becoming a movement among lawless Muhammadans, under the stress or pretext of high prices, to loot and plunder their Hindu neighbours, to wreck the shops and houses of banias and burn their bonds and books. Violent mobs of this kind rapidly swell in numbers ; any success draws in fresh adherents or produces imitators, and the danger may become a very serious one if it is not effectively dealt with at the very start.

These words most aptly represent the state of affairs with which this Government was faced during the period I have mentioned, and that being so, and it being the clearest duty of Government to maintain order in the province in these times of stress, I maintain that we were absolutely justified in these circumstances in ensuring the prompt disposal of these cases by adopting the special means which the Act places at our disposal. I cannot, therefore, accept the resolution on behalf of Government."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"Sir, we are thankful to the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler for the statement he has made, but I am sorry to say that I fail to understand why it is necessary for the speedy restoration of peace and order that these cases should be tried by special tribunals. The Hon'ble Member-in-charge himself admits that special tribunals have not been formed in all the districts of

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler ; Maulvi Abul Kasem.

Bengal and even where they have been formed, all the cases have not been made over to them for disposal. As I began by saying and as the resolution itself says—we want especially in the serious cases that the accused should have the right of appeal against the decision of the first court of justice ; and what is more we desire that the Court passing the judgment and sentence should have an idea that their judgments are subject to appeal and that will be moral check on their judgments. That is the reason why we have taken the opportunity of moving this resolution. Nobody denies that it was absolutely necessary to restore peace and order and prevent a recurrence of these things and the Government was certainly appealed to on that behalf and we still have the opinion that if there be a recurrence of such lawlessness, speedy measures should be adopted to check the spread of these cases. It is true that peace and order had to be restored by the police but not by a prompt and speedy trial of the offences. These offences could have been tried at a much less cost by the ordinary courts than by these special tribunals, and, I think, more speedily with this advantage, that in case of their being tried by a magistrate there would have been an appeal. With due deference to the Hon'ble Member-in-charge, I would submit that there is no foundation for the statement that these hât-looting cases were due to any difference of feeling between the two communities : there was absolutely no such feeling at the time when these cases occurred."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

" The Hon'ble Member is misrepresenting what I said. I never stated that these occurrences had been caused by ill-feeling between different communities, but that in the course of them there was a danger of ill-feeling between the different communities developing."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM, continuing, said :—

" Sir, I have found from certain statements made in the vernacular Press that an attempt was made to make out that these hât-looting cases were due to racial feeling between the Hindus and Muhammadans, but from enquiries made, both by officials and by non-officials, we have found that there is absolutely no foundation for such a statement. I think the Press have corrected this statement. These disturbances were entirely due to economic conditions, and these rustic people, rightly or wrongly, believed that the prices of some articles were raised for the advantage and aggrandisement of the dealers of those articles and the people wanted to have revenge on them. It was certainly unlawful on their part to do so, and what we wanted was that these people should be tried by the ordinary courts and reasonable sentences be passed on them. I understand that in one case about 20 to 25 persons have been sentenced to hea y sentences of 7 to 8 years' rigorous imprisonment. These are surely sentences which should be passed on hardened criminals. For these reasons, I submit, Sir, that this resolution should be accepted by this Council."

The motion was then put and lost.

At the instance of the President Item No. 11 was taken up for discussion before Item No. 10.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 11.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM, in the absence of Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul Haq, moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a gazetted officer (not being a police officer) be specially deputed to make full and detailed inquiries into all cases of alleged oppression committed by the police in connection with the recent disturbances of looting in hâts and bazars.

He said—

"Sir, in moving this resolution I only make mention that rightly or wrongly there is an impression in the public mind that the police have taken advantage of the hât-looting cases in going over to villages and extorting money from the villagers and submitting them to all sorts of torture. Allegations have been made both in the Press and by various bodies of people against this sort of thing and in justice to the police themselves and for the good name of the Government, I think the Government ought to accept this resolution and hold an inquiry, entirely independent of police agency, to find out whether there is any truth in these allegations or not, but allegations have been persistently made with a good deal of vehemence by people residing in those parts of the country where these cases have occurred. It has been alleged, first, that hâts were looted and, secondly, that villages were looted in their turn. In justice to the police officers themselves I see no reason why an enquiry should not be directed. Efficiency of the police itself demands that an enquiry should be made, and I hope Government will be pleased to accept this resolution and hold an enquiry. Even in this case I do not ask for a non-official enquiry but an official enquiry which is not a police one."

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said—

"Sir, in supporting this resolution I take this opportunity of saying that every one knows that after some disturbance the police do take the opportunity of realising something from the people of the locality. Sometimes the police themselves create the trouble solely for the purpose of squeezing out money from the accused. Sir, in the district of Rangpur, I know it personally, that the police from one village have been able to take a great amount of money from the villagers as bribe. When I put this before the District Magistrate and told him about it I heard that he held an enquiry or rather had the enquiry held by some body and the report was that no allegations were made out. In this resolution it is urged that a gazetted officer, not being a police officer, be especially deputed to enquire into these allegations. With regard to this matter I would only make this observation that when an officer goes to a village to enquire into cases of this sort he is always surrounded by the police who try always to keep out the people coming near the gazetted officer. If the gazetted officer goes to the village without a police officer with him and tries to take the help of the people of the locality there, then I think this enquiry will be helpful; otherwise what is the good of sending some body of the police force to enquire into these cases as the villagers themselves will be afraid to come forward to substantiate the allegation they make against the police. With these few words I heartily support this resolution."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PROSAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"Sir, I rise to support this resolution. On the occasion of my recent visit to Rangpur I found the feeling there to be very strong in connection with these cases, and I certainly think that for the good name of the police and of the Government a thorough investigation is required. There is not the least doubt that public feeling in some of the districts is very high."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said:—

"Sir, I would, first of all, put it to the Council that the particular proposal contained in the resolution cannot, in any circumstances, be the best means of arriving at the object in view. It proposes the deputation of a special gazetted officer to make a detailed enquiry in all the areas in which allegations against the police may have been made in connection with these hât-looting cases. I have just told the Council the number and extent of these cases, and I can see no advantage in superseding the ordinary staff on whom such enquiries would ordinarily devolve in favour, at this late day, of one special officer who will have to tour round all the districts concerned and endeavour to ascertain facts which, as I shall show later, have already been investigated.

Resolutions.

Sir Henery Wheeler.

The importance of prompt enquiry into any allegations of misconduct on the part of police is not one which is in any way new to Government ; it has long been realised and it is provided for in the rules. The rules of the Police Manual require the immediate report of any such serious allegations to the Superintendent of Police, and through him to the District Magistrate ; while on receipt of that information it is the duty of the District Magistrate to consider whether he should order a magisterial enquiry in lieu of the departmental enquiry, which the Superintendent of Police (in the absence of the District Magistrate) should always institute of his own motion, or whether he should instruct a magistrate to co-operate with the Superintendent of Police or the Subdivisional Police officer in the enquiry. There is a specific direction, therefore, drawing the attention of all our officers to the importance of this matter and impressing on them the expediency of enquiry by extra departmental agency in serious cases. The particular matter of allegations against the police in hât-looting cases is not, of course, in itself different from similar allegations made against the police in any other connection, and it would be improper, in my opinion, to attempt to lay down that because allegations are made in connection with hât-looting cases, even though these may have been adduced in several districts and have attracted a certain amount of attention, a novel procedure should be adopted which would not be followed otherwise. But, as a matter of fact, in connection with these allegations, we ourselves, over and above the rules, drew the attention of our local officers to the need for enquiry. On seeing certain violent statements made in certain newspapers, which I need not particularise, but of the recklessness of some of which the Council may judge by the communiqué which we issued the other day specifically denying the allegation that a number of people had died from ill-treatment, we wrote on the 2nd and 5th February to the officers concerned, pointing out that these complaints were being mooted and that—if there were specific allegations made—they must be enquired into promptly. In one of our letters we even suggested the deputation of a magisterial officer, thus echoing our rules which lay down such a procedure when the charges are serious. Therefore long before this resolution was moved, and in addition to our standing orders governing these matters, we directed an enquiry. In response to these orders enquiries have been made, and I would like to draw the attention of the Council to the reports received, which will give some indication of the action that has been taken and of the present situation.

I referred just now to specific allegations against the police, and our orders were confined to them only. If the charge is that an offence has been committed, it is only fair to the police that persons should come forward and state exactly what has happened. I greatly deprecate statements like ' We do not say it is true, we cannot say whether it is correct or not, but people are under the impression that horrible offences are being committed,' and so on ; nor, to my mind, does it redound to the credit of those who lay charges of that description. However, we ordered enquiries into specific allegations, and the general purport of the replies is as follows :—

From the districts of Rajshahi, Bogra, Jalpaiguri, Dinajpur, Pabna, Jessore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Khulna, Bankura, Birbhum, the Chittagong

Hill Tracts, Tippera and Dacca we were told that no such specific allegations have been made.

The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division reported that as regards Chittagong he had heard of no such allegations or rumours except the articles in the newspapers. At Noakhali he had seen the Hon'ble Maulvis Fazl-ul Haq and Abul Kasem, who complained to him of this matter, though before their arrival the people had not done so. He asked them to produce evidence, but they declined to do so on the ground that the people were afraid to come forward to give evidence against the police. The Commissioner, however, advised the District Magistrate to make an enquiry, and on the 20th February he reported that the District Magistrate had made an enquiry and was directing the prosecution of a sub-inspector and certain constables and dafadars. From the report of the District Magistrate of the 23rd February, it appears that 58 complaints were the outcome of one case in which a sub-inspector had nearly been beaten to death, and 21 complaints of another. The District Magistrate enquired into matters personally, assisted by a sub-registrar, and, as I have said, certain prosecutions have been the outcome. These cases are presumably now pending, and it would be improper to pronounce any opinion on them.

The District Magistrate of Chittagong reported that the 'allegation that police arrested people indiscriminately appears to be without any foundation as far as this district is concerned.' Neither in the cases that have been instituted before the courts had these allegations been seriously made.

I now turn to the district of Rangpur, to which the Hon'ble Mr. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri has referred, and I think I can show that the impression he has got that nothing has been done is erroneous. The District Magistrate reports :

'The work of the investigating police officers was carefully supervised by police officers of superior rank and also in most cases by the Subdivisional Officer and District Magistrate himself. Of the 20 cases which occurred in the district 15 were personally looked up by me. As far as I know there has been no allegation by any of the persons arrested in any case that they have been wrongfully arrested at the instance of any zamindar or his amla.'

The latter is an accusation that was freely made in some quarters. He then goes on to refer to certain specific cases.

Thus in the Fulbari looting case, the Subdivisional Officer reported that the allegation was without foundation. In the Bharatkhali case, regarding which a complaint was made by Mr. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri, an enquiry was held by the Subdivisional Officer. The charge of wrongful arrest by a railway head-constable was not substantiated. Three other cases which were brought forward broke down, and I understand that one case against a panchayat is still pending. In the Chilmari looting case, the enquiry was made by the Subdivisional Officer who was of opinion that the charges brought against the police and tahsildar were false and without foundation, being the outcome of party feeling. The District Magistrate personally visited the spot during the police enquiry and states that 'no complaint was made by any person either against the police or tahsildar.' The District Magistrate is now, however, making a further enquiry into these charges. A particular accusation that a woman had a miscarriage by reason of police ill-treatment was enquired into by the Subdivisional Officer, who found that it was without foundation. The Sunderganj case was investigated by the Subdivisional Officer, a deputy magistrate and also by the District Magistrate. It has been held that an inspector, a sub-inspector and a constable are at fault, and a prosecution will be instituted against those persons against whom legal evidence is forthcoming.

I now turn to the district of Bogra in which, in connection with a charge of assault on the police, similar allegations were made; they were enquired into by the Subdivisional Officer and held to be unsubstantiated.

In Malda, 9 petitions were filed against the attachment of movable property; the allegations were generally that the police had attached the properties of absconders which the relatives alleged did not belong to the men who were wanted. These cases were enquired into by a sub-inspector and one complaint of a different character was taken up by the Superintendent of Police.

In the 24-Parganas, there was a complaint made against a chaukidar, which was enquired into by a sub-deputy collector and found to be unsubstantiated.

In Mymensingh there were two petty cases against a dafadar and certain constables; one was enquired into by a deputy superintendent of police and another by a sub-deputy collector.

In Midnapore, there was one case which was enquired into by a deputy magistrate and found to be false.

I think the Council will see, therefore, that under our instructions enquiry has been made into a number of cases. Some of these have been held to break down. Where, however, in the opinion of the enquiring officer there was a primâ facie case against any members of the police, we have not hesitated to put them on their trial and the result must be left to the courts. There is no need, therefore, for further enquiry, since Government have already dealt amply with the situation, and I submit that the resolution should not be accepted."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"Sir, although the wording of the resolution is somewhat vague yet it was never in my mind to suggest that a gazetted officer should go round all the district and hold enquiries. What I meant to suggest was that in each district a gazetted officer, not being a police officer, be deputed to make these enquiries. We quite admit that it is wrong to make allegations without giving specific instances, but the difficulty lies not only with the people. Rustic people are always afraid to complain against the police or to say that they have given bribes. There are other reasons too. Having offered bribes they are also guilty, and, secondly, they believe that if they give evidence against the police they will be hunted down by the police and may be put to all sorts of trouble on different occasions. So they do not venture to come forward. Reference has been made that these allegations had not been made before we went to see the District Magistrate. The District Magistrate said that he had never heard of any allegation. We told him that nobody had come because they dared not come. They did not venture to complain against the police, and even when a primâ facie case to proceed against the police is made out the people do not come forward to give evidence. But there still remains the impression that an enquiry by the Deputy Superintendent of Police or the Superintendent of Police is carried on more with a view to protect the police than to find out the guilty. The impression is there, and I think there are very good grounds for the impression, that whenever any complaint is made against the police, higher officials do not try to find the truth about it, but that they want to see how best they can save their subordinate officers, and that is the reason why the subordinate police is so unpopular with the people.

Resolutions.

Mr. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhury; Sir S. P. Sinha.

I am glad, however, to know that orders have been issued to make these enquiries and I only suggest that these enquiries should be held by gazetted officers, preferably by the District Magistrate, and I see no reason why this resolution cannot be accepted by Government."

The motion was put and lost.

At this stage the Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER again took the chair.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 10.

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI in the absence of the Hon'ble MAULVI FAZL-UL HAQ moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that in the case of trials arising out of the recent disturbances of looting in hâts and bazars, the defence of all accused persons who are too poor to defend themselves shall be undertaken by Government.

He said :—

"Sir, it is the custom of the British Courts that if there is nobody to defend an accused in a Police Court, the sympathetic Judge always asks junior members of the bar to come and defend him. Sir, we have got instances that in murder cases the Judge asks somebody to defend the accused, perhaps this is generally done. But in other cases there is no such rule as this. In hât looting cases the accused generally go undefended and they have gone undefended in some cases. In hât-looting cases the accused are generally poor and they would not have been sent up as accused persons if they were not poor. Why is that? Because they have not been able to get away from the clutches of the police, and that is the reason. As far as I have been able to gather information personally and from others also, I have come to this conclusion that the real offenders have escaped but those who were very poor and those who have been asked by the police to bribe them and have not done so have only been sent up and are being tried by the Courts as accused persons. In Bharatkhali there were something like 92 accused persons and, if I am not far wrong, some women and children were also sent up by the police, but the District Magistrate discharged the women and children, and then later on out of the 92, four were discharged as there was no evidence against them. Out of the remaining 88 only 39 persons have been acquitted as there was no evidence against them. From these facts one can at once see that the poor people, those who are innocent, have been sent up. Therefore there is no harm in accepting this proposal by the Council that the poor people who have really been sent up as accused before the Courts should be defended by pleaders or by vakils. There is a feeling in this country that those people who had been brought before the Courts are really innocent persons and it would do credit to your Government if you show due respect to this feeling. The police know that they are safe whatever they may do. but if that idea grows you cannot depend upon your police, and then what will be the state of the country? With these words I commend this resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA said :—

"I am sorry, Sir, I am unable to accept this resolution on behalf of the Government. In the first place, I could not do so, because this was a matter which we should have to report to the Government of India and obtain their orders before we could pass an order ourselves. The present rule is that it is only in cases of persons accused of murder that their defence is undertaken or rather provided for by Government, and even in these cases there were until recently two limitations ; first, that the accused persons must be unable to provide for their defence themselves, and, secondly, that the nature of the defence must be such as to induce either the District Magistrate on the Sessions Judge to conclude that the accused ought to have legal assistance provided for them. In all other cases, that is cases other than murder, there is no provision at the present moment by which it is the duty either of the District Magistrate or the Sessions Judge to provide for the legal defence of accused persons. It would, therefore, be a very wide extension of the principle now applied to murder cases. We should hardly be justified in accepting such an extension in these cases without extending to all cases of accused persons charged with offences but unable to provide for their defence. I am prepared to go to that length if anything new can be shown which indicates the necessity for such a course, namely, that whenever a person charged with an offence is unable to provide a lawyer for his defence, Government should pay for a lawyer for his defence. That is not the rule in this country. No necessity has been felt for such a rule. Speaking for myself, I am unable to see why in these hât-looting cases, which are of an extremely simple nature and where the only question is one of identification, i.e., whether the man charged did or did not take part in the looting which undoubtedly took place, why in these cases as distinguished from all others it should be necessary for Government to provide for the defence of accused persons. I deprecate what the Hon'ble Mover said with regard to the feeling in the country. Surely, when persons are charged with offences before the tribunals appointed by law, we cannot take into account the fact that this man or that man or a number of people—you may call them the public if you like—consider that these persons are innocent. That is not the function of Government ; surely it is the duty of the Courts to discharge them if they are innocent, and it is for that purpose that the tribunals have been constituted. It would be straying from the point to consider the question as to whether they are guilty or not ; that is a matter which will be decided according to the ordinary law by the tribunal appointed for that purpose. I think it is hardly relevant and, if I may say so, hardly proper to say that these people are believed to be innocent or that the innocent people have been placed before the Courts and the guilty have been allowed to escape. It tends to create a prejudice against the tribunal and a prejudice in favour of the persons charged before the Courts. It ought not to be done in the Council or in the public press. If I were to accept this resolution it would not be a question of any pecuniary importance, as it would mean only, I suppose, a few thousand rupees, and if these cases were to continue, which I hope they would not, it might run to a great deal more. But, as a matter of principle, is there anything to distinguish these cases of rioting and looting from all other cases of rioting and looting, so that we should provide for a lawyer in these cases, though we do not do so in others ? I am unable to see any point of distinction between these and other cases which are constantly before the Courts in every district. I am therefore unable to recommend to the Council the acceptance of this resolution."

Resolutions.

Mr. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

" Sir, I am rather surprised to hear from my Hon'ble friend that the hât-looting cases are of a simple nature. If they are of a simple nature, then why should they be tried by the special tribunal ? That is the first point. My friend knows very well that if a case comes before the special tribunal it becomes nearly as serious as a murder trial and the accused have got in some cases up to seven years' rigorous imprisonment. Why should not every offence be dealt with in this way ? In answer to that I say that this is a matter which has stirred the whole country, nearly all the districts of Bengal, and it would have done absolutely no harm to the Government if they had only asked some junior pleader to defend the accused in these cases. Perhaps the junior pleader would have defended them without any remuneration at all."

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA said :—"They are free to do so now."

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"If this were done the Government would have been liked by the people more. That is all I can say. Sir, if the Government of Bengal had written to the Government of India for permission or order it would have been a very easy matter, and I do not think they would have gone against the wishes of the Government of Bengal. And even if it were decided to try these cases by special tribunals it would have done no harm to get somebody to defend these people. I know that in the Karanjahat case in Bogra the allegations were that things worth only Rs. 8-2 were looted from the hât and for that an accused got 4 or 5 years. This is what has happened in these hât-looting cases. With all respect to my friend I should like to add that if still there is time and the Government would employ somebody in the district to defend these people they would earn the gratitude of the people. Let the people understand that they shall be dealt with harshly if they are really found guilty, and let them also understand that the Government are very just to them by trying to find out the innocent from the guilty people."

The motion was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 12.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Government do take into consideration the revision of the rules under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, for the election of Municipal Commissioners, now in force in mufassal Municipalities in Bengal, with a view—

(1) to insert in rule 13 after the figures 57 the words "or removed under section 19";

(2) to add the following in rule 14 before the word "publish," namely :—

"The Chairman shall decide whether the rule is duly complied with";

and

(3) to omit the words "and his decision is final" in rule 29.

He said :—

"Sir, with reference to the first part of my resolution, I regret to note that there has been an omission to add the following words after the words 'or removed under section 19' but has not obtained the sanction of the Local Government as provided in section 22 of the Act. I ask therefore the permission of the President to amend this part of my resolution accordingly.

Rule 13 of the Election Rules lays down clearly that any person to vote under these rules and not disqualified under section 57 of the Act shall be qualified to be elected a Commissioner. If any one reads this rule without reference to section 22 of the Act, he is naturally led to infer that a Commissioner removed from his office under section 19 of the Act shall be elected, if he is a qualified voter. The right of election of a Commissioner is a right exercised by qualified voters. The election is therefore the result of voting by qualified voters in favour of another qualified voter who is a candidate for Commissionership. Rule 13. as it stands at present, is not a bar to the election of a Commissioner removed under section 19 of the Act. This rule does not notice the provisions of section 22 which lays down that a Commissioner removed under section 19 may be elected or re-elected with the sanction of the local Government.

Resolutions.

Sir S. P. Sinha.

With reference to rule 14 of the Election Rules, I beg to point out that, supposing in the application in Form B the proposer or seconder is not a qualified voter or supposing that all the supporters of a candidate or a few of them are not qualified voters, the question is whether the Chairman of a Municipality is bound to publish the name of the candidate in Form B which generally contains the names of the proposer, seconder and supporters. Relying upon the provisions of section 31 of the Calcutta Municipal Acts 1899, which embodies a similar rule of procedure, an Hon'ble Judge in the High Court observed in a case reported in 22 Indian Law Reports, Calcutta P, 717, 'I do not think it is intended to be laid down here that, supposing a person had not submitted the name of any approver at all, or submitted a number less than 8, or submitted them within a period less than seven days before the day fixed for the election, the Chairman in such a case would be bound to accept the name of the person as a candidate.' Justice Sale further explained the views of Justice Trevelyan in the earlier case reported in 19 Indian Law Reports, Calcutta, P. 192, 'that assuming there has been a sufficient primâ facie compliance with the condition laid down by section 31, the Chairman has no power to go further and determine questions affecting the status of persons claiming to be candidates duly qualified under the Act.' I have ventured to submit my suggestion to the Council so that rule 14 be made clear.

Referring to the third part of my resolution, I venture to think that the words 'his decision is final' should be omitted from the Election Rule No. 29. The Magistrate does not decide the dispute under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. He does not treat the dispute as a crime. He is merely to decide it as an arbitrator. As a matter of fact, his decision is not a final one. It is generally contested in Civil Courts. Section 15 of the Bengal Municipal Acts 1899 provides the authority who shall decide disputes under the rules. If a statute or a rule having the force of law declares a decision of the authority as a final one, and at the same time it lays down that it may be contested in the Civil Courts, it seems to me to be an anomaly.

With these few words, I submit, Sir, that my resolution be accepted by the Council."

The Hon'ble SIR S. P. SINHA said :—

"Sir, I confess that I am somewhat puzzled as to why this resolution has been brought forward. I am not aware of any difficulty having arisen by reason of the existing rules. Our attention has not certainly been drawn to any such difficulties and the amendments proposed by the Hon'ble Mover are more or less questions of drafting, which if he will bring them before us when we are considering the amendment of the Act and the rules, I am sure, would receive every consideration. But what exactly it is that he finds fault with in the existing rules and why he wants to change them, I confess it is not at all clear to me.

Resolutions.

Sir S. P. Sinha.

To take the first one: the rule as it stands and which he wants to change is this :—

'Any person qualified to vote under these rules and not disqualified under section 57 shall be qualified to be elected a Commissioner.'

My friend wants to add to that, that not only must he not suffer from a disqualification under section 57, but he must not have been removed by Government under section 19. There is a section in the Act which provides that any person so removed shall not be capable of being elected as Commissioner unless he has obtained the consent of the Government; my friend says that a person removed shall not be elected a Commissioner, unless he has obtained the consent of the Government, but this is in the Act now. I do not see why he asks the Council to consider this at all. That is with regard to the first portion of the resolution. All the answer that I can give to my Hon'ble friend is that the change which he seeks to introduce is absolutely unnecessary, being provided by the Act itself—section 22.

Then we may take the next one. Rule 14 which provides that every candidate for election shall send his name to the Chairman in writing a certain number of days previous to the election and his proposer and seconder must subscribe their names to the paper and eight other electors besides. Then the rule goes on to say, 'The Chairman shall put up a list of all candidates in the same form at the municipal office not less than 15 days before the date of election.' My friend wants to add to that, that the Chairman before publishing that list must decide as to whether the form that has been sent in has the names of the proposer and seconder and eight other names that are required, and that it has been sent in time before he includes them in the list to be published. But surely that is the rule now. The Chairman shall publish the names of all persons who have sent in their names in time, but if the time is past and a man sends in his name and that of the seconder and proposer and so forth the Chairman simply puts it away, and says that 'I cannot publish your name as you have not come in time.' He does decide necessarily as to whether the form is correct. Then you add nothing to the rules by saying that he must decide whether the paper is in accordance with form or not. He must decide it before he publishes the list. There is no harm in accepting the Hon'ble Member's proposal; but, as a matter of drafting, I do not think it is necessary, nor I venture to say, with all respect to the Hon'ble Member, do I see the necessity of troubling the Council about such a matter at all.

Let us take the next one: 'The Chairman shall decide and his decision is final.' I may point out that my friend quotes the rule (29) wrongly. The words in the rule are 'shall be final' and not 'is final.' My friend has pointed out that it is not final in the sense that you cannot go to the Civil Courts about it, because there is a section which says that although the Magistrate decides on any particular point, if a man is aggrieved he may go to the Civil Court and contest the decision of the Magistrate; but all that was meant by saying that the decision of the Magistrate shall be final was this: that there shall not be an appeal to the Commissioner and from the Commissioner to the Local Government. And so far as the preliminary dispute is concerned, apart from the Civil Court, you shall not go to any higher authority than the Magistrate. There is a section in the Act that it shall not be final in such a sense as to preclude the jurisdiction of the Courts. What more do we want? I can only say that although all these three amendments are defective in some respects they are harmless, and I do not see any necessity for any one of them, and I should, as a draftsman, be inclined to think that the rules, as they at present exist, are better drafted than they would be if my friend's suggestions were accepted. I would, therefore, suggest that the

Resolutions.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

Hon'ble Member should not press this resolution; but when we are reconsidering the rules as well as the Act, his suggestions with regard to these matters will be attentively and respectfully considered."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, I submit that I would not have come to this Council, had not the question come up for consideration before the Civil Courts. I do not think it is necessary to refer to concrete cases; but I may refer to the amendment which I propose with regard to rule 14. As a matter of fact, the Chairman, under that rule, is required to publish the names; but cases occurred in which the authority of the Chairman was questioned and he was asked to publish the list according to form. It is necessary that the form should contain the names of the proposers and seconders, as well as those of eight supporters. Supposing it is found that the supporters are not qualified voters; still the Chairman was pressed to publish the notice in Form B. If he refused to do so, he was dragged into the Civil Courts on the ground that he had no authority to decide the question whether the notice was in due compliance with the requirements of the rule. As the Hon'ble Member in charge considers that it is a harmless rule, I submit, for the consideration of the Council, that such alterations as I suggest, viz., the addition of a few words 'that the Chairman shall decide whether the form is in due compliance with the rules' will save a lot of trouble afterwards, and that is the reason why I have brought this matter to the notice of the Council.

As regards the second part of my resolution, viz., whether a person who has been removed under the provisions of section 19 of the Act shall be elected a Commissioner or not, rule 13 of the Election Rules lays down, that 'no matter whether a person who is removed under section 19 or not, he shall be elected a Commissioner, provided he is a qualified voter.' Although I admit that the provisions of section 22 are not referred to in rule 13, that rule stands by itself, and as far as the language of that rule goes, it clearly says that 'any person, whether he has been removed or not, shall be elected a Commissioner.' Hence difficulty was felt. I therefore submit for the consideration of the Council that if the Hon'ble Member in charge thinks that this is a harmless suggestion, I may ask whether it would be injudicious to frame the rule as suggested by me. I admit that there is a section in the Municipal Act which lays down that a person removed under the provisions of section 19 may be elected or re-elected; but so far as the rule is concerned it stands by itself. As the rule stands now voters removed under section 19 naturally rush in for election.

Then, Sir, with regard to the third part of the resolution, as to the words whether the decision of the Magistrate is final or not, I submit that it is the subject-matter of controversy in the mufassal Courts and also in the High Court, and we understand that notwithstanding the expression that the decision of the Magistrate is final in the rule itself, the view taken was that that his decision was not final. The Hon'ble Member in charge says that the language of the rule says that it shall be final and draws a distinction between the expressions 'is final' and 'shall be' final. My contention is that it is a matter of controversy whether those words do not imply a finality of decision. Where is the necessity of sticking to those words? In that view of the matter, I approached the Council for the exclusion of the words which I have already mentioned. As the Hon'ble Member in charge assures me that these suggestions will be considered at the time when the Act is to be redrafted I have no other alternative than to withdraw the resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Adjournment.

The President.

ADJOURNMENT.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I have been asked by His Excellency the President to explain the circumstances under which it has been decided to adjourn the Council to the 14th March. Under rule 13 of the Rules for the discussion of the Financial Statement it is required that the Council should not meet later than the 13th, and it was His Excellency's intention to have had the next meeting on the 13th. It was, however, pointed out by the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan that the 13th was not a convenient day as it followed a festival which was observed by fasting by Hindus. His Excellency has, therefore, been pleased to suspend rule 13 and to order that the Council should stand adjourned till the 14th."

The Council was then adjourned to Wednesday, the 14th March, 1918, at 11 A.M. at Government House, Calcutta.

Acts of the Indian Legislative Council assented to by the Governor General

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 6th March, 1918, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. II OF 1918.

An Act to make provision for regulating exhibitions by means of Cinematographs.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for regulating exhibitions by means of cinematographs; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Cinematograph Act, 1918.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

"Cinematograph" includes any apparatus for the representation of moving pictures or series of pictures;

"Place" includes also a house, building, tent or vessel; and

"Prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act.

Cinematograph exhibitions to be licensed.

3. Save as otherwise provided in this Act, no person shall give an exhibition by means of a cinematograph elsewhere than in a place licensed under this Act, or otherwise than in compliance with any conditions and restrictions imposed by such license.

Licensing authority.

4. The authority having power to grant licenses under this Act (hereinafter referred to as the "licensing authority") shall be the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town or in the town of Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police:

Provided that the Local Government may, by notification in the local official gazette, constitute for the whole or any part of a Province such other authority as it may specify in the notification to be the licensing authority for the purposes of this Act.

Restrictions on powers of licensing authority.

5. (1) The licensing authority shall not grant a license under this Act unless it is satisfied that—

(a) the rules made under the Act have been substantially complied with; and

(b) adequate precautions have been taken in the place in respect of which the license is to be given to provide for the safety of persons attending exhibitions therein.

(2) A condition shall be inserted in every license that the licensee will not exhibit, or permit to be exhibited, in such place any film other than a film which has been certified as suitable for public exhibition by the prescribed authority, and which, when exhibited, displays the prescribed mark of that authority, and has not been altered or tampered with in any way since such mark was affixed thereto.

(3) Subject to the foregoing provisions of this section, and to the control of the Local Government, the licensing authority may grant licenses under this Act to such persons as it thinks fit, and on such terms and conditions and subject to such restrictions as it may determine.

Punishment for contravention of this Act and rules made thereunder.

6. (1) If the owner or person in charge of a cinematograph uses the same or allows it to be used, or if the owner or occupier of any place permits that place to be used, in contravention of the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder, or of the conditions and restrictions upon or subject to which any license has been granted under this Act, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees and, in the case of a continuing offence, with a further fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for each day during which the offence continues, and his license (if any) shall be liable to be revoked by the licensing authority.

(2) If any person is convicted of an offence punishable under this Act committed by him in respect of any film, the convicting Court may further direct that the film shall be forfeited to His Majesty.

Certification of films.

7. (1) The Governor General in Council shall, by notification in the Gazette of India, constitute as many authorities as he may think fit for the purposes of examining and certifying films as suitable for public exhibition. The certificate of any such authority shall be valid in such area as may be specified in the notification.

(2) If any such authority after examination considers that a film is suitable for public exhibition, it shall cause the film to be marked in the prescribed manner.

(3) If the authority is of opinion that a film is not suitable for public exhibition, it shall inform the person applying for the certificate of its decision, and such person may, within thirty days from the date of such decision, appeal for a reconsideration of the matter by the Local Government, whose decision shall be final.

(4) Where the area for which a certificate has been granted includes territory in more than one Province, the appeal shall lie to such Local Government as may be specified in that behalf in the notification under which the certifying authority is constituted.

(5) The District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency town or in the town of Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police, may, after recording his reasons in writing by order suspend the certificate of any film pending the orders of the Local Government, and during such suspension the film shall be deemed to be an uncertified film in that district or town. He shall forthwith forward a copy of his order to the Local Government to which he is subordinate, and such Local Government may, in its discretion, either discharge his order or, by notification in the local official gazette, direct that the film shall be deemed to be an uncertified film in the whole or any part of the Province.

(6) The Local Government may, of its own motion, by notification in the local official gazette, direct that a film covered by a certificate valid in the Province shall be deemed to be an uncertified film in the whole or any part of the Province.

(7) The exhibition of a film to which any order or direction under sub-section (5) or (6) is for the time being applicable shall, in the area to which such order or direction relates, be deemed to be a contravention of the condition mentioned in section 5 (2).

Power to make rules.

8. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, rules under this section may provide for—

(a) the regulation of cinematograph exhibitions for securing the public safety;

(b) the procedure of the authorities constituted for examining and certifying films as suitable for public exhibition, and all matters ancillary thereto, and the fees to be levied by those authorities; and

(c) any other matter which by this Act is to be prescribed.

(3) The Governor General in Council may delegate to a Local Government the power to make rules regarding the matters mentioned in sub-section (2) (a) so far as regards the territories subject to that Government.

(4) All rules made under this Act shall be published in the Gazette of India, or the local official Gazette, as the case may be and, on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

Power to exempt.

9. The Local Government may by order in writing exempt, subject to such conditions and restrictions as it may impose, any cinematograph exhibition or class of cinematograph exhibitions from any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made thereunder.

A. P. MUDDIMAN,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 6th March 1918, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. III OF 1918.

An Act to provide for the levy of a cess on indigo exported from British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide funds for the promotion of research in the interests of the indigo industry in India;

And whereas for this purpose it is expedient to levy a cess on indigo produced in India and exported from British India; It is hereby enacted as follows: —

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indigo Cess Act, 1918; and

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of April, 1918.

Imposition of duty on exports of indigo and preparations thereof.

2. (1) There shall be levied and collected on all indigo produced in India and exported from any customs-port to any port beyond the limits of British India or to Aden a cess at the rate of one rupee per maund of 82⅔ pounds avoirdupois :

Provided that, where any preparation of indigo mixed with any other substance for use as a dye is so exported, the cess shall be levied on such proportion of the total weight of such preparation as the Governor General in Council may determine by rule under this Act.

(2) In this section the expression "customs-port" has the same meaning as in the Sea Customs Act, 1878, and the cess levied shall be deemed to be a customs-duty for the purposes of section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894. VIII of 1878. VIII of 1894.

Application of proceeds of cess.

3. The proceeds of the cess collected under this Act shall be applied to meet the cost of such measures as the Governor General in Council may consider it advisable to take for promoting research in the interests of the indigo industry in India.

Power to make rules.

4. The Governor General in Council may make rules consistent with this Act,

(a) for regulating the method of assessing, levying and collecting the cess;

(b) for prescribing the particular purposes to which the cess may be applied; and

(c) generally for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

A. P. MUDDIMAN,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 6th March, 1918, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. IV OF 1918.

An Act further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1906.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1906; It is hereby enacted as follows :— III of 1906.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Coinage (Amendment) Act, 1918. Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct.

2. In section 4 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1906 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the words "and (d) an eighth of a rupee, or two-anna piece" shall be omitted. III of 1906. Amendment of section 4, Act III of 1906.

3. In sub-section (2) of section 5 of the said Act, for the third and fourth items in the table annexed to the proviso, the following shall be substituted, namely :— Amendment of section 5, Act III of 1906.

" Quarter-rupee.	Seven-thousandths	Three-thousandths."

4. For section 6 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely :— Substitution of new section for section 6, Act III of 1906.

"6. The following nickel coins only shall be coined at the Mint for issue under the authority of the Governor General in Council, namely : a two-anna piece and a one-anna piece." Nickel coins.

5. In section 7 of the said Act, for the words "one-anna piece shall be sixty grains Troy," the words "two-anna and one-anna pieces shall be ninety and sixty grains Troy, respectively," shall be substituted. Amendment of section 7, Act III of 1906.

6. In sub-section (2) of section 12 of the said Act, the words "and eighth of a rupee" shall be omitted. Amendment of section 12, Act III of 1906.

7. For section 13 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely :— Substitution of new section for section 13, Act III of 1906.

"13. The two-anna and one-anna nickel coins specified in section 6 shall be a legal tender in payment or on account for any sum not exceeding one rupee at the rate of eight and sixteen for a rupee, respectively." Nickel coin when a legal tender.

8. Nothing in this Act shall apply to silver two-anna pieces which may have been issued prior to the commencement of this Act, and the provisions of the said Act shall apply to them as if this Act had not been passed. Saving of the provisions of Act III of 1906 in respect of silver two-anna pieces.

A. P. MUDDIMAN,
Secretary to the Government of India.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 18th March 1918.

Summary.—During the week light rain fell in a few places. More rain is, however, urgently wanted throughout the province. Planting of sugarcane and harvesting of spring crops continue, Sowing of autumn crops is being retarded for want of timely rainfall. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·6 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 25th March 1918.

No. 32Marine.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 36 of the Indian Steamships Acts, 1884 (VII of 1884), and in supersession of the rules published under Notification No. 172Marine, dated the 30th December, 1913, as subsequently amended, the Governor in Council is pleased to make, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, the following rules to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers under the said Act.

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL RULES.

1. Certificates of Competency granted to persons who pass requisite Examinations.—Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose Examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations whenever necessary at the port of Calcutta.

2. How to Apply.—Candidates for examination must fill up a form of application (form Exn. 3) and pay the appropriate fee at the Port Office. This must be done at least sufficiently early to ensure the form, properly filled in, together with the candidate's Certificate of apprenticeship, testimonials, discharges, etc., being lodged with the Port Officer not later than three days before the day of examination. As discharges and testimonials may have to be verified, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the form of application, as many days as possible before the date of the examination which the candidate desires to attend. In the absence of the necessary verification the candidate cannot be examined.

In all cases in which certificates of discharge in the home or other trade which have not been officially issued at a Mercantile Marine Office are produced as evidence of any part of a candidate's qualifying service, they should be submitted to the Port Officer for verification.

3. Gaps in Service.—The Examiner should be particularly careful to ascertain that there are no gaps in the candidate's service during which his conduct is not properly accounted for, before he is allowed up for examination.

4. Calculation of Service.—The candidate's service, as shown on his discharges, should be reckoned by the calendar month, i.e., the time included between any given day in any month and the preceding day of the following month, both inclusive. The number of complete months from the commencement of the period, ascertained in this way, should be computed, after which the number of odd days should be counted. The day on which the agreement commences as well as that on which it terminates should both be included, and all odd days should be added together and reckoned at 30 to the month.

5. Service must be verified.—Service which cannot be verified by proper entries in the Articles of Agreement of the ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

6. Application in Special Cases.—In cases where the services of a candidate require verification, or where he is in doubt whether his service complies with the regulations and wishes to submit his case for special consideration, all certificates, discharges and testimonials, together with the form of application,* properly filled in, should be submitted to the Port Officer, who will either deal with the case or transmit it to the Government for decision.

7. Inquiries.—All other inquiries regarding examination should be made and dealt with in the same way. The point on which information is sought should be clearly stated, and certificates, discharges, testimonials, etc., should be forwarded when they are material to the inquiry.

8. Age.—Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth.

9. Testimonials: Shore Service.—All candidates will be required to produce, in addition to the official discharge certificates, testimonials as to their workshop service and as to their service at sea. The testimonials as to workshop service must be signed by the employer, and must testify to the candidate's conduct and ability, and state what kind of work he was engaged on (e.g., fitting, erecting, turning, machine work, etc.) and for how long. (See rule 35.)

10. Testimonials: Sea Service.—It is desirable that the whole of the candidate's sea service should be covered by testimonials certifying to his sobriety, experience, ability and general good conduct, but in future the usual testimonials will be required for at least the last 18 months at sea preceding the date of the application to be examined. They must be signed by the Master and Chief Engineer, or in the case of testimonials to Chief Engineers, by the Superintending Engineer, and must clearly state whether the applicant was on regular watch and in regular charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers; also, if not engaged on both engines and boilers, the length of time he served on each separately. It is desirable that testimonials of candidates should be endorsed by the Superintending Engineer.

If in any case testimonials appear to have been withheld for improper or inadequate reasons, full particulars should be reported by the Port Officer to the Government.

11. Further as to Testimonials.—In cases where a testimonial from the Chief Engineer, or from the Master, is for any sufficient reason not obtainable, one may be submitted from the Superintending Engineer in place of that of the Chief Engineer, and from the Marine Superintendent in place of that of the Master, or from the Managing Owner or Secretary or Chairman of a large Company in place of either or both: but in every such instance the testimonial must declare that the facts stated are in accordance with the reports made by the Chief Engineer or the Master, as the case may be, or else that the facts are within the writer's personal knowledge.

12. Penalty for Misconduct.—Candidates who have neglected to join their vessels after having signed Articles, or who have deserted their vessels after having joined, or who have been found guilty of gross misconduct, will be required to produce satisfactory proofs of two years' subsequent service and good conduct at sea, unless the Government, after having investigated the matter, should see fit to reduce the time.

13. Physical Defects.—When a candidate is observed to be hard of hearing, or is labouring under any other obvious physical defect, the signatories of his testimonials are required to mention that defect specifically, and to state whether it in any way interfered with the efficiency of the candidate as an engineer on watch. When these modified testimonials are such as to completely satisfy the Examiner that the defect is not such as to interfere with the efficient discharge of the applicant's duties as engineer, the examination shall be proceeded with; otherwise the case shall be referred to the Government. Candidates afflicted with nervous impediment in speech may write their answers to viva voce questions.

* Form Exp. 3 which can be obtained at the Port Office.

14. Foreign Service.—The testimonials of service of foreign or British engineers serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

15. Foreign Engineers must know English.—Foreign Engineers must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. In every case before failing a candidate for insufficient knowledge of the English language the Examiner should refer the matter to the Port Officer.

16. Issue of Certificate.—If the candidate passes he will receive a form (form Exn. 16) authorising the Port Officer to whom it is addressed to issue the certificate. The candidate's testimonials and other papers will be returned to him when the examination is finished. It is therefore important that the port at which the Certificate is to be issued should be the same on both the form Exn. 16 and the form of application, Exn. 3 If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the Examiner should see that it is made in both forms; otherwise delay in the issue of the Certificate may be caused.

17. Service found to be Insufficient.—If after a candidate has passed the examination it is discovered on further investigation that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of the grade for which he has passed, the Certificate will not be granted to him; but if the Port Officer is satisfied that the error in the calculation of the candidate's services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he may either have the fee returned to him or have it placed to his credit. Should his services entitle him to a certificate of a lower grade it may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the superior Certificate and the fee payable for the inferior Certificate will be returned to him or placed to his credit. The superior Certificate will not be granted until the candidate has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient, and has been re-examined in all the subjects, unless the Government see fit to dispense with the re-examination.

18. Fee must be paid.—Candidates for examination, in making their application on the form Exn. 3, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken towards inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, etc. If the candidate is found not to be qualified, the fee will either be returned to him or placed to his credit until he is qualified.

19. Payment of Fees, and Penalty for offering Gratuity.—The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. If a candidate offers a gratuity to any servant of the department, he will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected, and not allowed to be examined for twelve months, either at the port where the offence was committed or at any other port.

20. Fees not returned on Failure.—If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

21. Table of Fees.—The fees are as follow :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Second-class Engineer's Certificate	15	0	0
First-class Engineer's Certificate	30	0	0
First-class Engineer's Certificate, if the candidate holds a Second-class Certificate of Competency granted by the Board of Trade or by the Government of a British Possession under the Merchant Shipping Act	15	0	0

22. Copy of lost Certificate.—An applicant for a certified copy of a lost Certificate, either of Competency or Service, must fill in a form of application, (from Exn. 23), giving the particulars required, and hand it to the Port Officer. A declaration as to the circumstances in which the Certificate was lost must be made by the applicant before a Magistrate.

No fee will be charged.

CHAPTER II.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED FOR THE VARIOUS GRADES.

Ordinary Certificates.

23. Value of Ordinary Certificates.—Until January 1st 1922, Ordinary Certificates will entitle the holders to go to sea in the grade certified as Engineers of any vessel in the British Mercantile Marine: after that date they will not be available on ships propelled by internal combustion engines unless endorsed for the purpose. (See rule 31.)

24. Second-class Engineer.—A candidate for a Second-class Engineer's Certificate must not be less than 21 years of age.

(a) He must have served as an apprentice Engineer for four years in Europe or five years in India at least, and prove that during the period of his apprenticeship he has been employed in the manner set forth in rule 34.

Journeyman's time will be considered as equivalent to apprenticeship.

Every applicant must produce testimonials of ability as a practical Engineer to the satisfaction of the Port Officer.

If the candidate has served as an apprentice Engineer or as journeyman, under the conditions above prescribed, for less than four years in Europe or five years in India, he will be required to make up the deficiency or to complete the equivalent of four years' European apprenticeship by service as Engineer at sea on regular watch on the main engines or boilers (1) of a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or (2) of a home-trade steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, such service to be counted as equivalent in the case of (1) to two-thirds, and in the case of (2) to four-ninths, of service as apprentice Engineer or as journeyman.

If the candidate has not served at all as apprentice Engineer or as journeyman, he will be required to have served at sea, in lieu thereof, as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers, six years in a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or nine years in a home-trade steamer of not less than that power.

(b) In addition to the apprenticeship as above described, or the alternative sea service, the applicant must have served eighteen months at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or twenty-seven months in a home-trade steamer of not less than that power. (See also rules 47, 48, 49 and 50.)

(c) He must write a legible hand, and have a good knowledge of arithmetic up to and including vulgar and decimal fractions and square root. He must also be able to apply these rules to questions relating to safety valves, coal consumption, consumption of stores, capacities of tanks, bunkers, etc., and other similar problems; and be able to calculate the suitable working pressure for a steam-boiler of given dimensions, and the stress per square inch on crank and tunnel shafts and other parts of the machinery when the necessary data are furnished.

(d) He must be able to pass a creditable examination as to the various designs of paddle and screw engines in general use, including turbines; and as to the details of the different working parts, external and internal, and the use of each part.

(e) He must have a satisfactory knowledge of the methods of construction of engines and boilers as used in the workshop, and of the attention required by the different parts of the machinery on boardship.

(f) He must be able to give a satisfactory description of boilers, and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes and connections.

He must understand the precautions necessary to be taken when raising steam in boilers and when opening stop valves to admit steam to pipes, etc.

(h) He must understand how to make good the results of ordinary wear and tear to the machinery, how to correct defects from accident, decay, etc., and how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement or total breakdown.

(i) He must understand the use of the water gauge, pressure gauge, barometer, thermometer and salinometer, and the principles on which they are constructed.

(j) He must be able to state the causes, effects, and usual remedies for incrustation and corrosion.

(k) He must be able to explain the methods of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and the methods of testing the fairness of shafts and adjusting them.

(l) He must understand the construction and working of evaporators, feed filters and feed heaters.

(m) He must understand the construction and working of centrifugal, bucket and plunger pumps, and the principles on which they act.

(n) He must understand the construction and working of steering engines, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors, refrigerating machinery, hydraulic machinery, and such internal combustion engines as are used to drive ships' launches, emergency and auxiliary machinery on board ship.

(o) He must possess a creditable knowledge of the prominent facts relating to combustion, heat and steam.

(p) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams and understand the distribution of the steam in the cylinder as shown thereby.

(q) He must be able to make a dimensioned working sketch or drawing of some simple part of the machinery.*

25. First-class Engineer.—A candidate for a First-class Engineer's Certificate must be not less than 22½ years of age.

(a) He must—

(1) have served at sea for 18 months, with a Second-class Certificate of Competency or Service, on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamship of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, as Senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch (see rule 39); or

(2) have served at sea for two years and three months, with a Second-class Certificate of Competency or Service, as First Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power; or three years with a Second-class Certificate of Competency or Service, as Second Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power; or

(3) have served three years and nine months, with a Second-class Certificate of Competency or Service, as Third or Fourth Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, and during the entire period have been the Senior Engineer in charge of the whole of a watch on the main engines and boilers (see also rules 47, 49 and 50); or

(4) possess, or be entitled to, a First-class Certificate of Service.

(b) He will be required to show a superior knowledge of all the subjects specified in rule 24, clauses (c) to (q), inclusive.

(c) His knowledge of arithmetic must include the mensuration of surfaces and solids and the extraction of square and cube roots, and the application of these rules to questions relating to the power, duty and economy of engines and boilers, and to the stresses in the rods, shafts and levers of the engine. He should also be able to calculate the effect of the application of the lever, pulley, inclined plane, and other mechanical powers.

(d) He will be required to make an intelligible hand sketch, or a working drawing, of one or more of the principal parts of a steam-engine, boiler or other part of the machinery, and to mark upon it all the necessary dimensions in figures, so that the sketch or drawing could be worked from.*

* See Appendix C.

(e) He must be able to calculate safety-valve pressures and the strength of the boiler shell and riveting, and of the furnaces, flat surfaces and stays.

(f) He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other, and to calculate the direct stress, the torsional stress, and the bending stress in round bars, and the direct stress and the bending stress in rectangular bars, with given loads.

(g) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams, and to recognise and know how to correct defects in the working of the engine caused by a faulty distribution of the steam in the cylinders as shown thereby.

(h) He must be able to explain the method of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and to sketch approximately the difference any alteration in the slide valve will make in the indicator diagram.

(i) He must be conversant with the principles and practice of surface condensation, superheating, and the working of steam expansively.

(j) He must understand the construction and working of, and be able to maintain in working condition, the auxiliary machinery which may be placed under his charge, viz., refrigerating machinery, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors, hydraulic machinery, the various descriptions of steering engines, and internal combustion engines as used in launches and for auxiliary and emergency machinery on board ship, etc.

(k) He must know how to provide against defects and breakdowns of the machinery, and be able to direct and carry out any ordinary repairs that may be required either to the engines or the boilers.

26. First-class Certificates without Second.—The Government may see fit to allow an applicant who, in consequence of service abroad, has had no opportunity to obtain a Second-class Certificate, to be examined for a First-class Certificate, although he does not possess a Certificate of the lower grade, provided he is able to satisfy them as to the satisfactory character of his services; but these must be ample both as regards length and experience. As a rule, at least four years' sea service, a fair proportion of which must have been in a responsible capacity and qualifying for a First-class Certificate, will be required.

If any such candidate fails to pass the examination for the First-class Certificate, but passes that for the lower grade, he may be given a Second-class Certificate of Competency, but no part of the fee will be returned. If he fails in practical knowledge, he may be re-examined for a Second-class Certificate only, subject to the usual regulations relating to such failures.

This rule applies equally to Motor Engineers' Certificates. (See rule 30.)

CERTIFICATES FOR ENGINEERS OF SHIPS PROPELLED BY INTERNAL COMBUSTION ENGINES (MOTOR CERTIFICATES).

27. Value of Motor Certificates.—These certificates will entitle the holders to go to sea in the grades specified as Engineers of any vessels in the British Mercantile Marine propelled by internal combustion engines using oil, spirit, gas or other similar substance as fuel, but are not available for service in steamships except when endorsed as hereinafter provided.

28. Second-class Motor Engineer.—A candidate for a Second-class Motor Certificate must not be less than 21 years of age.

(a) He must have served for at least four years in Europe or five years in India as an apprentice or journeyman Engineer. Not less than two years in Europe or three years in India of this service must have been spent at fitting, erecting or repairing internal combustion engines. The remaining two years may be occupied on the same kinds of work, or spent at an approved technical school, or in work on internal combustion engines at one of the other branches of the trade named in rule 34, with the allowances specified therein.

Service as journeyman will be considered as equivalent to apprenticeship, but no time served before the age of 15 is reached will be accepted.

Workshop service other than the above may be accepted if it is considered useful training for a Motor Engineer, but all such cases must be submitted to the Examiner of Engineers for consideration before the candidate is examined, and at least an additional three months of qualifying service on marine internal combustion engines, either in the works or on regular watch in the main engine-room of vessels propelled by these engines, must have been performed in respect of each twelve months of workshop service of this nature, or other than on the making or repairing of internal combustion engines, so accepted. If the service is not altogether satisfactory, a longer additional period than that specified may be required.

Any deficiency in the requisite four years' workshop service in Europe or five years in India may, as in the case of the ordinary Engineers' Certificates, be made up by service at sea on regular watch in the main engine room of a vessel of not less than 500 indicated horse-power or 373 brake horse-power propelled by internal combustion engines. If the vessel is a foreign-going vessel one and a half times the period of deficiency must be served, and if a home trade vessel two and a quarter times the period of deficiency will be required. Thus a candidate who has no workshop service must put in six years in a suitable foreign-going vessel or nine years in the home trade in lieu of his apprenticeship.

Until January 1st, 1922, workshop service in works where steam-engines, boilers, etc., are made or repaired will be accepted as qualifying, as regards service, for a Motor Certificate.

(b) In addition to the workshop service as above described, or the alternative sea service, the candidate must have spent 18 months at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines of a foreign-going ship propelled by internal combustion engines of not less than 500 indicated horse-power or 373 brake horse-power, or 27 months in a similar home trade vessel. (See also rules 47, 48, 49 and 50.)

(c) He must write a legible hand and have a good knowledge of arithmetic up to and including vulgar and decimal fractions and square root. He must also be able to work out questions relating to spring or lever-loaded safety and relief valves; consumption of oil and stores; capacities of tanks, bunkers, etc.; speed of vessel, and other similar problems; and be able to calculate suitable working pressures for air receivers of given dimensions, and the stress per square inch on crank and tunnel shafts and other parts of the machinery when the necessary data are furnished.

(d) He must be able to give a clear explanation of the principles on which oil, gas or other internal combustion engines work, including the methods of ignition, to point out the differences between them, and to show by means of illustrative sketches and otherwise that he understands the details of the construction of those in general use.

(e) He must be familiar with the various methods of supplying air and fuel to the cylinders in the different types of engines, the construction of the apparatus for carburetting, atomising, or gasifying the fuel, and the means for cooling the cylinders, pistons, etc.

(f) He must have a satisfactory knowledge of the processes employed in the construction of internal combustion engines in the workshop, and of the methods used in fitting the machinery on board ship.

(g) He must know what attention is required by the various parts of the machinery, and understand the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes and connections.

(h) He must be able to state and describe the chief causes which may make the engine difficult to start and to explain how he would proceed to remedy any defects arising therefrom. He must also be able to show that he understands the mechanism of the starting and reversing arrangements, and is competent to deal with defects therein.

(i) He must understand how to make good the results of ordinary wear and tear to the machinery; how to test the fairness of shafting, etc.; how to correct defects from accident, decay, etc.; and how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement or total breakdown.

(j) He must understand the construction of the pressure gauge, barometer, thermometer, and other instruments used in the engine-room, and the principles on which they work.

(k) He must understand the construction and working of centrifugal, bucket and plunger pumps, and the principles on which they act.

(l) He must understand the construction and working of air compressors, gas producers, steering engines, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors, refrigerating, hydraulic and other auxiliary machinery found on board ship.

(m) He must possess a good working knowledge of the construction and management of the auxiliary steam boilers and machinery, and be familiar with the prominent facts relating to combustion, heat and steam.

(n) He must be familiar with the nature and properties of the various oils, etc., generally used in internal combustion engines; must understand what is meant by the "flash point"; and have a knowledge of the explosive properties of gas or the vapour given off by these oils, etc., when mixed with definite quantities of air; and be thoroughly conversant with the danger of exposing such gas or vapour to a naked light, or of allowing any leakage from the oil tanks, particularly into the vessels, bilges, and unventilated spaces, or from gas producers, pipes, vaporizers, etc.

(o) He must thoroughly understand the precautions to be taken against fire or explosion from oil or gas, and know how to deal with fire should it break out. He should also be familiar with the action of wire gauze diaphragms when placed in pipes and connections to oil tanks, etc., for the purpose of preventing the explosion or ignition of oil vapour therein.

(p) He must be able to explain the principle, construction and arrangement of primary and secondary batteries and induction coils, so far as is necessary for the efficient management of an oil-engine.

(q) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams and understand the action of the gas in the cylinder as shown thereby.

(r) He must be able to make a dimensioned working sketch or drawing of some simple part of the machinery.*

29. First-class Motor Engineer.—A candidate for a First-class Motor Certificate must not be less than 22½ years of age.

(a) He must—

(1) have served at sea for 18 months with a Second-class Motor Engineer's Certificate on regular watch on the main engines of a foreign-going ship propelled by internal combustion engines of not less than 750 indicated horse-power or 560 brake horse-power as Senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch, or have been the second senior in a watch of three, or third senior in a watch of six or more Engineers and have been in responsible charge of a definite section of the main machinery; or

(2) have served at sea under similar conditions in a similar home trade vessel for two years and three months as First Engineer, or three years as Second Engineer, or three years and nine months as Third or Fourth Engineer. (See also rules 47, 49 and 50.)

(b) He will be required to display a superior knowledge of all the subjects specified in rule 28, clauses (c) to (r), inclusive.

(c) His knowledge of arithmetic must include the mensuration of surfaces and solids and the extraction of square and cube roots, and the application of these rules to questions relating to the power, duty, and economy of engines, and to the stresses in the rods, shafts, and levers of the engine. He should also be able to calculate the effect of the application of the lever, pulley, inclined plane, and other mechanical powers.

(d) He will be required to make an intelligible hand sketch or a working drawing of one or more of the principal parts of an engine or other part of the machinery, and to mark upon it all the necessary dimensions in figures, so that the sketch or drawing could be worked from.*

(e) He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other, and to calculate the direct stress, the torsional stress, and the bending stress in round bars, and the direct stress and the bending stress in rectangular bars, with given loads.

(f) He must be able to take off and calculate indicator diagrams, and to recognise and know how to correct defects in the working of the engines caused by a faulty distribution of the gas in the cylinders, as shown thereby.

(g) He must be able to explain the effects of altering the points of opening and closing the various valves, and to sketch approximately the difference any alteration in the action of the valves will make in the indicator diagram.

* See Appendix C.

(h) He must understand the construction and working of, and be able to maintain in working condition, the auxiliary machinery which may be placed under his charge, viz., air compressors, refrigerating machinery, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors, hydraulic machinery and the various descriptions of steering engines, etc.

(i) He must know how to provide against defects and breakdowns of the machinery, and be able to direct and carry out any ordinary repairs that may be required either to the main engines or to the auxiliary steam or other machinery.

(j) He must know how the flash point of an oil is ascertained, and be capable of determining that of any sample experimentally if the necessary apparatus is provided.

30. First-class Motor Certificates without Second.—Rule 26 applies equally to Motor Certificates. Until January 1st, 1922, the holder of a Second-class Ordinary Certificate may be examined for a First-class Motor Certificate without previously obtaining a Second-class Motor Certificate, provided that he proves that he has served for at least 18 months at sea in a capacity qualifying for First-class in a suitable motor vessel and can satisfy the Port Officer as to the general sufficiency of his experience of marine internal combustion engines either in the works or at sea.

This permission will carry with it exemption from all the requirements as to workshop service and all other requirements which a candidate for a Second-class Motor Certificate has to comply with, but particulars of all such cases must be submitted to the Examiner of Engineers before any such candidates are allowed to be examined for a First-class Motor Certificate.

31. Endorsement of Certificates.—The holder of an Ordinary Certificate may have it endorsed to the effect that he is competent for service in a motor ship, provided that he complies with the conditions specified for a Motor Certificate of the grade required and passes the appropriate examination. The holder of a Motor Certificate may also have it endorsed for service in steamships on corresponding terms.

Until January 1st, 1922, the holder of a First-class Ordinary Certificate may have it endorsed for service in motor ships if he can prove at least 18 months' sea service in motor ships in a qualifying capacity, and can satisfy the Port Officer as to the general sufficiency of his experience of marine internal combustion engines either in the works or at sea and provided that he passes the appropriate examination. Every such case must be submitted to the Examiner of Engineers before the candidate is examined.

32. Notice Required.—Intending candidates should, where possible, give at least a week's notice of their intention to sit for a Motor Certificate.

33. Suspension of Issue of Home-Trade Motor Certificates.—The issue of Second-class Certificates for Engineers of Home Trade Passenger Ships propelled by oil-engines is now suspended.

34 Workshop Service.—The workshop service of a candidate for an Ordinary Certificate must have been performed in works where steam-engines, boilers, etc., are made or repaired. The workshop service of a candidate for a Motor Certificate must have been performed in works where internal combustion engines are made or repaired. No time served before the age of 15 will be counted.

Not less than two years of the apprentice time in Europe or three years in India must have been spent at fitting, erecting or repairing engines and machinery either in the works or outside. The remaining two years may be made up of time spent in engine works at fitting, erecting or repairing engines and machinery, or at one of the other branches of the trade given below, or at an approved technical school (see Appendix H); the time so spent to count as follows:—

Fitting, erecting, repairing or turning.		Full time.
Working in drawing office	...	Full time up to one year, and beyond one year one-half time.
Pattern-making ...	...	One-half time with a maximum allowance of one year.
Planing, slotting, shaping and milling.		One-third time.

Boiler-making or repairing	...	One-half time.
Smith work ...	...	One-half time with a maximum allowance of one year.
Coppersmith work ...	...	One-third time with a maximum allowance of six months.

In the event of the apprentice time being extended to five years in Europe or six years in India, or more, four years at turning followed by one year in Europe or two years in India at fitting or erecting may be accepted as qualifying.

This rule applies only to works at which the making and repairing of engines, boilers, etc., or the making or repairing of engines, boilers, etc., forms part of the regular business for which the works exist. Service at works where the repairing of engines, boilers, etc., is merely incidental to the running of plant, however large, which is used for the production of power for other machinery, etc., should be dealt with under rule 35, each case being considered on its merits.

35. Workshop Service other than the above.—Workshop service other than the above may be accepted if it is considered useful training for an Engineer, but every such case must be submitted to the Examiner of Engineers for consideration before the candidate is examined. For each twelve months of such service accepted the candidate must have performed at least an additional three months' service on marine engines (steam-engines for an Ordinary Certificate and internal combustion engines for a Motor Certificate) either in the works or on regular watch in the main engine room or on day work at sea. If the service is not altogether satisfactory a longer additional period than that specified may be required, but if a portion only of the apprenticeship has been spent on work other than that specified in rule 34, the additional service named above will only be required in respect of that portion.

This rule applies to service on internal combustion engines by a candidate for an Ordinary Certificate and to service on steam-engines by a candidate for a Motor Certificate. Until January 1st, 1922, however, workshop service in works where steam-engines, boilers, etc., are made or repaired will be accepted as qualifying for a Motor Certificate.

36. Service in Colonial and Foreign Workshops.—Rules 34 and 35 apply to service in the United Kingdom and India only. Service in a Colonial or foreign workshop will not be accepted unless the Examiner is satisfied in each case that its value is substantially equivalent to that of service performed in the United Kingdom or India. In cases where the Examiner is not satisfied that the value is equivalent, he will refer the matter to Government for decision.

37. Technical Schools.—Time spent after the age of 15 at a technical day school (recognised by the Government as suitable), where there is an engineering laboratory, may be taken into account and accepted as equivalent to artisan service, usually at the ratio of three years in the technical school to two in artisan service, provided that the applicant has taken the full engineering course and can produce the Principal's certificate for regular attendance at all the approved classes and for satisfactory progress; and provided also that the remaining portion of the time has been spent in works where engines, boilers, etc., are made or repaired, in accordance with the scale of values indicated above.

Time spent in attending evening classes in Engineering at approved technical schools will similarly be allowed to count under the following conditions:—

(1) Each candidate claiming an allowance for time spent in attending evening classes at a technical school must produce a certificate signed by the Principal of the school to the effect that he has attended regularly at a definite class or classes, which should be specified, and has made satisfactory progress. This certificate must also state the total number of hours spent by the candidate in attending each class.

(2) Time spent by the candidate in attending such classes as have a direct bearing on the training of a Marine Engineer will be reckoned at the rate of five hours to one day. The total number of days so obtained will then be accepted in lieu of a certain fraction of the same period of workshop service. This fraction will be fixed for each school at the time of approval, and will generally be two-thirds.

(3) A candidate who has attended a technical school in the evening, while being employed as an apprentice or journeyman Engineer during the day, must, in order that the school time may be accepted, produce satisfactory proof that he has spent the full working day in the works at which he is employed, before attending the school. Such proof will usually take the form of a statement in the testimonial as to workshop service given by the employer.

(4) Allowance will only be given for classes attended after the candidate has reached the age of 15.

Time spent in foreign technical schools can in no circumstances be recognised.

For list of approved technical schools and time allowed for attendance at each see Appendix H.

38. Sea-service.—The sea-service required by these rules is, unless otherwise stated, service performed in foreign-going ships of at least the horse-power specified for the respective grades of Certificate. The nominal horse-power, as given on the Certificate of Registry of a steamship, may in all cases be accepted by the Examiners.

Service in a qualifying capacity in a motor ship (of the horse-power required in the case of Motor Certificates) may be accepted as forming part of the 18 months' sea-service in steamships required for an ordinary First-class or Second-class Certificate, an allowance of half the time so served being given with a maximum allowance of 6 months. Qualifying service in steamships of the required horse-power will be accepted on similar terms as part of the sea service required for a Motor Certificate.

39. Qualifying Service defined.—In the case of candidates for First-class Certificates qualifying service means, as a rule, service on regular watch on the main engines or boilers as Senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch. When, however, three or four Engineers are on watch at the same time the service of the two seniors may be allowed to count, and when not less than six Engineers are on watch together that of the three seniors, provided a certificate from the Superintending Engineer is produced stating the number of Engineers on watch, the rank held by the applicant and that he was in charge of a watch on a definite section of the main engines or boilers During the whole of the period claimed, candidates must have been in possession of Second-class Certificates.

In the case of candidates for Second-class Certificates qualifying sea service means service as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers. In no case will time spent in clerical or day work be allowed to count as sea service.

All candidates for Ordinary Certificates, including those for First-class who have not been in charge of the whole of a watch but qualify under this rule as the second or third senior of the watch and have been in charge of a section of the machinery only, will be required to have served at sea on regular watch on both the main engines and the boilers, not less than six months being spent on each.

40. Further as to Qualifying Service.—Only such service as gives the experience required to make a man thoroughly competent as a sea-going Engineer is accepted as qualifying service Even for a Second-class Certificate the candidate must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiner that he is qualified by experience and knowledge to act as Chief Engineer in an under-powered vessel on a voyage, say, from India to Egypt, taking full responsibility for engines, boilers and machinery.

41. Marine Technical Schools.—A candidate for either a Second-class or a First-class Ordinary or Motor Certificate, who, within two years from the date of application to be examined, has attended an approved course comprising general mathematical and scientific instruction at a technical school recognised by the Government as suitable for the training of Marine Engineers, will be allowed to count time so spent as equivalent to sea service in the ratio of three months at the technical school to two months at sea. Time so spent cannot be accepted as equivalent to more than one-sixth of the total sea service required for either Certificate, but a candidate who has been allowed to count such time on examination for a Second-class Certificate, will not be debarred from counting similar subsequent time on applying for examination for a First-class Certificate.

In every case in which an allowance is made for time spent at a marine technical school, the candidate will be required to produce the Principal's certificate for continuous and regular attendance at all the approved classes and for satisfactory progress.

The candidate must also produce his class note-books, which will be forwarded to the Examiner of Engineers, in order that he may satisfy himself that the candidate has followed the approved course of instruction, and that the remission of sea service claimed may be allowed accordingly.

Application for examination of candidates claiming remission of sea service should, as a rule, be made at least a week before they desire to sit.

A list of the marine technical schools recognised for this purpose is given in Appendix H.

42. Recognition of Study by Engineers Interned in Germany and elsewhere.—The Government will accept time spent by a candidate for a First-class or Second-class Ordinary or Motor Certificate in attending courses of lectures or classes at Ruhleben or other internment camp in lieu of a portion of the sea service required to qualify him for the Certificate, subject to the following conditions :—

(1) If nine hours a week are spent in attending lectures or classes, five weeks spent in this way will be accepted in lieu of one week's sea service. If eleven hours a week are spent in this way, four weeks will be accepted as one week's sea service. In no circumstances can a remission of more than three months' sea service be made.

(2) The lectures must form part of a definite course of study which may be regarded as useful training for a Marine Engineer.

(3) The candidate must produce a certificate, signed by the Lecturer or by some other recognised Officer of the camp, that he has attended regularly and has profited by the instruction given. If possible, the candidate should also produce his note-books.

Every case in which an allowance is claimed under this rule must be submitted to the Examiner of Engineers.

43. Foreign Engineers.—Foreign Engineers cannot be examined for a First-class Certificate unless they have performed the sea-service stated in rules 25 and 29, respectively, with the requisite Certificate. The service may have been performed in foreign vessels if the candidate can produce satisfactory testimonials as to conduct and character, and is able to prove that the service has been in the required capacities, and that during the period of service he has held a Certificate of Competency of the rank required by these rules. (See rule 14.)

44. Names on Articles.—In all cases the candidates' names must have been duly entered on the ship's Articles as Engineers in their proper ratings.

45. Regular Watch.—Being on regular watch means being on watch for at least eight hours each day.

46. Home-trade Service.—Service in the home or coasting trade is regarded as being equivalent to two-thirds of the same period of time served in the foreign trade except where other allowances are specified [see rules 25 (a), (2) and (3), 29 (a) (2), 47, 49 and 50]. In the case of Indian coasting voyages extending beyond a distance of 500 miles from the port of departure in steamships commanded by masters holding foreign-going certificates, such service will count as foreign-voyages, and will be reckoned as full time : but the time spent in the port of departure or Home port will not be allowed to count. In all cases the length of service is deemed to commence on the date of sailing from the port of departure or Home port and to end on the date of arrival at the Home port. Such service must be vouched for in the form laid down in Appendix J.

47. Lake or River Service.—Service as watch-keeper on a lake or river vessel of not less than the required horse-power may be accepted under the following conditions for either an Ordinary or a Motor Certificate :—

(a) the service will only count half as much as sea service, i.e., every two months of lake or river service is only equivalent to one month's foreign-going sea service ;

(b) candidates for Second-class Certificates must prove that, in addition to lake or river service, they have had at least three months' qualifying service at sea in a foreign-going ship of not less than the horse-power specified in rules 24 and 28 or four and a half months' similar service in the home trade ;

(c) candidates for First-class Certificates in addition to lake or river service in vessels of not less than the horse-power named in rules 25 and 29 must prove that they have had at least six months' qualifying service at sea, with a Second-class Engineer's Certificate, in foreign-going vessels of not less than the horse-power specified, or nine months' similar service in the home trade.

48. Service in Auxiliary Screw Ships.—Service as Engineer performed on board auxiliary screw whalers and other vessels with auxiliary power of not less than that required for a Second-class Certificate may be allowed to count as qualifying for examination for a Second-class Engineer's Certificate to the extent of one-half the time the vessel is actually at sea. If the candidate is able to prove that the main engines were running for longer than this, he will be allowed to count the whole of such extended time.

49. Service in Dredgers, Fishing-boats, Tug-boats, or Pilot-vessels.—Service in sea-going dredgers, fishing-boats, or tug-boats, and in sea-going pilot-vessels when on their station or when going to or returning from the same, may be accepted under the following conditions :—Two months of such service is only equivalent to one month's qualifying service in a foreign-going vessel. Candidates for Second-class Certificates may perform all their sea service in sea-going dredgers, fishing-boats, tug-boats, or pilot-vessels, but they must have been on regular watch on the main propelling machinery and the horse-power of the vessels must not be less than that required. Candidates for First-class Certificates must, while in possession of a Second-class Certificate, have served in vessels of at least the horse-power named in rules 25 and 29, and have been in charge of the whole of a watch on the main machinery. They must also have served in a qualifying capacity for not less than six months in a foreign-going ship, or nine months in a home-trade ship. This rule will not apply to service on the steam pilot-vessels at the Sandheads. Service on the regular watch on board such vessels for the period the vessels are on the station, or when going to or returning from the same, shall be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, as in the case of steam yachts.

Where an Engineer is employed on a fishing or other vessel and is required to do stoking or other work not usually performed by an Engineer in the Mercantile Marine, such service cannot be accepted as qualifying.

The Port Officer will in all cases satisfy himself that service on fishing boats, when claimed as qualifying for a certificate as Engineer, is of a similar nature to that performed by Engineers in the Mercantile Marine.

50. Service in Yachts.—Service performed in yachts, either within or beyond home-trade limits, may be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, provided that the candidate's name is entered on the vessel's Articles, and that he can prove, to the satisfaction of the Port Officer, that the time claimed was actually served at sea.

Candidates for Second-class Certificates may perform all their service in yachts, but the candidate must have been on regular watch on the main machinery, and the vessel must be of not less than the horse-power stated in rules 24 and 28.

Candidates for First-class Certificates must have served on vessels of the requisite horse-power, and must have been in regular charge of the main machinery. They must also have served for at least three months in a qualifying capacity on board a suitable foreign-going ship. This additional service will, however, not be required in the case of a candidate who has served for 27 months as First Engineer, or for three years as Second Engineer, of a yacht of the requisite power.

51. Certificates of Service.—An officer who has attained the rank of Engineer Lieutenant or Engineer Sub-Lieutenant in His Majesty's Navy, or in the Royal Indian Marine, is entitled without examination, if an Engineer Lieutenant, to a Certificate of Service as First-class Engineer, and if an Engineer Sub-Lieutenant to a Certificate of Service as Second-class Engineer. These officers may be examined for a Certificate of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

An officer who has attained the rank of Chief Artificer Engineer in His Majesty's Navy is also entitled without examination to a Certificate of Service as Second-class Engineer.

52. Examination of Engine-room Artificers.—Artificer Engineers, Chief Engine-room Artificers, Engine-room Artificers, and Mechanicians in the Royal Navy may be examined for Certificates of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

53. Application by Naval Officers.—The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have directed that applications from officers of the Navy for Certificates of Service or for permission to be examined for Certificates of Competency must, in the case of officers on the active list, be made through the Commanding Officer to the Secretary to the Admiralty, and in the case of officers who are on half-pay or who have retired, direct to the Secretary to the Admiralty, who in either case will forward the applications to the Port Officer.

It is not necessary for applications of Chief Engine-room Artificers and Mechanicians, who have left the Royal Navy and who desire to be examined for Certificates of Competency as Engineers in the Mercantile Marine, to be forwarded either through their Commanding Officers or through the Admiralty. Men who are still serving in these ratings in the Royal Navy should make their applications through their Commanding Officers.

Artificer Engineers, however, being Warrant Officers, should make their applications in the same manner as that laid down for other officers of the Royal Navy.

54. Masters' and Mates' Examination in Steam.—Particulars of the examination of Masters and Mates in steam will be found in Appendix E.

55. Certificates.—The term "Certificate" in these rules includes a Certificate issued by the Board of Trade, or by a British Possession under Order in Council in accordance with section 102 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894. A list of the Colonial Certificates issued under Order in Council is given in Appendix F; and the holder of a Certificate so issued must not be examined in Bengal for a Certificate of the grade already held.

56. Colonial Local Certificates.—The holder of a Colonial Certificate of Competency not granted under the Merchant Shipping Act, or of a Certificate granted after examination on board one of His Majesty's Ships, who wishes to be examined for the Government of Bengal Certificate of the same grade, must prove that he has performed the amount of service required by these rules for that grade, and complied with the conditions laid down as to testimonials.

All Colonial Certificates of Competency, whether local or issued under Order in Council, must be given up before a further Certificate is issued by the Government of Bengal.

CHAPTER III.

CONDUCT OF THE EXAMINATIONS.

57. Commencement and Duration of Examinations.—The examinations will, as a rule, commence at 10-30 A.M., and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates are examined.

58. Candidates to be Punctual.—Candidates are required to appear at the examination room punctually at the time appointed.

59. Tables to be Cleared.—Before commencing the examination, the tables and desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper, or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates while in the examination room do not have in their possession any book or paper.

60. Strangers not Admitted.—No persons will be allowed in the rooms during the examinations other than those whose duties require them to be present.

No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

61. Face Sheet and Blotting Paper.—At the commencement of the examination the working paper, containing the rules, should be given to each of the candidates and they should be instructed to read the rules. A sheet of blotting paper will be issued to each candidate with the first examination paper, and it must be returned to the Examiner when the last paper is completed each day. The Examiner will be careful to see that the blotting paper has not been used by the candidate in solving his problems, or for conveying information to other candidates.

62. All Work to be Shown.—No candidate will be allowed to work out his problems on a slate or on waste paper, or to write on the blotting paper supplied for his use in the examination. Violation of this rule will subject the candidate to all the penalties of failure.

All worked papers must be signed and dated and the name of the port of examination inserted by the candidate.

Additional sheets of paper will be supplied by the Examiner if required, but they must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

63. Books and Papers Strictly Forbidden.—All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Port Officer and candidates are prohibited from bringing into the examination room books or papers of any kind whatever. The slightest infringement of this rule will subject the offender to all the penalties of failure, and he will not be allowed to present himself for re-examination for a period of three months.

64. Drawing Instruments.—All candidates have to pass an examination in working drawing, which may, at the candidate's option, consist either of hand sketches clearly dimensioned and complete in the necessary views and sections, or of drawings to scale (see Appendix C). Drawing boards and T squares will be provided by the Board of Trade, but the applicants will have to bring with them any drawing instruments they may require.

65. Candidates' Places.—Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from another, and no communication whatever between the candidates should be allowed.

66. Leaving Room or Building.—No candidate may leave his seat or the examination room without permission and, in the latter case, without giving up the paper on which he is engaged. In no circumstances will the same paper be returned to him, but the Examiner may substitute other questions.

67. Injury to Books.—If a candidate defaces, blots, writes in, or otherwise injures any book or form belonging to the Port Office his papers will be retained until he has replaced the damaged book or document. He will not be allowed to remove the damaged book or document, and will be subjected to all the penalties of failure.

68. Silence.—Perfect silence is to be preserved in the examination room.

69. Order of Examinations.—The examination of candidates for both First and Second-class Certificates consists of four parts: arithmetic, drawing or sketching, elementary questions, and vivâ voce. (See rules 24, 25, 28 and 29.)

70. Examination Papers.—One set of the arithmetical questions should be given to the candidate for the morning's work at 10-30 A.M. and one for the afternoon's at 1-45 P.M. and collected not later than 1 and 4-30 P.M.

71. Arithmetic.—When the number of marks obtained in arithmetic amounts to 28, that is, two-thirds of the maximum, the candidate passes in arithmetic, if less than 21, he fails.

If the marks obtained amount to 21, but not to 28, and if the applicant has had long experience, his testimonials and service should be taken into account, and his examination continued, if deemed advisable by the Examiner, and he may be passed if showing sufficient superiority in practical knowledge to compensate for the deficiency in arithmetic.

72. Drawing.—With regard to a candidate's drawing, if it is not wholly satisfactory, the examination may be proceeded with so far as the drawing is concerned, and the candidate passed if in the remaining part of it he shows a superiority in practical knowledge. If no such superiority is shown and the candidate's practical knowledge is such as would otherwise have been accepted, he should be failed in Drawing, but if it is below the ordinary standard he should be failed in Elementary or Practical Knowledge, as the case may require.

73. Elementary Questions.—All candidates will be required to fill up form Exn. 15*b* (see Appendix A) and to give written answers to ten questions which may be selected from Elementary Questions shown in Appendix B, or may be new questions somewhat similar in form and covering much the same ground. These questions are intended to test the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to furnish evidence as to his handwriting, composition and spelling.

The elementary questions will, as a rule, be given on the second or third day of the examination to candidates for Second-class, and on the third day to candidates for First-class, but candidates who have time after working the arithmetical papers on the first day or the drawing on the second day may be allowed to go on with the Elementary Questions.

Candidates for First-class Certificates are expected to show their superiority by giving answers to the Elementary Questions more complete than those of the other candidates.

74. Viva Voce.—Having regard to the fact that, when the verbal examination is held, the candidate has already passed in arithmetic, and in drawing or sketching, and has also written answers to the elementary questions, the Examiners should deal with practical, rather than theoretical, questions in this division of the examination; and no candidate should be failed in the verbal examination without having been well cross-questioned on the points for which failure takes place. Candidates may, however, if the Examiner is satisfied that the written paper fairly represents their knowledge, be failed in the written elementary paper without being examined vivâ voce. In cases where the Examiner approves of the elementary paper, but fails, the candidate for lack of either practical or elementary knowledge, a written account of the points on which he failed must be forwarded to the Port Officer with the elementary papers and the Report in form Exn. 15.

It is considered of great importance that Engineers presenting themselves for examination should have an extensive knowledge of the particulars of actual casualties which have occurred at sea, and be able to state how these might have been prevented, and how remedied. Sometimes an Engineer presents himself who has had no personal experience of any defects, and who can tell nothing about casualties to machinery which have occurred in the experience of others: such candidates should be closely questioned as to their knowledge of boiler and engine construction and the repairs of same.

Questions on the management of engines and boilers at sea, the duties of the Engineer on watch, the work to be done to the engines, boilers, and auxiliary machinery in port, and the periodical examinations of the working parts, should form part of the vivâ voce examination.

75. Failure in Examination.—If the candidate fails in practical knowledge he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service at sea in a qualifying capacity as Engineer on watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamer, or its equivalent in the home trade (four and a half months) subsequent to the date of failure. If he fails in arithmetic, elementary knowledge, or drawing only, he may come up again at any time, but in all cases of failure any re-examination must begin entirely afresh

Failure in a number of elementary questions involving fundamental principles, or in questions ignorance of which might lead an Engineer to do something actually unsafe in the management of any part of a ship's machinery, will be regarded as failure in practical knowledge.

76. Penalty for Copying, etc.—In the event of any candidate being discovered referring to any book or paper, or copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving information to another, or communicating in any way with another, during the time of examination, or copying any part of the problems for the purpose of taking them out of the examination room, he will subject himself to all the penalties of failure, and will not be allowed to be again examined for a period of six months.

In the event of the offence being repeated double the penalty specified will be enforced.

77. Penalty for Breach of Rules.—Any candidate violating any of the rules, or being guilty of insolence to the Examiner, or of disorderly or improper conduct in or about the examination room, will render himself liable to the postponement of his examination, or, in the event of his having passed, to the detention of his Certificate for such period as the Government may direct.

78. Reports of Examinations.—Reports of Examinations on the form Exn. 15, together with the examination papers and form Exn. 37, the candidate's application to be examined (form Exn. 3) duly filled up, and his previous certificate, if any, should be forwarded to the Port Officer, immediately the examinations are completed.

APPENDIX A.

[See rule 73.]

Form to be filled up by all candidates at the examination.

Form Exn. 15*b*.

Port	Class for which examined
Date	Candidate's Name

A. Where and how long did you serve in works at the making or repairing of engines and boilers?

B How long and in what capacity did you serve in works on shore other than at the making or repairing of engines and boilers?

C. How long have you served in the engine-room at sea, and in what capacities?

D. With what descriptions of engines have you served at sea? What sizes were the engines?

E. With what descriptions of boilers have you served at sea?

F. What engine defects, or defects to auxiliary machinery, have come under your notice; what caused these defects, and how were they remedied? Give the names of the steamers for verification.*

G. What boiler defects have come under your notice, what caused these defects, and how were they remedied? Give the names of the steamers for verification.*

* It is not necessary that the casualties or defects described should have occurred within your own personal experience; you should however give a full and complete description of those you select.

APPENDIX B.

[See rule 73.]

ELEMENTARY QUESTIONS.

NOTE.—The following questions will not necessarily be used in the elementary paper referred to in rule 73. Questions should be read in the light of their context. Thus in question 208 the pipe referred to is that described in the previous question.

1. What parts of an engine are generally made of wrought iron?
2. What parts of an engine are generally made of cast iron?
3. For what parts of an engine is steel generally used?
4. What parts of an engine are generally made of brass or gun metal?
5. Where is "white metal" generally used? On account of what property possessed by it is it adopted? What objection is there to its more general use?
6. For what parts is Muntz metal sometimes used? Is it malleable? For what properties is it valued?
7. What difference is there in the composition of cast iron, of wrought iron, and of steel?
8. How can cast iron, wrought iron, and steel be distinguished from each other?
9. What are the different properties of cast iron, of wrought iron, and of steel?
10. What is meant by the terms, "breaking stress," "proof stress," "safe working stress"?
11. What is the cohesive strength, or breaking stress, of (a) good ordinary wrought iron, and (b) mild steel?
12. What is meant by the tempering of steel? What kind of steel can be tempered? Describe the process in each case.
13. What is the object of case-hardening? Describe the process.
14. Which of the common metals or alloys can be forged, and which of them are brittle or "short"?
15. What is meant by "welding"? Which of the common metals can be welded?

16. Give examples of the expansion of metals by heat in the engine and in the boiler.

17. In the construction of steel cylindrical marine boilers, for what parts have the plates to be worked hot? What precautionary treatment of these plates is afterwards necessary?

18. In what parts of cylindrical marine boilers is the strongest riveting employed? In which of the shell seams is it most necessary?

19. What is "caulking," and how are seams prepared for caulking?

20. Describe the different ways of fastening the ends of the main stays of a boiler. What are the merits of, or objections to, the different methods?

21. What stress per square inch is allowed on iron and on steel boiler stays?

22. Describe a riveted stay, and state where such stays are sometimes used.

23. Where are thin plates to be looked for in a boiler as it wears, and how is the thinness to be detected?

24. How are boiler tubes fixed? What are "stay tubes," and how are they secured?

25. Where do boiler tubes generally leak? How is this defect repaired? What are the causes of this leaking?

26. What are the causes of cracked tube plates? Where are the cracks usually situated? How are they repaired?

27. What is the difference between a "dry uptake" and a "wet uptake"? Which requires more repair? Why? In what types of boiler are wet uptakes now fitted?

28. What is a superheater? What is its construction? What valves are on it? There is sometimes a gauge-glass on it; what is that for? Are superheaters now in general use?

29. What parts of a marine multitubular boiler are first injured by shortness of water?

30. Where are angle irons sometimes used in the construction of a boiler, and where are flanged plates used?

31. To what causes is priming attributed? What means are applied to prevent it? What evils may be produced by it?

32. What creates funnel draught? What checks it?

33. Flame is sometimes seen at the top of the funnel; what causes it? Is it beneficial or is it detrimental? Why so?

34. How many bottom blow-off cocks are generally fitted in connection with each boiler, and why are they so fitted?

35. For what purpose are blow-off cocks sometimes fitted with a spanner guard? Describe how the guard is formed.

36. Where are water-gauge test-cocks placed? At what heights? Must the cocks themselves be at those heights? What provision is made for cleaning these cocks should they ever become choked? When there are no test cocks how is the height of the water ascertained?

37. What are the different types of safety valves in general use? How is a lock-up valve arranged to admit of lifting it or of turning it round, and to prevent adding to the weight?

38. About what area of safety valve per square foot of fire grate is now required by the Board of Trade? What is the effect of suddenly opening a safety valve when steam is up? To about what extent do safety valves lift when blowing off without being eased by hand?

39. What advantages have spring-loaded safety valves that are not possessed by dead-weight valves? What are the disadvantages, if any, as compared with dead-weight valves?

40. Of what parts does a glass water gauge mounting consist? How does it act? Where is it placed? At what height? Is it liable to derangement? How is its working tested?

41. Glass water gauges have sometimes pipe connections at the top and bottom; in what cases is this necessary? Should there be cocks at the extremities of these pipes? Give your reasons.

42. Describe a Bourdon steam gauge. Some gauges have inverted syphon pipes below them; what is their use?

43. Why is a small cock sometimes put on the pipe leading to a steam gauge? Where should it be placed, and what error might be made by omitting to use it?

44. Do steam gauges indicate the total pressure of the steam or only a portion of that pressure? What is the pressure measured from?

45. What is meant by the salting of the boiler? How is this prevented? What is the density of ordinary sea water? How is the density ascertained? What is the difference between the formation of scale and the salting of the boiler? What is the maximum density at which boilers should be worked at sea? In the event of condenser tubes leaking what is the minimum density at which boilers should be worked? Give your reasons.

46. How are scum cocks and pipes arranged? Where are they placed? At what height in the boiler? When are they used? When must they be shut? What dangers may result from neglect of these cocks?

47. Of what does scale consist? Where is it most objectionable? How is it removed? How is its formation prevented? What evil effects are produced by it?

48. What is a salinometer? Of what does it consist? How does it act? How is it graduated? Can it be used at any temperature indiscriminately?

49. In what ways might the check valve of one of a set of boilers become defective while under way? What would be the result in each case and what action would be necessary?

50. How is a leak from a split tube in a boiler stopped at sea? Describe the operation.

51. What is the use of dampers? Where are they fitted? When should they be used?

52. If the funnel damper were inoperative what steps would you take to reduce evaporation? What injuries to the boiler are sometimes attributed to some of these? Are such results affected by the condition of the heating surfaces?

53. Describe the piston of a steam cylinder, with its different rings and their uses? Round pieces are generally let in flush on one side of a piston; what are they? How are these pieces fixed?

54. What is the use of cylinder drain cocks? Valves were sometimes placed upon these cocks; what purpose did they serve?

55. Of what do cylinder escape valves consist? How are they protected? How are they regulated? When are they most needed? To what danger do they expose the engineer? What precaution is generally used to obviate this danger?

56. What is a compound engine? What different kinds are there for screw steamers, in respect to the number and arrangement of their cranks and cylinders?

57. What is a link motion? What are some of its advantages? In modern engines for the screw propeller, when there is no link motion, what takes its place?

58. What arrangement is applied to reduce the friction of a slide valve? To what is the friction due?

59. Describe a loose eccentric; how does it act? In what engines are loose eccentrics still employed?

60. What is the travel of the eccentric rod? How is it measured on the eccentric? What is the travel of the slide valve when the link motion is in mid gear, and the engine still moving?

61. What are "double beat valves"? What objections are there to their use?

62. What is a circulating pump? Is it always worked by the main engine? Give an example from your last steamer of the three water temperatures generally noted by careful engineers.

63. An air valve is sometimes fitted to reciprocating circulating pump; what purpose does it serve?

64. What is the difference between a bucket and a piston air-pump? Are double acting air-pumps made with plungers, with pistons, or with buckets?

65. What is an air-pump trunk? When is it necessary? How is it attached to the bucket?

66. What class of air-pump requires both foot and delivery valves, and in what other class is it possible in some cases to dispense with either of these valves?

67. Describe the construction and action of reciprocating and centrifugal circulating pumps.

68. What are marine governors? What is their general construction? How do they act?

69. With a surface condenser and a single-acting air-pump what is the effect of a leaky foot valve, and what is the effect of a leaky bucket when there is also a foot valve?

70. Where is the air-pump pet cock or valve placed? How does it act? What is its object? Does it in every case reduce the effective capacity of the pump? Is it equally applicable to double-acting pumps?

71. At about what temperature is the hot well worked? What is the effect of higher temperatures? What is the effect of lower temperatures? What limits the lowness of temperature? Has a very low temperature any disadvantages?

72. When surface condensers are used, what takes the place of the bilge injection? To what is the connection made? How is its valve formed? Why is this necessary?

73. What are the practical guides to the proper amount of opening of the inlet valve for the circulating pump?

74. Where is a feed-pump pet cock or valve placed? What is its use? How does it act? Is it always a necessary fitting?

75. What are the usual ways of fastening the ends of surface condenser tubes? About what size and about what thickness are these tubes? What parts of a surface condenser are made of brass?

76. What connections are generally fitted to the donkey pump, and to what services can it be applied?

77. When the engines are stopped in harbour with steam up, which cocks or valves should be shut and which opened?

78. How is an engine heated up before starting? What precautionary examinations are made before starting?

79. What is a separator or interceptor? Where is it fixed, what is its construction, how does it act, and what attention does it require?

80. Describe an air-pump bucket, with its valve or valves and its packing. Of what are the valves generally made?

81. Of what materials are air-pump rods made? Why?

82. What is the racing of an engine? When does it occur? What danger attaches to it? What is done to prevent it?

83. What is meant by the "pitch" of a screw propeller? How is it measured?

84. Explain the difference between a "right hand" and a "left hand" propeller, and state how each of them revolves.

85. What is the slip of a screw propeller? How is its amount expressed in figures?

86. Which of the valves about engines and boilers have to be worked by hand, which of them are self-acting, and which are worked by the motion of the engine?

87. Why is soda sometimes put into a boiler, and how is it put in when under way? What is the kind of soda used?

88. Does a self-acting cylinder escape-valve allow all the water to escape? If not, how much is left in the cylinder?

89. Describe the usual methods of lubricating slide valves and pistons.

90. Of what is the centre of a common paddle wheel made? Of what are the arms formed? What is the form of the bolts which attach the floats to the arms? How are the arms attached to the centres?

91. Why have some paddle wheels one or more floats in each wheel heavier than the rest? With what engines are these most required? At what part of the circumference are they placed?

92. Why are paddle wheel floats sometimes made of different breadths in the same wheel? With what description of engine is this most needed? Where are the broad floats placed and where are the narrow floats placed in the circumference of the wheel?

93. What difference is there between a radial paddle wheel and one with feathering floats? What is the object of feathering floats? Are all the eccentric rods attached in the same way, and are they all of the same form?

94. Whereabout is the centre of the eccentric of a paddle wheel with feathering floats placed? In the case described are the feathering levers on the striking face or on the back of the float? When the paddle shaft has an outer bearing how is the eccentric made?

95. Of what materials are the working surfaces of a paddle wheel with feathering floats made? How are they lubricated?

96. What is a "Disconnecting Paddle Engine"? At what place is the disconnecting effected? How is it accomplished? In which of the cranks of a disconnecting engine are the crank pins fixed?

97. Is link motion valve gear or the loose eccentric generally used for disconnecting paddle engines? For what steamers are disconnecting paddle engines frequently employed?

98. What are expansion joints? Where are they necessary? What attention do they require? Of what should the working surfaces be made?

99. What omission in the construction of expansion joints may lead to a serious accident when steam is first applied? How is this prevented in the construction of a steam trunnion pipe for an oscillating engine?

100. Describe an oil cup with a syphon worsted. How is the worsted arranged? How is it cleaned? How far down the tube does it extend?

101. Describe a thrust bearing; which of the surfaces wear?

102. What parts of a screw shaft are generally covered with brass? Why is this necessary? About what thickness is the brass?

103. What is the stern tube? Why is a tube of such a length required? Of what is it made? How is it fixed at each end?

104. What is a lignum vitæ bearing? How is the wood fitted? Where is such a bearing generally used?

105. How is a screw propeller fixed on the shaft? What means are used to prevent its getting loose at sea?

106. With a condensing engine, what valves or cocks are on the skin of the ship in the engine-room, and in the stokehold?

107. What are the necessary fittings of a marine boiler?

108. With a surface condensing engine, what cocks or valves are opened some time before the engine is started so as to be ready for starting whenever the order is given?

109. What is a steam jacket? What cocks are on it? In what engines are jackets most generally used? Do they require to be lagged or covered with non-conducting materials?

110. What parts of an engine or its fittings should be felted or otherwise protected against radiation?

111. What are the small cylinders sometimes fitted on the slide valve casing cover of vertical engines? Explain their action. To what are they connected by a pipe? Why?

112. Name the principal pipes in connection with the engines and boilers of a steamer, and state to what the ends these pipes are connected?

113. Through what cocks or valves, pipes and chambers does the water pass on its way from the sea inlet rose-plate to the water space of the boiler, with a jet condenser?

114. Through what cocks or valves, pipes and chambers does the circulating water of a surface condenser pass?

115. Through what cocks or valves, pipes and chambers does the steam pass from the boiler until it is in the form of water in the hot well?

116. Name, in the order in which they act, the parts of the engine through which the pressure of the steam is transmitted from the piston to the screw propeller.

117. What is an air vessel? How does it act? At what parts of an engine or of its fittings are air vessels generally fixed?

118. What is the construction of a mudbox? Where should mudboxes be placed? Why are they necessary? How should the space be divided by the rose-plate, and why?

119. What is an oscillating engine? For what steamers are oscillating engines generally adopted? Why? How is the steam conveyed to and from the slide valve casing?

120. Of what parts does the valve motion gear of an oscillating engine consist?

121. What types of geared marine engines are now used? Describe the gearing.

122. At what part of a screw steamer is the pressure that propels it applied to the hull?

123. At what part of a paddle steamer is the pressure that propels it applied to the hull?

124. About how much fuel per indicated horse-power per hour is required by modern steam-engines, bi-compound, triple and quadruple expansion?

125. What is the explanation of the economy of the surface condenser?

126. What is the construction of a surface condenser? Of what are its tubes made? How are they fixed? How are they kept tight? What is done with a split tube?

127. Where do surface condensers foul? How are they cleaned?

128. What non-conducting substances are employed to prevent radiation, and how are they applied?

129. In the construction of smoke-box doors and of dry uptakes, what provision is made to lessen the amount of radiation?

130. How can the formation of black smoke be prevented? Describe smoke-preventing apparatus.

131. What is meant by "circulation" in a boiler, and what are the results of defective circulation?

132. What means are sometimes adopted to improve the circulation in a boiler?

133. By what arrangement is the circulation promoted in a "hay stack" boiler?

134. Describe a ship's side air-pump discharge valve. In what respects does it sometimes differ from a common stop valve, and what attention does it require?

135. What is the construction of a feed escape valve, to what is its discharge connected, and how is its loading regulated? Where should the escaping water flow?

136. When there is no feed escape valve what is the usual arrangement of the feed valves or cocks? Is this considered entirely satisfactory?

137. What is the measure of a horse-power? How is indicated horse-power ascertained?

138. Has "nominal horse-power" a fixed meaning? What is the use of this expression? What is generally taken as the measure of one horse-power nominal?

139. What is "back pressure" in a cylinder? About how much is it in each of the cylinders in your last steamer? Is excessive cushioning ever a trouble under certain conditions in modern engines? Say when and why and in which cylinder this occurs.

140. What is meant by "speed of piston"? About how much is the speed of piston in modern marine engines?

141. What is "atmospheric pressure"? What is its average amount? What instrument tells this amount?

142. What is "gross pressure" or "absolute pressure"? What pressure is it that is shown by the steam gauge?

143. What is meant by "cutting off" steam? How is it done? What part of the valve regulates the cut off?

144. What are piston slide valves? Describe their construction. Why are they frequently employed in place of common slide valves? Have they any disadvantages compared with common slide valves? If so, name them.

145. What fixes the time of closing the exhaust? After the exhaust is closed and before the port opens for steam, what becomes of the steam that is in the cylinder?

146. What is the "lead" of the valve? What is its object? About what amount is it?

147. What is the "cover" or "lap" of the valve? What is its object? About what proportion of the stroke of the valve is it made?

148. What is the "exhaust cover" of a slide valve? What is its effect upon cushioning and upon exhaust?

149. What is "negative cover" or "negative lap" on the exhaust edge of the valve? What is its effect upon the exhaust and upon cushioning?

150. What is "compression" and what is "cushioning" in a steam cylinder? How is each affected by the amount of cover or of negative cover there may be upon the exhaust edge of the valve and how by the exhaust pressure?

151. What is "mean effective pressure"? How is its amount ascertained?

152. What is a dial vacuum gauge? What is its construction? For what is it used? About what amount should it show when the engine is working all right? What effect have the variations it indicates on the performance of the engine?

153. Does the vacuum gauge enable you to tell what pressure there is in the condenser, or must you have recourse also to the barometer to arrive at that? How would you ascertain the actual amount of back pressure there is in the condenser?

154. What is a barometer? What is its construction? In what respect does the barometer differ from the mercury tube vacuum gauge?

155. Are the graduations marked from atmospheric pressure in the vacuum gauge or in the steam gauge? Does either of them tell what is the true actual pressure in the boiler or in the condenser?

156. Do the indications of steam and vacuum gauges vary with the variations of the barometer? When the barometer varies from 29 to 31 how much will the vacuum gauge vary and how will that affect the working of the engine? Why?

157. Vacuum is generally stated as so many inches. What is meant by say 20 inches vacuum? What does that tell us about the absolute pressure of the vapour then in the condenser?

158. From what depth will a pump draw water? Is there any limit? Why?

159. What is vacuum? Can vacuum move a piston? When the temperature of the water in the condenser is 212° Fahrenheit, what is the greatest degree of vacuum there can then be in the condenser?

160. What is a thermometer? What is its construction? What property of matter is used as the principle of its construction? What temperatures are regularly noted by careful engineers?

161. What is the temperature of (1) melting ice, (2) boiling water, (3) steam about 60lbs. pressure by the steam gauge, (4) steam about 100 lbs., (5) steam about 150 lbs., (6) smoke in the funnel, (7) water in the hot well?

162. What is meant by the "conduction" of heat? Give examples of it in the boiler and in the engine.

163. What is meant by the "convection" of heat? Give examples of it in the boiler and in the engine.

164. What is meant by "radiation" of heat? Give examples of it in the boiler and in the engine.

165. In which of the following cases is heat transmitted by convection, in which by radiation, and in which by conduction? (1) Heat given off from the glowing fuel to the furnace crown; (2) Heat passing from one side of the furnace crown plate to the other; (3) Heat passing from the steam pipe in the engine-room; (4) Heat conveyed by water circulating in the boiler?

166. Which are the effective heating surfaces of a marine boiler?

167. What parts of a marine engine are exposed to danger when the temperature is below freezing point?

168. What precautions are necessary in cold climates when the temperature is below freezing point?

169. State as many ways as you can by which a boiler might not get its full feed. A boiler, or one of a set of boilers, gets short of water although the feed valve is open its proper amount; to what causes might this be due?

170. Of what are furnace bars generally made? About what thickness are they at the top? About what space is between them? Are the bars put further apart for Newcastle than for Welsh coal?

171. Which burns faster, Newcastle coal or Welsh coal? Which is the flaming coal? Which makes more smoke.

172. About how many tons of steam coal will be burnt per day in four furnaces, each 3′ 0″ wide and of about the usual length? On what grounds do you base your answer?

173. About how many tons of steam coal will be burnt per day with good triple expansion engines to drive an ordinary steamer of 40 feet beam 10 knots an hour by steam alone? How do you arrive at your answer? What percentage more coal would be required to propel the same steamer one knot faster?

174. About how many tons of steam coal will be burnt per day with a good triple expansion engine, surface condensing, the low pressure cylinder 60 inches diameter, doing average work? On what do you base your opinion?

175. In an inverted cylinder direct acting engine, there is a liner half an inch thick between the ahead eccentric rod and the eccentric strap. In overhauling the engine this piece is lost and forgotten; what difference will its omission make in the working of the engine, on the admission, on the cut off, and on the exhaust of the steam? Which will take place earlier and which later, distinguishing between the up stroke and the down stroke?

176. In an inverted cylinder direct acting engine driving a right-hand screw, on which of the crosshead guide bars is the pressure greatest in the up stroke, and on which in the down stroke?

177. A screw propeller is getting loose, and has a little play on the shaft, sideways on the key or feather; how will this show in the engine-room?

178. How would you prove whether the centre line of the trunnions of an oscillating cylinder is fair with the centre line of the main shaft?

179. How can the fairness of a line of screw shafting be tested without lifting the shafts?

180. Where a steel forgings generally used in marine engines?

181. What is the composition of nickel-steel? Where is it sometimes used in engines and boilers?

182. How is forced draught generated on board ship and supplied to boiler-furnaces? Is the air heated before delivery? If so, how?

183. What is "induced" draught? Compare the merits of "forced" and of "induced" draughts.

184. How is the intensity of forced or induced draught measured? What is the usual pressure employed in the mercantile marine?

185. An explosive gas is liberated from bunker coal. Usually in well-ventilated bunkers this gas escapes into the atmosphere without doing harm. In ill-ventilated bunkers the gas after mixing with a certain proportion of common air has been known to explode when a naked light has been brought into contact with it. What is the composition of the gas? Where is it found, in bunkers, 'tween decks, pockets, and coal shoots? How may it be got rid of as soon as it is given off by the coal? How many cubic feet of air to one of the gas forms a violently explosive mixture?

186. A lighted lamp or candle has sometimes been lowered into an apparently empty paraffin tank and produced an explosion resulting in injury to the person holding the light. What did the tank probably contain, and what produced the explosion?

187. At what point in vessels carrying coal-cargoes does the gas which escapes from the body of the coal tend to accumulate? Why should this be so?

188. A light lowered into recently-opened ballast tanks, double-bottoms and boilers, is sometimes extinguished. What would, in all probability, cause this?

189. In double-bottom steamers where does the bilge water lie, and where are the roses of the bilge pipes fitted?

190. What is the advantage of a large rose over a small one?

191. Why should engine bilge suctions be fitted to both wings of the bilge, especially in vessels carrying cargoes liable to shift?

192. In a heavily listed vessel, why is it difficult to keep steam?

193. If the engine bilge pumps get choked and water accumulates in the stokehold bilges, what effect does the water have upon the bilge boards and stokehold plates, when the ship is rolling violently?

194. In a triple-expansion engine, what spare gear do you consider necessary in the case of a foreign-going ship? Also what stores would you provide for a voyage to New Zealand?

195. What means are sometimes provided for temporarily coupling together the broken parts of, say, a tunnel-shaft? Describe the fitting.

196. Does the pressure on the thrust-collars vary with the horse-power, or with the speed of the ship, or how?

197. If the holding-down bolts of a thrust-bearing should become slack, what effect would it have upon the working of the engines?

198. In an engine with three cranks, which of the three is subject to the greatest torsional stress (1) in going ahead, (2) in going astern?

199. Is it usual to make the crank shaft of a triple or quadruple expansion engine in one piece? Is the diameter of the shaft uniform from end to end? Explain the practice which obtains?

200. In a "built" crank shaft how are the webs rigidly secured to the pins and to the body of the shaft?

201. There are various descriptions of donkey engines in use on board ship for pumping purposes. Some pumps are fitted with escape-valves, some are not. Why should this be?

202. Explain the function of an air-vessel fitted to a feed pump. Make rough hand sketches of (1) a satisfactory vessel, (2) an unsatisfactory vessel, where, say, the air-spring has been destroyed by carelessness, or has never been properly provided.

203. Should cocks or escape-valves be fitted to air-vessels? Why or why not?

204. Where, by preference, should the escape valve of a feed pump be placed? Why?

205. Scum cocks are sometimes fitted to boiler-shells at a height convenient for engineers to manipulate when standing in the stokehold; the scum pipes in such cases are led upward, inside the boiler, to a little above the combustion chamber tops What danger may arise from this arrangement?

206. Cocks for testing the water-level of boilers are sometimes fitted within reach of the engineer who is standing in the stokehold. These may have internal pipes leading upward and terminating at various levels. Under what circumstances may these become misleading?

207. Why should the pipe which leads from the bottom of the water-gauge column to the bottom of the boiler-front be covered with non-conducting material? Why also should it never have lengthy horizontal bends?

208. In your own experience, how frequently is this pipe removed and cleared?

209. Why, even with the best of water-gauges, is it advisable occasionally to use the drain-cock?

210. Steam loops have sometimes been inadvertently made in the length of piping leading from the top of the water-gauge column to the top of the boiler. Roughly sketch such a loop and explain the danger arising from its existence.

211. Describe your method of thoroughly testing the water-gauge system to satisfy yourself that all the cocks and pipes are clear. Hand sketches, mere lines indicating pipes, and circles indicating cocks, should be made. Identify the cocks and pipes by letters or numerals.

212. Describe the construction of a water-tube boiler, mentioning the type selected. Of what materials are the various parts usually made?

213. In a water-tube boiler, how is an economiser fitted, and what is its duty?

214. How is the water-gauge fitted in a water-tube boiler? Are glass-gauges used?

215. The pressure of the steam in water-tube boilers is sometimes greater than at the engines. Why is this, and how is this difference of pressure maintained?

216. Describe any automatic method of feeding water-tube boilers.

217. Describe the construction of any steam turbine you are acquainted with, which is used on board ship. How is the expansion of steam effected? How many propeller shafts are employed, and how many propellers?

218. Is the same power in a steam turbine available to go astern as to go ahead?

219. Of what material are the propellers usually made in a steam turbine, and why is this material adopted?

220. About how many pounds of coal per indicated horse-power per hour are burnt with turbine engines? Name the type of boiler in use.

221. Describe one of the several classes of refrigerating machinery in use on board ship. Several types exist. Which is the most economical?

222. Describe the defects to which the selected type is subject. How are the defects overcome?

223. How frequently are the parts opened out for examination? Name the parts.

224. How frequently are the condensers of refrigerating plants opened for examination? How frequently are the coils tested by hydraulic pressure? On which side of the coil is corrosion most commonly found? Why should this be so?

225. Where ammonia is used in refrigerating machines, should the machinery by preference be isolated? Why? Give what information you possess bearing on the matter, naming the ships for purposes of identification.

226. Explain how the ammonia is removed from the tubes in which it is supplied, and how passed into the refrigerating machine.

227. What objection is there to the presence of water in the ammonia?

228. Describe the ammonia process of refrigeration.

229. Of what material are the parts made which are in contact with the ammonia?

230. Are escape-valves fitted to the compressors of ammonia machines? What is the reason for the usual practice?

231. What is the maximum pressure found in the compressors of ammonia machines?

232. What kind of pressure and other gauges are used in ammonia machines?

233. Explain how carbon dioxide (CO_2) is removed from the tubes in which it is supplied, and how passed into the refrigerating machine.

234. What objection is there to the presence of water in carbon dioxide (CO_2)?

235. Describe this process of refrigeration.

236. Of what material are the parts made which are in contact with the carbon dioxide (CO_2)?

237. Are escape-valves fitted to the compressors of these machines?

238. What is the maximum pressure attained in the compressors of carbon dioxide (CO_2) machines?

239. What kind of pressure and other gauges are used in such machines?

240. In which type of refrigerating machine is brine used? What is its composition and density? Where does it circulate?

241. Are fans for circulating air used in any of the refrigerating processes? If so, why are they necessary?

242. What means are in some cases employed for ascertaining the temperatures of refrigerating chambers without entering them?

243. What effect may the swabbing of the compressor piston rods have upon the working of the refrigerating machinery?

244. What is a rectifier? Explain its use.

245. Describe the cold-air process of refrigeration.

246. Of what material are the air suction and delivery valves of a cold-air machine made? How are the valves kept on their seats?

247. How many compressors are there to a cold-air machine?

248. What is the duty of the expansion cylinder of a cold-air machine?

249. What objection is there to the presence of moisture in the air passed through the cold-air machine?

250. How is water to some extent removed from the air? What is the minimum temperature of the air?

251. What is the maximum pressure found in the compressors of cold-air machines?

252. What kind of pressure and other gauges are used in cold-air machines?

253. In refrigerating engines generally, where is the exhaust steam led?

254. Cold-air chambers on board ship are insulated. How and why?

255. Is it prudent to allow the wires of an electric circuit to pass through the insulation? Explain fully.

256. Describe the construction of a feed water-heater and give the name of its manufacturer.

257. To about what temperature is the feed water raised by passing through a feed-heater?

258. What fittings are usually placed on a feed-heater? Why are they necessary?

259. Describe any well-known ash-ejector.

260. Describe any well-known independent feed pumps.

261. Are independent feed pumps automatic in their action? Explain the action.

262. What advantage, if any, have independent feed pumps over feed pumps worked by the main engines?

263. Describe the construction of a feed-filter, enumerating its valves and cocks.

264. How can the filter be cleaned? What ingredients are generally removed when cleaning takes place?

265. What is the intercepting material in a filter made of? How is it fitted?

266. Describe an evaporator, and mention the type.

267. What fittings are necessary with evaporators?

268. How is the brine got rid of in an evaporator?

269. How may the evaporator coils be cleaned?

270. What is a dynamo? Describe its various parts. For what is it used?

271. In what respect does an electric motor differ from an electric generator? Where are electric motors sometimes used on board ship?

272. Describe a system of electric lighting employed on board ship?

273. How is the position of a fault in the electric circuit discovered?

274. What is "sparking" in an electric lighting circuit? In what circumstances may it be dangerous?

275. What is "short-circuiting," and to what evil may it give rise?

276. What means are employed to prevent any part of the circuit becoming overheated?

277. Describe the features of an arc lamp.

278. Describe the construction of an incandescent lamp.

279. What is the usual candle-power of the small incandescent lamps in general use on board ship?

280. Define the following terms:—Ampère, volt, ohm, watt. What is the measure of an electrical horse-power?

281. Explain the uses of switches, brushes, commutators, cutouts, field-magnets, armatures and resistance-coils.

282. Why is it desirable to fit a dynamo in a cool place on board ship?

283. What undesirable effect will ultimately occur to an electric wire whose sectional area is constantly diminishing, say, through corrosion?

284. What danger might arise from leading electric wires through coal bunkers?

285. Is it better to lead electric wires above or below side-scuttles? Why?

286. What instruments are used on board ship to ascertain the strength of an electric current?

287. Many ocean-going steamers are fitted with hydraulic cranes, etc. Where do they obtain their power? How is the hydraulic pressure kept at a relatively constant amount?

288. Is any difficulty experienced in working hydraulic cranes in frosty weather? If so, why?

289. Describe any steam steering gear with which you are acquainted.

290. When the helm is put hard over and the ship is going full speed ahead, what prevents the rudder from returning to the amidship position?

291. In the case of a steamship under way, does the helmsman manipulating the steam steering wheel overcome any resistance exerted by the rudder?

292. Explain clearly what is being done by a helmsman manipulating the wheel of a steam steering engine.

293. Is there any difference between the amount of horse-power required to put a helm hard over, in a given time when the vessel is going full speed ahead, and when she is going full speed astern? This question refers to the case of a steamer fitted with one rudder only, and demands a more complete answer than merely "yes" or "no."

294. What precautions should be taken before removing a manhole-door of a steam boiler? In the absence of such precautions what casualties might occur?

295. Describe the chief features of the engine-governor fitted to a steamer you have served in. Describe its action. Give the maker's name, and name of ship.

NOTE.—The following six questions refer to oil-motors fitted to launches.

296. Name the principal parts of an oil-motor, and briefly state their functions. State the type of motor and the name of the makers.

297. What kind of oil is usually employed in oil-motors? What is its flash-point? What is its specific gravity? What is its calorific power? What precautions are taken in its storage to guard against casualty by fire or explosion?

298. How many cylinders are generally used in oil-motors? What kind of pistons are fitted? How frequently (measured in revolutions) is explosion per cylinder effected? How is explosion in the cylinder carried out?

299. Describe how an oil-motor is started. If starting prove difficult, where would you chiefly look for defects? How is piston speed modified? How is the speed of vessel varied? How is reversing effected?

300. Before examining an oil-motor with a naked light, what steps should be taken for safety's sake?

301. How frequently should an oil-motor, working 12 hours a day, be opened up for examination, cleaned, and its parts readjusted? What difficulty arises when the internal parts become foul with carbonized oil?

APPENDIX C.

[See rule 63.]

EXAMINATION IN WORKING DRAWING AND SKETCHING.

FIRST-CLASS ENGINEER. (FORM EXN. 17.)

1. The rules in regard to the qualifications of a candidate for a First-class Engineer's Certificate of Competency specify that—

> "He will be required to make an intelligible hand sketch, or a working drawing of one or more of the principal parts of an engine, boiler, or other part of the machinery, and to mark upon it all the necessary dimensions in figures, so that the sketch or drawing could be worked from."
> "He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other."

2. In accordance with these clauses, the candidate is required to make a working drawing of the parts specified, such as are given below. He is expected to be familiar with the construction of these parts, as an engineer should have a general idea of the details of the engines and boilers with which he has served.

3. Fine drawing is not expected, and, should the candidate prefer this alternative, clear hand sketches will be accepted. In the proportions a wide margin will be allowed, but really absurd design or dimensions will entail failure in practical knowledge. It is, however, imperative that sufficient views be shown, and that these be so completely dimensioned that if the drawing were sent into the workshops the parts could be made from it without further information being supplied, or the drawing requiring to be measured.

4. The candidate should not draw more parts than the subject requires, or begin more than he can completely finish in the time allowed. A portion only of the parts specified, if satisfactory and fully dimensioned, may be accepted in place of the whole, if there is no reason to suppose that the remainder of the work has been evaded through inability or ignorance. If the work be incomplete owing to lack of time, the names of the parts omitted, or not fully dimensioned, should be clearly stated on the face of the sheet.

5. The "Statement by the Candidate" should be filled up carefully and as completely as possible; and should there be any defect in the design selected this should be referred to. A bad design presented without comment or an absurd "Statement" will be considered to imply a want of practical knowledge.

6. The candidate is advised not to begin more than he can finish in the time allowed. Nothing should be pencilled in after four. All the dimension figures and darts must be inked in, and the remaining time should be employed in checking the dimensions and the work generally. It is important that the dimension lines be not confused with centre lines.

7. Extra paper will be provided if required.

8. Caution.—In the event of any candidate being discovered referring to any book or paper, copying from or assisting another, or in any way communicating with another during the time of the examination, he will be regarded as having failed, and will be turned back for six months, and no part of the fees he may have paid will be returned to him.

(Specimen.)

SUBJECT FOR EXAMINATION IN WORKING DRAWING.

Read the foregoing general instructions.

THREE VIEWS OF A BILGE DIRECTING VALVE CHEST CONTAINING AT LEAST TWO BILGE SUCTION VALVES AND ONE SEA SUCTION VALVE.

The candidate should fill up the following and hand in this paper with his drawing.

STATEMENT BY THE CANDIDATE.

The accompanying drawing, made by me this day without referring to any document, and without the assistance of any person, is intended by me to be sufficient for the construction of the parts above described to fit the places of similar parts which are to be renewed.

The parts to be made of brass are _____

The parts to be made of cast iron are_____

What precautions are taken to prevent the sea water from running into the bilges?_____

What appliances are fitted to prevent the valves from being fouled by chips or dirt? _____

Can the ballast pump be used to pump from the bilges through this valve box?_____ If so, what other fitting is considered to be necessary? _____

It is required that all the parts shall be fully dimensioned in ink, but if owing to want of time, this has not been done, the parts not fully dimensioned must be stated; otherwise it will be understood that the candidate considers the dimensions given sufficient.

The parts omitted or not fully dimensioned are_____

Port_____

Date_____day of_____ _____ 191 _____

_____Applicant.

SECOND-CLASS ENGINEER.

The rules respecting the qualifications for a Second-class Engineer's Certificate specify that—

"He must be able to make a dimensioned working sketch or drawing of some simple part of the machinery."

The subjects for examination in drawing given to Second-class candidates will be of a more simple character than those given to First-class men. The general requirements and regulations for the examination will, however, be similar to those stated above.

The candidate will be expected to show that he is capable of making a dimensioned sketch or drawing of a part of the machinery, such that, if it were sent home from a foreign port, the part in question could, if necessary, be accurately reproduced and the new article be fitted in place on board the ship on her return without amendment or alteration.

APPENDIX D.

READING THE WATER-GAUGES.

Notwithstanding that the reading of the water-gauge is made a special feature in the examination of Engineers, many boiler casualties result from the Engineer of the watch either not understanding the construction of the water-gauge fittings or not satisfying himself by actual trial that the cocks, pipes, etc., are clear.

Unless a candidate under examination is able to prove that he understands how to verify the indications of the water-gauge, he should not be passed in practical knowledge, and, as failure in practical knowledge involves the candidate going to sea for another three months before being eligible for re-examination, the Examiner should explain to such candidate his error, after failing him, in order to prevent further casualties resulting from his want of knowledge on this subject.

The sketches, Figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, Plate I, represent the usual methods of attaching water-gauge mountings to marine boilers. The important features in each gauge and the method of verifying its indications are dealt with separately in the following remarks:—

Plate I.

In this case the water-gauge cocks are attached direct to the boiler, and the accuracy of the gauge when the boiler is under steam can be tested as follows :—

First.—Let B remain open, then close cock D and open cock E, and if steam issues it proves that cock B and the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass are clear. If no steam or water issues, either cock B or the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass is choked and the gauge cannot act properly until the obstruction is removed.

Second.—Close cock B and open D and E, and if water issues, cock D is clear. If no water or steam issues, either cock D or the passage from the boiler through the lower fitting is choked and must be cleared before the gauge can act properly.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 2 ONLY.

In this case the gauge cocks are attached to a bent pipe of comparatively large diameter (at least 3 inches in the bore), the upper end of which communicates with the steam space, and the lower end with the water space of the boiler. Owing to the bore of the pipe being large it is not likely to become choked or stopped under the ordinary conditions of working. The water-gauge is, therefore, in practically the same condition as if it were attached direct to the boiler, as in Figure 1. This gauge, when at work, is tested in precisely the same manner as the one shown in Figure 1.

Screw plugs are inserted at P.P. and Q.Q. by the removal of which the apertures in the pipe can be cleared, if necessary, by the insertion of a wire or rod when steam is down.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 3 ONLY.

In this gauge there is an open communication from A to C through the column Y, and in order to "blow through the glass" it is only necessary to shut cocks D and B alternately, keeping E open. But to "blow through the water-gauge," including the pipes H and I, it is necessary, after blowing through the glass as described above, to shut A and C alternately, at the same time keeping B, D and E open for such time as will ensure the complete discharge of the contents of the gauge and its connections. When B, D and C are clear and A choked, the steam lodging in the glass and in the pipe I leading from column Y to A becomes condensed and the water flowing through C to take its place rises in column Y and in the glass to a level above that of the water in the boiler. In other words, the gauge shows a false level. If now E be opened and water is blown out, then on E being again closed the water in the gauge will rise higher than before and be still further misleading. On the other hand, when B, D and A are clear and C choked, the water, if any, in the glass is trapped and no longer rises and falls with the water in the boiler or with the motion of the vessel ; it, however, slowly rises in the glass owing to the condensation of the steam in the upper part of the gauge until such time as E is opened when the whole of the water in the glass is blown out, and on E being closed the glass does not show any water notwithstanding that the water in the boiler may be at the proper level. When the test cocks T T T are attached to column Y, as shown in Figure 3, they cease to be reliable when either cock A or C or the pipe in connection therewith is choked, or nearly choked.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 4 ONLY.

Sometimes the water-gauge fittings are arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5, with no passage up the column, the central portion (N) of the column being simply a pillar or connecting piece of any convenient section between the upper and lower portions to which the cocks B and D are attached.

By this arrangement double communications are obviated and there is no need for what is known as "double shut off" in testing the accuracy of the gauge. When, however, the gauges are constructed in this manner the cocks B and D are unreliable as test cocks in the event of there being no glass in the gauge. This feature should be carefully noted. Moreover, when in working condition the reduction of pressure in the glass which arises when E is opened causes the water in pipe H to rise above its normal level. This objectionable feature should also be noted.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 5 ONLY.

Sometimes there is a bend, L, in the steam pipe I leading from cock A to cock B. This has occasionally escaped observation when new boilers have been fitted on board ship. In most cases this bend arises from the pipe being led in an abnormal direction to escape other pipes, beams or fittings near the smoke box. With such a bend the condensed steam collects in the pipe and falls to the bottom of the bend, and in time it completely fills the pipe from J to K. The steam from K down to the level of the water in the glass is thereby trapped and, as condensation proceeds, leads to a reduction of pressure in the pipe below that of the boiler and an equivalent rise of the water in the bend and also in the gauge glass. When the vessel is quiescent the water in the gauge glass increases in height until cock E is opened or until the pressure in the boiler is so much in excess of that in the lower part of pipe I as to cause the water in the bend to be blown into the gauge glass. In either case instantaneous change of water level in the glass ensues.

In the ordinary course of working the phenomenon described above is more or less modified by the presence of air in the upper part of the gauge and by the rise and fall of the water in the boiler and gauge glass arising from the rolling or pitching motions of the vessel.

OTHER SPECIAL POINTS TO BE NOTED.

When the cocks A and C are omitted, as in Figure 2, it is owing to the bore of the stand pipe being sufficiently large to enable it to be regarded as part of the boiler. Such pipes require, however, to be examined and cleared at intervals by passing a rod through the holes provided for the purpose at P.P. and Q.Q.

Cocks at A and C are not necessary for the testing of gauges arranged as shown in figures 4 and 5. Examiners ought, however, to make sure that candidates are aware of the impossibility of testing the reliability of the indications of water-gauges arranged as in Figure 3 when the cocks A and C are absent and of the effect which the choking of cock A or C, or pipe H or I has on the indications of the test cocks T.T.T. attached to column Y.

Probably more than half the steamers afloat are fitted with water-gauges as shown in Figures 3 and 4, and it is therefore specially important that engineer candidates should thoroughly understand their construction, the principle on which they act, and the steps which must be taken to keep them in an efficient condition.

When fitting a gauge glass into its place it is specially important that it should not be placed so high as to prevent a clearing rod being inserted at G, Figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. This defect, especially if it occurs in a water-gauge attached to a boiler subject to priming, permits a rapid accumulation of scum around the top of the glass and results in the choking of the orifice leading from cock B to the gauge glass in each of the figures.

When a gauge glass is too short or is placed either too high or too low in the fittings, it is also liable to become choked by the packing material being forced over its ends by the glands whilst being screwed up.

The use of unsuitable or insecure internal pipes in connection either with the ordinary glass gauge cocks of the description shown in Figure 1, or with test cocks which are jointed to the boiler itself should also be carefully guarded against.

Boiler casualties have resulted from the cocks B and D having the parts wrongly placed as shown in Figure 6, Plate II. In one case of that kind which forms the subject of Report No. 208 under the Boiler Explosions Acts, the engineer in testing the water-gauge omitted to see that the passages in the cocks B and D were clear when the handles were in their proper working position. This defect could easily have been discovered if proper attention had been paid to the condition of the cocks. A defect of this nature may be due to faulty construction originally, or to the handle of the cock having been overstrained, and the neck twisted. Whether the passages in the plugs are fair and clear can, however, be verified in a few minutes. As in illustrations, the water cock D, Figure 6, Plate II, can be verified by blowing through E with B shut and then moving the handle of D to one side until it is just closed, and then to the other side until it is again just closed; the proper working position of the handle is about equally distant from each of the above positions. The other cocks can be verified in the same manner.

Plate II.

Another serious casualty occurred through the handle of the cock A, Figure 3, having been twisted from its original position relatively to the orifice of the cock, resulting in the cock being shut when apparently open.

When a water-gauge, that is clear in all its parts, has been thoroughly blown through, the water in the glass rises above the level at which it formerly stood, immediately the drain cock E is closed, but if left undisturbed for a time it gradually falls to its former position. The amount of rise which occurs on these occasions depends chiefly on the temperature of the contents of the boiler and on the length of the pipes by which column Y is connected top and bottom to the boiler, but in cases where the gauge is of the description illustrated in Figures 3, 4 and 5, it amounts in high pressure boilers to about 4 inches, while the time occupied by the water in returning to its former level ranges from 30 to 40 minutes. The cause of this rise is twofold, namely (a) the displacement of the comparatively cold water in pipe H by hotter and proportionately lighter water from the boiler, and (b) a slight condensation of the steam and a corresponding fractional reduction of pressure in pipe I. The cause of the gradual subsidence of the water in the glass to its former level is also of a dual character, namely (a) the cooling of the water in pipe H, and (b) the diminution in the condensation of steam in pipe I owing to the collection therein of air released from the steam condensed.

These results will, however, be somewhat modified if the water in the boiler is of higher density than in pipe H, and this will nearly always be the case owing to the condensation of the steam in the glass and upper fittings of the water gauge, causing the water in the lower part to be fresher than that in the boiler.

The examiner should impress upon candidates the necessity for periodically blowing through the water-gauge on each boiler (no matter what the form may be) in a systematic and thorough manner, and, in cases where a boiler is fitted with two water-gauges, of keeping both in constant use: finally he should further impress upon them the necessity for keeping the water-gauges well-lighted, clean, and in all respects efficient.

[See rule 54.]

EXAMINATION OF MASTERS AND MATES IN STEAM.

These examinations are provided for the purpose of giving Masters and Mates who are possessed of Certificates of Competency an opportunity of undergoing a voluntary examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine. The endorsement of a Master's or Mate's Certificate for "Steam" does not, however, imply that he is qualified to perform the duties of an Engineer.

The examination is open to any person who holds a Certificate of any grade in the Foreign or Home Trade or as Master of his own pleasure yacht.

Candidates should fill up the form of application, form Exn. 2, at the Port Office, pay the fee of Rs. 15, and deposit their Certificates and testimonials with the Port Officer, who will inform them when and where to attend to be examined. The usual testimonials for sobriety and good conduct for at least the last 18 months preceding the date of application to be examined must be produced.

If the candidate passes, form Exn. 15, together with a written report of the examination, should be sent to the Port Officer and the candidate's Certificate, together with the form Exn. 2, will be sent to the Government. The words "Certified to have passed in Steam" with the date and place of examination will then be entered on the Certificate and its counterpart, and the Certificate will be sent to the Superintendent of the Mercantile Marine Office of the port named in the form Exn. 2, and will be delivered to the candidate in the usual manner.

If the candidate fails to pass his Certificate will be returned to him at once, but he may not present himself for re-examination until the expiration of three months from the date of failure.

The examination is for the most part vivâ voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of steam-engines and boilers, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery, connected with them and of the way in which electric lighting is carried out on board ship.

Candidates must—

(a) Know the names and understand the uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, etc.

(b) Have a thorough grasp of the construction of the steam-engine and boiler, to enable them to understand the nature and importance of any defect which may be reported to them by the Chief Engineer.

(c) Have a looking-on knowledge of what the principal repairs about engines, boilers and pipes are, and how these repairs are accomplished.

(d) Be able to form an independent opinion as to a break-down, and the consequent propriety or impropriety of proceeding under steam with temporarily repaired or defective machinery.

(e) Understand how to estimate approximately the reduction of fuel required for reduced speed, and be able to satisfy themselves as to the sufficiency of the coal on board for the voyage.

(f) Have an intelligent grasp of the general run of pipes and connections in the engine-room, the working of cocks, the opening and closing of cocks and valves, and know how mistakes of importance may be made and how best to guard against such mistakes.

(g) Be capable of being left in charge of the feeding of a set of boilers, understand the working of the water gauge, and be able to guard against being misled by false indications of the gauge glass.

(h) Understand the operations of blowing down and surfacing, the reasons for such practices and the danger which may result from the neglect of them in certain circumstances.

A Master or Mate presenting himself for examination in Steam must be understood to have made up for his want of practical experience by reading about the steam-engine. He ought, therefore, to show that he intelligently understands the rationale of its action. Under this head he should be able to state approximately the quantity of heat required in the formation of steam, the relation of "latent" heat to "sensible" heat, how much steam can be raised by the combustion of one pound of coal, what horse-power measure is, what indicated horse-power is, what is the action of the slide valve, the course of the steam through the engine, the advantage of working expansively, and how the expansive action is shown by the indicator diagram.

He should know the uses of the various parts of the engines and dynamos used for electric lighting, and how they and the cables are fitted in the hull; how wires are joined, insulated and cased; why it is desirable that they should be led along places which are dry and accessible; what "short circuiting" is and what are the causes which produce it; what is its danger in coal bunkers and petroleum carrying steamers; what are the uses of switches and cut-outs, and why it is so important to prevent short circuiting taking place.

Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions taken from the Elementary Questions printed in Appendix B and given on the sheets marked "Steam," or questions similar to these. These questions will be altered from time to time without notice. The twenty questions will not be difficult, theoretical, or book questions, but such as any man of ordinary capacity who has a fair amount of practical knowledge of the use of working of the steam-engine ought to answer.

Examiners will require all candidates to fill up a form Exn. 15*b*. (see Appendix A), and they will forward it to the Port Officer with the report of the examination.

Masters and Mates may cancel questions A, B and C, but they should fill up the form for questions D, E, F and G, as evidence of their practical knowledge.

If a candidate refers to any book, paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another candidate or any other person during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will not be allowed to be re-examined for a period of six months.

The Examiners will report, in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the management of the engines or boilers in which the candidate was deficient.

Applicants for the voluntary examination need not necessarily have served on board steamships; all that is required is that they shall have a practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine.

Practical knowledge is best gained in the engine-room; and the examination of an officer who does not produce official evidence of service in steamships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

The answers to the Elementary Questions are frequently given by candidates as learned by rote from a book. Candidates should, therefore, be asked such viva voce questions as will necessitate answers in different words, so as to discover whether they have the root of the matter in them.

A large part of the viva voce examination should be conducted on board a steamer, preferably one with which the candidate is unacquainted. He should be told to look about and try to find out the arrangement of the machinery without assistance, and the Examiner should be in the engine-room to see that this independent examination is properly carried out. When the candidate reports that he thinks he knows the arrangement, the Examiner will question him on the uses of the parts, get him to point out the different cylinders, pumps, valves, condenser, etc.; also the dynamo, its field magnets, armature, commutators, brushes, cables, etc. The candidate must show that he understands the run of the pipes in the bilges, not necessarily that he has gone over every one of them, but he ought to be directed to trace, at least, one important range of pipes, and to thoroughly satisfy the Examiner that he could be safely trusted to manipulate the valves or cocks in connection therewith. It will not often be practicable for the candidate actually to work engines under steam, but he must satisfy the Examiner that he knows how to do so, and that he is aware of the precautions to be taken in regard to water in the cylinders, etc. It is most important that a candidate should show that, in the event of an accident depriving him of the assistance of Engineers, he knows what to do to safely take his vessel to an anchorage, or to stop the engines and proceed under sail alone.

The examination of a Mate in steam is the same as that of a Master. The knowledge required has no reference to the Mate's position.

A mate may be examined, but such examination implies that the Mate may one day be a Master, when the possession of the knowledge will be an advantage to him in the discharge of his duties.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS RECOGNISED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

The following is a list of Technical Schools attendance at which is recognised by the Government as affording remission of some period of the service required to qualify a candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency as Engineer.

(1) DAY CLASSES.

When nothing is stated to the contrary, time spent in attending the day classes in Mechanical Engineering of a recognised Technical School is accepted as equivalent to artisan service at the ratio of three years of the former to two of the latter, provided the applicant was over 15 years of age and can produce the Principal's certificate for continuous and regular attendance at all the approved classes and for satisfactory progress. Such time cannot as a rule be accepted as equivalent to more than two years' artisan service.

Name of School or Institution.

Belfast.—Municipal Technical Institute, Belfast.
*Birmingham.—University of Birmingham.
†Birmingham.—City of Birmingham Municipal Technical School, Suffolk Street, Birmingham. (Afternoon Classes)
‡Bombay.—Victoria Jubilee Technical Institute, Bombay.
Bradford.—Municipal Technical College, Bradford.
Brighton.—Municipal Technical College, Brighton.
Bristol.—Merchant Venturers Technical College, Bristol.
Bristol.—University College, Bristol.
§Cardiff.—City of Cardiff Day Preparatory Technical School, Cardiff.
Cardiff.—University College of South Wales and Monmouthshire, Cardiff.

* Time spent by students of the Electrical Engineering Department on work similar to that in the Mechanical Engineering Department to count as equivalent.
† Time spent at afternoon classes to count as equivalent to two-thirds of the same period of workshop service, five hours in the classes being reckoned as equivalent to one day.
‡ Time to count only in the case of students who have passed through the Mechanical Engineering courses.
§ One-sixth of the time only to be counted.

Devonport.[1]—Royal Naval Engineering College, Devonport.
Dublin.[2]—Pembroke Day Trades Preparatory School, Ringsend, County Dublin.

---

[1] Time to count in full up to three years, or in the case of students who were in training in or before September, 1908, up to four years under the following conditions :—

(a) A certificate of practical workmanship and good conduct must be produced.
(b) A student must have been at least 20 on completion of his training.
(c) Any deficiency in workshop service to be made good by service as engine fitter in shops where steam-engines are made or repaired.

[2] One-third of time to count with a maximum of one year.
[3] Two-thirds to count, with maximum of two years eight months.
[4] One-sixth of the time only to be counted.
[5] A complete session to count as six months.
[6] One-third of the time only to be counted.
[7] Half the time only to be counted.
[8] Two-thirds of time to count, with a maximum of two years for three year students, and two years and eight months for four year students who have spent three summer sessions in the works of a maker of steam-engines, for which no separate allowance is claimed.
[9] A complete session to count as four months.
[10] Time to count only in the case of students who have passed through the Mechanical Engineering courses.

(II) EVENING CLASSES.

Time spent in attending Evening Classes in Engineering at approved Technical Schools is accepted as equivalent to workshop service, five hours in the classes being reckoned as equivalent to one day, and two-thirds of the number of days so obtained counting as workshop service, subject to the provisions laid down in rule 42.

No. 33Marine.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 4 of the Bengal Steam-boilers and Prime-movers Act, 1879 (Bengal Act III of 1879), the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following amendments in the rules published under Notification No. 52Marine, dated the 31st May 1910:—

Amendments.

1. In rule XII—

(a) after the words "will be ready for inspection" add the following words:—

"and the prescribed fee for inspection must be paid, with the application, to the office of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta", and

(b) after the words "on receipt of such application", insert the following:—

"with the receipt by the Police office cashier showing that the fee for inspection and the extra fee, if any, chargeable for inspection on a Sunday or other holidays as laid down in rule XXI have been paid".

2. Omit the last sentence of rule XIV, namely, the sentence beginning with the words "the declaration shall then" and ending with the words "prime-mover concerned".

3. For rule XV, substitute the following rule:—

"XV. Upon receipt of the declaration in the office, a certificate shall be prepared in the form prescribed by the Act (Form No. 3 appended hereto). Such certificate shall be signed by the Inspector and the Vice-President, and shall be delivered to the owner, manager or agent of the steam-boiler inspected.

If owing to the defective conditions of a steam-boiler or for any other reason, a certificate in the prescribed form cannot be granted, but the Inspector considers that the steam-boiler can only be worked at a reduced pressure or that it has been rendered unfit for further use, a certificate to that effect may be granted to the applicant."

4. In rule XVI—

(a) for the words "certificate of inspection granted under the Act" substitute the words "inspection of a boiler to be made,"

(b) delete the word "inspected" after the words "manager or agent of the steam-boiler," and

(c) insert the words "in advance with the application" after the words "shall pay."

5. In rule XVII, for the words and figure "Form No. 4" substitute "Form No. 3."

6. For the last sentence of rule XXI substitute the following:—

"An additional fee of Rs 25 shall be charged for the inspection of a boiler on a Sunday, 'Xmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and King-Emperor's Birth Day."

Geometry (Euclid, Books I and II) (a)	...	50	25
Essay Writing (b)	...	100	50
Total	...	750	...
Total required for passing	...	...	500

(a) Candidates will be expected to be familiar with all the propositions in the above books, and will also be expected to solve simple riders.

(b) Two or three simple subjects will, as a rule, be given from which a candidate may choose one only. He should endeavour to excel in good sense, not in quantity. The standard is roughly equivalent to Matriculation or School Final.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the first Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Accountant-General (including the Government Engineer of Railway Accounts), in Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements with the candidates in regard to the place and hour of examination.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship, if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Accountant-General not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates and registration form duly filled in, and must be forwarded by him not direct to the Principal, but through the Accountant-General.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but they will not be returned—

(1) A certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) A certificate of age, baptismal or of birth (not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) A certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

Note A.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts) qualified to hold the particular examination and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Accountant-General concerned or at the College.

Note B.—The usual examination centres are (1) the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, (2) Chittagong, (3) Ranchi, (4) the Bihar School of Engineering, Patna, (5) Rangoon, (6) Shillong, and (7) Simla for candidates in the Government of India offices: no others will be admitted at Simla.

(4) Registration statement containing the following information :—

(a) Name in full.
(b) Father's name.
(c) Nationality or class, i.e., European, Anglo-Indian or Indian, of candidate; and, if Indian, caste or tribe.
(d) Date of birth.
(e) Place of birth.
(f) Present address.
(g) Examinations passed.
(h) Thumb mark of candidate, left hand, to be made in the presence of a responsible person who knows candidate.
(k) Signature and address of above-mentioned witness.

It will rest with the Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts) to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Accountant-General, or the other officers referred to, will then forward to the Principal, for registration, the names of the accepted candidates, together with their registration statements, which should be signed by the Accountant-General. The registration statement should be carefully preserved by the Principal. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Accountant-General. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh a fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fees paid will not be refunded.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that, in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the department.

7. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College nor to the Comptroller-General, but direct to the Accountant-General or Government Examiner of Railway Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship Examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination of the Sibpur College centre only, but even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age not in Government employ should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination ; the application to be accompanied by a Treasury receipt for Rs. 10, and the registration statement prescribed in rule 2 (4).

B. HEATON,
Principal, Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

NOTE (1).—The question papers of previous years are not published separately. Those of the preceding year are printed in the Civil Engineering College Calendar—price, annas 12 and annas 3 postage, which must be prepaid.

NOTE (2).—Candidates for the examination are not provided with accommodation in the College barracks, but arrangements for their meals can be made on payment in advance of annas 4 per meal to the Assistant Superintendent of the Mess.

NOTE (3).—As for qualifications for admission to the examinations, candidates should refer the matter to the Accountant-General of their province.

NOTE (4).—There are no classes at the Sibpur College for teaching Book-keeping.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.,

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible, after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

I.—PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

MANILA BAY.

The South channel into Manila bay is closed to traffic and is protected by mines; this channel extends from Caballo island on the north to Restinga point on the south.

The North channel between Corregidor island and the shore of Bataan province to the northward is closed to inward bound traffic from sunset to sunrise, except to certain vessels engaged in public service. Vessels are, however, permitted to leave Manila Bay by the North channel without restriction as to time.

Obedience to the above regulations will be enforced by vessels of the United States Navy and by the shore batteries.

Failure to comply with any of the above regulations may result in the destruction of the offending vessels.

SÚBIC BAY.

Súbic bay is closed to traffic; any unauthorised vessel attempting to enter the port does so at her peril.

II.—HONGKONG.

Cape Collinson light is extinguished.

Gap rock light, Wag lan islet light, and Green island lights are extinguished, but lights will be exhibited from these lighthouses when the local Typhoon signals are hoisted, and will be shown until the signals are hauled down

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 62 (second publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1918), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. I of 1917 (This office No. 51 of 1917); hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must approach the port with the greatest caution and implicitly obey all orders or signals given them by the Examination vessel or signal station.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Port. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all-round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry:—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not (except to avoid accident) lower any boats, communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Port should be approached with caution.

(11) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PART IV.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

Notice is hereby given that under the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations, 1914, the following Regulations have been made by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and are now in force.

H. M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations of the coasts of the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair, as the vessels may have mines trailing in their sweeps and also on account of the danger caused to traffic if mine-sweepers have to slip their sweeps to get out of the way of vessels.

CAUTION.

Part IV of this Admiralty Notice to Mariners is issued under the provisions of the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations, 1914, and failure to comply strictly with the directions contained in it will constitute an offence against those Regulations.

Any person found guilty of such an offence is liable to severe penalties both of imprisonment and fine.

Any person aiding or abetting the commission of such an offence is himself guilty of an offence against the Regulations.

Attention is also drawn to the fact that any infringement of the directions contained in Part IV of this Admiralty Notice to Mariners is liable to result in the detention of the ship or vessel.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Rabi crops of Bengal for 1917-18.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1915-16 the area under summer rice in Bengal represents some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—Excessive rain fell during the months of September and October retarding preparatory operations. The rabi sowings were, in consequence, generally late. The crops were thus in no fit state to stand the prolonged winter drought and have suffered considerably.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the Province dealt with in this forecast is estimated at 4,069,500 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 3,016,300 acres against 3,074,800 acres (revised) last year. Of this, the area under summer (boro) rice is returned at 3,70,200 acres against 3,75.400 acres of last year.

Outturn.—According to estimates of District Officers the outturn of the different rabi crops for the Province as a whole works out to 77 per cent. of the normal against 81 per cent. of last year, the more important rabi districts standing as follow :—Nadia 52, Murshidabad 77, Jessore 56, Burdwan 84, Midnapore 90, Rajshahi 70, Jalpaiguri 75, Rangpur 100, Pabna 65, Malda 68, Dacca 78, Mymensingh 78, Faridpur 74, Bakarganj 76, Tippera 82 and Noakhali 77.

Summer rice crop.—Accepting 77 per cent. as the outturn of summer rice, the gross yield of the crop for the Province on the basis of a normal yield of 13½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 28,27,300 cwts. against 33,51,000 cwts. last year representing a decrease of about 16 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

The decrease in area of all the crops except gram, as compared with that of last year, is due to excessive rainfall at sowing time. Want of rain has affected the growth of the crops. The outturns of the different crops are therefore expected to fall below the normal.

		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Jessore.	Barley	3,300	1,700	1,400	59	54	December; a little late.	Middle of February; normal.	The decrease in area is due to the fact that the flood water took long time to subside and the ground did not dry up till the end of November and then there was no rainfall. Ploughing began very late and could not make much progress for want of timely rainfall. Damage to the extent of about 30 per cent. has been done by continued drought. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.

Burdwan.	Barley	7,000	5,100	4,500	75	83	Beginning of October to end of December; late.	Not yet commenced	The decrease in area is due to excessive rain at the end of October and the soil was far too moist in consequence at the outset. The weather since then has been fair and rather dry. Late sowing and want of moisture in December and January account for the outturn falling below normal.

Midnapore.	Barley	1,200	600	600	70	90	October and November; late.	February; normal.	The bursting of embankments in the Daspur and Panskura thanas caused destruction of the winter rice crop in fairly large areas and hence there was probably a larger area than usual sown in boro rice and other rabi crops. After the beginning of November there was practically no rain and this has to some extent unfavourably affected the outturn.
